U.S. Infantrymen Kill 900 Of Red Charge

Record For One Day Of Action

SAIGON (UPI)—Troops of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division outnumbered five to one lowered their artillery to point blank range and hurled back repeated charges by 2,500 Communist troops in one of the more dramatic victories of the war, a spokesman said today.

They killed an estimated 900 enemy troops in the epic battle that raged for five hours yesterday near the Cambodian border, 606 of them by actual count of bodies left on the battlefield.

"That stands as a record for an American unit in a single day's action," a military spokesman said tonight.

HIGH PRAISE

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, visited the battle scene 70 miles northwest of Saigon and said he was convinced the body count would soar still further. He estimated 200 to 300 Reds had been dragged off by their comrades to be "buried in graves we'll probably never see."

Westmoreland spoke to the troops to congratulate them on a fight which will give the Communists their highest weekly death toll of the Vietnam war. The battle was fought with such courage and skill Westmoreland awarded Silver Stars for gallantry to the two troop commanders who had 426 GI's between them against the force of five battalions.

CLOSE COMBAT

One commander said the battle swirled in so close at times his men—"my cooks and bottlewashers"—had to defend their artillery pieces with their rifles.

It blunted the first big Communist offensive of the year and it gave the Communists what a military spokesman called their most clostly week of the war. Westmoreland said the Communists timed the offensive to coincide with President Johnson's Guam conference and failed on all counts.

On Monday troops of the 9th Infantry Division stood off an all-night assault on the fringe of War Zone C and killed 288 to run the enemy death toll in the one-time Communist stronghold above the 1,000 mark. A string of minor allied victories throughout Vietnam were expected to run the toll of enemy dead to more than 2,000 — higher than the bloody battle of the Ia Drang Valley in November, 1965.

U.S. LOSSES

American losses in the Cambodian border battle were put at 31 dead and 109 wounded. Two more Americans were killed in the accidental bombing of an American position by an F-100 Sabrejet and two died when their 01E Birddog spotter plane was shot down.

An Air Force spokesman said American F-100 Supersabres and B-57 Canberra bombers flew

Marincello's Foes Lack Signatures

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Wilson Superior Court late yesterday indicated he will rule there are insufficient correct signatures on a Marincello access road referendum petition to make it legal.

The decision would uphold the judgment of the county clerk's office that too many of the signatures failed to meet legal petition requirements. It would kill the effort of the Golden Gate Headlands Committee to force a referendum on the road, first development in Marincello approved by the county board of supervisors.

The petition, demanding that the supervisors either negate the ordinance granting the road access or call a referendum, fell 316 short of the number of legal signatures required, the county contended.

Judge Wilson emphasized that he will make no final ruling until after attorneys for Golden Gate Headlands Committee submit additional arguments in 10 days. He said he found "quite a few" of the disqualified signatures considered during lengthy hearings were actually legal.

In the cases of about 94 challenged signatures, however, he said, "I took the position that I could not interfere with the clerk's determination. This would be a significant number to prevent the petition from being legal."

If Judge Wilson had found sufficient legal signatures to qualify the petition, the petitioners still would have had two major hurdles to overcome. Opponents of the petition, Frouge Corp., would then have been permitted to challenge legality of petitions. Also, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney contends the ordinance was enacted by the board of supervisors as an administrative action, rather than as a legislative action, and is not subject to referendum.

Bolinas-Stinson Vote Defeats School Bonds

Voters in Bolinas-Stinson School District yesterday defeated a $275,000 bond measure porposed to finance district building needs for 10 years.

The measure drew 154 "yes" to 131 "no" votes — a favorable vote of 54 per cent. 4 66 ⅔ per cent favorable vote is required for bond issue passage.

The 285-vote turnout represented 57.2 per cent of eligible voters in the district, according to school district officials.

The measure narrowly missed two-thirds approval in Stinson Beach but mustered only a one-vote majority in Bolinas. Vote at the Stinson Beach school was 69 "yes," 47 "no." At Bolinas School it was 85 "yes," 84 "no."

Funds from the bond issue would have been spent in Bolinas — for purchase of an additional four acres there, addition of six classrooms, and repair of the present school building.

Trustees will assess effect of the election on the proposed building program today at 8 p.m. in Stinson Beach School.

"Gloom will reign," said Board Chairman Alyce Thompson, "but we'll see what else we can do now."

Thais Agree To U.S. Use Of Air Base

BANGKOK, Thailand, (AP) — The government announced today it has decided to allow "partial use" of military installations at Utapao Air Base in southern Thailand by U.S. forces in order to help bring the war in Vietnam to a quick end.

The announcement added this was done at a request of the U.S. government.

The announcement, however, did not say what type of aircraft would be allowed to use installations at Utapao which has an 11,500-foot airstrip.

A Thai official said earlier that the Thai Cabinet had agreed to permit U.S. Air Force B-52 bombers to use Utapao at Sattahip to fly missions against Communist targets in Vietnam.

The announcement said the Thai government "believes that this measure, by subtsantially increasing the striking potential of the air arms and by avoiding early detection by the Communist side, will have the effect of bringing the war to a speedier ending thereby enabling peace to be restored within the shortest possible time."

It was not known when the B-52s will begin using the Utapao airbase.

The official who disclosed the B-52 involvement said precautionary measures were being taken to prevent any retaliatory steps by the Communists against Thailand. The official declined to elaborate on this aspect.

Nixon, Red Talk

VIENNA (AP) — Richard M. Nixon had a two-hour talk today with Romanian Communist Party Chief Nicolae Ceausescu.

Mental Health Center Bids All Higher Than Estimates

Christensen and Foster of Santa Rosa was lowest of seven bidders yesterday at $1,325,000 to build the community mental health center on Marin General Hospital grounds.

The bid was considerably above estimates, and County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell told county supervisors that $138,945 besides the $100,000 already agreed upon will have to be raised by property taxes if the mental health center is to be built, equipped, furnished and landscaped as proposed.

As planned originally, the federal and state governments would each put up a third of the cost, while the county, hospital district and private donors would contribute the remaining one-third. Original estimates put a third at $450,000. The hospital district put up something more than its $150,000 share and county supervisors promised to raise up to $250,000.

However, this would still leave considerable shortage on the basis of the construction bids received yesterday, which do not include equipment, furnishings and landscaping.

Supervisors referred all bids to the county public works department for review.

Mitchell said today that $20,000 might be taken from the total cost by deferring landscaping.

Other bidders yesterday were:

Olsen-Baum Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, $1,339,139; Martinelli Construction Co. of San Francisco, $1,349,000; Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, $1,364,000; Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, $1,368,000; Arntz Construction Co. of San Francisco, $1,419,763, and Cortelyou and Cole, Inc., of Mountain View, $1,413,000.

It was the second time the project had been bid. Several months ago, Pacific Coast Builders was the only bidder at $1,490,000. This was at a time when builders were uncertain of the cost of county demands on guarantee of minority hiring and pre-award conferences on minority hire and training programs in the project. Since then, the federal government has made its own requirements on these matters more specific.

Italian Parachutist Bares Alleged Soviet Spy Ring

TURIN, Italy (UPI)—An Italian parachutist arrested on espionage charges today gave a magistrate's court the names of 300 NATO officers allegedly involved in the biggest Soviet spy ring in the West, counter intelligence sources said.

Some of the officers involved were said to be Americans. In many cases parachutist Giorgio Rinaldi was able to give investigators only "cover" aliases of the officers, the sources said.

At least two Soviet Embassy officials were believed implicated in the plot and informed sources said they would be expelled by the Italian government.

One Soviet Embassy employe flew to Moscow today, apparently expelled in connection with the Mediterranean-wide spy ring.

The sources did not indicate how many of the officers were alleged to be already on the Soviet payroll and how many had simply been contacted with a view to enlisting them in the spy ring.

"It definitely looks like the biggest Soviet spy ring ever uncovered in the West," one counter-intelligence source said. He said the ring was known to have operated throughout the Mediterranean and in parts of Europe and Africa.

Rinaldi, 39, his 52-year-old wife Angela Maria and their chauffeur Armando Girard, 40, were picked up by Italian Secret Service men one week ago, but their detention was announced only yesterday.

Soviet Embassy attache Yuri Pavlenko and his wife Natalia, identified by Turin sources as two of Rinaldi's contacts, left Rome by plane for Moscow today, apparently expelled by the Italian government.

Other Soviet officials mentioned by the sources as past contacts of Rinaldi were Dr. Alexei Solovov, an embassy employe ousted from Italy in 1958 for his alleged spying activities,

Soviets Keeping Space Pads Busy

MOSCOW (AP) — Adding to an unusual burst of space activity, the Soviet Union launched today its seventh unmanned earth satellite of this month and 11th in the last two months.

Numerous Soviet satellite launchings in a short period have sometimes in the past preceded manned space launchings. There was no other indication now, however, that a manned launching was coming up soon.

It has been more than two years since the Soviet Union put men into space.

The announcement of the launching of Cosmos 150 followed the same uninformative pattern as those on other launchings in the Cosmos series, which is officially described as being for scientific research.

Brown Selects His Artist For Portrait

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Former Gov. Edmund G. Brown has selected a New York artist to paint his portrait for display in the state Capitol.

Charles J. Fox was named today as the official artist. Fox has painted portraits of the late President John F. Kennedy and other nationaland state leaders.

West Marin Annexed To Water Area

A total of 9,300 acres in the Olema, Point Reyes Station and Inverness areas was annexed last night to the North Marin County Water District.

The district board also adopted a resolution stating as its policy that non-contiguous areas annexed should pay for their own facilities.

It then instructed the district staff to prepare a report on the present systems in the area, the possible water supplies and distribution systems, and the possible formation of an assessment district.

SUPPORT IN AREA

County supervisor Thomas T. Storer told the board it had the support of the majority of the people in the area.

"I want to express the gratitude of the people of West Marin and I can see the beginning to the end of our water trouble in the area," he declared after the annexation was voted.

W. H. Lieb of 1521 Hill Road, Novato, was the only person present who objected to the annexation. He called for an election by the people in the area and wanted assurance that the West Marin residents would pay for their own expenses to the district.

THREE PARCELS

Waldo Giacomini of Point Reyes Station had written asking that three parcels of his land, totaling 977 acres with an assessed valuation of $43,700, be left out of the annexation.

Storer pointed out, however, that Giacomini had attended a public hearing on the annexation but had not asked that his land be omited at the time.

Director William Jonas said that at first he had opposed the annexation, but had changed his mind when he realized the West Marin residents wanted it.

"We have a public duty to the people out there who need water studies and a water system," Jonas said.

Cahill Opposes Hippie Campout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police Chief Thomas Cahill warned the city's hippie and psychedelic crowd today that Golden Gate Park will not be a round-the-clock pad for them.

Cahill's stand came after a clergy - sponsored resolution to the Recreation and Park Commission asked that hippies be allowed to sleep in the park in anticipation of an influx of an estimated 100,000 to San Francisco this summer.

"Any encouragement through the mass media tending to attract still more undesirables to the problem areas of San Francisco is a disservice to the community," Cahill said.

Delay Is Forecast For Paint-Up Plan

Plans for Mill Valley's paint-up, clean-up project, scheduled April 22-23, will not be ready for at least three months, consultant for the project last night told the architectural advisory committee.

Connie Field, Woodside color consultant, said the April date was "out of the question." The project recently was cut back from 80 to 40 buildings.

Call Gets Second Life Sentence

OAKLAND (UPI) — Painting contractor Norman Call, 46, Sacramento, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for his part in the shotgun slaying of Painters Union official Lloyd Green of Hayward.

Superior Judge William J. McGuiness pronounced sentence for Call who pleaded guilty earlier this month and threw himself on the mercy of the court.

The jurist ruled that Call's sentence run concurrently with the life term he received in the slaying of union leader Dow Wilson of San Francisco.

High Speed Flight

EDWARDS AFB (UPI) — The rocketship X-15, an experimental missile that holds the world speed record for manned aircraft, made a flight today at a speed of 3,818 miles an hour.

General Takes Over Sierra Leone

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone (AP)—The commander of Sierra Leone's army announced last night he has taken control of the government of the little West African country, apparently to nullify the results of the general election last Saturday which may have unseated Prime Minister Sir Albert Margai.

Lansana

Brig. David Lansana announced the coup amid report that Gov. Gen. Sir Henry J. Lightfoot-Boston and opposition leader Saika P. Stevens were under house arrest.

Margai campaigned on a pledge to make the former British crown colony a republic which could remain in the British Commonwealth or pull out if it wished.

Sierra Leon is located between Guinea and Liberia.

Singer Weds

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Mia Kim, youngest of the three singing Kim Sisters, was married here yesterday to musician Tommy Vig. The Jewish ceremony, performed by Rabbi Aaron Gold, was followed by a reception at the Desert Inn Country Club. Vig, 27, a jazz composer, was born in Hungary.

Hurt In Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt has suffered slight injuries during a fire in a Park Avenue office building. The wife of the mayor of Miami Beach, Fla., was one of six persons injured during yesterday's blaze which began in a hallway trash fire.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Steve McQueen is the 153rd actor to place his footprints and handprints in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese Theater. McQueen went through the traditional ceremony in wet cement yesterday.

Lutheran Will Marry Catholics

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A Lutheran minister will officiate at the marriage of a Roman Catholic priest and a former nun Saturday, according to the priest, Rev. Edmund Kurth.

Father Kurth, 35, a member of the Pallotine Fathers and a Chicago public school teacher, disclosed his plans after it was learned he had taken out a marriage license.

The bride will be Shirley Weis, 34, who declined to tell what order she had belonged to, or when she left it.

Father Kurth said he and Miss Weis had met while both were teaching school, and were both active in the same organizations.

Rev. Leroy Andersen, pastor of Galilee Lutheran Church at nearby Pewaukee, will perform the ceremony.

10 Great Wines? None American

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, who left U.S. wines off a select list he made, has some spicy comment to mull over today from two irate wine country congressmen.

The ambassador is David Bruce, who has the reputation of being one of the world's great connoisseurs of fine wines. Bruce selected the "ten greatest wines"—all French or German vintages.

It wa sobvious, snapped Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., that Bruce never sampled California wines or he never would have left them off his list.

The wines on Bruce's list sell for from $7 to $20, which drew a suggestion from Edwards that the ambassador "is being robbed." Edwards said he is sending Bruce four bottles of Livermore Valley and Santa Clara County wines that range from $1.50 to $1.90 a bottle.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., sent the State Department a telegram asking whether Bruce's list, which appeared in the Foreign Service Journal, represents "a case of the State Department not practicing what it pretends to preach?"

Stratton wrote that a State Department directive to U.S. embassies last year said foreign officers should serve American wines to their guests.

Dangerous Wood Pest Hits U.S.

WASHINGTON (SS)—The Oriental wood borer, a serious pest in the Far East, had been discovered living in Florida.

Specimens collected in oak and mahogany board in Fort Lauderdale have proved to be Heterobostrychus aequalis. They have often been intercepted in quarantine in packing boxes from that area, but never before established in this country.

In the Orient, the borer attacks some 35 different species of trees. Adults bore through one to two inches of wood, reducing it to powder. They have even been known to make holes in the lead lining of boxes.

Controversial Text Must Be Used In Schools

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch has said the controversial eighth-grade textbook "Land of the Free" must be used in California junior high schools.

A legal opinion had been requested by Los Angeles attorney Harold Kennedy as to whether school districts could refuse to use the state-approved book.

Lynch said yesterday the law requires uniform use of texts adopted by the State Board of Education and that junior high schools are not exempt from the requirement.

"Land of the Free" had been rejected by the Arcadia Board of Education and several other school districts because it allegedly gave a distorted view of the roles of minority groups in U. S. history.

Surviving Quints Are Reported Good

VASTERAS, Sweden (UPI) — Two surviving quintuplets born yesterday were reported in "satisfactory condition" today by a hospital spokesman.

The quints were born after their mother, Mrs. Birgitta Jansson, 28, took fertility drugs. Three girls died at or shortly after birth. A boy and a girl survive.

North Korean Escapes In General's Car

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A North Korean newsman jumped into an American general's car at the Panmunjom truce village today and escaped to South Korea despite revolver shots from a Communist guard which shattered windows of the car.

An informed source said the North Korean, Lee Soo-keun, 44, told officials of the U.N. Command of his plan to defect about an hour before the end of a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission at the truce village in the demilitarized zone 35 miles north of Seoul.

As the meeting ended, a U.S. Army sedan was standing at the front of the conference building, and Lee jumped into it as U.S. Army Maj. Gen. Richard G. Ciccolella, the senior U.N. comand delegate, and Rear Adm. Nam Chul, a South Korean delegate, got in.

The sedan sped away while about 50 Communist guards and newsmen watched in amazement. A Red Guard at a post about 100 yards south of the conference building fired about 40 shots from his revolver at the car, breaking some of its windows, but nobody inside was hurt, the source said.

The source added that he believed Lee was a vice president of the Korean Central News Agency, North Korea's official press agency. He had been covering the armistice meetings at Panmunjom for three or four years, the source said.

U.C. Budget Needs —A $10 Million Gap

BERKELEY (AP) -- Gov. Reagan and the University of California's acting president still disagree by $10 million on what it should cost to operate the school's nine campuses.

The governor, before leaving Sacramento yesterday for an Easter vacation with his family in Arizona, said $254 million "will meet all the legitimate needs of the university for the coming fiscal year." He spoke at a news conference.

But the university's acting president, Harry R. Wellman, said nothing less than $264 million will do.

LEVEL OF SUPPORT

"This level of support, the regents determined, is necessary to avoid reductions in quality or educational opportunity," Wellman said in a statement after Reagan's news conference.

Wellman was referring to a regent vote at Santa Barbara in February on a resolution seek a minimum of $264 million as the university's budget. Reagan voted against that resolution.

Also at the Santa Barbara meeting, the regents authorized the nine chancellors to go ahead with faculty recruiting and student admissions on the basis of no less than $255 million. The resolution stated the regents would make good from their own funds if the Legislature came through with anything less.

ORIGINAL CUT

Reagan, in support of a $254 million figure, said that "We are confident that this budget will provide for education with no reduction in quality or quantity."

Dr. Wellman disagreed. He said even the $264 million figure represented a cut of $14 million from the original university request for $278 million. And that means "deferral and elimination of many programs of significance to the state."

Bonn Asking Nazi's Return

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — West Germany has requested the extradition of Franz Stangl, wartime Nazi death camp commander, a spokesman for the Foreign Ministry said yesterday.

Stangle is being held in Brasilia, the capital, pending action on a request for his extradition to Austria. The Austrian was detained last month in Sao Paulo, where he had lived with his family sice 1961.

"We informed the German Embassy that the Austrian request had priority, since it was entered first," the spokesman said.

Asia Foundation Admits CIA Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Asia Foundation, a San Francisco-based organization which spends more than $4 million annually in helping U.S.-Far East relations, has received Central Intelligence Agency funds.

A spokesman said the announcement yesterday was being made "to clear the air." The statement did not disclose the extent of CIA support.

The funds "in no way affected" the foundation's policies and programs, the spokesman said.

The foundation said it has received contributions and grants from corporations, foundations, individuals, state and local governments, colleges and publishing firms.

ALEXANDER STARK
Co-publisher dies

OBITUARIES

Zan Stark Rites Held

Private funeral was held today for Alexander J. (Zan) Stark, 77, former Mill Valley city councilman and publisher of post cards there, who died Friday in a Sonoma rest home after a long illness.

Stark also was publisher of the defunct Valley of the Moon Review, daily newspaper in Boyes Hot Springs, Sonoma County. He printed post cards in Mill Valley for 30 years and was city councilman in the early 1950s.

Born in Michigan, he moved to Sonoma County 15 years ago.

Survivors are his wife, Katherine; a daughter, Mrs. R. H. Howes of Seville, Spain, and a son, Zan Jr., former managing editor of the Mill Valley Record and now with United Press International in Portland, Ore., and six grandchildren.

WILLIAM C. BRALY

WALNUT CREEK (AP) — Retired Army Col. William C. Braly, who took part in the Battle of Corregidor and survived the Bataan Death March, will be buried with full military honors Friday. He died Monday at 78.

At the start of World War II, Braly was operations officer of the Philippines island fortress on the staff of Gen. Jonathan Wainwright.

He leaves his widow, Verna, and a son, William, of San Jose.

Military services will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

CHAUNCEY S. CARPENTER

Funeral for Chauncey S. Carpenter, 52, of 619 Tanbark Terrace, San Rafael, will be at 9 a.m. Friday at St. Paul's Episcipal Church, San Rafael. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Carpenter, president of the Mutual Film Distributing Co., San Francisco, died of a heart attack in his home Tuesday. He was born in Arkansas and lived in Marin County 16 years.

JOHN FRASIER MAILER

Funeral for John Fraser Mailer of Sausalito will be Friday at 10 a.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Friends may call at the mortuary after 9 a.m. Friday.

Mailer, 56, was found dead Monday in his home at 512 Main Street.

A native of Hamilton, Canada, he lived in California for 16 years, the last 14 in Marin County. He was a salesman for a San Francisco printing company.

He is survived by his wife, Beverly Ryder Mailer, and a son, Michael John Mailer of San Francisco.

VICKIE L. FRENCH

Funeral for Vickie L. French, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. French of San Geronimo, will be at 9:30 a.m. Friday at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Vickie died Monday at a San Francisco hospital after a long illness. She was born in San Geronimo, where her parents own and operate the San Geronimo Valley Stables and Riding Club.

She is also survived by a sister, Jeanie M. French, and her two grandmothers, Mrs. Lillian E. Pierce of San Anselmo and Mrs. Lillian M. Rupnow of Clear Lake Highlands, Lake County.

Burial will be at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno. The family prefers memorial gifts to the Pediatric Hematology Reasearch Fund, c/o U.C. Hospital, San Francisco.

MARIELLEN KETT

Funeral for Mrs. Mariellen C. Kett, a retired Mill Valley school teacher, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the Chapel of the Bates, Evans and Fehrensen Funeral Home, Sonoma. Inurnment will be private.

Mrs. Kett, 61, died Monday in her Sonoma home after a short illness. She had been living there three years after retiring. She taught 20 years in Mill Valley schools.

Mrs. Kett, wife of Fred Kett, a retired building contractor, was a native of Bloomingdale, Ind.

Survivors, beside her husband, are three daughters, Mrs. Carl Holmes of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. William Thompson of Fairfax, and Mrs. Jene Chapman of Napa; three sisters, and six grandchildren.

NICHOLAS POLITZER

Four-year-old Nicholas Politzer, of Sausalito, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital of complications following rare heart surgery last month in Chicago. He had suffered from a congenital block in a heart artery.

Born in San Francisco, he was a son of Mrs. and Mrs. S. Robert Politzer, 29 Glen Drive.

He is survived by his parents; a sister, Cassandra, and a brother, Adam.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. His family asked that memorial contributions be to the heart fund.

CALLIE TITCHELL

Mrs. Callie Titchell, 86, of Mill Valley, died yesterday in a local convalescent hospital following a brief illness.

A native of Chicago, she lived in Marin County for 10 years. She resided at 297 Miller Avenue.

She is survived by two sons, Haskell Titchell of Belvedere and Robert S. Titchell of Cleveland, Ohio; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Woldman of Upper Montclair, N.J., and four grandchildren.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Inurnment will be private.

SHIRLEY C. TITUS

Shirley C. Titus of Strawberry, pioneer nursing educator, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness. Private family funeral will be held tomorrow at Carew and English chapel, San Francisco. Inurnment will also be private.

Known as "Miss T" in nursing circles, Miss Titus was an internationally known teacher and administrator in nursing education and crusader for economic security for nurses.

She was executive director of the California Nurses Association from 1942 until 1956, when she retired to her home at 303 Walter Drive in Strawberry.

She was born in San Francisco in 1892, graduated from San Jose High School and entered nurses training at St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco, where she was assistant director of nurses while still a student.

While still in her 20s, she was director of nursing at Columbia Hospital in Milwaukee, and in 1925 became director of the school of nursing at University of Michigan. She established the nation's first baccalaureate program in nursing as dean of nursing at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., in 1930.

She was the key figure in obtaining the nation's first collective bargaining contract for nurses, in Oakland in 1947.

Following her retirement, a national education scholarship for registered nurses, the Shirley C. Titus Fellowship, was founded in her honor by the CNA.

She is survived by a sister, Adele B. Titus of San Francisco.

and aeronautic attache Col. Georgi Balan Endochimovich, who also left Italy long ago.

"The spying ring was gigantic and it was still developing," one source said. He said Rinaldi admitted contacting a number of Italian officers recently with a view to enlisting them in the organization.

Other sources said last night they understood "several more persons were arrested in Morocco, Somalia, Cyprus and Greece" in connection with the ring.

Rinaldi and Girard—a bankrupt merchant who allegedly served as their chauffeur as a cover for his spying activities—were said to have gathered secret information about U S. bases in Italy, Spain and other countries. The sources said they also had the task of recruiting new members for the ring.

They said Rinaldi hid miniature cameras and other spy gear when he entered U.S. and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) bases in his capacity as parachute ace and instructor. They said Rinaldi and his wife used coded radio messages, invisible ink and microfilm hidden in drops at such spots as the Turin Zoo and imperial tombs.

The intelligence sources said Rinaldi has been under their eyes since he was seen with a Soviet lieutenant colonel in 1956. Suspicions grew as Rinaldi, formerly badly in debt, suddenly grew prosperous in recent years.

Police arrested chauffeur Girard on his return from Spain March 15. The sources said police found in his possession micorfilm of Allied military bases in Spain. More such film was found in the Rinaldi home and antique shop, they said.

WAR

539 sorties against the Communists yesterday, bringing the number in support of Operation Junction City to more than 2,300, a record.

In the air war over the North, F-105 Thunderchief fighter-bombers from Thailand hit targets near Dien Bien Phu and near Donghoi in the southern panhandle. B-52s from Guam hit just below the Demilitarized Zone in support of U.S. Marines.

In the Central Highlands near Pleiku and Kontum the Communists used mortars in attacks against other units of the 4th Infantry Division.

In the coastal areas just east of the Central Highlands the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division fought a series of sharp clashes that killed 78 Communists and captured one. The American toll was 14 dead, 40 wounded and 8 missing.

The Viet Cong, beaten on the battlefield, carried out a series of terror raids in South Vietnam. In one incident two platoons burned a refugee village 20 miles northwest of Hue and kidnaped three of its residents. They burned 117 of the villagers' 152 houses.

Team Is Planning North Pole Trip

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — For the first time since Adm. Robert E. Peary accomplished the feat in 1909, an eight-man group is planning an overland expedition to the North Pole.

Peary made the trip with dog teams. The seven Americans and one Canadian will use the latest refinements in transportation, food and clothing when they set out this month on their 15-to-20-day journey from Eureka on Ellesmere Island, some 800 miles from the North Pole.

They will travel on lightweight motorized toboggans, fitted with special linings that will float if they break through ice .A plane, operated by Welland Phipps of Resolute, Northwest Territories, will keep radio contact and will pick them up when they reach the pole.

The expedition woll conduct medical tests and hydrographic and weather studies and assess equipment, foods and clothing material. A color film record will be kept.

Ralph Plaistad, 38, of Minnesota leads the expedition. Cpl. John Austad, 35, a survival expert in the Canadian air force, will be weather and ice adviser and backup radio operator.

Dr. Arthur Aufderheide, Duluth, Minn., will study the effect of cold on cholesterol. The others are Donald Powellek, an electronics engineer; radar and radio operator Blair Woolsey, navigator Gerald Pitzil, mechanic Walter Pederson and cameraman Robert Clemens.

Chain saws and explosives will be among the equipment pulled by the expedition's toboggans on sledges weighing up to 500 pounds apiece.

Since Peary's expedition, the pole has been visited by aircraft in 1926 and by nuclear submarine in 1958 and 1959.

EASTER BUNNY ARRIVES EARLY

The annual pursuit of Easter eggs got started yesterday in San Rafael. An Easter egg hunt for tiny tots was staged at Albert Park by the San Rafael Recreation Department despite overcast skies. And eggs and bunny were there, all right. Mrs. Vincent Traina, as Easter bunny, helped Carol Pera, 4, and Billy Magladry, 5, find eggs hidden among the grass. An egg hunt for all children up to 12 years old will be held at the park Saturday at 9 a.m., co-sponsored by the recreation department and San Rafael Lions Club.

Fulbright Wants Johnson To Take Chance On Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J.W. Fulbright said today President Johnson should take the chance that a halt in bombing of North Vietnam will produce peace talks despite Hanoi's rejection of his latest offer.

But Sen. Robert F. Kenendy, D-N.Y., a cocritic with Fulbright of Johnson's Vietnam policies, contended in a statement that the President had attached a new condition requiring that "we have evidence that Hanoi has already ceased infiltration before we stop the bombing."

SEES HOPE

Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he feels there is hope for a Soviet initiative by Premier Alexei N. Kosygin toward negotiations despite Ho Chi Minh's refusal to stop infiltration of South Vietnam in exchange for a cessation of air attacks.

"I think it is well worth stopping the bombing to see if there is any substance to Kosygin's statement that if there is a halt talks could proceed," Fulbright said.

Kosygin's statement came during his talks with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson at the time of the February Lunar New Year cease-fire. Johnson's offer to Ho was made before the cease-fire started.

'REASONABLE' OFFER

Fulbright called "reasonable" Johnson's offer to Ho to stop the bombing and freeze U.S. forces at their present level as soon as the President was "assured that infiltration into South Vietnam by land and sea has been stopped."

Kennedy also referred to Kosygin's statement that a halt would bring talks. He said this was confirmed by Ho's letter.

Kennedy interpreted Ho's reply as requiring only a bombing pause, rather than a permanent cessation, to get negotiations going. To administration officials, Ho seemed firm in demanding that the United States must stop permanently all air attacks and other "acts of war" before he would agree to consider negotiations.

NOT ENOUGH

For example, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said the bombing will stop "at the very instant" Hanoi demonstrates it will take reicprocal action to reduce its military activity.

"Now Hanoi says: Stop the bombing unconditionally — once and for all — and maybe we can work something out," Humphrey said in a speech prepared for a Birmingham, Ala., audience.

He said this wouldn't be enough, that the North Vietnamese must show that they "are ready to enter the path of honest negotiation." If they are, he said, "we are ready."

"We have stopped the bombing before," he said, "and every time Hanoi has responded by pouring massive quantities of men and material unimpeded into the South."

Fulbright's expressed disappointment that nothing tangible had come out of the exchange of letter swas shared by most of his colleagues. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said he hoped it wouldn't prevent the President from making other attempts.

Fulbright said he never had taken the position that Johnson wasn't sincerely seeking peace. But he added, "There is a widespread feeling that he wants peace on his own terms."

Nixon Booster Mails Letters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Gaylord B. Parkinson, an obstetrician who will open a "Nixon for President" office in Washington next month, is reported to have sent some 13,000 letters to the nation's top Republicans soliciting use of their names on the campaign committee.

The Los Angeles Times said Parkinson, former California GOP chairman, sent letters to every Republican National Committee member, all state and county party chairmen and Republican governors, congressmen, senators and mayors.

More letters went to all members of the California GOP State Central Committee, presidents of all units of the California Federation of Republican Women and Young Republican club officers. Key financial contributors also were targets, the Times said.

Wife Against A Separation

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — The wife of Gov. Roberto Sanchez Vilella says she does not want the separation her husband has announced.

In a statement Tuesday, Dona Conchita Dapena de Sanchez Vilella said divorce is also out of the question because she is a Roman Catholic.

The governor had announced the separation Monday night. The governor, who was believed to be a candidate for re-election in 1968, also announced he would not run again.

Ross Council Approves Deed On Phoenix Lake

Ross Town Council last night approved "in substance" the proposed deed that would transfer 25 acres of Marin Municipal Water District land at Phoenix Lake to thetown.

Acting Mayor Roy Farrington Jones noted that the water district still holds title to the land, and the transfer is still several steps from completion.

An anonymous donor offered the town $15,000 last year to purchase the land along Ross Creek at the end of Lagunitas Road.

The Ross Town Council also:

CITY-COUNTY SERVICES by the Marin City-County Services Committee for formation of a county services area to finance urban police services in unincorporated areas.

REZONING HEARING — Set for April 13 at 8 p.m. a public hearing,with the council sitting as a planning commission, on rezoning of two Marin Art and Garden Center parcels, one on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and the other on Laurel Grove Avenue, from residential to community cultural.

WIDENING PLANS — Scheduled a special meeting Apr. 6 at 8 p.m. at town hall to review landscaping and utilities plans for widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the San Anselmo city line. The council was scheduled to act on the plans last night but received a report that Town Engineer Philip B. Lygren has just received his copy of the plans and was not prepared to report.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen, who was suffering from influenza, was absent.

Business Tax Break Faces Senate Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill restoring major business tax incentives has won Senate Finance Committee approval after being remolded to conform to administration wishes.

But the legislation —scheduled for Senate debate starting April 3, after the Eastern recess — could face stiff opposition on the floor because amendments by the committee to the House version would nearly halve benefits to business.

And Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., says he'll attempt to amend the measure to include repeal of the controversial presidential election campaign financing plan Congress enacted at the end of the 1966 session.

The administration amendments to the tax bill, sponsored by Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., acting Finance Committee chairman, would reduce the revenue loss under the measure by $775 million.

As the bill cleared the House, this loss was estimated at $1.86 billion. It would be $1.085 billion under the Senate committee's version.

The Senate bill would restore the 7 per cent tax credit incentive for machinery or equipment purchases only to that ordered March 10 or later. It would restore accelerated depreciation rates only for those profit-making buildings started after that date.

The House version provides the benefits would go to equipment ordered before March 10 and delivered after that date, and to the portion of buildings completed March 10 or later even though they were started before then.

Another change in the Senate measure would limit the investment credit on machinery and equipment to 25 per cent of a company's tax liability through next Dec. 31. After that, a more liberal ceiling of 50 per cent of taxes owed would apply.

The House had voted to put the 50 per cent ceiling in effect at once.

Smathers said passage of the incentives bill would make it much less likely for Congress to accept the 6 per cent income tax surcharge President Johnson has proposed for consideration later this session.

"We are giving this boon to business," the senator said, "but individuals should not have to pay for it through an increase in their taxes."

The proposed surtax would apply to corporate as well as individual income taxes.

Town Meeting Study

A tabulation of the responses received so for on the San Anselmo Town Meeting questionaires has been posted in the San Anselmo library, according to Anne West, president of the San Anselmo Homes Association.

Milk Strike Results Not Yet Certain

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Farmers Organization milk holding and dumping campaign moved into the seventh day today, but a survey showed no clear evidence of rising prices or shortages.

However, The Associated Press survey did reflect some disagreement over how much milk has been destroyed while the NFO tries to boost milk prices to dairy farmers by two cents a quart. In any case, a check showed the holding and dumping action amounted to hundreds of thousands of gallons.

The NFO claimed a victory in Omaha when retail prices rose two cents a quart and milk prices jumped one cent a quart in Austin, Minn.

But retail prices dropped two cents a quart in Louisville, Ky. And in Logansport, Ind., a supermarket chain anticipating a shortage overstocked its milk cases. As a result, the chain was forced to sell half gallons at the bargain rate of three for $1. The usual price is 40 to 42 cents.

NFO President Oren Lee Satley, speaking from his headquarters in Corning, Iowa, remained confident.

University Lists Classes In Marin

University of California will offer 13 daytime and three evening classes in Marin during the spring term opening Monday.

Evening courses to be given in San Rafael are a business administration class in leadership and management and teachers' courses in art education and social studies.

Day courses, to be taught in San Anselmo, Ross and Mill Valley, include a study of plays being given by the American Conservatory Theater this season, a course on California flowering plants, a survey of contemporary Europe and a workshop for beginning writers.

Information is available from U. C. Extension at Berkeley.

Chamber Meeting Off

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday postponed their monthly meeting to next Tuesday at noon at Zack's By The Bay, reported director Halsey H. Lyon. The board is to consider the proposed city library, he said, and elect new officers.

Youth Is Listed As Home Runaway

James Severin Lilleberg, 16, of 680 Midway Boulevard, Novato, was missing from his home today and listed as a runaway by Novato police.

He was last seen at 9:30 p.m., Monday, his mother, Mrs. Dawn Scheiern, reported to police. He then was wearing a long-sleeved maroon sport shirt, green corduroy pants, and black leather loafers. He was described as five feet eight inches tall, weighing 130 pounds, of slim build with blond hair and brown eyes. This is not the first time he has run away from home, police reported.

About 11,000 miles of navigable waterways are provided by the Congo and tributaries.

Posing Coed Drops College

GAINESVILLE, Fla .(AP) — Pam Brewer, whose 38-24-35 charms were displayed nude in humor magazine twice this year, has withdrawn from the University of Florida, the school said today.

A spokesman said no pressure had been put on Pam to quit, despite the fact that the second nude picture of the shapely coed appeared in public print only yesterday.

The brunette sophomore left the school yesterday, the spokesman said.

Pam was put on social probation by school officials last month for appearing in the buff in the magazine Charlatan.

WANTS ELECTION CHANGE

Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen looms over the camera to declare that he might vote for abolition of the Electoral College and establishment of some other system of presidential elections. He spoke at a Senate Press Galley conference in Washington yesterday. (UPI Telephoto)

Special Education Budget To Be Aired

A special education budget exceeding a half million dollars for next fiscal year is to be presented to the Marin County Board of Education's special education committee tomorrow night.

The special education program conducted by the county schools office is financed in part through county taxes and in part through school district taxes.

The special education committee will meet at 9 p.m. in the county schools office in Corte Madera, one of three communities of the county board meeting tomorrow night in the committee system of handling county public schools business.

Two federal matching-fund projects will be proposed to the educational services committee, meeting at 7 p.m., according to J. Jackson Austin, guidance consultant on County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis's staff. A guidance project would draw $24,341 from the United States government and an equal amount from Marin County funds. Austin did not have figures available on the cost of the second project, in social sciences.

Dirk West, county curriculum coordinator, said other federal projects totaling $15,000 — hald funded by the county — will be proposed for next year as part of the special education budget.

He will also propose a countywide speech therapy program, and a summer school of four or five weeks for mentally retarded and physically handicapped children.

The administrative services committee, meeting at 8 p.m., will hear a series of reports and will discuss with Asst. County Supt. Robert F. Stannard recommendations of Hollis regarding contract renewals for county-employed teachers and administrators. Stannard said part of this meeting may be closed "to evaluate personnel."

Venereal Disease Cases Are Up

Gonorrhea and German measles figured largely in communicable diseases reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 25 cases of gonorrhea reported, including five each in Sausalito and Mill Valley, and four in San Rafael.

Three cases of German measles were reported in Sausalito and three in San Rafael.

Streptococcus infection cases shot up to 84 during the week, with Novato suffering the most with 48 outbreaks. Six cases of mumps, two of tuberculosis and one of syphilis were also reported from the county.

Mental Health Report Tonight

The Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board tonight will hear County Probation Officer Walter Busher outline the probation department's uses of and connections with the mental health program.

The board meets at 8 p.m. today in the Coral Room of Marin General Hospital.

Busher's appearance is one of a series of meetings between the board and various county officials to brief the board on ramifications of the mental health program. The board will also hear 1967-68 budget proposals.

Guilty Plea Made To Check Forgery

Charles Albert Wendorf, 55, of Kappas Yacht Harbor, Waldo Point, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to forging a $30 check Feb. 9 with intent to defraud Wildon P. Harris of Fairfax.

A second forgery count was dismissed by Judge Hadden W. Roth on recommendation of Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Anthony. Arraignment in Marin Superior Court was set for 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Rec Budget Session

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission will meet in special session at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall to discuss a budget for the next fiscal year and to consider a request by the Litchfield's San Rafael Braves, a semi-professional baseball team, for the use of Albert Park.

Upper Lucas Valley Service Area Approved

Marin County supervisors yesterday, after a public hearing that brought no objection, voted unanimously for formation of a county service area in Upper Lucas Valley for fire protection.

Anyone wishing to protest formation of the service area has 30 days in which to file written objection with the county clerk's office. If protests representing 10 per cent of the assessed valuation should be filed, an election must be called; otherwise the service area will stand on board action of yesterday, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said.

Residents want the service area in order to contract with the Marinwood Community Services District for fire protection. Maloney said that contract could take effect soon even though it will not be possible to levy taxes in the district until fiscal 1969.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

TRANSFER — Approved transfer of $17,500 from the salaries account in the welfare department to the work training fund to continue programs until the end of this fiscal year. The Federal Office of Economic Opportunity announced it was withdrawn its support for work training in Marin as of May 31.

POLICE CONSOLIDATION — Asked the City-County services committee to consider formtion of a citizens committee to study police department consolidation.

FARM ADVISER — Learned that a tighter state budget may cut back staff in the county farm adviser's office.

DIORAMA — Agreed that $500 put up in 1962 in county funds for a nature film that was never made may be used for the nature diorama project at the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum.

COFFEE MACHINE — Decided to allow the coffee machine in the board room lobby, object of criticism for both appearance and taste of coffee, to remain on probation for a few more weeks.

PLANNING DRAFTSMAN — Upgraded a draftsman position in the planning department with an increase from $6,744 to $7,080 a year starting pay, to allow appointment of a supervising draftsman in the department.

WAR PROTEST — Granted use of the courthouse steps for a demonstration against war April 8

NEW EMPLOYEES — Hired Ida M. Cullen as cashier in the treasurer-tax collector's office at $399 a month; Marjorie M. Marquetta as key punch operator in data processing at $399; Edward J. Morris as fire warden at $562 and Marcia L. Hammer as group counselor in Juvenile Hall at $536.

BLOOD BANK — Granted the County Employees Association request for a member blood bank donation program at the Civic Center from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., April 13.

TIME — Adjourned at 5:45 p.m.

Boosters Get Signals Lost On Exhibit

It appeared yesterday that getting the Marin Visitors Bureau and county chamber of commerce together on producing the county's exhibit for the state fair may result in an amusing wrestling match.

County supervisors did not know what to make of the situation when B. A. Farlatti of the visitors bureau made a proposal that Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the county chamber, knew nothing about it.

Farlatti told the board the exhibit should be designed to attract visitors to Marin, the visitors bureau should have complete control, and the $2,500 earlier appropriated for the exhibit was not enough. He said these decisions were made after a joint meeting with the chamber.

Snyker, however, said it was all news to him and Farlatti's proposals were not discussed in the meeting.

Supervisors decided to let the matter rest for a week.

Lion Plays Dead, Hunter Is Killed

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — A lion played dead long enough today to trigger the death of a famed white hunter and the injury of an American sportsman.

Hunter Henry Poolman, 36, a friend of the late author Ernest Hemingway, and sportsman Julian Barrett walked to the inert beast they thought dead at the foot of Mount Kilimanjaro. The lion sprang.

It mauled Poolman, then leaped at Barrett. The hunters' gun bearers fired.

One bullet killed Poolman. Another slew the lion. Barrett was reported in "satisfactory" condition at a local hospital, suffering a broken leg in his tussle with the lion.

Winners Of Speech Contest Announced

Margaret Costello of Larkspur and Johanne Jeffrey of San Rafael, eighth graders at San Domenico School for Girls, have won first and second place in a speech contest among students of San Domenico, St. Raphael's, Blessed Sacrament and St. Isabella's schools.

Theme of the contest was "immigrnts who have played an important part in the development of Marin County."

Jane Russell, Coach-Husband Talk Finances

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actress Jane Russell, 45, and former Los Angeles Rams quarterback-coach Bob Waterfield, 46, have begun negotiations toward financial and custody settlements prior to a divorce.

The couple had been scheduled to appear yesterday before Superior Judge William E. MacFaden for a hearing on Miss Russell's request for temporary support and Waterfield's request for custody of their three adopted children.

Neither the actress nor Waterfield was in court, but his attorney, Paul Caruso, said he had started negotiations with Miss Russell's attorney.

Tighter Vote Plan Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A House Judiciary Subcomittee headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., has approved a bill to set strict "one-man, one-vote" standards for congressional districts and prohibit gerrymandering, starting with the Congress elected in 1972.

The bill approved yesterday was a rewrite of a Congressional redistricting bill that passed the House in March, 1965, but died in the Senate Judiciary Committee in a wrangle over details.

Starting in 1972, the new bill would limit the largest and smallest house districts in a state to a maximum variation in population of 10 per cent. The average spread between all districts in a state could not exceed 5 per cent.

Zoologists have found that tiger, zebra and giraffe markings suggest human fingerprints. No two sets are alike.

Hotel Customer Killed In Blaze

CROWS LANDING (UPI) — Fire raged through the landmark J and M Hotel here last night, burning the structure to the ground and taking the life of a Crows Landing man.

Authorities said John Wright, 68, apparently died in bed in his second-floor room. Another man, Malcolm Maxwell, 28, Sonora, suffered severe leg injuries when he leaped out of his second-story window to avoid the fast moving flames.

Sixty firemen from the West Stanislaus County Fire District managed to save nearby buildings but were unable to prevent the hotel from burning to the ground.

Marin To Help Purchase Acreage Near Muir Woods

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted for county participation in purchase of the 18-acre Angelo Carrozzi property near the entrance to Muir Woods for addition to the Tamalpais State Park.

The board authorized $10,625 in tax money as the county share of the $85,000 purchase. The Sierra Club, Tamalpais Conservation Club and the state would put up $10,625 each. This would come to half the total cost, the rest to be covered by federal open space funds if an application for such funds is approved.

Carrozzi would retain three acres for a home site at the entrance to the park, but this would go to the state upon his death.

The property to be purchased is scattered in several parcels. There would be some small lots and homes remaining in the hands of other owners.

Eleven American mountaineers will attempt the first ascent of Vinson Massif, highest peak in Antarctica.

School Trouble Put To Outsiders

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Speakers at a Conference of California Secondary School Administrators blame outsiders for racial disturbances in the schools. They called yesterday for a "riot policy" to be used in the event of future trouble.

The recommendations came from three men who were school principals during on-campus demonstrations.

Emery Curtice, principal of Berkeley High in Alameda County, said non-students provoked demonstrations at this school.

"Sometimes," Curtice said, "it's hard to tell students from non-students, especially with an enrollment of 3,200." He urged that identification cards be issued to registered students.

Topless Dancers Bill Probe Set

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Whether cities and counties can pass laws against topless dancers and pornography will be the subject of Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee hearings.

Committee Chairman W. Craig Biddle, R - Riverside, announced today that the hearings will start April 4. A major question will be whether the state, rather than local agencies, has the authority to pass laws in the topless-pornography area.

Iceland Post For Rolvaag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag of Minnesota will be nominated to be U.S. ambassador to Iceland, President Johnson announced today. Rolvaag, a Democrat, was defeated for re-election last November.

The announcement said James K. Penfield, a career foreign service officer who is the present ambassador to Iceland, will be assigned to other duties.

Rolvaag, 53, was elected lieutenant governor of Minnesota in 1954 and served in that capacity until 1963 when he became governor.

LBJ's Personal Peace Offer Remaining Open

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's unprecedented personal peace bid to Ho Chi Minh is still open despite its rejection by the North Vietnamese leader, responsible U.S. sources said today.

Johnson, who returned last night from his fast-moving Guam strategy conference with top U.S. and South Vietnamese leaders, apparently underscored this theme when he said:

"We shall persevere in our efforts to find an honorable peace; until that is achieved, we shall continue to do our duty in Vietnam."

U.S. sources conceded, however, that it was unlikely that Hanoi would do an about-face in the immediate future and come to accept Johnson's letter as the basis for peace negotiations or even more limited talks on de-escalation of the conflict.

But they let it be known that the United States would still be interested and the terms Johnson outlined were not closed.

Disclosure of the Johnson-Ho correspondence, unique in the many efforts by the United States and other nations to get talks started, came first from Hanoi.

Diplomatic observers speculated that Hanoi's action constituted a firm propaganda riposte to the Guam conference communique, which restated the Allied intention to pursue the Vietnam war and the rebuilding of South Vietnam.

Johnson's message to Ho was dated Feb. 2. The State Department said it was delivered by a U.S. embassy official to North Vietnamese diplomats in Moscow Feb. 8, the day the TET bombing pause began.

Ex-Marinite's Trial Reset On Shooting

I-J Special Report

KINGMAN, Ariz. — Trial of Mary Ellen Busolo, 43, on an involuntary manslaughter charge in the shooting death of her husband, a former San Anselmo businessman, has been continued to April 19 at 9:30 a.m. in Mojave Superior Court here.

Trial, originally set for today, was continued at the request of Mrs. Busolo's attorney, William Tinney of Tucson, because of conflict of time with another case he is handling.

Superior Court Judge Frank X. Gordon Jr. said Mrs. Busolo's trial is expected to take three to five days.

Her husband, Licino Busolo Jr., was shot to death in their home in Lake Havasu City last Dec. 19. Mrs. Busolo reported the shooting three days later and said she planned to kill herself with the gun, but that it accidently discharged during a quarrel with her husband.

The Busolos moved to Arizona from San Anselmo two years ago.

A CHILLY HONEYMOON TRIP

British jeweler Tom Lightfoot, 56, and his bride of three days, the former Rita Billam of London, wave from their 1902 Mercedes as they start a three-day drive from Washington to New York, bundled in weather gear. A late model of the car is at right. Lightfoot, who has owned the 65-year-old touring car for 10 years, usually cruises between 20 and 25 miles per hour. but says the vintage car is still capable of speeds of up to 60 miles per hour. The couple, who left yesterday, expect to arrive in New York tomorrow where the car will be displayed at a New York automobile show.

LAWYER IS VICTIM

No Marijuana Case, But About The Fee?

Michael E. Simonton of Mountain View, charged last fall with marijuana possession, thoroughly convinced his lawyer that he was an honest and upright man.

The lawyer, William O. Weissich of San Rafael, convinced the court that there was insufficient evidence against Simonton, and the charge was dismissed.

The grateful Simonton then paid the attorney a $500 fee, by personal check.

The check bounced.

Yesterday, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales filed a fraudulent check charge against Simonton, and his arraignment was set for 2 p.m. next Monday in Marin Municipal Court.

"It just proves one thing," commented Weissich. "No matter how long you're in this business, you can still get fooled."

Juvenile Justice Is Panel Topic

Should lawbreakers between 18 and 21 be tried as juveniles or adults?

This question will be debated at 9 a.m. tomorrow on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board." Speakers will be Marin Municipal Court Judge Hadden W. Roth; Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales; James Soetaert, director of probation services for the county, and Novato Police Chief Robert Di Grazia.

The program will be repeated at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

SUGAR COOKIES made into perky little spring hats, are deliciously adorned with apricot jam and roasted slivered almonds. They're a welcome addition to Easter baskets and perfect for a "make your own spring hat" party refreshment.

Gay Little Cookie Bonnets Are Made With Sour Cream, Nuts

To usher in spring, give a "make your own spring hat" party. Simply invite friends to bring their own hat frames, ribbons and flowers to make their own Easter bonnets for an afternoon. For refreshments, serve coffee, tea or punch and feature "Almond Sugar Cookie Chapeaux," sugar cookies with springtime flair.

These gay little bonnets are easily fashioned from a delicious dough that's made with sour cream and crunchy nuts. Their flavorful adornments are apricot jam and roasted slivered almonds. They're a bright addition to Easter baskets as well as a conversation-maker at parties.

UNLESS YOU PLAN to let the Easter Bunny put these chapeaux in your children's Easter baskets, have the youngsters help you make them — they'll delight in adding their own elegant designs.

Roasted slivered almonds are available in cans at many markets. However, if you want to make them yourself from natural almonds, simply cover the kernels with water and bring them to a boil. After you drain them, you'll find that their skins slip off readily when the almonds are pressed between thumb and fingers.

While the blanched kernels are still warm and moist, split each nut in half with the tip of a knife. Lay the flat side down and slice into thin slivers. Roast these blanched slivered almonds in butter or oil, using a teaspoon of fat for each cup of nut meats, for 15 to 20 minutes in a 300 degree oven.

MAKE PLENTY of these elegant slivers for later use — to enhance other cookies and cakes, casseroles and vegetable dishes— and store them in a tightly closed container in the refrigerator, or in a sealed disposable plastic bag in the freezer.

ALMOND SUGAR COOKIE CHAPEAUX

2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon almond extract
½ cup dairy sour cream
½ cup roasted slivered almonds
½ cup apricot jam
Roasted slivered almonds for garnish

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and nutmeg. Cream shortening with sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg, almond extract and sour cream; beat well. Gradually blend in flour mixture. Stir in ½ cup almonds. Roll 2/3 of dough into 1½-inch balls; place about 3 inches apart on ungreased cooky sheet. Flatten with bottom of glass dipped in flour into rounds ¼-inch thick. Place a scant teaspoon jam in center of each round. Roll remaining dough into ½-inch balls; place on top of jam. Poke additional almonds into each cooky for garnish. Bake at 375 degrees 10 to 12 minutes. Cool on wire rack. Makes 3 to 4 dozen cookies.

Fruit Cocktail Adds To This Coffee Cake

1 package (10½ ounces) coffee cake mix (with mixing bag baking pan)
¼ cup well drained canned fruit cocktail
¼ cup finely cut pecans

Make up coffee cake mix and turn into pan according to package directions. Halve the fruit cocktail pieces and gently fold into batter right in pan. Mix pecans with topping (from coffee cake mix package) and sprinkle over batter. Bake according to package directions.

Bunny Brunch With Punch For Easter Sunday Morning

Have a quick-as-a-bunny brunch party on Easter Sunday. All you need is a crowd of friends dressed up in their best new clothes, and "hot quiche" as the star of the menu. Quiche, a custardy ham and cheese pie, can be made the night before and finished up in a half hour on Sunday morning.

Brunch punch made with orange juice, ginger ale and club soda; and buns made from hot roll mix and filled with assorted preserves, will help make the meal holiday special. Complete the menu with coffee.

Keep the following recipe for quiche under your new hat till Easter Sunday:

HOT QUICHE

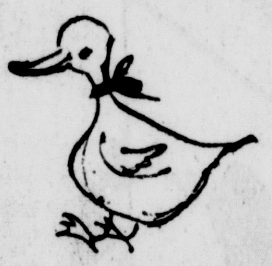
2 packages pie crust mix
1 lb. sliced boiled ham
4 cups (1 lb.) grated Swiss cheese
12 eggs
6 cups heavy cream
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of nutmeg
Dash of cayenne pepper

Prepare dough as package directs. Divide dough into thirds. Use two of the thirds to make two plain 11-ince pie shells. Roll out remaining third for garnish on rim of pie plate. Use a tiny flower-shaped cutter to make cutouts. Brush rim of pastry shells with milk and press down flower cutouts around rims. Reserve about a dozen cutouts for center. Bake at 425°F. (hot) for five minutes. Set aside. Cut ham into inch-wide strips; arrange half in bottom of each pie shell. Sprinkle two cups of cheese over ham in each shell. Beat together eggs, cream, salt, nutmeg and pepper. Pour half over cheese in each pie shell. Bake at 425°F. for 15 minutes. Add reserved pastry garnishes to center of pie and reduce oven to 300°F. (slow). Bake 20 minutes more or until silver knife inserted in center of pie comes out clean. Serve immediately or refrigerate and reheat at 300°F. for twenty minutes. Makes 12 generous servings.

Note: To make mushroom version, substitute two small cans of drained mushroom slices for ham, increase salt to two teaspoons.

Pretty Brunch Idea—Pineapple, Pinwheels

Golden pineapple slices topped with sausage pinwheels are a fresh and pretty idea for Easter brunch. This unusual treatment of pork sausages is easy to do when they're linked together. Just coil up three at a time, fasten with skewers and broil until lightly browned. Notice that the sausages are first given a sauna bath in boiling water to hasten the cooking. Canned pineapple slices go under the broiler, too, for a very quick warming.



Bake you favorite pancakes the same size as the pineapple slices. They look pretty stacked underneath and taste wonderful with a good little pineapple syrup passed at the table. For refreshing accompaniment to start or end the brunch, serve a well chilled fruit compote.

Canned pineapple on the spring scene shows up in all sorts of party salads, entrees, desserts and punches. With teas, showers, luncheons and graduation coming up, canned pineapple by the caseful is not too much to keep around.

PINWHEELS AND PINEAPPLE

12 pork sausage links
1 (14½-ounce) can pineapple slices
16 baked pancakes
Pineapple Golden Syrup

For each serving, coil 3 sausages into pinwheels and fasten with thin skewer. Cover pinwheels with boiling water; let stand 10 minutes, then drain well. Broil about 5 minutes until lightly browned on 1 side. Turn; add drained pineapple slices and broil about 5 minutes longer until sausage is done and pineapple heated. Serve over stacked pancakes. Top with pineapple syrup. Makes 4 servings.

PINEAPPLE GOLDEN SYRUP: Combine ½ cup each syrup drained from pineapple and sugar. Boil slowly in small pan about 10 minutes, until syrupy and golden. Remove from heat and cool. Makes about ½ cup.

Grapefruit Peach Compote Garnish Has Ginger, Syrup

If you choose the ginger garnish for this compote, you'll find it amusing to concoct.

GRAPEFRUIT PEACH COMPOTE

2 medium grapefruit
1 package (12 ounces) frozen sliced peaches, defrosted
Maraschino cherries or syrup-preserved ginger for garnish.

Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Drain grapefruit sections (drink the juice!) and mix with peaches and their juice. Garnish with cherries or ginger shapes; to make shapes slice through ginger pieces to make thinner; cut out shapes from the ginger slices with tiny canape cutters. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Jigtime Nibbles

1 bag (4 ounces) Japanese-type peanut snacks
1 bag (4 ounces) Japanese-type cheese snacks
1 can (6¾ ounces) cocktail peanuts
1 can (6¾ ounces) mixed nuts

In a serving bowl, mix together the snacks and nuts. Makes enough for 1½ to 2 dozen nibblers. (Store any left-over in a tightly covered tin.) Nice served ladled into Japanese-type small teacups (without handles).

FOR THAT Easter Brunch serve the family golden pineapple slices topped with sausage pinwheels. For refreshing accompaniment to start or end the brunch, serve a well-chilled fruit compote.

Political Violence Raging In Mexico

HERMOSILLO, Mexico (UPI) —Student groups openly stockpiled weapons and Molotov cocktails today in this riot-torn city where mobs set fire to two political party officers yesterday.

Two days of pitched street fighting in Hermosillo, capital of Sonora state bordering Arizona, left one confirmed and six reported dead. At least 18 persons were injured and 200 rioters had been arrested since fighting started Sunday night.

Police said a man was shot to death but denied unofficial reports that seven persons were killed. The morgue at the state hospital remained sealed, however.

The students were gathering rifles, pistols and firebombs. Rival political groups manned barricades.

The fighting was between supporters and opponents of Congressman Faustino Felix, government nominee for Sonora state governor. His opponents were attacking the system by which the ruling Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PIR) selects candidates, allowing no local choice. Since the party controls more than 9 per cent of the national vote, its nomination is equivalent to election.

About 800 students last night attacked Felix's campaign headquarters and set fire to furniture and files. An estimated 150 persons in the offices retreated.

Earlier yesterday a mob of about 5,000 persons attacked the PRI office and set it afire, destroying its furniture and files.

Firemen saved the buildings.

Riot police charged the mob, hurling tear gas cannisters. The mob replied with Molotov cocktails and rocks.

Police said about 100 persons were arrested, doubling the number jailed since Sunday. Officials said no one was killed in the clash.

TODAY:

7:09 a.m., San Anselmo — Kerosene lamp knocked off street barrier in front of 90 Woodside Drive, setting fire to the barrier; minor damage to barrier.

Firms Agree To TV Rules

All five applicants for community antenna television franchises in Novato will comply with the minimum technical requirements set up by the city, the Novato City Council's franchise committee was assured last night.

The committee asked City Mgr. J. Julien Baget to schedule meetings with each of the applicants in April to review applications.

Companies making applications to serve areas in Novato with Community Televisoin Antennas are Western California Telephone Co., Cable Television of Marin, Color Cable Inc. of Thousand Oaks, M and M Cable of Novato, and Televue Systems of San Rafael.

Rec Funding For Athlete Tutoring Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Teachers coaching athletic teams after school hours must not be paid out of community recreation funds, Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch ruled yesterday.

He said it was essential to determine whether interscholastic activities fitted the meaning of the Community Recreational Act or whether they were a part of school programs.

Even though a school activity is witnessed by the community that does not make it a community service, Lynch said.

Lynch's ruling was asked by the Butte County counsel and prohibits school districts from using community recreation funds to pay the salaries of school teachers involved in after-school sporting events.

Lynch said that even though interscholastic events are voluntary, once started they become just as much school instruction as that given in a classroom.

Fog Closes Down County's Airport

Plot Perjury Charge Draws Innocent Plea

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dean A. Andrews Jr., a lawyer who says Lee Harvey Oswald consulted him in 1963 on minor legal matters, pleaded innocent today to a charge of committing perjury before a grand jury in connection with Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's John F. Kennedy assassination investigation.

Criminal Dist. Court Judge Frank Shea granted a motion by Andrew's lawyers for a jury trial and gave them until April 10 to file motions in the case.

Andrews, 44, was indicted last Thursday by the Orleans Parish grand jury, which said he gave answers which he "well knew were false and untrue" when questioned about Garrison's assassination conspiracy probe.

In another development, an attorney for Clay L. Shaw obtained court permission for his client to leave New Orleans tomorrow to spend the Easter weekend on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Garrison has charged Shaw, a wealthy retired New Orleans executive, with conspiring to murder President Kennedy. Following a four-day preliminary hearing last week, a three-judge court ruled that Garrison had produced sufficient evidence to hold Shaw for trial.

Kentfield Trustees To Consider Calendar

The Kentfield School District board will consider a calendar for next school year Monday at 8 p.m. at Wolfe Grade School.

Supt. Anthony G. Bacich will report on possible flood control measures for Wolfe Grade Creek near Wolfe Grade School, and the board will hear a report and see a film, "Art and Language Development," on educational television. Trustees also will consider district policy on after-school recreation.

One Of Sukarno's Wife Wins Divorce

JAKARTA (UPI) —One of ousted President Sukarno's four official wives has divorced him, the official Indonesian news agency Antara said today.

Harjati, who married Sukarno three years ago, said her divorce was valid last October but announced only now to "clear up the whole issue because I am a woman."

The 27-year-old childless beauty gave no reason for the divorce.

The Caspian Sea is actually a lake and is the largest body of water on earth surrounded by land with an area of 143,550 square miles.

Women Lagging As Leaders, Barnard President Charges

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) —Women have done battle for suffrage and for equal pay for equal work alongside men.

But despite these struggles and others of women won in the 20th Century, women still drag their heels in an area where they're desperately needed—in the roles of leaders.

Instead, women are settling for a "cozy, restricted, small" existence.

These are views of Dr. Rosemary Park, president of Barnard College, who soon will move to a top post with the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA).

"NEVER HAVE we had a time in which sheer brain power is so important," said Dr. Park. "The rewards today are for brains. And it doesn't matter to which sex they belong."

Yet there exists a massive leadership gap between men and women and Dr. Park sees this "absence of qualified women for posts of leadership" a matter of "profound concern" to the nation.

As Dr. Park puts it, "President Johnson is making every effort to get women into government (with more than 120 appointments to federal posts). But we have no woman in the cabinet, for instance. The government crop just isn't ready to harvest yet."

IN EDUCATION, the leadership gap shows in absence of women as college presidents, deans, even full professors, she added.

Barnard's president gave a variety of reasons women settle "for a relatively small existence."

There was the "big retreat" to suburbia, which made it nigh onto impossible for women to run a home and be a job leader too.

Dr. Park believes this population trend is reversing, however.

Women with families are less mobile, because husband and children necessarily come ahead of career.

In turn, traditionally men are "more aggressive — the man knows he is under economic pressure of making the living for himself and family. A woman usually is responsible only for herself."

The affluent society in which women do not have to work—although 26 million of them do—also is a factor in the leadership lag. And Dr. Park believes there is a traditional lack of scope in women's aspirations.

THE SOLUTIONS? She said women need to be "encouraged to think in more factual, realistic terms about the opportunities society offers them, which seem indeed to be almost limitless."

Get all the education you can, while you're young and it's easier. College and university help to show young women that their lives "need not be cozy, restricted and small," she said.

Florence Crittenton Circle Elects Officers For Year

The Concours d'Elegance, sponsored by the circle will be headed by co-chairmen Mrs Gerald J. Elbert Jr. and Mrs. Mrs. William Fuss, who have announced chairmen of committees: Mesdames J. M. Kennedy, programs; Fred Delahay, tickets; Harry Bragg, publicity; James Berry, display; Andrew Stone, photo contest; Stanley Kennedy, entry blanks; Peter Knowles, dealer display, Robert Hayes, trophies; Donald Sternloff, signs and posters; William Steen, decorations; Don Horowitz, gifts and door prizes; Arthur Collbran, field chairman; William Findeisen, special arrangements; H. K. Laymon, personnel; Barry Newman, finance; Leon Felton, secretary; Everett Girtler, special events and Roger Jobson, entertainment.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Easter Vacationers Scatter

By MOLLY MARIN

The Easter vacation is finding some Marinites on the snowy slopes. The Russell Rices of Belvedere, whose daughter, Stephanie, a student at the University of Oregon, will be with them, are going to Tahoe City. The Chester Bunnells and Dr. and Mrs. John Mayer of Belvedere will be skiing at Squaw Valley.

CHOOSING SUNNY climes for their holiday are Mr. and Mrs. Frank King of Belvedere and their daughters, Libby, a student at Stephens College, and Ginny, a senior at San Domenico. They are vacationing in Hawaii.

COL. AND MRS. EUGENE T. SEVERIN of Sausalito have invited their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morrison of Belvedere and granddaughter, Laurel, and newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chappelear of Sausalito to dinner on Easter Sunday. The Severins and Morrisons will be visited by their grandson and son, Severin Morrison, during the middle of April. He is presently in the last phase of parachute jumping at Fort Benning, Ga., and will return home before being transferred to duty in Vietnam.

HONORED AT a series of coffees and desserts on the occasion of her 80th birthday was Mrs. Belle McHargue of San Rafael. Mrs. McHargue, who was born in Mondova, Wash., resides with her son-in-law and daughter, Mrs. R. H. Weitzel in San Rafael.

. MR. AND MRS. HENRY Foster of Mill Valley and Mr. Foster's nephew, Arthur Foster of Zanesville, Wis., were hosts Friday evening at a welcome-home and multiple birthday dinner party at the El Paseo restaurant in Mill Valley. Guest of honor was Dr. Paul Henry, who recently returned to Mill Valley after visiting relatives in Budapest, Hungary. He had not seen his parents in 21 years. His stepfather, Dr. Laszlone Kulley, a surgeon and specialist in rheumatic disease, is a friend of the Dr. Michael Dacse who was president of the international conference of physical medicine and rehabilitation held recently in San Francisco. Sharing welcome honors was Mrs. Tom Casson, an artist who is opening a studio in El Paso.

The four birthdays celebrated were those of both Mr. and Mrs. Foster, her longtime friend, Mrs. Josef Walter of Santa Rosa, who shares her birth date, and Mrs. William Howell of San Francisco, formerly Amy Hanson of Mill Valley. Other guests were Mrs. Minnie Chaffee of Mill Valley and Messrs. Howell, Walter and Casson.

VISITING DR. AND MRS. William Haynes in Sausalito is his sister, Mrs. May Hayden of Placentia in the Los Angeles area. Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Krajeski of Sausalito have had as their house guests Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Krajeski of Wilkes Bare, Pa.

HOUSE GUEST of the Dick De Berrys of Belvedere is Maureen Leonard of Sacramento, who will spend the spring vacation with the De Berrys' daughter Sue. The girls are here from the University of Nevada. Also home from the University of Nevada are Roxeanne Taft and Allison Noble of Belvedere. All are in the Delta Delta Delta house on the Reno campus. Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Noble of Belvedere, has been visiting in Newport Beach. Her sister, Lynn, a senior at the University of Southern California, is in Belvedere for the spring vacation. Lynn appeared on a recent television quiz show in Los Angeles and is being congratulated on the valuable prizes which she won.

Back from a trip to Newberg, Ore. to attend a wedding are Janet De Berry of Belvedere and Carmelita Wolfe of Kentfield. Jan was a bridesmaid. The Marin girls both attended the University of Oregon, and have many friends in the Northwest.

HEIDI FOSTER, who will become the bride of Jerry Eberly in a ceremony on April 15 at St. Paul's Church in San Rafael, was honored at a kitchen shower by Mrs. Newton Steacy and her daughter, Ruth, in San Rafael.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

This So-Called Man Smells Money At The Expense Of Helpless Female

DEAR HELEN:

I recently met a so-called man, except he isn't if you know what I mean. He dislikes women.

However, he brags about hooking this young woman who has bought him a $700 television, two tape recorders, a hat for $25 — and then, this will kill you, she bought for herself a $400 diamond ring which she delights in telling her friends is her engagement ring.

Heaven help her, Helen. He gets a kick out of saying, "The money's there, and I'm going to get some of it!"

How low-down can a man get? — THE INSIDE STORY

DEAR IS:

. . .As low as a woman's stupidity will allow. And it appears the poor gal has a boundless amount. When you buy a man, you never get one. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We are both college graduates, in our early 30s in a good income bracket. My husband is active in church and civic affairs, and we're well respected.

My big problem is pornographic books. Our basement has so many boxes of this cheap mostly pocket-book type of junk that storage is a problem. One dresser drawer now has $58.50 worth of the trash. Some are even expensive books.

He thinks there's nothing wrong with it, and that I'm a prude. He says he can't get rid of the books because he has no place to take them, but we have three children and surely they'll come across them someday.

Am I a prude or is he sick? — READER

DEAR READER:

I wouldn't say a man is "sick" simply because he likes to read sexy books — and I wonder if "pornography" is the right word for them.

Why not compromise? Get rid of the oldies — the trash can is fine if you can't give them away. Then set a definite monthly limit on book purchases. And read along with your husband. You may discover that what you think is terrible is no worse than parts of Shakespeare. H.

DEAR HELEN:

My wife thinks security is the only thing in life. I want to try a new job that offers a great deal of challenge, but she wants me to stick with the dull desk work I have because the retirement and benefits are good. Who wants to "exist" for 35 years, so you can "live" for maybe 10? This new job could mean a real career, and I'm young enough to take a chance. We haven't any children. What do you think? — BILL

DEAR BILL:

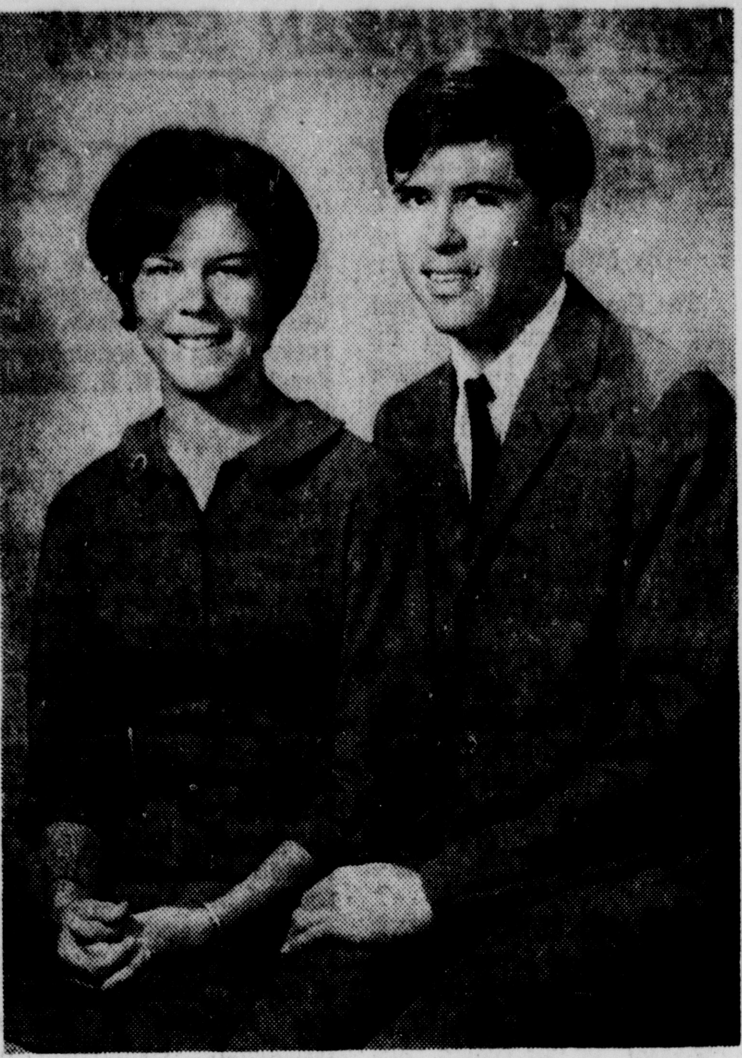
I'm with you! President Eisenhower said the ultimate security is a life sentence in a penitentiary — and that's just about equivalent to enduring a lifetime job you hate, because you're "chicken." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About these dames who howl for female equality. You were right, Helen, let 'em serve in Vietnam. American women, will you promise not to get pregnant and waste your education? Will you give up to 45 years to a firm at the same rate men do? Will you not expect a man to give you a seat on the bus?

The Supreme Court said that separate but equal facilities were not good enough. Someday you're going to complain once too often and then bang! You'll see the inequalities of being equal. — A MAN FOR WOMENLY WOMEN.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.



AT A PARTY held in the San Rafael home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. DeKay, the engagement of their daughter, Vicki Jean, and Jerald R. Bryan of Agana, Guam, was announced.

Vicki DeKay Will Marry In The Fall

The engagement of Vicki Jean DeKay and Jerald R. Bryan of Agana, Guam, was announced yesterday at a party for 50 friends held in the San Rafael home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dekay.

Vicki, the sister of Daniel and Martha DeKay, was graduated from Terra Linda High School. She and her finance are students at University of California at Santa Barbara.

Jerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Bryan of Agana, and the brother of James Bryan.

Vicki grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. DeKay, reside in Berkeley. The wedding will take place this fall.

Inspect Furniture

When buying furniture, inspect it. Try doors, drawers and all movable parts. Sit in sofas and chairs. Check inside, underneath and backside for construction details. Rock furniture to test sturdiness.

Employers May Become Liable For Unpaid Domestic Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 59-year-old domestic worker disabled by arthritis discovered recently she was not eligible for Social Security benefits because her employers had failed to pay the required taxes.

Only after the woman showed her employment records to the Social Security Administration, which then forced her previous employers to pay the back taxes, did she become eligible.

A Social Security spokesman cited this case to illustrate what can happen to housewives who employ domestic help — such as maids, cooks, gardeners and handymen — but fail to pay the Social Security tax for their employees.

FIGURES indicate there may be hundreds of thousands of such employers who become liable for the unpaid taxes—currently 4.4 per cent each for employe and employer—as well as 6 per cent interest on the amount due and a penalty of up to 25 per cent.

The employer is responsible for submitting both the employe and employer share of the tax.

Federal law requires a housewife to make Social Security contributions if her domestic employe earns more than $50 during a calendar quarter. This could apply even to the family babysitter.

"We don't know how many employers and employes should be paying Social Security taxes," the spokesman said. "But we know that in 1965, the last year for which we have figrues, 1.27 million employers reported wages paid to household employes covered by Social Security.

"The total number of employes reported by these employers was 1.46 million," she added.

The Census Bureau said, however, that about 2.4 million persons were employed as domestics during January though it did not know how many of them might be earning less than $50 per quarter from an employer.

THE BUREAU said it can be assumed that many more households than 2.4 million employ domestic help since one maid might work in several homes each week.

"We do know all employes and employers are not reported," the Social Security spokesman continued. "The housewife is not like the businessman. Even if she knows the law, she is not used to making records and often considers this a nuisance."

One problem confronting some housewives is the domestic who refuses to work if her Social Security tax is reported because these figures can be cross-checked for income tax purposes.

But if the housewife fails to pay the tax, she remains liable for it because there is no statute of limitations. And the cook or maid loses her eligibility for all or part of her Social Security benefits.

Elizabeth Ann Palmer Weds Harvey Klyce At St. Paul's

Elizabeth Ann Palmer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Palmer of Mill Valley, became the bride of Harvey Raymond Klyce of San Rafael on Saturday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Klyce of San Rafael, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Klyce of Mill Valley and the great-grandson of Mrs. Harvey A. Klyce of Mill Valley.

For the ceremony performed at 2 p.m. by the Rev. John Riley, the bride wore a floor length gown of ivory satin trimmed with English lace.

Maid of honor was her sister, Ellen Palmer of Mill Valley, and bridesmaids were her sister, Eileen Palmer of Mill Valley, and Nancy Thomas, Andrea Fama, Dorrie Kaufman and Barbara Reedy, all of San Francisco.

They wore full length Empire styled gowns of pale yellow crepe, and the maid of honor's gown had a yellow lace overdress.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Ron Klyce of San Rafael, and ushers were his brothers Tom and Robert Klyce of San Rafael, the bride's brother, Scott Palmer, and Richard Creighton of Mill Valley and Will Gillet of Newport Beach.

After a honeymoon at Pebble Beach the couple will live in Newport Beach since Harvey is in his senior year at University of California at Irvine. He plans to work toward doctorate degree and is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

The new Mrs. Klyce was graduated form Tamalpais High School and attended College of Marin and Shasta Junior College. She has completed the first semester at St. Luke's School of Nursing in San Francisco.

She has two more brothers, Eric and Edward Palmer of Mill Valley and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Capitola Hargrove of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Prudence Hoskovic of Paradise.

Harvey was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin and Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. He has another brother, Kevin Klyce of San Rafael.

Eileen Harap, Daniel Drath Will Be Married On May 6

The engagement of Eileen Harap of Palo Alto to Daniel G. Drath, son of Mrs. Henry Drath of Kentfield and the late Mr. Drath, has been announced.

Eileen is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Harap of Washington D.C., formerly of Nashville. She attended Peabody School in Nashville, Wheaton College in Massachusetts and took a graduate degree in education at Boston University. She is now a teacher at Green Gables elementary school, Palo Alto.

Daniel, who is a senior mathematical engineer at Lockheed Missiles and Space Corp., is a Sir Francis Drake High School and Princeton graduate and took a master's degree in engineering from Princeton.

The couple will be married May 6 at Christ Church in Portola Valley, and will make their home in Palo Alto.

Collier-Teare Rite In Fairfax Church

The Fairfax Community Church was the setting on Saturday for the wedding of Elizabeth A. Teare of Castro Valley and Larry D. Collier.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Teare of Fairfax.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of eggshell linen and lace.

Preceding the bride down the aisle in crepe chiffon gowns in shades of blue were Louise Jacobsen of Mountain View, as maid of honor, and bridemaids, Genevieve Jorgensen and Emma Morelli both of Hayward.

Richard Bocks of Sunnyvale served the bridegroom as best man and ushering were Art Penner of Sunnyvale and Thomas Teare of Moraga, the bride's brother.

A reception followed the ceremony at the San Geronimo Country Club.

The bride was graduated from Tamalpais High School, College of Marin and San Jose State College. She is a teacher in the Hayward School District.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jennings of Santa Clara, was graduated from Watsonville High School and San Jose State. He is employed with Southern Pacific.

Following the wedding trip to Southern California, the couple will live in Castro VAlley.

PACIFIC ISLAND CRAFT — This picture of a Polynesian double canoe used on long voyages by Pacific island natives is among Pacific navigational material collected by Charles Borden of Muir Beach and on exhibit at the Mill Valley Public Library.

Christianity And The Arts Series Slated

A six-week series of lectures, demonstrations and discussions probing the current relationship of Christianity and the arts has been scheduled by the First Methodist Church of San Rafael.

The special classes, conducted by professional artists and theologians, will be held Wesnedays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. March 29 through May 3 at the church, Ross Valley Drive and Miracle Mile.

Topics to be presented are:

March 29: "The Language of Relationship Between the Contemporary Fine Arts and Christianity," Rev. Laird Sutton.

April 5: "The Language of Pottery and Related Arts," Allan Widenhofer, potter and instructor at College of Marin.

April 12: "The Language of Experimental Films," Dr. Emory Menefee, State Dept. of Agriculture research scientist and film maker.

April 19: "The Language of Contemporary Popular Music," Rev. David Barr, chaplain to the Episcopal bishop of California.

April 26: "The Language of Drama," Paul Donetti, director of the Institute for Creative and Artistic Development.

May 3: "The Language of Poetry," Stan McNail, poet and editor of "Galley Sail Poetry Review."

Mint Employees Will Be X-Rayed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Mint announced yesterday it will X-ray employees by a "metal detector" and search them if "unexplained metal" is detected.

The new security measures begin next Monday, when the mint reopens with its full work force. Half of the 505 employees have been laid off the past 10 days during an inventory to determine if any coins had been stolen.

Youngster Not Hurt In Fall From Auto

A 2-year-old Larkspur girl escaped injury when she fell from her father's moving car at 6:40 p.m. yesterday at Tamalpais and Montecito drives in Corte Madera, according to Corte Madera police.

Patricia Spratt, 2, was taken to Marin General Hospital by ambulance after she fell from the car driven by Gullen Spratt of 1 Boardwalk, Larkspur, but she was not injured.

"Boondocks," slang for the back country, derives from the Philippine word bundok, a remote area of Luzon.

Pacific Natives' Sailing Skills Shown By Relics

An exhibit of early South Pacific navigational "stick charts" and models of long-voyaging craft, loaned by Charles Borden of Muir Beach, is on display at Mill Valley Library.

The charts of sea movements, the mariner and writer explained, "are unique among early sailors, and were widely used by a voyaging island people who had no paper to record memories of sailing experiences and representations of oceanic areas." The charts used cowrie shells to indicate positions of atols and islands. The lines and curves of pandanus and coconut palm reprsent crests of the sea as affected by islands and reefs.

The charts were read only by leaders of expeditions, Borden said, who guarded their secrets from their own people. The charts "became a part of early Pacific history and recorded the accumulated knowledge of generations as the art of navigation was passed on from father to son," he related. "They were not measured distances, "but were the very personal recordings, observations and calculations of each individual navigator who made them."

The effect of land on trade wind wave patterns, Boren said, "can be seen for more than 20 miles by a skilled island navigator, who could also estimate the elevation of a star to within half a degree or less by finger span of the hand."

Borden's latest book, "Sea Quest," is the current book-of-the-month of the Dolphin Book Club.

Directors Named By Homeowners

Glenwood Homeowners Association last night elected a slate of eight directors for 1967. Outgoing acting president Paul McMullen will also remain on the board.

Elected last night were Rev. Kenneth E. Anderson, Mrs. Jane Curtis, Denny Dehnert, Dale Kline, Paul Markavage, Roy Millard, Alfred Rodriguez, and Kay Sutherland.

The board will elect officers at its first meeting.

The association also completed plans for an Easter egg hunt for Glenwood children at 1 p.m. Saturday in the churchyard of Church of the Redeemer, 121 Knight Drive.

Patrolman Aids An Injured Woman

A policeman saw a Corte Madera woman with an injured wrist trying to drive herself to the hospital at 1:14 a.m. today, and took her to Marin General Hospital in his patrol car.

Thelma Kraus of 18 Flying Cloud Course, Corte Madera, was later reported in fair condition at the hospital with a fractured wrist. Patrolman Roger Downward stopped her car when he noticed she was "driving erratically," he said. She told him she had injured her wrist in a fall at her home.

Landscape Painting Lecture Is Tonight

An art lecture-demonstration by landscape painter Ray Strong will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Frances Young gallery in the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

The Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday that the lecture by Strong, a past president of the Marin Society of Artists, would be last night.

Guys and Dolls Pocket Billiard League to Form

The Town and Country Family Billiard Parlor of Kentfield located at 941 Sir Francis Drake Blvd. will hold its First Annual Guys and Dolls Billiard League.

Any couple between the ages of 15 and 99 will be able to participate. The game of 8-ball will be played, and each team will consist of one man and one woman. No experience or understanding of the game will be necessary. All rules and explanation of the game will be furnished.

The League Games will be played on Tuesday nights between 7:15 and 8:15. Four games will be played each week for a period of 9 weeks. Trophies as well as Imported Cuesticks from Portugal will be presented to the winning teams. The League will consist of 20 Teams. The first 20 couples to sign up in person will form the League.

Expert Tells Tire Buyers To Pump Up

WASHINGTO N (UPI) —A government expert has warned that following industry recommendations for tire inflation pressure could cause blowouts.

Dr. Robert Stiehler, head of the National Bureau of Standards evaluation division, told the Senate Commerce Committee yesterday that the recommended inflation levels by the auto and tire industries are too low.

Testing of tires inflated to the recommended levels produced a high rate of premature failure, he said. Because of this, he said motorists should ignore the recommendations that are usually found in the owners manual of the vehicle.

Industry overrates tire carrying capacity when it recommends low inflation levels, he said. He noted that one advantage of lower pressure is a softer ride.

But Stiehler said increasing inflation pressure to increase the tire's load carrying capacity caused faster tread wear.

Unlocked Safe Hit

An unlocked safe was robbed of $30 and a soda machine rifled of $3 early yesterday as burglars broke into the Sun Iron Works, 931 Second Street, San Rafael, through a rear window, police reported.

Alabama Schools Told To Halt Segregation

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A federal court in a sweeping, unprecedented decision today ordered the desegregation next term of all Alabama schools not already under court order and directed state officials to implement the integration ruling.

Ninety-nine school systems were included in the decree—the first court desegregation order aimed at state officials, from the governor down, on a statewide basis.

Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace, whose husband-predecessor George C. Wallace has long fought integration, together with school authorities were directed to take affirmative steps to end all racial discrimination in the schools.

State officials were not available for comment immediately.

"Faculty members and staff members, facilities and activities, as well as student bodies, must be desegregated to such an extent that there no longer exists in the Alabama public school system discrimination of any sort or to any degree that is based upon race or color," the judges wrote in an opinion accompanying the decree.

The unanimous decision struck down Alabama's tuition grant law under which pupils may draw state funds to attend private schools.

Named in an injunction against enforcing discrimination were Gov. Lurleen Wallace, who is president of the State School Board; members of the board, and the state school superintendent.

INDIANA COMMUNITY 'BOMBED'

A barber shop and a nearby tavern in Dugger, a rural Southwest Indiana town, got unexpected visitors yesterday—500-pound non-fused bombs bound for Vietnam. They were part of a shipment aboard a semi-truck trailer which was hit by an Illinois Central freight train. No injuries were reported. (AP Wirephoto)

Federal Aide's Son Misses Court Date, Angers Judge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Keith R. Goldsmith, 23-year-old son of U.S. Commissioner Richard S. Goldsmith of Mill Valley, angered a San Francisco Municipal Court judge yesterday by failing to appear for arraignment on a narcotics charge.

The young man was arrested Saturday in a raid on a San Francisco apartment by state narcotics agents. The warrant for the raid had been signed by Commissioner Goldsmith, who had no idea at the time that his own son would be among these seized.

The other seven pleaded innocent at their arraignment and preliminary hearing was set by Muncicpal Court Judge Joseph G. Kennedy for May 3 at 2 p.m.

It was reported that Goldsmith had failed to appear because he was taking final examinations at Stanford University.

Judge Kennedy said Goldsmith "took it on himself" not to appear and that the young man's independent action had "raised the ire of the court." The judge called this "a form of contempt" and said, that "he of all people should have appeared, especially as he had been released on his own recognizance."

Judge Kennedy turned down a request by Goldsmith's attorney for a continuance of Goldsmith's case until next week. The judge told the Independent-Journal: "To do otherwise would have been to discriminate. I felt he should appear as soon as possible like the others."

Goldsmith, who lives at the family home at 21 Birch Avenue, Mill Valley, is now scheduled to be arraigned tomorrow.

Others arrested in the raid on the San Francisco apartment of Darrow K. Erlin, 22, were Erlin and his wife, Eloise, 21; their boarder, Robert B. Babon, 26; Roderick W. Miller, 24, of San Francisco; and three Sausalitans, Catlain H. Cisco, 25; Dona L. Hunt, 25, and Donald A. Frederiksson, 40.

Narcotics agents said they found both LSD and marijuana in the apartment.

Station Owner Slain By Robber

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—A service station owner was found shot to death early today in what sheriff's deputies described as a murder-robbery.

The victim was Oscar J. Scruggs, 52, Santa Rosa.

Scruggs' wife told investigators he was called to the station late last night by a man who reported his rented car was operating improperly. She said her husband became suspicious after the call and took his revolver with him.

Scruggs was shot twice, possibly with his own gun, in the head and chest. Deputies said a third bullet was fired through a plate glass window of the station.

Beard Growing Starts April 1

Beard growing will start April 1 in Novato in preparation for the annual Western Weekend, scheduled for June 18-25 this year.

Entry blanks for the beard contest are available at Novato barber shops. Contestants must be clean-shaven on starting day.

Novato Unified School District has agreed to let Novato High School students grow beards for the contest, publicity chairman Leroy Chapman said. The students will compete in a separate category.

Awards will be given for the best mutton chops, novelty style beard, Abe Lincoln, Van Dyke, longest beard and the grand winner "best of show" beard.

Building Contract Let For White Hill School

The Fairfax School District Board last night awarded a contract for construction of White Hill School to low bidder Ira W. Coburn, Inc., of San Rafael at $315,442, contingent on approval by the state Department of General Services.

Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said the district hopes to start construction April 1 if state approval is granted in time.

Ideal Construction Co. of Novato bid $206,854, but asked to be released as the bid contained a mathematical error. The board agreed.

Added to the cost will be installation of paving and fencing, for which bids were submitted by the square foot and linear foot.

The district's teachers presented a proposed new salary schedule which would cost approximately 4.5 per cent more in salaries for the 1967-68 school year, or $18,000.

The increase would not be a percentage increase on the present schedule, but a new schedule of salary steps and classes. Classifications would be broken into five steps instead of the present eight steps, each step upward requiring another 15 units of college credit.

The new schedule would range from $6,000 to $11,000 a year, compared to the present $5,616 to $10,004. Instead of the present system in which a teacher receives two annual $300 payments for a master's degree, the new schedule would add $300 per year to the salary of master's degree holders.

The teachers also proposed the district pay group insurance costs of up to $10 a month per teacher.

Fairfax School District Board also:

PORTABLES — Postponed a decision on purchase of two portable units until more exact income figures are available. The units will be needed next fall until White Hill School opens.

STAFF — Authorized hiring three more teachers, including one returning from sabbatical leave. The additions will bring the staff to 38 teachers.

ENROLLMENT — Heard a report that enrollment is now 1,024 students, compared to 990 at this time last year.

Boys Nabbed In Car Theft Spree

Sausalito police yesterday arrested two 17-year-old boys for stealing five sports cars in the last week, reported Chief Edward S. Kreins.

One of the boys, from Sausalito, was cited on five counts of auto theft and released to the custody of his parents. The other boy, from Mill Valley, was booked into juvenile hall. Three other juvenile suspects are being sought, Kreins said. The chief said the two boys admitted stealing three cars in southern Marin and two in San Francisco. They switched license plates on the stolen cars with plates they stole from other cars, Kreins said.

Aviation Commission Asks For Schedule On Runway

The Marin County Aviation Commission last night asked the county public works department for some schedule on cost and timing on extension of runway after the first phase of construction at the Marin County Airport.

Public works Director Donald R. Frost said he doubted that the second phase could be financed in the next fiscal year.

The project this year will build a realigned runway 2,200 feet long. Eventually, 1,100 feet will be added in the second phase.

Commissioners agreed to further study of zoning around the airport before the planning commission's recommendation for resort-recreation commercial and industrial zone is heard by county supervisors.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said he had recommended shortening of the commission's proposed airport ordinance to make it more workable. Commissioners earlier had complained about Bruce's acting without referring the document back to the commission. Frost said they accepted Bruce's report last night without further complaint.

The Presidio of San Francisco, home of the U.S. Sixth Army, was founded by the Spanish in 1776.

Sanitary Board Approves Tiburon City Yard Lease

Directors of Richardson Bay Sanitary District yesterday agreed to lease a portion of the district's Trestle Glen property to the city of Tiburon for a corporation yard.

The 100-square-foot parcel, adjacent to the treatment plant below Tiburon Boulevard, would be leased on a seven-year agreement, with a three-year noncancelable clause, for $500 a year, according to secretary Alfred O. Pratesi.

A hearing date will be set at the next meeting on a spread of assessments completed by the district's engineer, J. Warren Nute, for constructing sewer mains for eight property owners on Sky Road in Bayview Heights.

A landscaping plan was approved for a 20-foot easement over district property on Ricardo Road, requested by Hoffman Investment Co., which plans to build a grocery store at Ricardo Road and Redwood Highway.

Directors learned the chief plant operator, Max H. Graefe, has received his Class One plant operator's license from the Water Pollution Control Federation.

Directors Samuel A. Fletcher and Kurtis Webb were absent.

Dixie Date Changed

Trustees of Dixie School District will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Miller creek School, a day later than normal, to discuss the need for portable classrooms in the next school year and additional Spanish, music and speech teachers on the district staff.

Quickie Copter Pads Are Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Science keeps finding new ways to wage war but the men in the field are a choosy bunch.

One that got thumbs down from the troops, the Defense Department says, was a technique of building quickie landnig pads for helicopters by having a chopper spray the ground with quick- curing polyester resin-fiberglass material.

The problem is, the Air Force found, people in helicopters are unenthusiastic about carrying out the spray operation while hovering a few feet above ground in a battle zone.

The Army also had to scrap a method of using steel nets to build helicopter platforms at treetop level — say 100 feet or so above the ground. After an investment of more than $600,000 it was abandoned because of "lack of interest," the Pentagon said.

Politburo Rebuffs Mao War Ideas

HONG KONG (UPI)—The local newspaper Star today reported the Chinese Communist Party Politburo rejected proposals by Mao Tse-tung for sending troops into combat in Vietnam, Thailand, on the Soviet border and against the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy.

Quoting its "own sources," the rightwing newspaper said chairman's proposals "very recently." It said an angry Mao now plans to fight for his war plans at the next session of the party Congress.

According to the Star, Premier Chou En-lai opposed Mao's plans for sending Chinese troops to Vietnam. It said Chou argued intervention would mean the "slaughter" of Red Army troops and give the United States an invitation to attack Communist China.

According to the newspaper, the premier argued Red Army troops on the Sinkiang-Soviet border should be reinforced but opposed Mao's plan for starting border incidents.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated Saturday

An Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District is scheduled for Saturday at Oleander Park at 10 a.m. It is open to children of all ages.

In the event of rain, the hunt will be held at the same time in the Community Building at the Recreation Center.

Water Bonds Go At Less Interest

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest announced she has awarded a $100 million state water bond issue to a syndicate headed by Bankers Trust Co., at a net interest cost of 3.69 per cent, lowest in more than two years.

This week's sale of water bonds brought the total sales from the $1,750,000,000 issue authorized by the people in 1960 to the $750,000,000 mark.

The bid was only 16 basis points (hundredths of a per cent) over the nationwide Bond Buyer index, which Mrs. Priest described as excellent. Water bonds have an average life of 34½ years, while the index measures 20-year bonds.

The last previous water bond sale was in November, when the net interest cost was 4.1096 per cent.

Fraud Clause Added To Business Ordinance

Sausalito City Council last night gave first reading to an ordinance to give the city power to revoke a firm's business license.

The regulation would empower the city to revoke a license for conduct of business in a manner dangerous to persons or property or to the public peace, health and safety, or for engaging in "unfair, unjust, inequitable or fraudulent practice."

The last clause was added last night by City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, who said the state Supreme Court recently upheld the same clause in a similar Los Angeles ordinance. The ordinance also would give the city the right to revoke any license for "failure to deliver goods, wares, merchandise or services within a reasonable time after receiving payment therefor."

A public hearing would be held before any license could be revoked, to give the license holder a chance to state his case.

The regulation was asked last month by Police Chief Edward S. Kreins to "enable the city to stop a business from operating which has been deemed detrimental to the good name of the city."

Richard Gladstein, San Rafael attorney representing the Sandalmaker, 635 Bridgeway, challenged the ordinance when it was proposed March 7, but did not appear last night. A letter yesterday to the city from the owners of the store, Ann Cost and Christine Phillips, said some mail orders had not been filled because of "poor business management" but this will not occur again.

The ordinance is not aimed at any particular business, said Mayor Mel Wax.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

SLIDE EXPENSE—Asked for a breakdown of cost of emergency work last month in the slide area behind shops and city hall on Bridgeway. The city had agreed to pay $500 as its share with five other property owners for the work, but has received a bill for an additional $373.

CORRECTION — Agreed unanimously that the Independent-Journal incorrectly reported last Wednesday that the previous night the council "balked at a plan for pay hikes for city employees. Pay hikes will be reviewed as usual when the budget for fiscal 1968 is considered, the council said.

LIBRARY — Received an offer from 42 persons who opposed the library bond measure to help "in achieving a library proposal which all citizens can wholeheartedly support." Commenting on a letter from Gene Hiller of Gene Hiller Exclusive Men's Wear, 690 Bridgeway, protesting that a waterfront library would deprive merchants of parking spaces, Wax said, "I hope the merchants will provide parking instead of having the city provide it for them." The proposed sit only takes up six parking spaces, he said. The library bonds election cost the city $1,200, reported City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

POLICE SERVICES — Deferred action on endorsing formation of a county service area for police services in unincorporated area of the county, pending more information on costs.

YACHT CLUB — Postponed to April 4 hearing of an amendment of open area district regulations to permit yacht clubs. The hearing was incorrectly on last night's agenda since it previously had been set for April 4.

RESIGNATION — Accepted resignation of James E. Muldoon from the recreation commission so he can run for the school board, and received his suggestion that Joseph W. Fontana, 506 Sausalito Boulevard, be named to the commission.

DEADLINE — Granted a "final" six-month extension to Sausalito Del Mar Associates to record final maps for three subdivisions.

LOT SPLIT — Deferred action on a lot split application by Robert H. Greene for a parcel in Marinship, pending review by the city attorney of conditions recommended by the planning commission to preserve roads proposed for the area.

WATERFRONT — Rejected Patterson's proposal, endorsed by the planning commission ,to allow permits for changes in use on the waterfront if no structural alteration is required.

MEETING — Granted $163 to Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger to attend the biennial meeting of Public Works Officers' Department of League of California Cities in Los Angeles, May 10-12.

"701" PLAN — Granted $250 to planning consultants William Spangle and Associates to prepare the city's application for federal funds for the second half of the "701" planning program.

CIGARETTE TAX — Endorsed Assembly Bill 399, which would authorize imposition of local cigarette tax of three and one-half cents per pack.

PLANNED UNIT — Gave first reading to an ordinance requiring city council review of all planned unit developments.

Poor Loser Has Good Turn Of Wit

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Fred Hodgkinson, who runs a chain of dry-cleaning establishments in Dublin, commented after backing losing horses all day at the Leopardstown Races:

"As far as I'm concerned, you can report that the cleaners were taken to the books."

INDIANA COMMUNITY 'BOMBED'

A barber shop and a nearby tavern in Dugger, a rural Southwest Indiana town, got unexpected visitors yesterday—500-pound non-fused bombs bound for Vietnam. They were part of a shipment aboard a semi-truck trailer which was hit by an Illinois Central freight train. No injuries were reported. (AP Wirephoto)

Federal Aide's Son Misses Court Date, Angers Judge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Keith R. Goldsmith, 23-year-old son of U.S. Commissioner Richard S. Goldsmith of Mill Valley, angered a San Francisco Municipal Court judge yesterday by failing to appear for arraignment on a narcotics charge.

The young man was arrested Saturday in a raid on a San Francisco apartment by state narcotics agents. The warrant for the raid had been signed by Commissioner Goldsmith, who had no idea at the time that his own son would be among these seized.

The other seven pleaded innocent at their arraignment and preliminary hearing was set by Muncicpal Court Judge Joseph G. Kennedy for May 3 at 2 p.m.

It was reported that Goldsmith had failed to appear because he was taking final examinations at Stanford University.

Judge Kennedy said Goldsmith "took it on himself" not to appear and that the young man's independent action had "raised the ire of the court." The judge called this "a form of contempt" and said, that "he of all people should have appeared, especially as he had been released on his own recognizance."

Judge Kennedy turned down a request by Goldsmith's attorney for a continuance of Goldsmith's case until next week. The judge told the Independent-Journal: "To do otherwise would have been to discriminate. I felt he should appear as soon as possible like the others."

Goldsmith, who lives at the family home at 21 Birch Avenue, Mill Valley, is now scheduled to be arraigned tomorrow.

Others arrested in the raid on the San Francisco apartment of Darrow K. Erlin, 22, were Erlin and his wife, Eloise, 21; their boarder, Robert B. Babon, 26; Roderick W. Miller, 24, of San Francisco; and three Sausalitans, Catlain H. Cisco, 25; Dona L. Hunt, 25, and Donald A. Frederiksson, 40.

Narcotics agents said they found both LSD and marijuana in the apartment.

Station Owner Slain By Robber

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—A service station owner was found shot to death early today in what sheriff's deputies described as a murder-robbery.

The victim was Oscar J. Scruggs, 52, Santa Rosa.

Scruggs' wife told investigators he was called to the station late last night by a man who reported his rented car was operating improperly. She said her husband became suspicious after the call and took his revolver with him.

Scruggs was shot twice, possibly with his own gun, in the head and chest. Deputies said a third bullet was fired through a plate glass window of the station.

Beard Growing Starts April 1

Beard growing will start April 1 in Novato in preparation for the annual Western Weekend, scheduled for June 18-25 this year.

Entry blanks for the beard contest are available at Novato barber shops. Contestants must be clean-shaven on starting day.

Novato Unified School District has agreed to let Novato High School students grow beards for the contest, publicity chairman Leroy Chapman said. The students will compete in a separate category.

Awards will be given for the best mutton chops, novelty style beard, Abe Lincoln, Van Dyke, longest beard and the grand winner "best of show" beard.

Building Contract Let For White Hill School

The Fairfax School District Board last night awarded a contract for construction of White Hill School to low bidder Ira W. Coburn, Inc., of San Rafael at $315,442, contingent on approval by the state Department of General Services.

Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said the district hopes to start construction April 1 if state approval is granted in time.

Ideal Construction Co. of Novato bid $206,854, but asked to be released as the bid contained a mathematical error. The board agreed.

Added to the cost will be installation of paving and fencing, for which bids were submitted by the square foot and linear foot.

The district's teachers presented a proposed new salary schedule which would cost approximately 4.5 per cent more in salaries for the 1967-68 school year, or $18,000.

The increase would not be a percentage increase on the present schedule, but a new schedule of salary steps and classes. Classifications would be broken into five steps instead of the present eight steps, each step upward requiring another 15 units of college credit.

The new schedule would range from $6,000 to $11,000 a year, compared to the present $5,616 to $10,004. Instead of the present system in which a teacher receives two annual $300 payments for a master's degree, the new schedule would add $300 per year to the salary of master's degree holders.

The teachers also proposed the district pay group insurance costs of up to $10 a month per teacher.

Fairfax School District Board also:

PORTABLES — Postponed a decision on purchase of two portable units until more exact income figures are available. The units will be needed next fall until White Hill School opens.

STAFF — Authorized hiring three more teachers, including one returning from sabbatical leave. The additions will bring the staff to 38 teachers.

ENROLLMENT — Heard a report that enrollment is now 1,024 students, compared to 990 at this time last year.

Boys Nabbed In Car Theft Spree

Sausalito police yesterday arrested two 17-year-old boys for stealing five sports cars in the last week, reported Chief Edward S. Kreins.

One of the boys, from Sausalito, was cited on five counts of auto theft and released to the custody of his parents. The other boy, from Mill Valley, was booked into juvenile hall. Three other juvenile suspects are being sought, Kreins said. The chief said the two boys admitted stealing three cars in southern Marin and two in San Francisco. They switched license plates on the stolen cars with plates they stole from other cars, Kreins said.

Aviation Commission Asks For Schedule On Runway

The Marin County Aviation Commission last night asked the county public works department for some schedule on cost and timing on extension of runway after the first phase of construction at the Marin County Airport.

Public works Director Donald R. Frost said he doubted that the second phase could be financed in the next fiscal year.

The project this year will build a realigned runway 2,200 feet long. Eventually, 1,100 feet will be added in the second phase.

Commissioners agreed to further study of zoning around the airport before the planning commission's recommendation for resort-recreation commercial and industrial zone is heard by county supervisors.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said he had recommended shortening of the commission's proposed airport ordinance to make it more workable. Commissioners earlier had complained about Bruce's acting without referring the document back to the commission. Frost said they accepted Bruce's report last night without further complaint.

The Presidio of San Francisco, home of the U.S. Sixth Army, was founded by the Spanish in 1776.

Sanitary Board Approves Tiburon City Yard Lease

Directors of Richardson Bay Sanitary District yesterday agreed to lease a portion of the district's Trestle Glen property to the city of Tiburon for a corporation yard.

The 100-square-foot parcel, adjacent to the treatment plant below Tiburon Boulevard, would be leased on a seven-year agreement, with a three-year noncancelable clause, for $500 a year, according to secretary Alfred O. Pratesi.

A hearing date will be set at the next meeting on a spread of assessments completed by the district's engineer, J. Warren Nute, for constructing sewer mains for eight property owners on Sky Road in Bayview Heights.

A landscaping plan was approved for a 20-foot easement over district property on Ricardo Road, requested by Hoffman Investment Co., which plans to build a grocery store at Ricardo Road and Redwood Highway.

Directors learned the chief plant operator, Max H. Graefe, has received his Class One plant operator's license from the Water Pollution Control Federation.

Directors Samuel A. Fletcher and Kurtis Webb were absent.

Dixie Date Changed

Trustees of Dixie School District will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Miller creek School, a day later than normal, to discuss the need for portable classrooms in the next school year and additional Spanish, music and speech teachers on the district staff.

Quickie Copter Pads Are Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Science keeps finding new ways to wage war but the men in the field are a choosy bunch.

One that got thumbs down from the troops, the Defense Department says, was a technique of building quickie landnig pads for helicopters by having a chopper spray the ground with quick- curing polyester resin-fiberglass material.

The problem is, the Air Force found, people in helicopters are unenthusiastic about carrying out the spray operation while hovering a few feet above ground in a battle zone.

The Army also had to scrap a method of using steel nets to build helicopter platforms at treetop level — say 100 feet or so above the ground. After an investment of more than $600,000 it was abandoned because of "lack of interest," the Pentagon said.

Politburo Rebuffs Mao War Ideas

HONG KONG (UPI)—The local newspaper Star today reported the Chinese Communist Party Politburo rejected proposals by Mao Tse-tung for sending troops into combat in Vietnam, Thailand, on the Soviet border and against the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy.

Quoting its "own sources," the rightwing newspaper said chairman's proposals "very recently." It said an angry Mao now plans to fight for his war plans at the next session of the party Congress.

According to the Star, Premier Chou En-lai opposed Mao's plans for sending Chinese troops to Vietnam. It said Chou argued intervention would mean the "slaughter" of Red Army troops and give the United States an invitation to attack Communist China.

According to the newspaper, the premier argued Red Army troops on the Sinkiang-Soviet border should be reinforced but opposed Mao's plan for starting border incidents.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated Saturday

An Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District is scheduled for Saturday at Oleander Park at 10 a.m. It is open to children of all ages.

In the event of rain, the hunt will be held at the same time in the Community Building at the Recreation Center.

Water Bonds Go At Less Interest

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest announced she has awarded a $100 million state water bond issue to a syndicate headed by Bankers Trust Co., at a net interest cost of 3.69 per cent, lowest in more than two years.

This week's sale of water bonds brought the total sales from the $1,750,000,000 issue authorized by the people in 1960 to the $750,000,000 mark.

The bid was only 16 basis points (hundredths of a per cent) over the nationwide Bond Buyer index, which Mrs. Priest described as excellent. Water bonds have an average life of 34½ years, while the index measures 20-year bonds.

The last previous water bond sale was in November, when the net interest cost was 4.1096 per cent.

Fraud Clause Added To Business Ordinance

Sausalito City Council last night gave first reading to an ordinance to give the city power to revoke a firm's business license.

The regulation would empower the city to revoke a license for conduct of business in a manner dangerous to persons or property or to the public peace, health and safety, or for engaging in "unfair, unjust, inequitable or fraudulent practice."

The last clause was added last night by City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, who said the state Supreme Court recently upheld the same clause in a similar Los Angeles ordinance. The ordinance also would give the city the right to revoke any license for "failure to deliver goods, wares, merchandise or services within a reasonable time after receiving payment therefor."

A public hearing would be held before any license could be revoked, to give the license holder a chance to state his case.

The regulation was asked last month by Police Chief Edward S. Kreins to "enable the city to stop a business from operating which has been deemed detrimental to the good name of the city."

Richard Gladstein, San Rafael attorney representing the Sandalmaker, 635 Bridgeway, challenged the ordinance when it was proposed March 7, but did not appear last night. A letter yesterday to the city from the owners of the store, Ann Cost and Christine Phillips, said some mail orders had not been filled because of "poor business management" but this will not occur again.

The ordinance is not aimed at any particular business, said Mayor Mel Wax.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

SLIDE EXPENSE—Asked for a breakdown of cost of emergency work last month in the slide area behind shops and city hall on Bridgeway. The city had agreed to pay $500 as its share with five other property owners for the work, but has received a bill for an additional $373.

CORRECTION — Agreed unanimously that the Independent-Journal incorrectly reported last Wednesday that the previous night the council "balked at a plan for pay hikes for city employees. Pay hikes will be reviewed as usual when the budget for fiscal 1968 is considered, the council said.

LIBRARY — Received an offer from 42 persons who opposed the library bond measure to help "in achieving a library proposal which all citizens can wholeheartedly support." Commenting on a letter from Gene Hiller of Gene Hiller Exclusive Men's Wear, 690 Bridgeway, protesting that a waterfront library would deprive merchants of parking spaces, Wax said, "I hope the merchants will provide parking instead of having the city provide it for them." The proposed sit only takes up six parking spaces, he said. The library bonds election cost the city $1,200, reported City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

POLICE SERVICES — Deferred action on endorsing formation of a county service area for police services in unincorporated area of the county, pending more information on costs.

YACHT CLUB — Postponed to April 4 hearing of an amendment of open area district regulations to permit yacht clubs. The hearing was incorrectly on last night's agenda since it previously had been set for April 4.

RESIGNATION — Accepted resignation of James E. Muldoon from the recreation commission so he can run for the school board, and received his suggestion that Joseph W. Fontana, 506 Sausalito Boulevard, be named to the commission.

DEADLINE — Granted a "final" six-month extension to Sausalito Del Mar Associates to record final maps for three subdivisions.

LOT SPLIT — Deferred action on a lot split application by Robert H. Greene for a parcel in Marinship, pending review by the city attorney of conditions recommended by the planning commission to preserve roads proposed for the area.

WATERFRONT — Rejected Patterson's proposal, endorsed by the planning commission ,to allow permits for changes in use on the waterfront if no structural alteration is required.

MEETING — Granted $163 to Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger to attend the biennial meeting of Public Works Officers' Department of League of California Cities in Los Angeles, May 10-12.

"701" PLAN — Granted $250 to planning consultants William Spangle and Associates to prepare the city's application for federal funds for the second half of the "701" planning program.

CIGARETTE TAX — Endorsed Assembly Bill 399, which would authorize imposition of local cigarette tax of three and one-half cents per pack.

PLANNED UNIT — Gave first reading to an ordinance requiring city council review of all planned unit developments.

Poor Loser Has Good Turn Of Wit

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Fred Hodgkinson, who runs a chain of dry-cleaning establishments in Dublin, commented after backing losing horses all day at the Leopardstown Races:

"As far as I'm concerned, you can report that the cleaners were taken to the books."

STRANGEST CHAPEL—Capt. Carter Tucker, chaplain for the U.S. "tunnel rats" who risk their lives to probe Red Vietnamese tunnels, uses his helmet as a altar for services underground. With the chaplain are Pfc. Donald Ellis of Eminence, Ky., and Spec. 4 William Lowry of Greenville, Mich. (right). (AP Wirephoto)

SUNDAY COMES LATE

'Tunnel Rats' Hear Rites, Blast Chapel

WITH 25TH DIVISION Vietnam (AP) — They held the service two days late in the strangest chapel you could find in Vietnam. Then, the prayers finished, more than a ton of dynamite blasted the room to bits.

The service was held by Chaplain (Capt.) Tucker for the "tunnel rats" of his battalion who had spent a week crawling around through a vast Viet Cong underground tunnel compelx 30 miles west of Saigon.

The eerie job of "running" the tunnels falls to the slight in build who can maneuver through the underground labyrinth that the Communists leave booby-trapped when forced out by advancing American troops. The job is vastly complicated by nature. Big black ants charge the flashlight-toting tunnel rats. Swarms of smaller ants can cover the tunnel's walls, ceiling and floor for hundreds of feet.

Chaplain Tucker, of Monticello, Ark., said, "Somehow it seemed fitting to hold a service close to the men who have such a terrible job. We couldn't do it on Sunday because the men were too spread out and too deep in the complex. But we made it on Tuesday."

The six men from the 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry huddled in one of the main rooms as Chaplain Tucker crawled in. His steel helmet with a black cross inked on the front of the camouflage cover was the altar. A New Testament was carried in the helmet's elastic band, normally used to hold leaves and small branches for camouflage.

"Just as Christ went into a cave to fulfill his destiny, you men are in the tunnels and caves of Vietnam fulfilling your destiny," the chaplain said.

The service was for two Roman Catholics and four Protestants.

Chaplain Tucker read St. Luke's descrption of the aftermath of the Crucifixion. "And he took it down and wrapped it in linen and laid it down in a sepulcher that was hewn in stone wherein never man before laid."

Flashlights dimly lit the chamber as the chaplain knelt before his helmet altar.

After the service, the chaplain and the six men crawled to the surface. The job of checking the tunnels for Viet Cong, weapons and documents was over. The tunnel rats began dragging charges into the complex for the final act, a chain of heavy explosions that destroyed the underground Communist camp.

Spec. 4 William Lowry of Greenville, Mich., said, "They've held services all over the place for GIs, but I've never heard of it being done for us tunnel rats. It was a nice thing to know the chaplain would crawl underground into a place like that to be with us."

Pfc. Donald Ellis of Emiter that it was the first time in his Army career that he had ever blasted a chapel.

"It was stinking and hard to breathe down there," said Spec. 4 Richard Carfora of Jersey City, N.J., "but it really was a day for me. Sometimes running those tunnels you feel like you're cut off from everything. And I mean everything."

Biologist To Talk

Dr. Lawrence Swan, professor of biology at San Francisco State College, will speak on "Life in Some Other Place" at 8 p.m. April 7 before the Marin Audubon Society in the Marin Civic Center. He also will show slides from a recent world trip.

College Choir To Be Featured On Television

The 80-voice choir of the Dominican College in San Rafael will be featured in "Christ Our Brother" presented in color over television station KPIX Friday at 1 p.m.

With the choir in the hour-long presentation will be six soloists and Hollywood and television actor Brian Keith will select scripture readings. Instrumental accompaniment will be by students and faculty at the college.

Conductor will be Winifred Baker of San Rafael and the program is produced in cooperation with the Dominican College and the Archdiocese of California.

The production is based on an original oratorio by Jolietta Smith honoring Archbishop Joseph McGucken and will receive its premiere showing in the Bay Area.

Soledad Prison Inmates Strike

SOLEDAD (UPI) — One-thousand sullen prisoners stayed in their cells today in a general strike at Soledad State prison.

The strike erupted late Monday in protest to restrictions placed on prisoners last week following the stabbing of an inmate and a fight between groups of white and Negro convicts.

Guards armed with tear gas and shotguns loaded with bird shot are stalking the catwalks ready to quell any new outbreak in violence, but so far there has been no injuries and no damage.

Marin Demos Will Seek Workers From Precincts

The Marin County Democratic Central Committee will seek its own precinct workers to work toward a 1968 election comeback.

Chairman Albert E. Gately announced at last night's committee meeting he plans to get a list of Democrats — at least two in each precinct — willing to do precinct work.

"We're not goint to be able to rely on the clubs as a group," said Gately. He said most of the Democratic clubs in the county are inactive.

Gately appointed a fund-raising committee of five, headed by Robert D. Carrow of Novato. The Democratic Central Committee is about $2,000 in the red at this time, Gately reported.

Mrs. Olive Lewis of Terra Linda, co-chairman of the Concerned Democrats of Marin, announced her group will host state Democratic Chairman Charles Warren at a champagne party on April 21 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the home of Kathleen Baird on Grand Avenue in San Rafael. After the cocktail party, a dinner at $25 per plate will be held in a private home, said Gately.

Open House Friday

The Boys Club of Southern Marin in Marin City will hold open house for adults Friday from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Club hours during the Easter school holidays will be 1 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m. Saturday hours are from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Wirtz Clears Draft Status

WASHINGTON (AP) — Half of the 250,000 draft-age men holding occupational deferments "are nenther in essential activities nor in critical occupations," Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz says.

Presented by Wirtz yesterday at a Senate hearing on draft policies, the figure was termed "an amazing statistic" by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Wirtz indicated that requests for Labor Department approval to classify occupations as critical can be fascinating. One he had to spike, he said, would have given such protection to pretzel makers.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

ON-THE-JOB SOCIAL SCIENCE CLASS

James Newey, San Rafael High School student, (left), went over some Marin County road plans with Martin Prescott and Donald R. Frost, county public works director, at the Civic Center today in the YMCA-sponsored model county government program. Originally it was planned to hold a students' mock board of supervisors election yesterday, but only about half of the 27 students who enrolled in the program showed up so the election was called off.

Maunday Thursday, Good Friday Services Announced

"So Jesus rose from the table, took off his outer garment, and tied a towel around his waist. Then he poured some water into a washbasin and began to wash the disciples' feet. . . ."

Tomorrow the custom will be re-enacted throughout the Christian world — symbolic of Maunday Thursday. In the past lies Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem. Ahead are Good Friday, the day of His crucifixion, and Easter Sunday, the day He arose from the dead.

Churches in Marin will observe these two special Holy Week days with holy communion tomorrow and three-hour meditation services on Friday.

Also planned on Good Friday is a community service at 1 p.m. at the Northgate Theater in Terra Linda. "The Parable," a film on the Protestant Pavilion at the New York City World's Fair, will be shown.

Participating in the service will be Aldersgate Methodist Church, Christ Presbyterian Church, Church of the Nativity (Episcopal), First Congregational Church, and Lucas Valley Community Baptist Church,

Joining for a noon to 3 p.m. service on Good Friday at the Church in Ignacio (Episcopal) will be the congregations of the Church in Ignacio and St. Francis Episcopal Church, Novato.

Also on Good Friday, First Presbyterian Church, St. Luke Presbyterian Church and the First Methodist Church of San Rafael will hold a joint meditation service at 12:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church, 1510 Fifth Avenue.

As part of the Holy Week services at Hamilton Air Force Base, the Novato Community Methodist Church Choir will present "The Crucifixion," a cantata by John Stainer, at 8 p.m. Good Friday rites at the base's Protestant chapel.

Other Maunday Thursday and Good Friday services are as follows:

Teens' Arrests Solves Burglary

Recent burglary of $40 worth of amplifiers, speakers and speaker stands from the Marin Country Club at 500 Country Club Drive, Novato, was cleared up with apprehension of four teen-agers yesterday, Novato police reported.

Three other teen-agers may also be involved, police reported.

The items were taken since Feb. 17 from the Cabana Room at the club, Mgr. Edward C. Bettini of 164 Ridge Road, San Anselmo, told police.

San Rafael Driver Hurt As Car Flips

Christopher John Harrington, 23, of 1712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, suffered minor injuries yesterday at 11:35 a.m. when his car rolled over on Highway 101 at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae.

California Highway Patrol reported that his northbound car skidded broadside, then overturned. Harrington was treated for scalp cuts and bruises at Marin General Hospital.

Sidbeck Motive Robbery, Undersheriff Contends

By ROSS DAVIS

Robbery was Robert Dean Sidbeck's sole motive in entering the North Marin home of dairy ranchers Everett and Margaret Zimmerman, and surprise was the cause of their murders, Undersheriff Sidney Stinson declared yesterday.

Stinson said Sidebeck, who was sentenced Monday to life imprisonment for the slayings, last Aug. 30, disclosed this in lengthy but unemotional talks just before he was transferred from the county jail to California Medical Facility at Vacaville to begin his term.

Before his sentence, Sidbeck told a probation officer that he bludgeoned the couple to death in their bed because he learned they were attempting to gain court custody of his brother and two younger sisters.

Stinson said Sidbeck admitted he made up the story of the custody attempt, and said he went to the bedroom not to find the custody petition, but to rob the couple.

Here is what Sidbeck disclosed, according to Undersheriff Stinson: He waited outside until about 2 a.m., donned leather gloves, armed himself with an old table leg in case of trouble, and entered to loot the home.

He was near the bedroom when the floor creaked, Sidbeck related. The noise cause Zimmerman to rise up in bed. Sidbeck struck him with the table leg. The assault awoke Mrs. Zimmerman. Sidbeck then struck her, too.

Sidbeck then took Mrs. Zimmerman's wallet and cash, and cash from Zimmerman's wallet — a total from both of $79 — and left.

He took the Zimmerman car and drove it to San Francisco. There he discarded the table leg, a jacket he wore, the gloves, and Mrs. Zimmerman's wallet in a garbage can.

Stinson said Sidbeck gave no reason for concocting the petition story. He also denied needing the $79, the officer said. Stinson quoted Sidbeck as saying he already had his bus ticket to his Marine Corps base in Memphis, Tenn., and additional money to spend.

Asked if there were any possible grudge by Sidbeck against the Zimmermans, Sidbeck said, "None whatsoever. He said kind things about them. They were nice people."

He said the 18-year-old youth declared that when he arrived safely in Memphis, he somehow felt "free and clear" of any connection with the robbery-murders, that he had made no mistakes.

Sidbeck was connected with the murders by a bicycle he, rode to the Zimmerman home, stole, rode to the Zimmerman home, and left in the car's trunk. He also left a sweatshirt with his name stenciled on it near a pair of blood-stained pants with a friend.

Stinson said investigators knew a table leg was the murder weapon because a second leg found at the scene was analyzed by California Investigation and Identification Bureau in Sacramento.

It was identical to wood bits found in the Zimmerman bed and in their wounds, he said.

Telephone Booth's Coin Box Removed

A coin box was removed from a telephone booth behind Thrifty Drug Store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center last night, Corte Madera police discovered at 1:40 a.m. today.

Police discovered at the same time that planter behind the W. T. Grant Co. Store and a scale behind Thrifty Drug had been damaged at the center.

Warrant Issued In Pistol Case

A warrant for arrest of Clifford W. Alasker, 48, charged with assault with a pistol, was issued in Marin Municipal Court yesterday when he failed to appear for preliminary hearing.

Judge Hadden W. Roth, who had released Alasker without bail, set new bail at $5,500. Alasker, of Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax, allegedly fired a pistol at Dorsel Reynolds, 48, of San Jose, on Feb. 18 at Alasker's residence.

Reed Trustees Study Handicapped Program

Reed School District will consider expanding its program for severely handcapped children, either on its own or in cooperation with the county, trustees decided last night.

The expansion was discussed after Jack Usilton, principal of Reed School, reviewed the district's special program for gifted and handicapped children.

Supt. H. Joseph Edgington was directed to research the proposed new program.

The board adopted a new policy to require all teachers and non-teaching employees to have tuberculin tests every year, instead of every two years.

Mrs. Margaret Macauley, chairman of the salary committee of the district's non-teaching employees association, presented a preliminary proposal for pay raises which would cost the district $11,900 plus vacation benefits of about $3,000.

The board indicated it was willing to consider a completely revised salary schedule, rather than percentage increases. Mrs. Macauley agreed to have the committee study comparable districts and salary schedules and present the board with a firm proposal at the April 18 meeting.

Teachers salaries were also discussed. The teachers association salary committee has been preparing a proposal. Chairman Allen West told the board he would present it at the May 2 meeting.

Social Workers Strike Is Backed

SACRAMNETO (AP) — The Sacramento Labor Council voted an official sanction last night for social workers in their seven-week-old strike against Sacramento County.

The council's 57-2 vote to approve the strike overturned a Feb. 21 decision by the same council to deny labor approval to what is described as the first strike by public employees in this county's history.

Social workers hailed the sanction as endorsement of their position against Sacramento County supervisors and vowed renewed efforts.

"The county says that we are not officially on strike—but now organized labor says that we are," exclaimed Bill Mashburn, social worker spokesman.

Burglar Hits Meg's Residence

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret, her family and her household staff slept through a burglary at her London home today. Officials said the burglar was captured soon after with the property from the home.

The intruder entered the Kensington Palace apartment of the princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon, by removing an 18-inch pane of glass from a ground-floor window. He went through the nursery playroom and escaped with gold coins, jewelry and a pair of binoculars.

Later a patrolling policeman found a man crouching in some bushes at the back of the palace. He was taken to Kensington police station, and the stolen articles were recovered, officials reported.

Catholics Offered Three Adult Courses

The Archdiocesan Councils of Catholic Men and Women in Marin plans to offer three adult courses in Christian education beginning April 6 at Marin Catholic High School, Kentfield.

The courses are "Scripture. The Gospel of St. John," "The Sacrament of Matrimony," and "Questions in a Changing Church." They will be offered Thursdays during April from 8 to 9:30 p.m. A fee will be charged.

Hub Trustees Are Asked To Adopt 'Middle School'

A proposal that San Anselmo School District adopt the "middle school" concept, with sixth, seventh and eight grades in a single school, was presented to district trustees last night.

The proposal came from a citizen committee on school finance, in a report by Don Mansell.

He suggested the present intermediate (seventh and eighth grade) schools take in the sixth grade, with elementary schools ending with fifth grade. This is the plan being tried at Santa Venetia School in the San Rafael district, and proposed for the Mill Valley district.

This, said Mansell, would eliminate buying a new school site when and if widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard for extension of Highway 17 cuts into the Isabel Cook schoolgrounds. Sale of the Cook School property could finance additional classrooms, he suggested.

He proposed also that Yolansdale School, now extenidng only through fourth grade, be cut back to kindergarten and first and second grades.

Jerome Kenney said the citizen committee, through its questionnaires, had received various suggestions for improving teaching, but they indicated no particular area of dissatisfaction.

James B. Cowperthwaite said pupil population has been increasing by about 38 students a year, but that next year the district will probably have about 70 new students because St. Anselm's Parochial School plans to reduce the size of its classes. He said half of the increase comes from Sleepy Hollow.

Cowperthwaite estimated the ultimate size of the district at 2,600 pupils, compared to the present 2,100.

District board also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation, effective in June, of Brookside School Principal Jack A. Graves, who has been with the district two years, and who plans to study for his doctorate at University of California.

COUNTY COMMITTEE — Nominated John J. Holm for a vacancy on the County Committee on School District Organization created by the resignation of Dr. John Hamren.

TRANSPORTATION — Heard from the Sleepy Hollow Parents Club that the club would like to see bus transportation continued for kindergarten through third grade, and possibly fourth grade pupils.

SALARIES — Set discussion of district salaries for next school year for the April 25 board meeting.

SOCIAL SCIENCE — Heard a report on efforts to improve the district's social science program.

CLASSIFIED EMPLOYEES — Accepted the resignation of Clerk Millie Bannister, and approved hiring Judy Amweg as clerk and Grady Stroud as custodian.

MEETING DATE — Set the second board meeting in April for April 25, instead of April 18.

State Employees, Reagan To Meet

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California State Employes Association has scheduled a meet-California State Employees Asing with Gov. Ronald Reagan next Tuesday to discuss the governor's announced layoffs.

Reagan says the elimination of more than 5,000 state jobs will aid his administration's economy program. A large portion of these jobs are in the State Mental Hygiene Department and the State Public Works Department.

"The meetings will be informative sessions," said Theodore L. Lauer, president of the employee group which represents about 111,000 state workers.

New Foot Pump Helps Inflate Rubber Boats

WASHINGTON (SS) — Inflating air mattresses, rubber boats and other inflatables is less of a chore with a new all-rubber pump that is manipulated by the foot to create air pressure. Shaped like a hemisphere, it comes in two sizes.

The unit which includes a 22-inch-long connecting hose is useful also for rekindling a campfire or blowing dirt or water out of hard-to-reach places.

Anthropologist Cites Indians' Good Living

When it was Indian country, this "was as close to paradise as you can get," Adam Treganza, anthropology professor of San Francisco State College, told a Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society audience yesterday at Reed School.

The term "Digger Indians" Treganza called a "historical accident." He said it was "no reflection on the mentality of California Indians," including the Miwok of Marin.

Due to the influence of the missions, which caused the Idians to disappear gradually, mostly through contact with "civilized diseases," history of Marin Indians has been difficult to document and has been done almost entirely through archaelogy, he reported.

Treganza has been literally digging for information on both Indians and Sir Francis Drake at Drake's Bay for several years. Research has uncovered Ming porcelain in Indian possibly from a Manila galleon wrecked about 1525.

Pieces of crude Japanese porcelain were also found in Indian mounds at Drake's Bay. Apparently the Indians tried to use them to make earrings, weapons or tools, Treganza theorized.

The Miwok Indians in Marin made waterproof baskets, which they used as food and water containers and in which they could even boil water, he related.

Glucose Test Kit

WASHINGTON (SS) — Designed for clinical chemistry laboratories, a new test kit provides a simplified manual method for making quantitative blood glucose determinations. The test is based on the formation of a green-colored complex of blood serum glucose and ortho-toluidine in glacial acetic acid. The intensity of the green color, compared with a known glucose standard included, indicates the amount of glucose present in the blood.

$87,500 SAN RAFAEL
Historical interest, tasteful restoration and outstanding location combine to make this Victorian classic a most remarkable property. All the rooms are spacious and they include six bedrooms, a separate dining room, library, family room and den. Delightful grounds with specimen trees and heated pool. Other amenities too numerous to mention make this the ideal home for the large family that is entertainment-minded.

$39,500 SAN RAFAEL
We have just listed a most captivating home high on the Bret Harte ridge. The large lot enjoys a panoramic view and the charming one-bedroom house is perfectly suited for a bachelor or young couple. Or it could serve as the nucleus for a major addition. This is a sleeper and must be seen to appreciate its potential.

$29,500 FAIRFAX
This expandable two-bedroom contemporary has a style and flair that is truly exciting. And you can see four counties from its spacious decks. A perfect home for entertaining and maintenance is at a minimum.

We also have 2 lots in KENT WOODLANDS which in our opinion are the most splendid building sites in Marin County. Both afford the ultimate in view, sun, privacy and value. They are priced at $29,500 and $64,950.

Germ Cutlets For Starving Are Developed

SYDNEY, Australia (SS) — A process which could convert millions of tons of industrial wastes into lifesaving "germ cutlets" for Asia's starving millions has been developed by research workers.

Work on the process, led by Dr. F. J. Moss of the University of New South Wales, could eventually save millions from starvation, the researchers hope. The process is a new technique of continuous fermentation. Dr. Moss has spent the past 15 years working on it.

It can be used to convert waste by-products from industries such as paper making, sugar processing, flour milling and milk separation into lifesaving proteins. The proteins emerge in the form of a powdery yeast which has little taste. The yeast can be added to ordinary food boosting its protein value.

Fermentation, which is used in brewing and many other industries, is a bacteria—or germs—generation process. Dr. Moss's technique is that it is continuous. This means that the incredibily fast reproduction of germs never stops. The resulting mass of germs is a type of edible yeast.

Sub Doctors Aid BART Planners

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Navy doctors were among specialists consulted by the State of California in drafting up-to-date regulations for building tunnels for the 72-mile Bay Area Rapid Transit System.

Doctors familiar with the Navy's submarine and other underwater operations submitted suggestions for revising work condition rules for the men who will build miles of underground tubes for the transit network.

A major concern in formulating the rules was the hazard of high air pressure necessary to keep water out of the tunnels.

Americans Flocking To Get Educations

CHICAGO (UPI) — More people are going to school than ever, according to the Commerce Clearing House, which reports that nearly 56 million Americans — more than a fourth of the entire population—were enrolled in schools of all educational levels in the fall of 1966.

This was an increase of nearly 1.5 million over the previous years. About 50 million students were receiving instruction in grade and high schools. The rest were attending universities, colleges, professional schools, junior colleges, normal schools and teachers' colleges.

Progress Threatens Old Man's Peaceful Sierra Mountainside

By JERRY HENRY

MARIPOSA (UPI) — Thirty years ago a man turned his back on society and settled on an acre of rocky land beside the thundering Merced River in the wilds of the central California foothills.

Today, progress rapidly is turning the river into a lake that will bury his world under tons of water, but 84-year-old Pietro Arata will not leave.

Mariposa County welfare workers, who can now only reach the area by boat, repeatedly have asked the aging recluse to leave, but he does not want to discuss it.

"I have lived in this state for 64 years," he says. "I've seen wet years and dry ones. Don't worry about me."

But the filling of the new Exchequer Dam will mean more than a wet year for Pietro. Officials say the projected lake will inundate his farm under some 75 feet of water. Water already is seeping among the floorboards of the first cabin he built, forcing him to construct a new one of pasteboard cartons and driftwood farther up the brush covered canyon slope . . . a slope officials say is too steep for him to go much higher.

"You can hardly hike up it it's so steep," said May Kleiman, Mariposa County welfare director.

Welfare department workers periodically take provisions into the isolated homestead by boat. They have informed Pietro that due to recent Social Security legislation he has accumulated about $64. They have told him a local rancher offered him a plot of ground to live on free of charge for the rest of his life. But Pietro is not interested. for 30 years he has lived off his own toil and an acre of land at Horseshoe Bend. He says he intends to continue to do so.

The hermit of Horseshoe Bend says he did not actually isolate himself from society. Civilization withdrew from him. After coming to this country from his native Italy in 1902, Pietro drifted from job to job and spent a good deal of time prospecting for gold on the foothill rivers. He first saw the site of his present farm in 1915.

When river prospecting played out civilization drew back out of the rugged, oak dotted foothills. But Pietro returned to the farm site in 1937 and, except for two trips to nearby mining towns which are now abandoned, he has never left.

Through the years Pietro created a self-sustaining farmstead. He built a two-room cabin from driftwood, most of which was the remains of a flooded railroad station farther up the river. He planted wheat, fruit trees, vegetables and raised a herd of goats for milk and a flock of chickens for eggs.

Although weflare workers occasionally bring food, Pietro still is largely dependent on his own labors for his sustenance. But the spreading waters of the lake soon will make even his most strenuous efforts futile.

Already the lake has covered most of his original land. Several storage and tool shelters are under water. His goat pens are flooded and the herd has gone wild, returning occasionally to ravage his crops.

Yet the old man refuses to give up. He has hacked out a new plot of ground for seeding higher up the hill and settled in his makeshift cabin. Continued pleas and offers by welfare workers do not phase him.

"I live by my own labor," he says. "I've never accepted charity. I know more people need it more than me."

Pacifists Confident Of Arrival

HONG KONG (AP) — Seven American Quaker Pacifists and a television producer sailed for Communist North Vietnam with medical supplies today despite a State Department warning that their trip was illegal.

Phillip Drath, San Rafael, Calif., told newsmen the 50-foot yacht Phoenix was carrying $10,000 worth of medical supplies as "a gift to civilian victims of the American bombing of North Vietnam."

Dr. Earle Reynolds, skipper-owner of the Phoenix, said the party had "every confidence we will reach Haiphong. We have received two cables from North Vietnam that we will be welcomed."

Accompanying the group was Richard Faun, a New York-born Canadian who is producing a television documentary of the voyage for the Canadian Broadcasting Corp., and William Heick, a San Francisco television cameraman associated with Faun.

The party also includes Horace Champney, Yellow Springs, Ohio; Robert Eaton, Philadelphia; Betty Boardman, Madison, Wis., and Ivan Massar, Boston.

Youth Pleads To Check Charge

Guilty plea to possession of a check with intent to defraud was entered in Marin Municipal Court yesterday by Paul Michael Ashley, 18, of Fort Polk, La.

Judge Hadden W. Roth dismissed two other felony counts following the plea. He certified the case to Marin Superior Court for judgment at 9:30 a.m. Monday

Ashley had worthless checks totaling over $200 March 5-7 in Corte Madera, officers said.

Weather, Legal Tieup Blamed

Weather and litigation were blamed yesterday for a temporary holdup of work on the Bret Harte sewer line.

Norris M. Rawles, district administrator, told a session of the San Rafael Sanitation District Board that recent heavy rain was the main troublemaker.

With the first prolonged dry spell, he expected contractors B and E Pipeline Co. of Hayward to resume full-scale work on the $211,555 project to replace septic tanks with sewer lines along both sides of Bret Harte Road from Highway 101 northwest to Twain Harte Lane.

Rawles said the sewer assessment district was also awaiting conclusion of litigation involving claims for damages filed by four residents of the Bret Harte area. The claims have already been rejected by sanitation district directors.

A meeting of parties concerned will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in his office, he said, and a full report will be made to the April 6 meeting of the district board.

Poverty War Office Space On Agenda

Marin County Economic Opportunity Council will discuss permanent housing for its staff when it meets today at 8 p.m. in St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, Marin City. The staff is now housed in an apartment at 951 Drake Avenue.

Victor H. Cary, new director of the council, said the agenda also would include review of administrative procedures.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Coughing, Smoking And The Links To Lung Cancer

VAN DELLEN

Cancer of the lung is more prevalent among those with a cigarette cough, especially when the hacking is severe in nature. A 10-year survey of 6,137 men in Philadelphia showed that this malignancy among coughing smokers was twice that of their non-coughing counterparts.

When modearte smoking leads to coughing we suspect the individual is more susceptible to the irritating effects of smoke. Cancer is more prevalent in this group than in heavy smokers who also hack every day.

IT IS BELIEVED that coughing stems from changes in the cells lining the bronchi. These cells are precancerous and are found in smokers but disappear after the individual stops the habit. In other words, the condition is reversible, but one malignant changes occur it is too late. It usually takes 10 or more years for a precancerous cell to become malignant.

Smoker's cough is more likely to lead to emphysema than cancer. This is becoming an increasing problem, especially when the condition reaches a chronic stage with shortness of breath, wheezing, frequent cough, and fatigue. The only preventive is "no smoking." The results of treatment are discouraging after the bronchi are narrowed by scarring, and the lung tissues have lost their elasticity. Shortness of breath occurs when stagnant air is trapped in the distended air sacs.

AIR POLLUTION also causes chronic bronchitis with coughing. Many ex-smokers have a recurrence of their cough when exposed to the noxious fumes, gases, and soot in the air. Some return to cigarets, not realizing that smoking is concentrated air pollution and aggravates the situation.

The lungs are self-cleansing, but there is a limit to their tolerance.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

RUPTURED ULCER

K. V. Y. writes: What happens when a duodenal ulcer ruptures?

REPLY

The contents of the stomach, including its acid, pour into the abdominal cavity and produces a chemical peritonitis. When this occurs, the patient may feel as if he had been kicked in the abdomen by a horse. Any movement aggravates pain, hence the victim refuses to budge and must be transported to the hospital via ambulance for surgery.

NOT VALVULAR

S. V. R. writes: What is a functional murmur?

REPLY

One appearing in an otherwise normal heart. A scraping sound resembling a murmur may occur every time the heart beats against the lung. There are various ways in which functional murmurs can be differentiated from those caused by a deformity of the valve (leakage).

MARROW CHANGES

W. C. writes: What is a bone marrow test done for?

REPLY

To diagnose a variety of blood disorders such as leukemia and certain types of anemia. The bone marrow is the main blood-forming organ and the secretions obtained via the puncture offer valuable and early clews on the nature of the blood disturbance.

ONLY ONE LENS

D. V. writes: I had a cataract removed six months ago. Can another cataract grow over the same eye?

REPLY

No, because cataract involves the lens and there is only one lens to the eye. When removed, this structure cannot regrow.

Today's Health Hint—Muscles weaken from lack of use.

Students Shout Down Hershey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service system, was philosophical after shouting demonstrators forced cancellation of his speech at Howard University.

"In this time of uncertainty, with students unsure of draft deferments, such a demonstration can be expected," Hershey said last night after university officials hurried him off the stage of Howard's Cramton Auditorium.

Hershey had just risen to speak when some 35 persons in the audience started chanting slogans like, "America is the black man's battlefield," and, "Draft beer, not students."

Students Get Warnings On Flag Respect

SAN MATEO (UPI) —College of San Mateo students have been warned they face possible suspension if they fail to stand silently while the flag is raised each day.

Dean William Welsh reprimanded five students for not obeying state law, which requires those passing the immediate flag area to stand silently during the ceremony. He warned that a second offense would probably bring a temporary suspension.

The flag is raised daily at 7:53 a.m.

Dean Walsh said the students usually say they are ignorant of the law or that they oppose U. S. policy, particularly in Vietnam.

The college newspaper, The San Matean, said the ceremony was "absurd."

Petty Theft Pleaded

Robert Wayne Kitzmiller, 31, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to petty theft from Hertz Rent-A-Car Corp. in San Rafael on March 12.

He is to be sentenced April 21 at 3 p.m. Kitzmiller, of 197 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, originally was charged with forging a lease form from the car rental firm.

Church Asks Millionaire's Will Probe

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Temple Baptist Church of Los Angeles is petitioning for probate of the will of Mrs. Estelle Birch, the first wife of the late millionaire A. Otis Birch.

The action in Superior Court yesterday raised speculation that probate of the will might affect the inheritance of Birch's second wife, Mrs. Pearl Choate Birch, 59.

Mrs. Estelle Birch died last Oct. 9 at the age of 93.

Her husband died in Texas last week at 95.

A short time after his first wife died, the elderly millionaire married Mrs. Choate, who had been the couple's nurse.

Estelle Birch's will, signed July 18, 1962, left her entire estate to her husband. But it specified that if he should die before final distribution, the proceeds would be divided equally among 16 charitable, religious and educational institutions.

Temple Baptist Church was among legatees named.

TV REVIEW

Ousted CBS News Chief, His Story

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Fred Friendly, who quit as president of CBS news when the network showed Lucille Ball reruns instead of the Senate Vietnam hearings, has written a book which begins with this 1938 quote by E. B. White:

"I believe television is going to be the test of the modern world, and that in this new opportunity to see beyond the range of our vision we shall discover either a new and unbearable disturbance of the general peace or a saving radiance in the sky. We shall stand or fall by television—of that I am quite sure."

THE THEME

The fact that this statement on an introductory page of quotes is the first paragraph in the book, which is entitled "Due to Circumstances Beyond our Control . . .", is indicative of its direct relationship to Friendly's 1966 decision to quit. For although Friendly's career in broadcasting and long association with Edward R. Murrow provide much of the basic material of the book, the statement by White three decades ago uspplies the theme.

Later in the book there is naturally an account of the showdown over the televising of the Vietnam hearings. And now Friendly is video adviser to the Ford Foundation, and an architect of its plan for a domestic satellite system that could be used to establish an interconnected, live network of non-commercial television.

FOUNDATION

But I must say that the part of the book that fascinated me the most was the earlier section that traced the various people and places along the line that helped plant the seeds of principle that resulted years later in the resignation. The actual quitting and the transfer to the Ford Foundation are, of course, so recent that they are newsworthy in a dramatic sense. But there is nothing quite as interesting as tracing the influences on an important man, and Friendly has been one of electronic journalism's pivotal figures.

SOME INFLUENCES

Perhaps some quotes from the book will help indicate these influences. At one point, Murrow is quoted as saying: "We, like everyone in this business, are going to be judged by what we put on the air; but we also shall be judged by what we don't broadcast."

Another Murrow statement, a famous one to the Radio-Television News Directors Association in Chicago in 1958, is recalled:

"If there are any historians . . . a hundred years from now and there should be preserved the kinescopes for one week of all three networks, they will find recorded, in black-and-white or color, evidence of decadence, escapism and insulation from the realities of the world in which we live . . . if we go on as we are, then history will take its revenge, and retribution will (catch) up with us."

Stereo Tapes Stolen

Theft of 10 stereo tapes worth $50 from her unlocked car was reported today to Mill Valley police by Mrs. Claude Hearn, 263 East Blithedale Avenue. They were taken yesterday, she said, while the car was parked on Carmelita Avenue.

COMSAT Probe Firing Tonight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The third in a series of commercial communications satellites will be rocketed tonight into stationary orbit 22,300 miles above the Atlantic.

The Communications Satellite Corp. (COMSAT) payload will provide a second commercial satellite link between North America and Europe and eventually will tie these two continents with Africa and Latin America.

COMSAT will pay the National Aeronautics and Space Administration $3.5 million to launch the satellite with a Delta rocket.

Clay Is 5-1 To Whip Folley In Tonight's Title Fight

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone but Zora Folley and the small group around him seems to feel that the 34-year-old veteran is just another opponent for heavyweight champion Cassius Clay at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The swaggering, 25-year-old all-conquering Clay is a 5-1 favorite to whip the mild-mannered, quiet No. 1 contender in the televised 15-rounder.

There has been virtually no wagering on the outcome except for a reported few bets on whether the fight will go the distance. It's 5-13 that it doesn't go the limit and 5-9 it doesn't go 10 rounds.

The fight will be telecast live and in color on KTVU, Channel 2, beginning at 7 p.m. Veteran Don Dunphy will call the action.

Starting time is 7:30 p.m., PST.

It's a ripe situation for an upset along the lines of Clay's seventh round technical knockout of Sonny Liston as a 7-1 underdog in Feb. 25, 1964, Jersey Joe Walcott's seventh round knockout of Ezzard Charles in 1951 at 6-1 odds and Jimmy Braddock's 15-round decision over the 10-1 favored Maxie Baer in 1935. All three were just considered opponents.

Clay, winner of all 28 of his pro fights and making his seventh title defense within a year and his ninth in all, seems supremely confident.

For a change he hasn't predicted the round but he has appeared as arrogant at times as a night club headwaiter with a packed house.

Independent-Journal Sports

FOURTH SECTION Wed., March 22, 1967 37

But Angelo Dundee, his shrewd trainer, has forecast a fourth round knockout victory for his charge. Earlier he had predicted it would end "somewhere between the seventh and 11th round."

Folley, unbeaten in his last 12 fights in a 3½-year span, said "I'm going to win by decision or by a knockout. I'm going to be the next heavyweight champion."

He doesn't seem convincing. Still, the scientific challenger from Chandler, Ariz., has the tools to win if he gets lucky. He has a 74-7-4 won-lost-draw record, including 40 knockouts. He has been stopped five times, the last by Doug Jones in the seventh round on Dec. 15, 1962.

"I'm grateful to him for giving me my first chance at the title," said Folley, a father of eight. "But that won't prevent me from trying to knock him out."

Despite the long odds, indicating the Korean War veteran hasn't a chance, the fight will do good business.

The Garden expects a crowd of upwards of 16,000 to pay between $300,000 and $400,000 at prices ranging from $8 to $50.

There will be national television into the homes by MSG-RKO General and closed circuit television into theaters and arenas in a couple of cities. New York and a 90-mile radius of the metropolis willbe blacked out of the television.

The fight will be telecast live to Canada, Mexico, Japan and some European countries.

Clay will earn about $300,000 on his 50 per cent of the Garden receipts and a $150,000 guarantee from the ancillaries—television, moves, etc.

Folley will collect about $70,000 on his 15 per cent of the gate and $25,000 from the ancillaries. His largest purse before was the $40,000 he received for being knocked out in the third round by Sonny Liston at Denver in

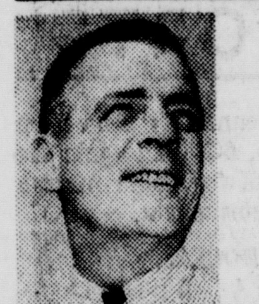
Warriors Off To Fast Start In NBA Playoffs



JIM GILMARTIN

A Fine Irish Gentleman Would Spar With Wilt

TALL ORDER—My blurb here Monday that Wilt Chamberlain would train in San Rafael for his (ha-ha) proposed world title fight with Cassius Clay brought some comment from my fine friend, San Anselmo's Patrick O'Connor, well-known hauler and gardner about Marin.

"Fir-r-rst of all, Shamus," he began in his native tongue, a son of County Cork, he, "let me say that such a fight would be de-gr-r-rading to bawxing. Mohammed McAli would make Wilt the O'stilt look foolish and that would be bad and sad for a mahn who, after all, is a world champion in his own right. Wilt should stick to basketball, he should. I would be sur-r-pr-rised if American bawxing autharities would autarize such a farce, I would."

PATRICK O'CONNOR

A former bawx. . . er . . I mean boxing . . . champion of Ireland, Patty O'Connor quickly added (that he did): "Now, if the fight is scheduled and if Wilt comes to our fair county to train, tell him I'll apply for a job as his spar-r-r-ing partner. Oh, that I'd love. It would be fun, it would."

Reach Doesn't Mean A Thing

Now waitaminute, Patrick me boy. Wilt stands seven feet tall and has a reach from here to Belfast, he does.

"Blarney," laughed me Irish pal, "reach doesn't mean a thing. In boxing it's all speed and timing. Just tell Wilt that I'm available as a spar-r-ring par-r-rtner and I'll show you—and him—what I mean."

This would seem like a brash challenge for a man of 46 summers who hasn't laced on a glove in 15 years, but O'Connor has the credentials to support his enthusiasm.

First, his strenuous work has kept him physically sound.

Secondly, he has the moxie acquired from nearly 400 bouts. Undefeated in 58 amateur tiffs, Patrick turned professional in 1939 and answered the call more than 300 times a a pro, winning his country's middle and lightheavyweight titles in the mid-1940s.

Won 18 Straight Bouts

Seeking greener pastures, Patty came to the U.S. in 1947 and won 18 straight bouts. In his 19th main event here he suffered from double vision and dropped a split decision (no pun intended). "I feared my health was in danger," he recalled the other day on an office visit, "so I called it quits."

Patrick, who moved to California in 1950 and lives with his lovely wife, Ann, at 38 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, still follows boxing avidly, rates the late Max Baer as his all-time idol and Mohammed McAli as "a truly gr-r-reat fighter who knows his trade, although I don't like all his jabbering."

I think Patrick would be a good sparring partner. I think he would belabor the bejabbers out of Wilt's shins. That I do.

Willie's Marriage Plans

SAY HEY—Willie Mays' sudden interest in moving to Marvelous Marin could stem from the fact the Giants' captain plans to marry in October and yearns for privacy.

He told my undercover agent in Phoenix the other day: "I can't go anywhere without being hounded by somebody who would like to talk to me or would like my autograph. You can count on one hand the number of times I went out for dinner last year. My goal now is to find someplace to live where I can have privacy and live my own life. Maybe Marin would be the answer to my dreams."

Marin Catholic Netters Triumph

Marin Catholic's tennis team swept both doubles matches to nip Cardinal Newman of Santa Rosa, 3-2, yesterday in a dual tennis meet.

John Barzini won a singles match for the Wildcats while Jim Gardner and Paul Ingles and Ttienne Rolin and Ed Guttleng teamed up to take doubles matches.

Illinois' Argument Isn't Over

CHICAGO (UPI) —Big Ten commissioner Bill Reed says that as far as he is concerned the case of the University of Illinois slush fund is closed, but it appeared today that Reed has not heard the last of it.

If the Illinois House of Representatives concurs with the State Senate, there will be a legislative probe of the university's relations with the Big Ten. And with everyone in the capital from Gov. Otto Kerner downward—officially at least—irate over the knuckle rapping Illinois received from the Big Ten. House approval appeared assured.

Closed the case might be with the resignations Sunday of football coach Pete Elliott, basketball coach Harry Combes and the latter's assistant, Howard Braun, but yesterday Dr. David D. Henry, the university president who twice went to bat for his coaches, saw to it the matter remained before the public. He released a detailed audit of the slush fund from which illegal payments were made to athletes, in violation of conference rules.

One of the interesting aspects of the audit was that it showed that about $4,000 remains of the "slush," and that there was more than one slush fund.

Henry announced that the money remaining in the slush funds had either been returned to donors or handed over to the university foundation.

Roger Maris Talks About Quitting

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — The pain lingers for Roger Maris.

Maris, still smarting over his clashes with sports writers, says he's disgusted and might quit baseball after this season.

"I'm sick and tired of what I had to go through," the St. Louis Cardinal outfielder declared yesterday. "I'd be better off in some business back home in Kansas City."

Maris, traded to St. Louis from the New York Yankees, went on to say:

"I would have quit after last season. The deal made me change my mind but that doesn't mean I'll be back next year."

What if he has a great year with the Cards? Will he change his mind?

"I don't think so the way I feel now. It's just my personal feelings about what happened over the years," he said.

Maris was bathed in publicity in 1961 when he cracked Babe Ruth's record by smashing 61 home runs.

"Perhaps, I wasn't able to handle it," he conceded, "but if you saw what I had to go through you'd understand.

"I tried to be fair and honest with everybody," he said. "But I found out they didn't play the game the same way.

"You couldn't imagine the stuff they asked," he said. "Tolerance can last just so long."

Las Gallinas Golf

Mrs. Berridge Marsh and Mrs. Tom Richardson finished one-two at the Las Gallinas Golf Club's "Closest to Hole No. 3" contest yesterday. Mrs. Marsh came to within 15 feet while Mrs. Richardson finished at 20½ feet from the cup.

Marin Catholic Nine Moves Into Finals; Novato Wins

Marin Catholic High School's baseball team moves into tonight's finals at the Healdsburg Invitational Tournament after a 4-0 victory over the host team last night.

Redwood High was knocked out of the same tournament after losing 4-3 to Analy.

Novato High School's baseball team erupted for a five-run first inning en route to a 9-2 rout over Oceana High last night in the Terra Nova High School Invitation at Pacifica.

Terra Linda's baseball game at Hogan High of Vallejo was postponed due to wet grounds and rescheduled for Saturday at Vallejo's Foley Park.

Marin Catholic will take on Analy tonight at 8 o'clock in the finals of the Healdsburg tourney. The Wildcats got there on some nifty one-hit pitching from Tom Schalick in yesterday's semi-final game against Healdsburg High.

Schalick, a senior, was superb for the 'Cats as he fanned 12 while walking four during the seven-inning stint. That lone safety was a bunt.

A double by Mike Giacomini staked Schalick to a 1-0 lead in the Wildcat half of the first. In the bottom of the fifth Rick Denning squeezed in Mark Carbone with the second run and Giacomini knocked in another with a single in the same inning. Carbone tripled home Marin Catholic's final run in the sixth frame.

For Novato, winning hurler Steve McNalley, a sophomore, spun a nifty two-hitter during his five-inning chore to contribute to the victory, which advanced the Hornet baseballers into this evening's semi-finals.

The Novato nine bunched a pair of walks, a single and a fielder's choice to score their first run, then first baseman Barry Berringer followed with a 400-foot, three-run homer to make it 4-0, more than enough.

McNalley, who walked four while striking out one, was helped by reliever Chuck Ashworth, a senior who did a yeoman's job for last year's Marin County Athletic League co-champs.

DeMont Stars In Vegas Meet

Ken DeMont of the Marin Swim Club was a lonesome swimmer at the North Las Vegas Fifth Annual Invitational Swim Meet last week but he had plenty of awards to keep him company when it was all over.

DeMont, swimming in the 10-and-under division, captured five first places at the meet packed with Southern California entries. That gave him the individual high-point trophy for the meet. He won in the 50 butterfly, the 50 breaststroke, the 200 freestyle, the 100 freestyle and the 200 individual medly.

Lindsay Wins Golf Honors

Phil Lindsay took the Class A division of the Mill Valley Golf Club's Ham Shoot golf tournament Sunday by firing a 75-16-59.

Paul Bauman was runnerup at 71-10-61, followed by Kevin Hogan at 69-7-62 and Pete Fisher, 77-15-62.

It was a four-way tie for first for Class B honors among Bill D'Alvy, 86-21-65, Gene Quinn, 90-25-65, Paul Taylor, 83-18-65, and Tommy Thompson, 84-19-65.

Jim King Haunts Former Mates

OAKLAND (AP) — Jim King has joined the ranks of players who return to haunt the team which traded them away.

As the San Francisco Warriors grabbed the first game of their basketball playoff series 124-108 from Los Angeles last night, King led the winners with 22 points. All but two of them came in the first three quarters as the Warriors roared far ahead.

Los Angeles had King the past three seasons and then put him on the draft list. Chicago's Bulls grabbed him. The Warriors then traded Guy Rodgers for King and Jeff Mullins.

DEPTH

The two were supposed to provide back court depth and this they have done. With Al Attles ailing, Mullins started against the Lakers and hit for 17 points in the first 16 minutes before suffering an ankle injury.

Rick Barry was held scoreless the first quarter but the Warriors nevertheless jumped out to a 33-25 lead as Nate Thurmond held control of the boards.

Without Jerry West, out of action because of an ankle injury, the Lakers couldn't cope with their intrastate foes who finished first in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

As Barry found the range, San Francisco built a 100-69 advantage early in the fourth period and then coasted.

"I still believe it will be a close series," declared San Francisco Coach Bill Sharman, "but in a short series, the first game is always a key.

"This was a real team effort and Nate's best game since he came back after being injured. This was the way we had played before he got hurt."

CROWD OF 11,106

A crowd of 11,106 at Oakland's Coliseum Arena watched the opening game in the best three of five series. Action moves to Los Angeles tomorrow night with the Lakers hoping West can play.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus kept the dressing room door locked 28 minutes after the opener and then had little to say.

Archie Clark, the rookie from Minnesota, led Laker scorers with 26 points but 10 of these came after the cause was lost in the final stanza. Elgin Baylor scored 18.

Barry wound up with 21 while Thurmond and Fred Hetzel each tallied 14 and reserve Tom Meschery had 13.

Mullins stayed in San Francisco for treatment today while the rest of the squad traveled to Los Angeles ot work out in the Sports Arena.

Litchfield's Wins Battle, Loses War

Litchfield's of San Rafael got a whopping baseball victory but the big prize faded away in the wake of a New Pisa triumph.

Litchfield's, with a wispy hope for a title tie in the San Francisco AAA Winter Baseball League, blasted Chops of San Bruno, 15-3, in San Francisco last Sunday but league leading New Pisa won a forfeit decision to capture the crown. Litchfield's was trailing by a game.

The victory ended the season on a wood-cracking note. Doug Wilson led the rampage with six runs batted in on a pair of triples and a single as Litchfield's amassed 19 hits against Chops. The game was called in the seventh inning.

Ron Gasper, who had two hits, clinched the team batting title with a .464 mark edging Dave Barni at .450. Hurler Elray Laughlin notched up his third win without a loss.

Juan Wants To Talk $$ In Person

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Holdout righthander Juan Marichal has promised to report for contract talks with the San Francisco Giants Saturday, but that big contract is still unsigned.

Even if Juan signs quickly, he may have lost his traditional season-opening starting assignment to Gaylord Perry, a 21-8 winner last year.

There's hardly time for Marichal to warm up before the opener April 11 in St. Louis.

Giants Manager Herman Franks talked Marichal, 25-6 in '66, into coming to Phoenix to talks terms—but not into yielding a single dollar from his $110,000 demand.

Juan was offered $100,000 by owner Horace Stoneham, who said that's final.

GREAT START

Perry, a National League sensation last year, is off to a great start in the Cactus League. yesterday, he went six innings as the Giants beat the Cubs, 8-4. That's the longest any pitcher has gone this spring.

It also was the first game anyone has scored against Perry. The righthander has pitched 14 innings in 3 games, allowed 9 hits, 3 runs, and 2 walks and has fanned 9.

He yielded only one hit, rookie Clarence Jones' homer, in five innings, but gave up two singles and a triple for two runs in the sixth.

Marichal has upped his pay sensationally — $40,000, $50,000, $62,500 and $75,000 in successive years, 1963-66. And he has rewarded handsomely with 25-8, 21-8, 22-13 and 25-6 winning seasons.

He probably will have a personal confrontation with Stoneham Saturday. All other Giants will be in Palm Springs, Calif. to start a three-game series with the California Angels.

A BREEZE

The Giants had a breeze against the Cubs after Willie McCovey's three-run double started a six-run first inning. McCovey is having trouble with his hands—blisters on the left, a cut on the right and they're painful every time he grips a bat. He's hit 8 doubles and batted in 7 runs while hitting only .229.

Rookie Cesar Gutierrez hit his third triple in three days and Dick Dietz homered as the Giants won their fifth in a row for an 8-4 record. Ken Holtzman yielded all the Giant runs; then rookie Dick Nye, another lefthander, hurled three scoreless innings.

Even Pitchers Slide In Cookie's School

PHOENIX—"I love this," said Cookie Lavagetto. The Good Kid was referring to his bunting, sliding and base running school in back of the centerfield fence at Phoenix Municipal Stadium.

Lavagetto never tires teaching baseball fundamentals and this year his daily drills in basics are beginning to show results in a big way. That's because Lavagetto is giving every Giant an intensive review course in the art of sacrificing, running the bases and sliding.

EVEN THE pitchers are taking sliding lessons along with their bunting drills. The only pitcher Cookie has been unable to sweet talk into practice sliding is Art Mahaffey. Bob Bolin went through the sliding routine during the weekend and has a king-sized strawberry to prove it.

"I had to use my own bat to win ball games for myself last season," said Bolin. "But, Cookie," added the dry-humored Bolin, "this is getting to be a bit ridiculous—asking pitchers to win games by sliding."

NEVERTHELESS, Bolin and the rest of the pitchers, excluding Mahaffey, went along with Cookie because he is literally the Good Kid of the Giant coaching staff.

"It's tough to say no to Cookie," said Bolin, "because everything he teaches in that school of his makes good sense. I just hope I retain half of it. And he's been showing me a new move to first for which I'm grateful. Maybe I'll be more adept at keeping runners closer to the bag this season. I hope so."

LAVAGETTO HOPES he will be able to take his bunting machine and other paraphernalia to Candlestick Park so that lessons learned in the spring will not be forgotten.

"They must be reviewed and reviewed and then reviewed some more to be effective," said Cookie who got his initial nickname in 1933 when Cookie DeVincenzi, then owner of the Oaks, signed Lavagetto to his first professional contract. He became known as Cookie's boy.

DURING THE ensuing three decades in which he was player, manager and coach, Cookie picked up his Good Kid title. Every teammate was a good kid to Cookie. It was only natural for them to turn the title around on Cookie.

It's easy to understand why baseball fans in his native Oakland loved Cookie the same way Brooklyn fans later idolized him. Nobody ever heard Cookie put a rap on anybody. If he doesn't have something good to say about his fellow man, Cookie keeps his mouth shut.

EVEN BILL BEVINS had a good word for Cookie and Bevins was the Yankee pitcher who was one out away from a no-hitter in the fourth game of the 1947 World Series when Cookie belted a pinch double that drove in two winning runs.

Kezar Hosts High Style Soccer Game

It's football time again?

Football — Italian style, and for that matter continental style, visits San Francisco in high style tomorrow when Roma of Italy and Flamengo of Rio De Janeiro match heads and feet in an international exhibition soccer match at Kezar Stadium at 8:30 p.m.

The match will feature two of the top teams in international soccer circles and will help acclimate fans to the opening of the initial season of pro soccer in the U.S. next month.

Roma is one of the top teams in Italy and Europe. Its roster reads like a roll call for a pizza factory with such stars as Sensibile, Pizzaballa, Scala, Sirena, Enzo, Carpenti, Tamborini, Olivieri and Domenicacci.

It's one of the highest-scoring and up and coming teams around with an average age of 22. Older players are Giochino Peiro from Madrid and Jurgen Schutz from Germany.

Flamengo's top scorers are Juarez and Cesar, two epic-sounding names if there ever were any.

There will be a 6:45 preliminary between the Northern California Latin All-Stars and the San Francisco selection to play in the annual John Kennedy Cup Tournament in Vancouver in May.

Clay Is Heavy Favorite

We'll go along with Joe Louis on this one.

"Clay hasn't the punch to take out a man when he wants to," said the former heavyweight king. "He likes to see the fight go on. He plays around too much. Maybe it will go eight rounds or more."

Folley will be giving away age, weight, height and speed. He has 13½ years of experience going for him against Clay's 6½.

The added experience didn't help Zora against Ernie Terrell in New York, on July 27, 1963. That was his last defeat. The towering Terrell speared him with left jabs—a Clay specialty—and won decisively.

Clay won by a lopsided margin over Terrell in their 15-rounder—Clay's last start—at Houston, Tex., last Feb. 6.

Scoring will be by the rounds system. The referee and two judges will be named at fight time.

All of the regular rules of the New York Athletic Commission will be in effect.

Eight ounce gloves will be used, there will be a mandatory eight count for knockdowns, and if a fighter is knocked down three times in one round the fight will be stopped. The count will be continued if a fighter is down when the bell rings except for the end of the last round.

Clay weighed 211½ pounds and Folley 202½ at today's weigh-in.

Dierking Catches 76ers With Their Defenses Down

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big O turned in his usual performance, but it was the Big C that caught the Philadelphia 76ers with their defenses down.

Oscar Robertson, often referred to as the Big O, scored 33 points and Connie Dierking, probably never before called the Big C, got 29 as the Cincinnati Royals upset the Philadelphia 76ers 120-116 in an opening game of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

In other playoff action, the defending world champion Boston Celtics thrashed the New York Knickerbockers 140-110, San Francisco trounced Los Angeles 124-108 and the St. Louis Hawks topped the Chicago Bulls 114-100.

"We definitely played the best ball of the season, and I was really up for this game," said 6-foot-10 Dierking, who averaged 9.3 points in regular season games.

"I really wanted to beat Philadelphia right in its own back yard."

If Dierking does as well in his own back yard tonight when the best- of-5 series resumes, the Eastern Division champion 76ers, who won eight of nine from Cincinnati in regular season play, could be in serious trouble. There are no other playoff games scheduled tonight.

Dierking put the Royals ahead to stay by breaking a 66-66 tie with two quick baskets. Then Robertson clinched it with a field goal and two foul shots in the last 29 seconds.

The Big C also helped Jerry Lucas give the Royals an edge off the boards. Each pulled down 18 rebounds.

Wilt Chamberlain led Philadelphia with 41 points and 22 rebounds. Hal Greer got 23 points for the 76ers.

Boston wasted little time in letting New York know whose back yard the teams were playing in. Bailey Howell gave the Celtics a 2-0 lead on a jump shot, and the Celtics never trailed en route to their 20th straight victory over the Knickerbockers since March 17, 1965.

Sam Jones scored 38 points, John Havlicek 32 and Howell 23 for the Celtics, who are gunning for their ninth straight world championship. Jones hit 15 of 18, Havlicek 14 of 19 and Howell 10 of 14 from the field. Willis Reed led the visiting Knicks with 23.

Rookie Lou Hudson threw in 26 points and veteran Lenny Wilkens hit for 20, including 16 of 17 from the foul line, in leading the Hawks past first-year Chicago at St. Louis.

The San Francisco-Los Angeles series switches to Los Angeles and the Hawks-Bulls set moves to Chicago tomorrow night. The Celtics and Knicks will resume play in New York Saturday night.

10 Marin Swimmers Win First Places

The Marin Swim Club captured 10 first places and a host of second through sixth places at the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department's 24th annual Class B Spring Meet at Balboa High School pool Saturday.

The first place victories went to 10 different swimmers. They were Liz Locati, Jim Welp, Steve Crow, Reagan Wader, Steve Welp, Kim Hughes, Augie Locati, Spencer Eldred, Irene Johnson and Mike London.

TRIPLE THREAT MARIN RACER

Dick Kilgroe of Santa Venetia will be going around the track three different ways Sunday when he races three cycles at the Easter Grand Prix in Cotati. Kilgroe will be racing this twin disc braked Honda, an additional Honda and a Suzuki at the Grand Prix which starts at 9 a.m. with practice runs. The first race starts at 1 p.m.

Giants Stronger Than Ever If Three Wishes Come True

By JACK STEVENSON

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A top pennant contender again, the San Francisco Giants will be tougher than ever if three wishes come true.

"We hope the second base-shortstop combination is improved," pointed out Manager Herman Franks, whose clubs have finished second in his two seasons at the helm.

"We need some hitting in the left field and right field positions. We didn't get any last year."

Thirdly, the Giants would be happier if a left-handed starting pitcher would come through. Ray Sadecki, acquired in trade last year for slugger Orlando Cepeda, proved a disappointment in 1966.

WINNING FORM

Sadecki is working this spring to find the winning form again and the Giants re-acquired Mike McCormick, 11-14 at Washington last year.

Strongest assets for San Francisco are power hitters Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Jim Hart and Tom Haller plus a right-handed pitching staff including two 20-game winners.

Juan Marichal, a spring holdout problem, posted a 25-6 record, his fourth straight season over 20, while Gaylord Perry finished his best year at 21-8. Bob Bolin, 11-10, goes in the starting rotation with the fourth spot open.

Second baseman Hal Lanier, who hit only .231, worked all winter on becoming a switch batter. In the field he's playing closer to the bag to increase double play chances. The Giants ranked eighth in twin killings with 131 and Franks declared, "We gave other teams four outs too many times."

Tito Fuentes returns for his second season at shortstop and should be improved. He hit .261 with 40 runs batted in, 20 of them in the last month. A dislocated left shoulder put him out of action, June 18 to July 4. The Giants recommended surgery during the winter, but Tito refused.

As a club, the Giants batted only .248, topping only the New York Mets, .239. McCovey led with .295 as Mays slipped to .288 in a season when he boosted his National League home run record to 542, second only to Babe Ruth's major league record of 714.

Mays slugged 37 homers, McCovey 36, third baseman Hart 33 and catcher Haller 27.

Veteran right-handed reliever Lindy McDaniel won 10 and saved 5 more in 64 relief calls during his first year with the Giants. Frank Linzy appeared 51 times but was only 7-11, slipping from his 9-3 rookie season in 1965.

VETERANS RETURN

Veterans Ron Herbel and lefty Joe Gibbon return for duties either as starters or in the bullpen, most probably the latter for Gibbon.

Among the youngsters, the most promising appear to be Dick Sparks, 14-9 at Phoenix, and Frank Kasheta with an aggregate 14-10 at Waterbury and Phoenix.

Bench strength appears improved with the acquisitions of veteran Norm Siebern from the California Angels and drafting of Billy Sorrell from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League. Both hit from the left side.

With their established pitching, the Giants could win the pennant with some hitting and some double plays.

Blades Drubbed, 10-2

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Opening Strength Sometimes Gives Secrets To Opponents

It's pleasant to have a hand strong enough for an opening bid, but sometimes your strength is a liability.

If the opponents have all the other high cards your opening bid will locate everything that they miss.

Opening lead — ♡ 3

East played the eight of hearts at the first trick to find out if his partner had led from Q-5-3.

When South won with the queen, East knew the opening lead had been a singleton and that South still had a heart stopper.

EAST BALKS

South led a low diamond to dummy's jack, and East refused the trick. If East took the first diamond, South would get three diamond tricks instead of just two.

Declarer continued by leading a club from dummy to win a finesse with the queen.

He then led a low spade since he would win his ninth trick in spades if each opponent held three spades.

SETS UP HEARTS

East won with the jack of spades and returned the king of hearts to the ace.

Now South dashed the top spades, and East had to find a discard on the king of spades.

As it happened, there was no such thing as a safe discard.

If East discarded a club or a diamond, South would lead out his two aces knowing that one of East's kings was sure to drop.

East actually discarded a heart, but now South could afford to lead his last heart and let East take two heart tricks.

South saved two diamonds and two clubs, and East had to lead away from one of his kings.

This gave South an additional chance to finesse for his ninth trick.

Declarer took two tricks in each suit and a third trick in the suit that East decided to lead at the end.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes You hold:

♠ A K 6 4
♥ A Q 5
♦ A 8 5
♣ A Q J

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

The only question is whether to bid a small or a grand slam The answer may depend on whether your partner can rebid his hearts or show support for spades.

Your jump in a new suit is forcing to game and warns partner to start thinking about a slam.

Husband Figures She'll Be Puzzled

NEW YORK (UPI)—A man who called a perfume-by-wire service (Western Union) to have a bottle of perfume delivered to his wife was asked if he wanted any message to go with it.

"No," he replied. "I want her to wonder why I sent it."

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, March 22, the 81st day of 1967 with 284 to follow.

The moon is between the first and full stage. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

American physicist Robert Andrew Millikan was born on this day in 1868.

On this day in history:

In 1794 Congress passed legislation forbidding slave trading with foreign nations.

In 1820 Commodore Stephen Decatur, the American Naval hero, was mortally wounded in a duel with Commodore James Barron. The duel near Washington resulted from Barron's belief that Decatur was responsible for Barron's removal from active Naval service.

In 1874 the Young Men's Hebrew Association (YMHA) was formed.

In 1941 Grand Coulee dam on the Columbia River began producing electric power.

A thought for the day—American statesman John Randolph once said: "The surest way to prevent war is not to fear it."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Kentfield Florist's Shop Is Named, Aptly—Blooms

A new store opened at 1008 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield is called Blooms — a flower shop which also handles plants, pottery, flower containers and paintings.

Owners of the business are Mrs. Iris M. Cavagnaro of Berkeley and her daughter, Judith Cavagnaro, a resident of Sausalito. They have leased the former quarters of the Kentfield branch of the Marin County Library through Harry Abras of William Timmer Realty. The store has hours from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Mrs. Cavagnaro is a student counselor in Walnut Creek, so the flower shop will be handled mostly by her daughter. Miss Cavagnaro is a flutist and has arranged a "musical grand opening celebration" featuring several musicians in concert in the shop for Saturday, April 1 from 4 to 7 p.m.

"OVERVIEW OF CONSTRUCTION," a course primarily for people of the construction industry but also open to the general public, is being offered at College of Marin this evening and for the next nine succeeding Wednesday evenings. It will be held in Room 50 in the Engineering Building from 7 to 10 p.m.

The course is presented by the Marin County Carpenters Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committee. There is a $5 registration fee and enrollment may be made tonight at the beginning of the first class — or if you miss it, at the adult education office of the college during the day. Guest lecturers will speak on site development, job planning, cost estimating, building codes and inspection, legal aspects and safety for the first six weeks. During the last four meetings the class will select subjects of primary interest for discussion.

A PROMOTION at Bank of America's Larkspur branch has brought in Ted A. Ries from Modesto as operations officer. He joined the bank in 1965 as a special trainee in Napa and for the past six months has been assistant operations officer at the Modesto branch.

MEETINGS AND CONFERENCES — George S. Circo of San Rafael, territory manager for Johnson and Johnson's health care division, has been attending a 10-day conference at company headquarters in New Jersey . . . Larry Brickert of Mill Valley, owner of Larry Brickert Advertising Co., San Francisco, has returned from the semiannual trade show of the Specialty Advertising Assn. in Chicago. . . Corita L. Bergman, office supervisor of the San Rafael district agency of Prudential Insurance Co., will appear at a management training conference at the company's western home office in Los Angeles April 10-11 . . . Al Trombetta and San Rafael branch manager Jim Regalia of Trombetta Distributors, attended the recent meeting of the Hiram Walker Canadian Club Society in Los Angeles where they were cited for their 1966 sales of Walker products.

REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS will be the subject of four weekend conferences in the Bay Area this spring by University of California Extension. They will be given both in Berkeley and in San Francisco. Dates in Berkeley are March 31-April 1, April 28-29, May 26-27 and June 23-24. San Francisco meetings are April 14-15, May 19-20, June 16-17 and July 14-15. Paul D. Buchholz, by the way, who heads First of California Mortgage Co. in San Rafael, will be one of the speakers at the third meetings in the series. Conferences will be at the Berkeley House and the Jack Tar Hotel. Registration fees are $150 for the series: $45 for single meetings. Information may be obtained from the University of California Extension office in Berkeley.

WAGNER D'ALESSIO of Ross, president of California Casualty Indemnity Exchange of San Francisco, has been appointed chairman of the Northern California college liaison committee of the Western Insurance Information service. Purpose of the committee is to advise college students about career opportunities in insurance.

S.P. Railroad Promotion To McNear

Denman K. McNear of Kentfield has been appointed vice president of Southern Pacific Co., president B. F. Biaggini announced today.

McNear, 41, has been assistant to the president since 1963 and will assume his new post April 1.

He graduated from Tamalpais School for Boys in 1942 and joined Southern Pacific in 1948 as a technical student after Navy service in World War II.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a master's degree in business from Stanford University.

McNear and his wife, Susan, and their two children live at 44 Makin Grade, Kentfield.

Market Ends Higher, Erasing Early Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market closed higher today, wiping out an early loss. Trading was active.

Volume for the first four hours was 6.2 million shares compared with 6.94 million yesterday.

The market was higher at the opening but soon entered an irregular decline. Selling dried up, however, and investors bought stock as the market showed no inclination to decline further.

Golf & Western Industries looked like the most-active stock as it virtually erased Tuesday's loss of 2¼ .In second place was Thiokol which showed a gain of more than a point.

Eastern Air Lines trimmed an early loss and declined 2 points or more.

Itek rebounded more than 2 points from a loss of 8⅛ Tuesday.

Gains of a point or better were made by Commonwealth Oil, Admiral, Raymond International, U.S. Steel, and Jones & Laughlin.

Anaconda and Xerox rose 2 or more. New York Central fell about 4 points, Pennsylvania Railroad more than 2.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

DiGiorgio Issues Quarterly Dividend

San Francisco — The 73rd consecutive quarterly dividend payment to common stockholders of DiGiorgio Corp. has been approved by the company's board of directors.

The dividend, 20 cents per share, is payable May 15 to stockholders of record April 14. DiGiorgio is a diversified San Francisco headquartered food company with nationwide interests in farming, processing and grocery distribution.

Lower Fares Boost Trips To Europe

NEW YORK (AP) — Tourists planning summer trips to Europe under the new lower air fares are boosting business for travel agents and airlines.

Two million Americans are expected to travel to Europe this year, up from 1.6 million in 1966.

"We're completely booked until September," said Henry P. Huff, executive vice president of Trans International Airlines, an Oakland, Calif., supplemental carrier.

Trans International has scheduled more than 200 charter flights to Europe from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, St. Louis, Columbus, New York, Boston and other cities this summer, Huff said. Business is up 25 per cent over 1966.

British Overseas Airways Corp. said its New York reservations department has been swamped with calls. BOAC is offering 30 itineraries with room for 25,000 to 30,000 travelers.

Trans World Airlines reports advance bookings for June are up 5.5 per cent from 1966. It is offering more than 250 tours.

Aircraft Firms Launch Studies Of Noise Woes

WASHINGTON (SS) — Three-year studies of noise abatement in jet engine design will be made for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration by the Boeing and Douglas aircraft companies.

Main focus of Boeing's $7.5 million contract will be an effort to keep fan and compressor noise from propagating forward, by choking the air flow to the engine inlet. Goal of the program is a noise cut of 15 decibels, equivalent, says NASA, to moving the noise source about five times as far away.

Douglas will spend $3 million in an attempt to reduce fly-over noise level on the ground by 7 to 10 decibels, by acoustic treatment of fan inlet and discharge ducts.

Both companies will develop and test modified engine nacelles suitable for presently operational aircraft. The contracts extend through actual flight testing.

Federals Report Construction Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) Construction spending in February was $71.7 billion, up $600 million from January, the Commerce Department reports.

Residential construction, the largest single component, also increased. Despite a drop in housing starts, spending on nonfarm homes was at a rate of $21.2 billion in February, compared to $20.7 billion in January and $20.5 billion in December.

The February increases represented the second straight month both over-all construction spending and residential construction showed rises.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Sale Of Your House And Capital Gains

By PETER JAMES WIKEL,
CPA

A taxpayer 65 years old or over can exclude any capital gain in the first $20,000 of the sales price of his personal residence if he has owned the personal residence for at least eight years and has actually used it as his principal place of residence for at least five out of the last eight years.

If the sales price is $20,000 or less, you can exclude all the capital gain.

Wikel

If the sales price is more than $20,000 you can exclude only the proportionate share of the gain that the adjusted sales price bears to $20,000.

This is a once in a lifetime exclusion. You can not claim it more than once. Both husband and wife will satisfy the age, ownership and use requirements where one of them satisfies such requirements for a residence they own as joint tenants, tenants for the entirety, or community property and they file a joint return.

A widow or widower over 65 years old whose deceased spouse met the ownership and use requirements and who had not made an election under this provision, may make an election under this exclusion of gain provision.

Community apartment stockholders who are entitled to a house or apartment because of such stock ownership can make an election when they sell their stock.

If a house is used partially for personal residence and partially for business, only the gain on that part of the house used as a personal residence can be excluded.

Destruction, theft, seizure, requisition or condemnation of a personal residence is treated as the sale of such property. Any gain realized from such involuntary conversion will qualify.

If your residence is sold and the selling price is over $20,000 and you have a profit and within one year before or one year after the sale you purchase a new residence, you might be able to use both the above and the provisions of Section 1034 relating to the deferral of gain on the sale of residence so that you pay no tax at this time.

If your residence is involuntarily converted or sold or exchanged, any gain can be reduced by the above exclusion. The amount of the excluded gain will decrease your basis in your newly acquired residence however.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Bonds Suffer Depression When Exchanges Decline

By ROGER E. SEPAR

Q. "I inherited the enclosed list of securities. I'm particularly concerned about the Celanese 4s of 1990. These were purchased at 108⅞ and were down recently to 90. I was under the impression that bonds do not fluctuate as common stocks do. Have you any suggestions?" G.M.

A. I am pleased to tell you that you hold an excellent list, too long for individual comment. You are correct in assuming that bonds in general do not fluctuate to the same extent as stocks. They vary in price as money rates change and convertible debentures — such as your Celanese 4s — can fluctuate widely in sympathy with the common for which they are exchangeable.

Your debentures were bought when the stock was selling close to the conversion price. With the common down sharply in a falling textile market, the right to exchange is less attractive and your low coupon bonds have accordingly suffered. They seem well secured and should be held for the potential value of the conversion privilege.

Q. "My financial problem is definitely tied to rising inflation. I have considerable sums in savings accounts as a nest egg for retirement. Would it not be wiser to invest in high-grade stocks and look to capital appreciation to maintain my purchasing power?" M.B.

A. I get many letters like yours and I can only say that I could hardly agree with you more. When you have too great a proportion of your assets in any fixed type of investment you are in effect gambling that the value of your dollars will remain constant — when it never has for very long. I would keep a sound backlog of savings and invest the rest in stocks with records of strong and consistent growth which is not tied closely to the movements of the business cycle. In this category I like — among others — American Home Products, American Hospital Supply, Avon Products; Becton, Dickinson; Bristol-Myers and Consolidated Foods.

Guam is the largest and most populous of the Mariana Islands.

Marijuana Discovered After Houseboat Row

An argument between a Marinship houseboat resident and his guest early today resulted in arrest of three persons, two of them for marijuana possession.

The resident, Dennis Daniel Mullan Jr., 23, of the houseboat Omega at Gate 5, was booked in county jail for possession of Marijuana, possession of paraphernalia for smoking a narcotic, and being in a room where narcotics were being used.

He also was booked for assault and battery on the guest, Walter George Caffrey, 19, whom he is accused of assaulting with a hunting knife.

Robert Wesley Callison, 20, also of the houseboat, was booked on the same charges except that he was not charged with assault and battery. James Allen Bradley, 24, of San Francisco, was booked on suspicion of being present where narcotics was used.

Sheriff's officers said Caffrey reported he and Mullan, who goes by the nickname "Bubbles," got into an argument about 3:40 a.m. He said Mullan first threatened him with a club, then grabbed the knife and cut him slightly on neck.

Caffrey fled and notified Sausalito police, who called deputies. Officers returned with Caffrey to the houseboat, found a small tin con containing what they believed is marijuana and a single rolled cigarette, they said.

They also confiscated what they described as a water pipe used for smoking opium, and a book of nude male photographs.

Officers said the tin can contained enough marijuana to make about six cigarettes.

Hughes' Hotel Buy Confirmed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Chairman Alan Abner of the Nevada Gaming Control Board has confirmed that multimillionaire industrialist Howard Hughes purchased the Desert Inn Hotel-Casino.

Abner said the transaction is subject to approval by the Nevada Gaming Control Board and the Nevada Gaming Commission.

Abner made official disclosure of the sale yesterday as he and two other board members met with Hughes' representatives to explain requirements for satisfying licensing regulations.

Hughes, who shuns publicity, has been staying since November in a $250-a-day penthouse suite at the Desert Inn.

Coffee is also used in making some varieties of candy.

Budget Increase Reached For Marin County Library

The budget for the county library will go up next fiscal year, but probably not so much that the present 16.5 cent tax rate per $100 assessed valuation will have to be increased.

During budget review today, County Librarian Virginia Keating and County Administrator Alan Bruce agreed on a total budget of about $370,000, up from the current year's $352,537.

The increase would be made up from anticipated rise in assessed valuation.

The library tax rate is levied in all areas not served by city libraries.

Also reviewed today was the budget of County Agricultural Commissioner Richerd T. Straw, who asked a total of $99,327 for next fiscal year, up from the current $95,294. This got the administrator's aproval after some minor changes.

Marinites Set Up Abortion Law Unit

A Marin County chapter of the California Committee to Legalize Abortion was formed last night at a public meeting at the home of Dr. Thomas Hart in Ross.

Dorothy A. Melen of Corte Madera was appointed treasurer of the group, which will work toward repeal of California's abortion law. Next meeting was set for April 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Rev. Byron E. Eshelman, House 134, San Quentin.

Thirsty Burglar Does Little Good

A window-smashing pburglar broke several hundred dollars worth of plate glass for a bottle of cold tea.

Larkspur police about 4 a.m. today discovered a large display window outside Bon Air Pharmacy in the Bon Air Shopping Center had been smashed. Stolen from it was a whiskey bottle — which looked like the real thing, but was a display bottle filled with tea, police said.

A window-smasher did better at Cala Foods Store in Corte Madera Shopping Center. Corte Madera police found a window there smashed at 7 a.m., with two gallon jugs the loot. But the jugs contained real wine, not tea.

New Orleans once belonged to Spain.

Stewardess Fashions Changing Jet-Fast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There's more than a movie to look at on those coast-to-coast flights these days.

Some American Airlines' stewardesses are wearing miniskirts and reports from other companies indicate even wilder fashions to come for the fly-gals.

Stewardesses in minidresses and "mod" boots have been making "test" flights on American's nonstop Los Angeles-to-New York flights.

Girls flying to Acapulco for Western Airlines wear bermuda shorts and sleeveless "beachcomber" shifts. Stewardesses on other routes often don culottes with zip-on panels that transform them into floor-length hostess gowns for the cocktail hours.

Rail Sneakers Fines Approved

NEW DELHI (AP) — A recommendation has been submitted by a government committee that anyone who sneaks aboard a railroad train without a ticket or pulls the emergency stop chain without justification be fined a minimum of 10 rupees ($1.30).

The group's name is "The Committee on Ticketless Travel, Alarm Chain Pulling and Interference with the Running of Trains."

Second New Comet Of '67 Is Discovered

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (SS) — The second new comet of 1967, a very fast-moving object too faint to be seen without a large telescope, has been discovered in the northern sky not far from Polaris, the North Star.

The twelfth magnitude comet was detected by Dr. Paul Wild of the Astronomical Institute of the University of Berne, Switzerland, on Feb. 11. Its discovery was confirmed at the Naval Observatory in Washington, on the morning of Feb. 13.

News of the discovery of Comet Wild was telegraphed to observatories around the world by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory here, international clearing house for astronomical information. Within a few hours the Smithsonian was also informed by the Japanese astronomer Tomita of Tokyo Astronomical Observatory that periodic Comet Temple II had been recovered in its predicted position, at a magnitude of 19.

Surrender On Bogus Checks

A 28-year-old woman, sought on charges of passing bad checks, surrendered to San Rafael police yesterday.

Lee M. Syracuse of 1135 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, had been sought on warrants charging she gave four bad checks totalling $350 to two San Rafael stores the past month.

Besides the check complaints, she was booked for violation of probation, meted out in connection with worthless check offenses two years ago. Bail of $875 was set after booking at the county jail.

Blackboard Put To Excellent Use

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Passing motorists didn't have to wonder why Ronald Martin's car was pulled to the side of the highway.

A huge blackboard just in front of his auto carried this explanation: "Yes, we do have a flat tire."

Martin was on his way to a lecture and when the flat came decided to put his blackboard into use.

Psychiatric Center Adds New Directors

Four new members have been added to the board of directors of the Ross Psychiatric Center, reports President Lloyd Tunik.

They are Mrs. James Denebeim of Sleepy Hollow; Theodore Lachelt of San Rafael; Robert Johnson, principal of San Clemente School, Corte Madera, and Rev. Kenneth Anderson of the Church of the Redeemer, San Rafael.

Sheep Killed Due To Mauling

Five sheep were mauled so badly by three dogs yesterday in Novato that police had to shoot them.

One of the dogs was shot by an unidentified neighbor. Another was taken by the Marin County Humane Society, police reported.

The sheep, belonging to Adolph N. Schwindt, 54, of 1758 Indian Valley Road, Novato, were in a pasture on Eucalyptus Avenue.

Police said the dog that was shot and the one picked up by the Humane Society belonged to Dick J. Amaral, of 2197 Eucalyptus Avenue, Novato. Amaral told police he would make restitution for the sheep. Ownership of the third dog, which escaped, was unknown to police.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated On Island

An Easter egg hunt will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday on Pleasure Island, Bel Marin Keys, for children under seven years of age in the area, sponsored by the Bel Marin Keys Teen Club.

Children at the dock at the end of Caribe Isle at 1 p.m. will be taken to the island and back by boat. They must have life jackets, according to Barry Weiss, vice president of the club.

Students Grow Food

LUCKNOW, India (AP)—"One student, one plant" is a slogan adopted by state schools in an effort to create an awareness among students of the government's campaign to grow more food. Each student will be encouraged to grow and care for at least one plant.

Water District To Forego Extra Stafford Lake Land

The North Marin County Water District Board last night decided not to purchase additional land at the west end of Stafford Lake to complete its buffer zone around the lake.

The district owns land around almost all of the lake and it had been proposed that a strip be purchased at the end where it owns only up to the lake's high water level.

Dist. Mgr. Jerome Gilbert reported purchase of a 100-foot buffer strip would come to about 10 acres and a 200-foot strip to 20 acres. He estimated cost of the privately held acreage from $25,000 to $100,000 depending on land required and negotiations.

Gilbert also reported that the Army Corps of Engineers is making a study on raising the dam as a flood control measure, but that nothing definite has been dicided.

The North Marin County Water District also:

AQUEDUCT — Authorized purchase of $1,355 in new air valves next year for the 30-inch water main to Petaluma.

REIMBURSEMENT — Amended a district regulation changing from 15 to 10 years the time for someone to regain his costs after constructing a water main which will serve additional areas.

Rhine Army Financing Pact Nears

LONDON (AP) — U.S., British and West German envoys have worked out an agreement meeting most of the foreign exchange costs of Britain's Rhine army in the coming year, informed sources reported tonight.

The accord, which is subject to approval by the three governments, provides for new American military purchases and a bigger German buying program in Britain during the 12 months beginning in April.

Britain's demand for total coverage of her estimated $230 million costs of the Rhine army has not been fully met, informants said.

As a result small-scale withdrawals of British troops from Germany were reported probable after due consultation with other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

The provisional package agreement was reached in Washington during two days of talks involving presidential envoy John J. McCloy, British Foreign Office Minister George Thomson and German Ambassador George Duckwitz. Another meeting between the three is expected in London or Bonn next month when any governmental revisions or adjustments to the agreements will be considered.

Britain has about 59,000 troops and airmen in West Germany.

Pair Is Arraigned On Tiburon Burglary

Robert John Barthel, 34, and William Mason, 33, both of San Francisco, were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of burglary of the home of Charles H. Knight Jr., at 8 Bartel Court, Tiburon. Preliminary hearing was set for 3 p.m. April 6.

The suspects allegedly jimmied a front door Monday, then entered to steal two cameras. Sheriff's officers arrested them after a surveyor reported watching suspicious activities at the house.

Sportsmen Unhappy—Museum Gets Cash

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin County supervisors yesterday had a lesson in fish biology, an argument with the Marin Municipal Water District, a split vote among themselves, and a threat from the Marin Rod and Gun Club, all within the space of an hour and a half.

Action was a 3-2 vote, with Supervisors Thomas T. Storer and William A. Gnoss dissenting, to divert $15,609 in several years' accumulation of fish and game fines from control of the Marin Rod and Gun Club to an allocation to the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum.

The museum will receive $10,000 each year. The state fines allocated to Marin come to about $2,500 each year, so tax dollars will have to make up the difference as soon as the large fund is used up.

After the vote, Leonard Tibbett, past president of the rod and gun club, declared the members would protest. Supervisor Peter H. Behr answered, "I could care less."

Several months ago, the board of supervisors, curious about use of the fine money, asked the rod and gun club to present a detailed program for the funds.

Presented last week was a list of expenditures including $5,440 for a pump and lines to aerate Marin Municipal Water District reservoirs, $2,359 for a flashboard to make the flow from Alpine Lake more stable, $2,000 for a study of silting in Bolinas Lagoon, $2,000 for rehabilitating Lagunitas Creek, and $2,000 for cleaning various springs used by wildlife. Also presented was a recommendation from County Administrator Alan Bruce that the fine funds be diverted to the museum.

Supervisor John F. McInnis declared yesterday that the aerator should be a responsibility of the water district. He suggested the cost be supported by additional money for district fishing permits, now $3 each.

District Mgr. William R. Seeger protested, saying the permit cost would have to be raised considerably to purchase and operate the aerator, and that the aerator itself was experimental, not something district directors could consider.

Earl Gibbs, biologist with the State Department of Fish and Game, explained how the aerator, pumping surface water to the bottom of reservoirs, helps lower water temperature and increase oxygen, making it possible to keep planting trout into the summer.

At one point Supervisor Gnoss and Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen were both firing questions at Seeger, who protested that he could only answer if he had two mouths. Chairman Thomas T. Storer once threatened to recess the session if conversation were not directed through him.

Supervisors finally agreed that they would vote matching funds for any organization wanting to put up money for an aerator.

Muir Beach Youth Party Results In Citizen Arrest

A McClures Beach party by about 20 East Bay youths Sunday resulted in a bicyclist being squirted with a fire extinguisher, and one of the youths being arrested for disturbing the peace, sheriff's officers disclosed today.

Deputies said Joseph Vogensen of 1120 Olive Street, Novato, made a citizen's arrest of Steven James Ellis, 19, of Albany, after the youth annoyed him and his wife at the beach.

He was booked at county jail, then released on $56 bail pending arraignment in Northwestern Judicial District Court today.

John Labruce King, 22-year-old Berkeley bicycle shop owner, told officers he and three companions were riding bikes near the beach when a carload of youths drove by and squirted him.

King lost control of his bicycle, but was uninjured. Deputies summoned to the scene said they located the car, talked to the Richmond driver, and confiscated the fire extinguisher.

A second fire extinguisher, found in another car, also was confiscated.

Baptists Given Unfamiliar Hymn

LIBERTY, Ky. (AP) — Members of Liberty Baptist Church sat in stunned silence when Johnnie Beard began leading their song service.

It seems the Methodists were hooked up for a broadcast over the local radio station, and the speaker system in the Baptist church was plugged in to receive.

A few plugs were pulled and thing swere back to normal.

True Or Not, Lady Godiva Event Is Set

COVENTRY, England (UPI) —When a good story has lasted 900 years, does it matter whether it's truth or legend?

Historian Adrian Dobinson thinks it does and says he is convinced Lady Godiva never rode nude on a horse through the streets of Coventry.

Coventry authorities insist Dobinson is talking humbug and are going right ahead on an elaborate summer celebration of the 900th anniversary of the lady's death.

Legend has it that the beautiful Godiva rode naked through the streets to protest taxes imposed by her husband, Leofric.

"The story has persisted 900 years," said Coventry councilman Harry Weston. "And there's no smoke without fire."

Bigger Local Role In Treating Mentally Ill

We hope that the drastic cut of several thousand employees from the state department of mental hygiene does not presage a decline in services to the mentally ailing.

Rather, we hope that the population drop in state mental hospitals merely reflects a new trend in mental health care — away from the old method of isolation in distant mental hospitals and toward community-oriented treatment.

The new emphasis on the care of patients in familiar local surroundings as opposed to the clinically efficient but cold and impersonal state institutions started long before the new Administration came into office in Sacramento.

This new approach is no doubt partially responsible for the fact that the patient population in state institutions has been on the decline during the past two or three years.

The cutback in personnel (and expenses) in the state department of mental hygiene must be accompanied by a proportionate increase in activity on the local level such as at the new Marin Mental Health Center planned at Marin General Hospital.

The beauty of this new trend, at least in theory, is that stepped up activity on the local level need not be accompanied by a proportionate rise in expenses.

The "savings," which are difficult to measure in dollars and cents, would come from increased participation of local volunteers to take over some of the non-professional duties which require little or no technical training.

Moreover, the new concept of community health care where rehabilitation can be aided by familiar surroundings and the friendly faces of relatives, friends and neighbors would, hopefully, hasten the recovery of the mentally disturbed.

The new concept whereby the community accepts responsibility to come to the aid of a citizen in trouble provides more opportunity for the private sector to participate and work with public agencies in meeting social problems.

If some of the savings made by personnel cutbacks on the statewide level can be used to encouraged more self-help by each community, both the citizens in need and the taxpayers in general would stand to benefit.

A big cutback on the state level, with no compensating effort to increase mental health care locally, would be a cause for alarm.

ACCOMMODATE YOURSELF TO OTHERS

A newswriter compiled the following list of excuses offered by drivers involved in auto collisions:

One driver didn't see the other coming.

One driver figured he could beat the other across.

One driver depended on his horn.

One driver thought he could "beat the light."

One driver tried to out-bluff the other.

One driver thought the other would obey a stop sign.

Both drivers decided to fight for the right of way.

The newsman concluded that all the drivers assumed that "the other person" was alert, courteous, law-abiding and driving a car in A-1 shape.

Even when others are in the wrong, lack of precaution on our part usually results in damage to all concerned. Ask the Lord for the wisdom to make allowances for the failings of others so that needless harm can be avoided.

Reagan Reviews His Creative Society In Economic Message

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — In his economic message to the state legislature, Gov. Ronald Reagan revives interest in the "Creative Society," a phrase used during the campaign last year as descriptive of some of the things the administration hopes to accomplish.

The governor says with relation to the subject:

"I have proposed the Creative Society as a constructive alternative to the Great Society in which federal government plays an increasingly dominant role.

"THE TREND toward greater centralization in government has been going on for a long time, at the federal as well as the state level.

"The time has come to reverse that trend, because too much centralization saps the vitality and political responsibility of the people, qualities which are indispensable in making our state and our nation great.

"We favor decentralization of authority and administration, so that governments at the local level have greater opportunities to provide for local needs.

"IN THE CREATIVE Society, the role of the state is to define broad objectives, not to form blueprints which localities must adopt in detail.

"The state should perform those functions for which it is unquestionably best suited as a governmental unit, but it should not interfere with activities that can best be done by local government or private enterprise."

The message said the administration does not believe that prosperity results from huge government outlays, but, on the contrary, alluring shortcuts to prosperity via government spending all too often have brought disaster.

"This administration," he said, "will curtail those governmental activities that could be handled as well or better by private enterprise. It will restrict public expenditures, realizing that high taxes constitute burden on individuals and business organization, and it will take imaginative steps to bring about the best possible climate for business growth."

IN ACHIEVING THE Creative Society, which Reagan said is a task that cannot be accomplished in a few months or even a few years, the administration will work to improve the business climate, to promote employment and the finding of jobs for those on the welfare rolls, will support legislation giving agriculture an adequate labor supply, develop natural resources, support programs for exploration and development of ocean resources, and open up new fields of knowledge in various activities.

The governor restated two basic principles of the administration, which he said formed the cornerstone of his political and economic philosophy. He said:

"FOREMOST AMONG these is the belief that lasting prosperity for the state and nation depends far more on what individuals can do for themselves than on what the state does or can do for them. Second, our future political stability and economic growth will depend largely on our ability to preserve an environment that rewards individual initiative and encourages enterprise, innovation and investment by the private sector."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Poor Taste In Divorces Stories

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I do think it is in very poor taste for you to publish the names of the innocent children involved in a divorce case! They must suffer enough without seeing their family's divorce publicized in the I-J for all their friends, neighbors, etc., to gape at for no good reason. It shows the heartlessness of your newspaper, don't you think?

Also, can you give me a good reason why you must publish the address of women requesting a divorce? In an article dated March 15, you state "The family home is at . . ." Can you think of a better way to inform some would-be prowler or sex deviate of a home where he might find some husbandless woman living than that bit of private information you published?

Certainly it seems to me that some reporters on your staff are just trying to fill up space on the page instead of trying to print news of intelligent interest. They certainly are not showing respect and a need for privacy for the public they should be working for: Not everything should be public information!

Hope you take time to consider how heartless and unnecessary such publication is.

Educational Park Scrutiny

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The threat by the school boards of southern Marin to tear down our schools and assemble them into what is grandly called an "educational park" calls for very close scrutiny.

"Educational park" really means a mass production educational plant — a conformist mill — where our children would be as far removed from their parents as possible. The progressive educators have openly declared parents to be a nuisance, and the "educational park" is their way of coping with it.

Will dormitories be next in their rush to 1984? — With weekly visiting privileges for parents who conform?

Why make commuters out of our kids before they are old enough to go to work?

Council Pay Deserves Study

Editor, Independent-Journal:

After observing our city council in action for several months after the election, I find the one man I did not vote for was working for my best interests as a taxpayer more than all of the rest!

This man, Mr. Souza, is not always right, but I am of the opinion that he is fighting alone for many good causes!

The rest of our councilmen are all too often in accord against Mr. Souza simply, it seems to me, because they do not care to be identified with Mr. Souza's plans, regardless of whether these plans are in the taxpayers' best interests or not.

Perhaps a secret ballot, rather than a show of hands in decisions made at council meetings, would bring about a change? . . .

Some months ago, a suggestion was made that our city engineer also take over the duties of a city administrator. This many of us thought a good idea, providing our engineer was capable of handling both jobs. . . .

I don't understand all of the circumstances, but our engineer "farmed out" $8,000 worth of work last year. Why not farm out all of it? $8,000 is more than half of our engineer's salary! Now our administrator may have had a hand in this — I can't say, but if not, it is only $8,000 less than he has cost us! So far the administrator's salary — the salary of a secretary, plus a new car and other expenses run well over $25,000 a year. Now according to last night's paper he wants to hire extra help for the summer months for another $800 or more!

Was our administrator hired to save money for the taxpayer, or just to find more ways to spend it? . . .

I feel that with a good paid council, we can do without an engineer and an administrator!

Some Questions For LBJ, Cabinet

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Serious questions are being raised about the conduct of the Vietnam war. If given the opportunity, I would like to ask the President and his cabinet the following questions:

When are we going to win this war in Vietnam — and why not?

Why fight 'em in Vietnam and help 'em everywhere else?

Why engage in so many truces, which experience has shown always help the Communists?

Is this war being run by the United Nations, directly or through its subsidiary SEATO organization, or isn't it?

Why do we not let Chiang Kai-shek's half a million trained troops come in and help us?

Where is there any real difference between this mess and the one we went through in Korea?

Does anybody think the Communist influences in Washington today are any less powerful than when they were determining our actions in Korea?

Since we are in a de facto war, anyway, why do we allow so many incredible handicaps to be imposed on our men who are trying to fight it?

If we really mean to opose Communist aggression, then why pick Vietnam, and Vietnam alone, as the place to do it?

Why do we fight the tentacles of Communism, instead of its body?

If we must fight tentacles only, then why do so where we are at the greatest possible disadvantage and the greatest possible distance from ourselves?

Even more particularly, why not run the beasts out of Cuba first, instead of out of Vietnam?

Is the real purpose of our fighting in Vietnam simply to be at war? For the power and spending and political advantage which being at war gives the Administration?

After they answer these, I'm sure I'd have a lot more questions.

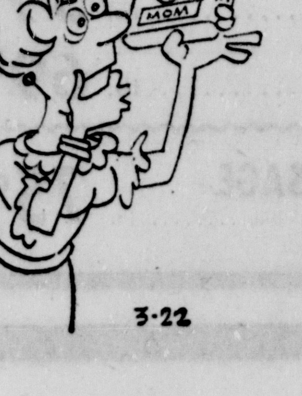
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

CASKIE STINNETT tells about a little eight-year-old boy who received for his birthday one of those labeling machines which extrudes a metallic, printed slip. He told his mother that he always had been afraid she'd lose the camera before which he loved to pose, and offered to print her an identification label by which it could be identified by any finder. Mom cheerfully produced the camera, and he carried it off to his room along with his new labeling machine. He returned the camera in due course, and sure enough, a label had been pasted firmly on the top. It read, "Mom's."



AFTER WEST Coast pundit Neil Morgan had interviewed the well-endowed Miss Jane Mansfield, he was asked if he didn't agree that she had a lot more upstairs then she generally was given credit for. "I definitely do," enthused Neil, "and what a stairway!"

A STRIP-TEASER was hauled into a Minneapolis court by a zealous cop who averred that she had given an indecent performance. "Were you covered by anything at all during this performance?" demanded the D.A. "I certainly was," shrilled the indignant stripper. "What, specifically?" pursued the D.A. Triumphantly, the stripper replied, 'By workmen's compensation.'

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Thruston Morton's Activities Resembling Arthur Vandenberg

WASHINGTON — An inner struggle involving the whole range of the nation's foreign policy is going on inside the Republican party in Congress, particularly in the Senate.

The outcome will determine whether the GOP will seek the Presidency next year as a party which aims to reduce the cold war or which suggests that it is neither safe nor worthwhile to try.

It is the kind of vital policy struggle which the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan helped the Republicans resolve following World War II when he did so much to rescue his party from its past isolationism in world affairs.

IT SEEMS TO ME that a new Vandenberg is rising and that the man who is starting to perform in the second half of the 'sixties something of what Vandenberg performed in the second half of the 'forties is Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky who is beginning to exert a significant influence on emerging GOP foreign policy.

Sen. Vandenberg insured bipartisan support for positive U.S. leadership in the postwar world and for fighting the cold war constructively.

Senator Morton's leadership is being directed to the new decisions which must be taken under changed conditions twenty years later — to insure bi-partisan support for dissolving the causes of the cold war as far as possible.

SENATOR MORTON is already making important headway.

He turned the tide, which was running heavily against the U.S.-Soviet consular treaty, in favor of its ratification. His initiative galvanized President Johnson's more active support and helped persuade Sen. Everett Dirksen and General Eisenhower to help.

He is helping Senators Jacob Javits, Hugh Scott, and others to save the U.S. from being pushed by the Democratic Senate leadership into a precipitate, unilateral slash of U.S. troops assigned to NATO.

And there are other areas in which he sees it as crucial for the Republican party to shape a policy which fits the fresh opportunities in Western Europe, in Eastern Europe, and inside the Soviet Union.

THESE INCLUDE expansion of East-West trade, a ban on the spread of nuclear weapons, ratification of the treaty to keep military weapons from outer space, and a real effort to reach an agreement with Moscow to make it unnecessary for either country to go into massive production of anti-ballistic missiles.

Within the ranks of the Republican party in Congress there is substantial opposition to all of these measures and there is no certainty that Morton and other like-minded Republicans will prevail.

But Morton is convinced:

That the Republican party must show itself responsive to new initiatives in foreign policy if it is to regain national office in the near future.

THAT THIS YEAR and next the Senate will provide the forum for shaping the 1968 GOP national platform in this whole area and that the young, new, articulate Republican Senators can be particularly helpful.

It is clear, I think, that Morton's goal is to help make a record which will make the nomination of a Republican moderate inescapable.

Morton believes it is an attainable goal. He has good credentials. He has the confidence of the conservatives and the goodwill of the moderates. He has first-hand experience as an Assistant Secretary of State in the Eisenhower administration and wide political contact as former chairman of the Republican National Committee. He is on good terms with Dirksen who knows that Morton is not seeking to undercut him as leader. And Morton is not after anything for himself.

Powell's Case Holds Civil Rights

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Adam Clayton Powell's raucous battle against exclusion from Congress is casting a heavy cloud over the prospects for new civil rights legislation this year.

In girding themselves for a historical constitutional test in the Powell case, House Democratic leaders have decided to delay all floor action on the civil rights issue until a settlement is reached in the Powell fracas.

This unannounced strategy, which virtually rules out passage of civil rights legislation this session, was relayed to President Johnson just before he departed for the Guam conference on Vietnam.

THE PRESIDENT WAS told by the lawmakers that in their opinion civil rights legislation would run into stiff opposition in the House because of the growing racial tension generated by the Powell fight.

While not ruling out holding hearings later this year on the President's civil rights proposals, the House leaders stressed that this should be put off as long as possible to avoid giving backers of Powell a congressional forum.

When Senate Democratic leaders pointed out they were moving first with the administration's anti-crime legislation, the President replied he agreed with that priority.

IN CONCLUSION, it was agreed that action on the President's civil rights bills in both the Senate and House would be delayed until later in the session.

At one point in the White House civil rights talks, a House leader remarked that if the Supreme Court should claim jurisdiction and order Powell seated, the executive branch would be called on to enforce the ruling.

"Should that come to pass," mused the President, "Powell, Chief Justice Warren and Attorney General Clark would all be lined up against you."

"YOU ARE WRONG," replied the House leader, John McCormack. "It would be the Supreme Court and the executive branch against Congress and the people. If you don't believe me, I'll send you some of my mail to read."

While these comments were said in jest, Powell's attorneys believe their legal strategy could produce such a confrontation.

When Powell brought suit here asking the federal district court to reverse the House's action, he became the first to take the issue to court.

In talks with negro leaders who have journeyed to Bimini, Powell usually cites this and adds:

"BEFORE THIS IS all over, my lawyers tell me Congress will either seat me voluntarily or it will be done with U.S. marshals or federal troops. Mine is another Julian Bond case, but it is much bigger."

Last December the Supreme Court unanimously ruled that the Georgia legislature had acted unconstitutionally in refusing to seat negro pacifist Julian Bond.

Powell's lawyers are preparing a brief pointing out that Chief Justice Warren in a footnote observed that the federal constitution withheld from Congress the "improper and dangerous power" to fix its own members' qualifications. Unless these are specified by the Constitution, Congress "can by decree subvert the Constitution," Warren said, quoting President James Madison.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By M. ELIZABETH JOHNSTON

A Seagull Joins In For Lunch; It's A New Gold Police Car

One use of Tiburon's central waterfront, while it is still undeveloped, is as a lunch-spot for people who work in Tiburon.

You can often see truck drivers, salesmen and secretaries munching their sandwiches and enjoying the view from their cars.

It's a beautiful spot on a weekday when the absence of tourists leaves plenty of parking space, whether there's sun, fog or rain.

I had lunch with a seagull there last week. As I sat in my car and shared bits of an apple with him.

It hailed and then rained again. The seagull was absolutely impervious to the storm. He seemed much more interested in the apple.

TWO THINGS are different about Tiburon's new police car.

It is probably the only police car in Marin that is golden brown with white doors and top. Also it differs in name from its predecessor, because the latter had the county sheriff's emblem on the left-hand door. The new one has a straight black-lettered line, Tiburon Police Department.

Letters on the trunk are in a harmonizing beige shade.

City Manager Larry Rose says the correct name of the color is gold, but it looks a golden-brown to me.

Most cities in the county have black and white police cars, as does the highway patrol. Novato policemen drive in gunmetal gray and white cars. The sheriff's cars are green. San Rafael has dark blue and white cars. Belvedere has an all-white police car. Some other cities have at least one white patrol car, equipped with radar.

IT TOOK MORE than a week to have special police-car equipment installed before the Tiburon vehicle could be put into regular use.

There is something about driving a brand new car, I recalled, as deputy Richard Borba drove the gold car into Tiburon one day last week. He stopped briefly at the firehouse to let the firemen admire it. They liked, they said, except it wasn't red.

Tiburon's public works truck was the first vehicle to be painted Tiburon's colors.

Tiburon's finest can now say they drive a gold car.

IN READING a copy of the resolution by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission to establish rules of procedure, I see that the notice of regular and special meetings has been delegated to City Manager Rose.

Also pinned down in the resolution is a provision that the minutes clerk be provided for the commission's regular meetings and for special meetings when requested by chairman Irving Moulin.

Secretary Louis Brunini will act as liaison between the city manager and the commission but need not always stay for the entire meeting, if business does not require it, according to the resolution.

ONE REASON for the latter provision is Brunini's major activity for the city as superintendent of public works, which often runs into long hours during the day, according to a comment made by chairman Moulin.

These three orderly rules should prevent the possibility of any "uncertain" meetings popping up in the future.

CHILDREN OFTEN surprise us with their perception and execution in creative works. Here is a poem by Carlita Horst, a Delta student at Granada School, Corte Madera. It leaped out at me from a school publication:

QUIET

Quiet is a lovely thing,
But boys have never liked it;
I guess they do not like it;
Because they cannot strike it;
Or because they cannot beat it,
Or because they cannot eat it;
Or because they cannot see it,
But probably because they must be it.

The Conference Carries Much Weight In Official Washington

WASHINGTON — The longer I live in Washington, the more impressed I am with how smoothly the government runs.

The other day I was in a government office waiting to take a friend to lunch. He had just come out of a meeting and seemed pleased with how well it had gone.

"What was the meeting about?" I asked.

"I'M NOT SURE what you mean," he said.

"Why did you have the meeting?"

"What a stupid question. What do you think we do in the government, just sit around and twiddle our thumbs?"

"I didn't mean that. What subject did you discuss at the meeting?"

"We discussed whether we should hold a conference or not."

"You had a meeting to discuss holding a conference?"

"OF COURSE. And the consensus was that we should hold off on the conference until we meet again."

"Which, of course, will mean another meeting?"

"Now you've got it," he said. "I don't mind telling you I was pretty scared, because Agnew had called a meeting for 10 o'clock and Evans had called another meeting for 10:30. Evqns had no right to call the meeting without checking with Agnew, and when Agnew heard about it he got pretty damned mad. So Evans moved up his meeting until 11:30."

"Did anything happen at Agnew's meeting?"

"We discussed in general the groundwork for Evans' meeting."

"THEN BY THE TIME you met with Evans you knew exactly what you were going to talk about?"

"We never got around to it because Wallaby, who had to make the major decision, was called to a meeting the secretary was holding at the same time. Zimmerman was furious because he felt that he should have been invited to the secretary's meeting, too, and he suspected Evans had called his meeting so Zimmerman wouldn't know about the other meeting."

"How did he find out about it?"

"COATES TOLD HIM, rather maliciously I thought. He expressed surprise that Zimmerman was sitting with us when Wallaby was across the street.

"Zimmerman said that he had met with the secretary earlier and the secretary's meeting was just to confirm what they had gone over earlier. But Thurston told me later that the secretary's secretary had told him not to mention the Wallaby meeting to Zimmerman."

"Did you ever find out what Wallaby's meeting with the secretary was about?"

"Coates said it had to do with a meeting the secretary is having in Washington next month. There was a conflict because several of the people the secretary wanted had scheduled a conference, and the secretary maintains there is no sense having the conference until they meet with him."

"YOU PEOPLE in government meet a lot, don't you?" I said.

"We have to."

"Why?"

"Because if someone calls up my secretary and asks for me, it looks so much better if she says I'm in a meeting. How would you feel if when you rang me up you found me in my office?"

"I'd feel you were stealing the taxpayers' money."

"EXACTLY. Now let's go have lunch. I have to be back at 2 o'clock for a you-know-what."

Fireman Recites Bonfire Rules

With the ban on open burnings due in about two months, the Novato Fire Department has urged residents of North Marin to do their burning now.

Prunings, dead vegetation and other debris collected during the winter may be burned now without much danger, said Capt. R. W. Beyer, fire prevention officer.

Beyer urged people to keep fires small, to burn early in the day to avoid the wind which usually arises in the afternoon, to burn on their own property, and not to leave fires unattended.

U.S. Infantrymen Kill 900 Of Red Charge

Record For One Day Of Action

SAIGON (UPI)—Troops of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division outnumbered five to one lowered their artillery to point blank range and hurled back repeated charges by 2,500 Communist troops in one of the more dramatic victories of the war, a spokesman said today.

They killed an estimated 900 enemy troops in the epic battle that raged for five hours yesterday near the Cambodian border, 606 of them by actual count of bodies left on the battlefield.

"That stands as a record for an American unit in a single day's action," a military spokesman said tonight.

HIGH PRAISE

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, visited the battle scene 70 miles northwest of Saigon and said he was convinced the body count would soar still further. He estimated 200 to 300 Reds had been dragged off by their comrades to be "buried in graves we'll probably never see."

Westmoreland spoke to the troops to congratulate them on a fight which will give the Communists their highest weekly death toll of the Vietnam war. The battle was fought with such courage and skill Westmoreland awarded Silver Stars for gallantry to the two troop commanders who had 426 GI's between them against the force of five battalions.

CLOSE COMBAT

One commander said the battle swirled in so close at times his men—"my cooks and bottlewashers"—had to defend their artillery pieces with their rifles.

It blunted the first big Communist offensive of the year and it gave the Communists what a military spokesman called their most clostly week of the war. Westmoreland said the Communists timed the offensive to coincide with President Johnson's Guam conference and failed on all counts.

On Monday troops of the 9th Infantry Division stood off an all-night assault on the fringe of War Zone C and killed 288 to run the enemy death toll in the one-time Communist stronghold above the 1,000 mark. A string of minor allied victories throughout Vietnam were expected to run the toll of enemy dead to more than 2,000 — higher than the bloody battle of the Ia Drang Valley in November, 1965.

U.S. LOSSES

American losses in the Cambodian border battle were put at 31 dead and 109 wounded. Two more Americans were killed in the accidental bombing of an American position by an F-100 Sabrejet and two died when their 01E Birddog spotter plane was shot down.

An Air Force spokesman said American F-100 Supersabres and B-57 Canberra bombers flew

Marincello's Foes Lack Signatures

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Wilson Superior Court late yesterday indicated he will rule there are insufficient correct signatures on a Marincello access road referendum petition to make it legal.

The decision would uphold the judgment of the county clerk's office that too many of the signatures failed to meet legal petition requirements. It would kill the effort of the Golden Gate Headlands Committee to force a referendum on the road, first development in Marincello approved by the county board of supervisors.

The petition, demanding that the supervisors either negate the ordinance granting the road access or call a referendum, fell 316 short of the number of legal signatures required, the county contended.

Judge Wilson emphasized that he will make no final ruling until after attorneys for Golden Gate Headlands Committee submit additional arguments in 10 days. He said he found "quite a few" of the disqualified signatures considered during lengthy hearings were actually legal.

In the cases of about 94 challenged signatures, however, he said, "I took the position that I could not interfere with the clerk's determination. This would be a significant number to prevent the petition from being legal."

If Judge Wilson had found sufficient legal signatures to qualify the petition, the petitioners still would have had two major hurdles to overcome. Opponents of the petition, Frouge Corp., would then have been permitted to challenge legality of petitions. Also, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney contends the ordinance was enacted by the board of supervisors as an administrative action, rather than as a legislative action, and is not subject to referendum.

Bolinas-Stinson Vote Defeats School Bonds

Voters in Bolinas-Stinson School District yesterday defeated a $275,000 bond measure porposed to finance district building needs for 10 years.

The measure drew 154 "yes" to 131 "no" votes — a favorable vote of 54 per cent. 4 66 ⅔ per cent favorable vote is required for bond issue passage.

The 285-vote turnout represented 57.2 per cent of eligible voters in the district, according to school district officials.

The measure narrowly missed two-thirds approval in Stinson Beach but mustered only a one-vote majority in Bolinas. Vote at the Stinson Beach school was 69 "yes," 47 "no." At Bolinas School it was 85 "yes," 84 "no."

Funds from the bond issue would have been spent in Bolinas — for purchase of an additional four acres there, addition of six classrooms, and repair of the present school building.

Trustees will assess effect of the election on the proposed building program today at 8 p.m. in Stinson Beach School.

"Gloom will reign," said Board Chairman Alyce Thompson, "but we'll see what else we can do now."

Thais Agree To U.S. Use Of Air Base

BANGKOK, Thailand, (AP) — The government announced today it has decided to allow "partial use" of military installations at Utapao Air Base in southern Thailand by U.S. forces in order to help bring the war in Vietnam to a quick end.

The announcement added this was done at a request of the U.S. government.

The announcement, however, did not say what type of aircraft would be allowed to use installations at Utapao which has an 11,-500-foot airstrip.

A Thai official said earlier that the Thai Cabinet had agreed to permit U.S. Air Force B-52 bombers to use Utapao at Sattahip to fly missions against Communist targets in Vietnam.

The announcement said the Thai government "believes that this measure, by subtsantially increasing the striking potential of the air arms and by avoiding early detection by the Communist side, will have the effect of bringing the war to a speedier ending thereby enabling peace to be restored within the shortest possible time."

It was not known when the B-52s will begin using the Utapao airbase.

The official who disclosed the B-52 involvement said precautionary measures were being taken to prevent any retaliatory steps by the Communists against Thailand. The official declined to elaborate on this aspect.

VIENNA (AP) — Richard M. Nixon had a two-hour talk today with Romanian Communist Party Chief Nicolae Ceausescu.

Mental Health Center Bids All Higher Than Estimates

Christensen and Foster of Santa Rosa was lowest of seven bidders yesterday at $1,325,000 to build the community mental health center on Marin General Hospital grounds.

The bid was considerably above estimates, and County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell told county supervisors that $138,945 besides the $100,000 already agreed upon will have to be raised by property taxes if the mental health center is to be built, equipped, furnished and landscaped as proposed.

As planned originally, the federal and state governments would each put up a third of the cost, while the county, hospital district and private donors would contribute the remaining one-third. Original estimates put a third at $450,000. The hospital district put up something more than its $150,000 share and county supervisors promised to raise up to $250,000.

However, this would still leave considerable shortage on the basis of the construction bids received yesterday, which do not include equipment, furnishings and landscaping.

Supervisors referred all bids to the county public works department for review.

Mitchell said today that $20,000 might be taken from the total cost by deferring landscaping.

Other bidders yesterday were: Olsen-Baum Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, $1,339,139; Martinelli Construction Co. of San Francisco, $1,349,000; Rapp Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, $1,364,000; Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, $1,368,000; Arntz Construction Co. of San Francisco, $1,419,763, and Cortelyou and Cole, Inc., of Mountain View, $1,413,000.

It was the second time the project had been bid. Several months ago, Pacific Coast Builders was the only bidder at $1,490,000. This was at a time when builders were uncertain of the cost of county demands on guarantee of minority hiring and pre-award conferences on minority hire and training programs in the project. Since then, the federal government has made its own requirements on these matters more specific.

Italian Parachutist Bares Alleged Soviet Spy Ring

TURIN, Italy (UPI)—An Italian parachutist arrested on espionage charges today gave a magistrate's court the names of 300 NATO officers allegedly involved in the biggest Soviet spy ring in the West, counter intelligence sources said.

Some of the officers involved were said to be Americans. In many cases parachutist Giorgio Rinaldi was able to give investigators only "cover" aliases of the officers, the sources said.

At least two Soviet Embassy officials were believed implicated in the plot and informed sources said they would be expelled by the Italian government.

One Soviet Embassy employe flew to Moscow today, apparently expelled in connection with the Mediterranean-wide spy ring.

The sources did not indicate how many of the officers were alleged to be already on the Soviet payroll and how many had simply been contacted with a view to enlisting them in the spy ring.

"It definitely looks like the biggest Soviet spy ring ever uncovered in the West," one counter-intelligence source said. He said the ring was known to have operated throughout the Mediterranean and in parts of Europe and Africa.

Rinaldi, 39, his 52-year-old wife Angela Maria and their chauffeur Armando Girard, 40, were picked up by Italian Secret Service men one week ago, but their detention was announced only yesterday.

Soviet Embassy attache Yuri Pavlenko and his wife Natalia, identified by Turin sources as two of Rinaldi's contacts, left Rome by plane for Moscow today, apparently expelled by the Italian government.

Other Soviet officials mentioned by the sources as past contacts of Rinaldi were Dr. Alexei Solovov, an embassy employe ousted from Italy in 1958 for his alleged spying activities,

Soviets Keeping Space Pads Busy

MOSCOW (AP) — Adding to an unusual burst of space activity, the Soviet Union launched today its seventh unmanned earth satellite of this month and 11th in the last two months.

Numerous Soviet satellite launchings in a short period have sometimes in the past preceded manned space launchings. There was no other indication now, however, that a manned launching was coming up soon.

It has been more than two years since the Soviet Union put men into space.

The announcement of the launching of Cosmos 150 followed the same uninformative pattern as those on other launchings in the Cosmos series, which is officially described as being for scientific research.

Brown Selects His Artist For Portrait

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Former Gov. Edmund G. Brown has selected a New York artist to paint his portrait for display in the state Capitol.

Charles J. Fox was named today as the official artist. Fox has painted portraits of the late President John F. Kennedy and other nationaland state leaders.

West Marin Annexed To Water Area

A total of 9,300 acres in the Olema, Point Reyes Station and Inverness areas was annexed last night to the North Marin County Water District.

The district board also adopted a resolution stating as its policy that non-contiguous areas annexed should pay for their own facilities.

It then instructed the district staff to prepare a report on the present systems in the area, the possible water supplies and distribution systems, and the possible formation of an assessment district.

SUPPORT IN AREA

County supervisor Thomas T. Storer told the board it had the support of the majority of the people in the area.

"I want to express the gratitude of the people of West Marin and I can see the beginning to the end of our water trouble in the area," he declared after the annexation was voted.

W. H. Lieb of 1521 Hill Road, Novato, was the only person present who objected to the annexation. He called for an election by the people in the area and wanted assurance that the West Marin residents would pay for their own expenses to the district.

THREE PARCELS

Waldo Giacomini of Point Reyes Station had written asking that three parcels of his land, totaling 977 acres with an assessed valuation of $43,700, be left out of the annexation.

Storer pointed out, however, that Giacomini had attended a public hearing on the annexation but had not asked that his land be omited at the time.

Director William Jonas said that at first he had opposed the annexation, but had changed his mind when he realized the West Marin residents wanted it.

"We have a public duty to the people out there who need water studies and a water system," Jonas said.

Cahill Opposes Hippie Campout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police Chief Thomas Cahill warned the city's hippie and psychedelic crowd today that Golden Gate Park will not be a round-the-clock pad for them.

Cahill's stand came after a clergy - sponsored resolution to the Recreation and Park Commission asked that hippies be allowed to sleep in the park in anticipation of an influx of an estimated 100,000 to San Francisco this summer.

"Any encouragement through the mass media tending to attract still more undesirables to the problem areas of San Francisco is a disservice to the community," Cahill said.

Delay Is Forecast For Paint-Up Plan

Plans for Mill Valley's paint-up, clean-up project, scheduled April 22-23, will not be ready for at least three months, consultant for the project last night told the architectural advisory committee.

Connie Field, Woodside color consultant, said the April date was "out of the question." The project recently was cut back from 80 to 40 buildings.

Call Gets Second Life Sentence

OAKLAND (UPI) — Painting contractor Norman Call, 46, Sacramento, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for his part in the shotgun slaying of Painters Union official Lloyd Green of Hayward.

Superior Judge William J. McGuiness pronounced sentence for Call who pleaded guilty earlier this month and threw himself on the mercy of the court.

The jurist ruled that Call's sentence run concurrently with the life term he received in the slaying of union leader Dow Wilson of San Francisco.

High Speed Flight

General Takes Over Sierra Leone

FREETOWN, Sierra Leone (AP)—The commander of Sierra Leone's army announced last night he has taken control of the government of the little West African country, apparently to nullify the results of the general election last Saturday which may have unseated Prime Minister Sir Albert Margai.

Lansana

Brig. David Lansana announced the coup amid report that Gov. Gen. Sir Henry J. Lightfoot-Boston and opposition leader Saika P. Stevens were under house arrest.

Margai campaigned on a pledge to make the former British crown colony a republic which could remain in the British Commonwealth or pull out if it wished.

Sierra Leon is located between Guinea and Liberia.

Singer Weds

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Mia Kim, youngest of the three singing Kim Sisters, was married here yesterday to musician Tommy Vig. The Jewish ceremony, performed by Rabbi Aaron Gold, was followed by a reception at the Desert Inn Country Club. Vig, 27, a jazz composer, was born in Hungary.

Hurt In Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Elliott Roosevelt has suffered slight injuries during a fire in a Park Avenue office building. The wife of the mayor of Miami Beach, Fla., was one of six persons injured during yesterday's blaze which began in a hallway trash fire.

McQueen's Prints

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Steve McQueen is the 153rd actor to place his footprints and handprints in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese Theater. McQueen went through the traditional ceremony in wet cement yesterday.

Lutheran Will Marry Catholics

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A Lutheran minister will officiate at the marriage of a Roman Catholic priest and a former nun Saturday, according to the priest, Rev. Edmund Kurth.

Father Kurth, 35, a member of the Pallotine Fathers and a Chicago public school teacher, disclosed his plans after it was learned he had taken out a marriage license.

The bride will be Shirley Weis, 34, who declined to tell what order she had belonged to, or when she left it.

Father Kurth said he and Miss Weis had met while both were teaching school, and were both active in the same organizations.

Rev. Leroy Andersen, pastor of Galilee Lutheran Church at nearby Pewaukee, will perform the ceremony.

10 Great Wines? None American

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, who left U.S. wines off a select list he made, has some spicy comment to mull over today from two irate wine country congressmen.

The ambassador is David Bruce, who has the reputation of being one of the world's great connoisseurs of fine wines. Bruce selected the "ten greatest wines"—all French or German vintages.

It wa sobvious, snapped Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., that Bruce never sampled California wines or he never would have left them off his list.

The wines on Bruce's list sell for from $7 to $20, which drew a suggestion from Edwards that the ambassador "is being robbed." Edwards said he is sending Bruce four bottles of Livermore Valley and Santa Clara County wines that range from $1.50 to $1.90 a bottle.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., sent the State Department a telegram asking whether Bruce's list, which appeared in the Foreign Service Journal, represents "a case of the State Department not practicing what it pretends to preach?"

Stratton wrote that a State Department directive to U.S. embassies last year said foreign officers should serve American wines to their guests.

Dangerous Wood Pest Hits U.S.

WASHINGTON (SS)—The Oriental wood borer, a serious pest in the Far East, had been discovered living in Florida.

Specimens collected in oak and mahogany board in Fort Lauderdale have proved to be Heterobostrychus aequalis. They have often been intercepted in quarantine in packing boxes from that area, but never before established in this country.

In the Orient, the borer attacks some 35 different species of trees. Adults bore through one to two inches of wood, reducing it to powder. They have even been known to make holes in the lead lining of boxes.

Controversial Text Must Be Used In Schools

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch has said the controversial eighth-grade textbook "Land of the Free" must be used in California junior high schools.

A legal opinion had been requested by Los Angeles attorney Harold Kennedy as to whether school districts could refuse to use the state-approved book.

Lynch said yesterday the law requires uniform use of texts adopted by the State Board of Education and that junior high schools are not exempt from the requirement.

"Land of the Free" had been rejected by the Arcadia Board of Education and several other school districts because it allegedly gave a distorted view of the roles of minority groups in U. S. history.

Surviving Quints Are Reported Good

VASTERAS, Sweden (UPI) — Two surviving quintuplets born yesterday were reported in "satisfactory condition" today by a hospital spokesman.

The quints were born after their mother, Mrs. Birgitta Jansson, 28, took fertility drugs. Three girls died at or shortly after birth. A boy and a girl survive.

North Korean Escapes In General's Car

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A North Korean newsman jumped into an American general's car at the Panmunjom truce village today and escaped to South Korea despite revolver shots from a Communist guard which shattered windows of the car.

An informed source said the North Korean, Lee Soo- keun, 44, told officials of the U.N. Command of his plan to defect about an hour before the end of a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission at the truce village in the demilitarized zone 35 miles north of Seoul.

As the meeting ended, a U.S. Army sedan was standing at the front of the conference building, and Lee jumped into it as U.S. Army Maj. Gen. Richard G. Ciccolella, the senior U.N. comand delegate, and Rear Adm. Nam Chul, a South Korean delegate, got in.

The sedan sped away while about 50 Communist guards and newsmen watched in amazement. A Red Guard at a post about 100 yards south of the conference building fired about 40 shots from his revolver at the car, breaking some of its windows, but nobody inside was hurt, the source said.

The source added that he believed Lee was a vice president of the Korean Central News Agency, North Korea's official press agency. He had been covering the armistice meetings at Panmunjom for three or four years, the source said.

U.C. Budget Needs —A $10 Million Gap

BERKELEY (AP) -- Gov. Reagan and the University of California's acting president still disagree by $10 million on what it should cost to operate the school's nine campuses.

The governor, before leaving Sacramento yesterday for an Easter vacation with his family in Arizona, said $254 million "will meet all the legitimate needs of the university for the coming fiscal year." He spoke at a news conference.

But the university's acting president, Harry R. Wellman, said nothing less than $264 million will do.

LEVEL OF SUPPORT

"This level of support, the regents determined, is necessary to avoid reductions in quality or educational opportunity," Wellman said in a statement after Reagan's news conference.

Wellman was referring to a regent vote at Santa Barbara in February on a resolution seek a minimum of $264 million as the university's budget. Reagan voted against that resolution.

Also at the Santa Barbara meeting, the regents authorized the nine chancellors to go ahead with faculty recruiting and student admissions on the basis of no less than $255 million. The resolution stated the regents would make good from their own funds if the Legislature came through with anything less.

ORIGINAL CUT

Reagan, in support of a $254 million figure, said that "We are confident that this budget will provide for education with no reduction in quality or quantity."

Dr. Wellman disagreed. He said even the $264 million figure represented a cut of $14 million from the original university request for $278 million. And that means "deferral and elimination of many programs of significance to the state."

Bonn Asking Nazi's Return

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — West Germany has requested the extradition of Franz Stangl, wartime Nazi death camp commander, a spokesman for the Foreign Ministry said yesterday.

Stangle is being held in Brasilia, the capital, pending action on a request for his extradition to Austria. The Austrian was detained last month in Sao Paulo, where he had lived with his family sice 1961.

"We informed the German Embassy that the Austrian request had priority, since it was entered first," the spokesman said.

Asia Foundation Admits CIA Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Asia Foundation, a San Francisco-based organization which spends more than $4 million annually in helping U.S.-Far East relations, has received Central Intelligence Agency funds.

A spokesman said the announcement yesterday was being made "to clear the air." The statement did not disclose the extent of CIA support.

The funds "in no way affected" the foundation's policies and programs, the spokesman said.

The foundation said it has received contributions and grants from corporations, foundations, individuals, state and local governments, colleges and publishing firms.

ALEXANDER STARK
Co-publisher dies

OBITUARIES

Zan Stark Rites Held

Private funeral was held today for Alexander J. (Zan) Stark, 77, former Mill Valley city councilman and publisher of post cards there, who died Friday in a Sonoma rest home after a long illness.

Stark also was publisher of the defunct Valley of the Moon Review, daily newspaper in Boyes Hot Springs, Sonoma County. He printed post cards in Mill Valley for 30 years and was city councilman in the early 1950s.

Born in Michigan, he moved to Sonoma County 15 years ago.

Survivors are his wife, Katherine; a daughter, Mrs. R. H. Howes of Seville, Spain, and a son, Zan Jr., former managing editor of the Mill Valley Record and now with United Press International in Portland, Ore., and six grandchildren.

WILLIAM C. BRALY

WALNUT CREEK (AP) — Retired Army Col. William C. Braly, who took part in the Battle of Corregidor and survived the Bataan Death March, will be buried with full military honors Friday. He died Monday at 78.

At the start of World War II, Braly was operations officer of the Philippines island fortress on the staff of Gen. Jonathan Wainwright.

He leaves his widow, Verna, and a son, William, of San Jose.

Military services will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery.

CHAUNCEY S. CARPENTER

Funeral for Chauncey S. Carpenter, 52, of 619 Tanbark Terrace, San Rafael, will be at 9 a.m. Friday at St. Paul's Episcipal Church, San Rafael. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Carpenter, president of the Mutual Film Distributing Co., San Francisco, died of a heart attack in his home Tuesday. He was born in Arkansas and lived in Marin County 16 years.

JOHN FRASIER MAILER

Funeral for John Fraser Mailer of Sausalito will be Friday at 10 a.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Friends may call at the mortuary after 9 a.m. Friday.

Mailer, 56, was found dead Monday in his home at 512 Main Street.

A native of Hamilton, Canada, he lived in California for 16 years, the last 14 in Marin County. He was a salesman for a San Francisco printing company.

He is survived by his wife, Beverly Ryder Mailer, and a son, Michael John Mailer of San Francisco.

VICKIE L. FRENCH

Funeral for Vickie L. French, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. French of San Geronimo, will be at 9:30 a.m. Friday at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Vickie died Monday at a San Francisco hospital after a long illness. She was born in San Geronimo, where her parents own and operate the San Geronimo Valley Stables and Riding Club.

She is also survived by a sister, Jeanie M. French, and her two grandmothers, Mrs. Lillian E. Pierce of San Anselmo and Mrs. Lillian M. Rupnow of Clear Lake Highlands, Lake County.

Burial will be at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno. The family prefers memorial gifts to the Pediatric Hematology Reasearch Fund, c/o U.C. Hospital, San Francisco.

MARIELLEN KETT

Funeral for Mrs. Mariellen C. Kett, a retired Mill Valley school teacher, will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the Chapel of the Bates, Evans and Fehrensen Funeral Home, Sonoma. Inurnment will be private.

Mrs. Kett, 61, died Monday in her Sonoma home after a short illness. She had been living there three years after retiring. She taught 20 years in Mill Valley schools.

Mrs. Kett, wife of Fred Kett, a retired building contractor, was a native of Bloomingdale, Ind.

Survivors, beside her husband, are three daughters, Mrs. Carl Holmes of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. William Thompson of Fairfax, and Mrs. Jene Chapman of Napa; three sisters, and six grandchildren.

NICHOLAS POLITZER

Four-year-old Nicholas Politzer, of Sausalito, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital of complications following rare heart surgery last month in Chicago. He had suffered from a congenital block in a heart artery.

Born in San Francisco, he was a son of Mrs. and Mrs. S. Robert Politzer, 29 Glen Drive.

He is survived by his parents; a sister, Cassandra, and a brother, Adam.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. His family asked that memorial contributions be to the heart fund.

CALLIE TITCHELL

Mrs. Callie Titchell, 86, of Mill Valley, died yesterday in a local convalescent hospital following a brief illness.

A native of Chicago, she lived in Marin County for 10 years. She resided at 297 Miller Avenue.

She is survived by two sons, Haskell Titchell of Belvedere and Robert S. Titchell of Cleveland, Ohio; a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Woldman of Upper Montclair, N.J., and four grandchildren.

Funeral will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley. Inurnment will be private.

SHIRLEY C. TITUS

Shirley C. Titus of Strawberry, pioneer nursing educator, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness. Private family funeral will be held tomorrow at Carew and English chapel, San Francisco. Inurnment will also be private.

Known as "Miss T" in nursing circles, Miss Titus was an internationally known teacher and administrator in nursing education and crusader for economic security for nurses.

She was executive director of the California Nurses Association from 1942 until 1956, when she retired to her home at 303 Walter Drive in Strawberry.

She was born in San Francisco in 1892, graduated from San Jose High School and entered nurses training at St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco, where she was assistant director of nurses while still a student.

While still in her 20s, she was director of nursing at Columbia Hospital in Milwaukee, and in 1925 became director of the school of nursing at University of Michigan. She established the nation's first baccalaureate program in nursing as dean of nursing at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., in 1930.

She was the key figure in obtaining the nation's first collective bargaining contract for nurses, in Oakland in 1947.

Following her retirement, a national education scholarship for registered nurses, the Shirley C. Titus Fellowship, was founded in her honor by the CNA.

She is survived by a sister, Adele B. Titus of San Francisco.

and aeronautic attache Col. Georgi Balan Endochimovich, who also left Italy long ago.

"The spying ring was gigantic and it was still developing," one source said. He said Rinaldi admitted contacting a number of Italian officers recently with a view to enlisting them in the organization.

Other sources said last night they understood "several more persons were arrested in Morocco, Somalia, Cyprus and Greece" in connection with the ring.

Rinaldi and Girard—a bankrupt merchant who allegedly served as their chauffeur as a cover for his spying activities—were said to have gathered secret information about U S. bases in Italy, Spain and other countries. The sources said they also had the task of recruiting new members for the ring.

They said Rinaldi hid miniature cameras and other spy gear when he entered U.S. and other North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) bases in his capacity as parachute ace and instructor. They said Rinaldi and his wife used coded radio messages, invisible ink and microfilm hidden in drops at such spots as the Turin Zoo and imperial tombs.

The intelligence sources said Rinaldi has been under their eyes since he was seen with a Soviet lieutenant colonel in 1956. Suspicions grew as Rinaldi, formerly badly in debt, suddenly grew prosperous in recent years.

Police arrested chauffeur Girard on his return from Spain March 15. The sources said police found in his possession micorfilm of Allied military bases in Spain. More such film was found in the Rinaldi home and antique shop, they said.

WAR

539 sorties against the Communists yesterday, bringing the number in support of Operation Junction City to more than 2,300, a record.

In the air war over the North, F-105 Thunderchief fighter-bombers from Thailand hit targets near Dien Bien Phu and near Donghoi in the southern panhandle. B-52s from Guam hit just below the Demilitarized Zone in support of U.S. Marines.

In the Central Highlands near Pleiku and Kontum the Communists used mortars in attacks against other units of the 4th Infantry Division.

In the coastal areas just east of the Central Highlands the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division fought a series of sharp clashes that killed 78 Communists and captured one. The American toll was 14 dead, 40 wounded and 8 missing.

The Viet Cong, beaten on the battlefield, carried out a series of terror raids in South Vietnam. In one incident two platoons burned a refugee village 20 miles northwest of Hue and kidnaped three of its residents. They burned 117 of the villagers' 152 houses.

Team Is Planning North Pole Trip

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — For the first time since Adm. Robert E. Peary accomplished the feat in 1909, an eight-man group is planning an overland expedition to the North Pole.

Peary made the trip with dog teams. The seven Americans and one Canadian will use the latest refinements in transportation, food and clothing when they set out this month on their 15-to-20-day journey from Eureka on Ellesmere Island, some 800 miles from the North Pole.

They will travel on lightweight motorized toboggans, fitted with special linings that will float if they break through ice .A plane, operated by Welland Phipps of Resolute, Northwest Territories, will keep radio contact and will pick them up when they reach the pole.

The expedition woll conduct medical tests and hydrographic and weather studies and assess equipment, foods and clothing material. A color film record will be kept.

Ralph Plaistad, 38, of Minnesota leads the expedition. Cpl. John Austad, 35, a survival expert in the Canadian air force, will be weather and ice adviser and backup radio operator.

Dr. Arthur Aufderheide, Duluth, Minn., will study the effect of cold on cholesterol. The others are Donald Powellek, an electronics engineer; radar and radio operator Blair Woolsey, navigator Gerald Pitzil, mechanic Walter Pederson and cameraman Robert Clemens.

Chain saws and explosives will be among the equipment pulled by the expedition's toboggans on sledges weighing up to 500 pounds apiece.

Since Peary's expedition, the pole has been visited by aircraft in 1926 and by nuclear submarine in 1958 and 1959.

EASTER BUNNY ARRIVES EARLY

The annual pursuit of Easter eggs got started yesterday in San Rafael. An Easter egg hunt for tiny tots was staged at Albert Park by the San Rafael Recreation Department despite overcast skies. And eggs and bunny were there, all right. Mrs. Vincent Traina, as Easter bunny, helped Carol Pera, 4, and Billy Magladry, 5, find eggs hidden among the grass. An egg hunt for all children up to 12 years old will be held at the park Saturday at 9 a.m., co-sponsored by the recreation department and San Rafael Lions Club.

Fulbright Wants Johnson To Take Chance On Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J.W. Fulbright said today President Johnson should take the chance that a halt in bombing of North Vietnam will produce peace talks despite Hanoi's rejection of his latest offer.

But Sen. Robert F. Kenendy, D-N.Y., a cocritic with Fulbright of Johnson's Vietnam policies, contended in a statement that the President had attached a new condition requiring that "we have evidence that Hanoi has already ceased infiltration before we stop the bombing."

SEES HOPE

Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he feels there is hope for a Soviet initiative by Premier Alexei N. Kosygin toward negotiations despite Ho Chi Minh's refusal to stop infiltration of South Vietnam in exchange for a cessation of air attacks.

"I think it is well worth stopping the bombing to see if there is any substance to Kosygin's statement that if there is a halt talks could proceed," Fulbright said.

Kosygin's statement came during his talks with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson at the time of the February Lunar New Year cease-fire. Johnson's offer to Ho was made before the cease-fire started.

'REASONABLE' OFFER

Fulbright called "reasonable" Johnson's offer to Ho to stop the bombing and freeze U.S. forces at their present level as soon as the President was "assured that infiltration into South Vietnam by land and sea has been stopped."

Kennedy also referred to Kosygin's statement that a halt would bring talks. He said this was confirmed by Ho's letter.

Kennedy interpreted Ho's reply as requiring only a bombing pause, rather than a permanent cessation, to get negotiations going. To administration officials, Ho seemed firm in demanding that the United States must stop permanently all air attacks and other "acts of war" before he would agree to consider negotiations.

NOT ENOUGH

For example, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said the bombing will stop "at the very instant" Hanoi demonstrates it will take reicprocal action to reduce its military activity.

"Now Hanoi says: Stop the bombing unconditionally — once and for all — and maybe we can work something out," Humphrey said in a speech prepared for a Birmingham, Ala., audience.

He said this wouldn't be enough, that the North Vietnamese must show that they "are ready to enter the path of honest negotiation." If they are, he said, "we are ready."

"We have stopped the bombing before," he said, "and every time Hanoi has responded by pouring massive quantities of men and material unimpeded into the South."

Fulbright's expressed disappointment that nothing tangible had come out of the exchange of letter swas shared by most of his colleagues. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said he hoped it wouldn't prevent the President from making other attempts.

Fulbright said he never had taken the position that Johnson wasn't sincerely seeking peace. But he added, "There is a widespread feeling that he wants peace on his own terms."

Nixon Booster Mails Letters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Gaylord B. Parkinson, an obstetrician who will open a "Nixon for President" office in Washington next month, is reported to have sent some 13,000 letters to the nation's top Republicans soliciting use of their names on the campaign committee.

The Los Angeles Times said Parkinson, former California GOP chairman, sent letters to every Republican National Committee member, all state and county party chairmen and Republican governors, congressmen, senators and mayors.

More letters went to all members of the California GOP State Central Committee, presidents of all units of the California Federation of Republican Women and Young Republican club officers. Key financial contributors also were targets, the Times said.

Wife Against A Separation

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — The wife of Gov. Roberto Sanchez Vilella says she does not want the separation her husband has announced.

In a statement Tuesday, Dona Conchita Dapena de Sanchez Vilella said divorce is also out of the question because she is a Roman Catholic.

The governor had announced the separation Monday night. The governor, who was believed to be a candidate for re-election in 1968, also announced he would not run again.

Ross Council Approves Deed On Phoenix Lake

Ross Town Council last night approved "in substance" the proposed deed that would transfer 25 acres of Marin Municipal Water District land at Phoenix Lake to thetown.

Acting Mayor Roy Farrington Jones noted that the water district still holds title to the land, and the transfer is still several steps from completion.

An anonymous donor offered the town $15,000 last year to purchase the land along Ross Creek at the end of Lagunitas Road.

The Ross Town Council also:

CITY-COUNTY SERVICES by the Marin City-County Services Committee for formation of a county services area to finance urban police services in unincorporated areas.

REZONING HEARING — Set for April 13 at 8 p.m. a public hearing with the council sitting as a planning commission, on rezoning of two Marin Art and Garden Center parcels, one on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and the other on Laurel Grove Avenue, from residential to community cultural.

WIDENING PLANS — Scheduled a special meeting Apr. 6 at 8 p.m. at town hall to review landscaping and utilities plans for widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the San Anselmo city line. The council was scheduled to act on the plans last night but received a report that Town Engineer Philip B. Lygren has just received his copy of the plans and was not prepared to report.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen, who was suffering from influenza, was absent.

Business Tax Break Faces Senate Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill restoring major business tax incentives has won Senate Finance Committee approval after being remolded to conform to administration wishes.

But the legislation —scheduled for Senate debate starting April 3, after the Eastern recess — could face stiff opposition on the floor because amendments by the committee to the House version would nearly halve benefits to business.

And Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., says he'll attempt to amend the measure to include repeal of the controversial presidential election campaign financing plan Congress enacted at the end of the 1966 session.

The administration amendments to the tax bill, sponsored by Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., acting Finance Committee chairman, would reduce the revenue loss under the measure by $775 million.

As the bill cleared the House, this loss was estimated at $1.86 billion. It would be $1.085 billion under the Senate committee's version.

The Senate bill would restore the 7 per cent tax credit incentive for machinery or equipment purchases only to that ordered March 10 or later. It would restore accelerated depreciation rates only for those profit-making buildings started after that date.

The House version provides the benefits would go to equipment ordered before March 10 and delivered after that date, and to the portion of buildings completed March 10 or later even though they were started before then.

Another change in the Senate measure would limit the investment credit on machinery and equipment to 25 per cent of a company's tax liability through next Dec. 31. After that, a more liberal ceiling of 50 per cent of taxes owed would apply.

The House had voted to put the 50 per cent ceiling in effect at once.

Smathers said passage of the incentives bill would make it much less likely for Congress to accept the 6 per cent income tax surcharge President Johnson has proposed for consideration later this session.

"We are giving this boon to business," the senator said, "but individuals should not have to pay for it through an increase in their taxes."

The proposed surtax would apply to corporate as well as individual income taxes.

Town Meeting Study

A tabulation of the responses received so for on the San Anselmo Town Meeting questionaires has been posted in the San Anselmo library, according to Anne West, president of the San Anselmo Homes Association.

Milk Strike Results Not Yet Certain

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Farmers Organization milk holding and dumping campaign moved into the seventh day today, but a survey showed no clear evidence of rising prices or shortages.

However, The Associated Press survey did reflect some disagreement over how much milk has been destroyed while the NFO tries to boost milk prices to dairy farmers by two cents a quart. In any case, a check showed the holding and dumping action amounted to hundreds of thousands of gallons.

The NFO claimed a victory in Omaha when retail prices rose two cents a quart and milk prices jumped one cent a quart in Austin, Minn.

But retail prices dropped two cents a quart in Louisville, Ky. And in Logansport, Ind., a supermarket chain anticipating a shortage overstocked its milk cases. As a result, the chain was forced to sell half gallons at the bargain rate of three for $1. The usual price is 40 to 42 cents.

NFO President Oren Lee Satley, speaking from his headquarters in Corning, Iowa, remained confident.

University Lists Classes In Marin

University of California will offer 13 daytime and three evening classes in Marin during the spring term opening Monday.

Evening courses to be given in San Rafael are a business administration class in leadership and management and teachers' courses in art education and social studies.

Day courses, to be taught in San Anselmo, Ross and Mill Valley, include a study of plays being given by the American Conservatory Theater this season, a course on California flowering plants, a survey of contemporary Europe and a workshop for beginning writers.

Information is available from U. C. Extension at Berkeley.

Chamber Meeting Off

Sausalito Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday postponed their monthly meeting to next Tuesday at noon at Zack's By The Bay, reported director Halsey H. Lyon. The board is to consider the proposed city library, he said, and elect new officers.

Youth Is Listed As Home Runaway

James Severin Lilleberg, 16, of 680 Midway Boulevard, Novato, was missing from his home today and listed as a runaway by Novato police.

He was last seen at 9:30 p.m., Monday, his mother, Mrs. Dawn Scheiern, reported to police. He then was wearing a long-sleeved maroon sport shirt, green corduroy pants, and black leather loafers. He was described as five feet eight inches tall, weighing 130 pounds, of slim build with blond hair and brown eyes. This is not the first time he has run away from home, police reported.

About 11,000 miles of navigable waterways are provided by the Congo and tributaries.

Posing Coed Drops College

GAINESVILLE, Fla .(AP) — Pam Brewer, whose 38-24-35 charms were displayed nude in humor magazine twice this year, has withdrawn from the University of Florida, the school said today.

A spokesman said no pressure had been put on Pam to quit, despite the fact that the second nude picture of the shapely coed appeared in public print only yesterday.

The brunette sophomore left the school yesterday, the spokesman said.

Pam was put on social probation by school officials last month for appearing in the buff in the magazine Charlatan.

WANTS ELECTION CHANGE

Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen looms over the camera to declare that he might vote for abolition of the Electoral College and establishment of some other system of presidential elections. He spoke at a Senate Press Galley conference in Washington yesterday. (UPI Telephoto)

Special Education Budget To Be Aired

A special education budget exceeding a half million dollars for next fiscal year is to be presented to the Marin County Board of Education's special education committee tomorrow night.

The special education program conducted by the county schools office is financed in part through county taxes and in part through school district taxes.

The special education committee will meet at 9 p.m. in the county schools office in Corte Madera, one of three communities of the county board meeting tomorrow night in the committee system of handling county public schools business.

Two federal matching-fund projects will be proposed to the educational services committee, meeting at 7 p.m., according to J. Jackson Austin, guidance consultant on County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis's staff. A guidance project would draw $24,341 from the United States government and an equal amount from Marin County funds. Austin did not have figures available on the cost of the second project, in social sciences.

Dirk West, county curriculum coordinator, said other federal projects totaling $15,000 — hald funded by the county — will be proposed for next year as part of the special education budget.

He will also propose a countywide speech therapy program, and a summer school of four or five weeks for mentally retarded and physically handicapped children.

The administrative services committee, meeting at 8 p.m., will hear a series of reports and will discuss with Asst. County Supt. Robert F. Stannard recommendations of Hollis regarding contract renewals for county-employed teachers and administrators. Stannard said part of this meeting may be closed "to evaluate personnel."

Mental Health Report Tonight

The Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board tonight will hear County Probation Officer Walter Busher outline the probation department's uses of and connections with the mental health program.

The board meets at 8 p.m. today in the Coral Room of Marin General Hospital.

Busher's appearance is one of a series of meetings between the board and various county officials to brief the board on ramifications of the mental health program. The board will also hear 1967-68 budget proposals.

Rec Budget Session

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission will meet in special session at 8 p.m. tomorrow in city hall to discuss a budget for the next fiscal year and to consider a request by the Litchfield's San Rafael Braves, a semi-professional baseball team, for the use of Albert Park.

Venereal Disease Cases Are Up

Gonorrhea and German measles figured largely in communicable diseases reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

There were 25 cases of gonorrhea reported, including five each in Sausalito and Mill Valley, and four in San Rafael.

Three cases of German measles were reported in Sausalito and three in San Rafael.

Streptococcus infection cases shot up to 84 during the week, with Novato suffering the most with 48 outbreaks. Six cases of mumps, two of tuberculosis and one of syphilis were also reported from the county.

Guilty Plea Made To Check Forgery

Charles Albert Wendorf, 55, of Kappas Yacht Harbor, Waldo Point, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to forging a $30 check Feb. 9 with intent to defraud Wildon P. Harris of Fairfax.

A second forgery count was dismissed by Judge Hadden W. Roth on recommendation of Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Anthony. Arraignment in Marin Superior Court was set for 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Upper Lucas Valley Service Area Approved

Marin County supervisors yesterday, after a public hearing that brought no objection, voted unanimously for formation of a county service area in Upper Lucas Valley for fire protection.

Anyone wishing to protest formation of the service area has 30 days in which to file written objection with the county clerk's office. If protests representing 10 per cent of the assessed valuation should be filed, an election must be called; otherwise the service area will stand on board action of yesterday, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said.

Residents want the service area in order to contract with the Marinwood Community Services District for fire protection. Maloney said that contract could take effect soon even though it will not be possible to levy taxes in the district until fiscal 1969.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

TRANSFER — Approved transfer of $17,500 from the salaries account in the welfare department to the work training fund to continue programs until the end of this fiscal year. The Federal Office of Economic Opportunity announced it was withdrawn its support for work training in Marin as of May 31.

POLICE CONSOLIDATION — Asked the City-County services committee to consider formtion of a citizens committee to study police department consolidation.

FARM ADVISER — Learned that a tighter state budget may cut back staff in the county farm adviser's office.

DIORAMA — Agreed that $500 put up in 1962 in county funds for a nature film that was never made may be used for the nature diorama project at the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum.

COFFEE MACHINE — Decided to allow the coffee machine in the board room lobby, object of criticism for both appearance and taste of coffee, to remain on probation for a few more weeks.

PLANNING DRAFTSMAN — Upgraded a draftsman position in the planning department with an increase from $6,744 to $7,080 a year starting pay, to allow appointment of a supervising draftsman in the department.

WAR PROTEST — Granted use of the courthouse steps for a demonstration against war April 8

NEW EMPLOYEES — Hired Ida M. Cullen as cashier in the treasurer-tax collector's office at $399 a month; Marjorie M. Marquetta as key punch operator in data processing at $399; Edward J. Morris as fire warden at $562 and Marcia L. Hammer as group counselor in Juvenile Hall at $536.

BLOOD BANK — Granted the County Employees Association request for a member blood bank donation program at the Civic Center from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., April 13.

TIME — Adjourned at 5:45 p.m.

Boosters Get Signals Lost On Exhibit

It appeared yesterday that getting the Marin Visitors Bureau and county chamber of commerce together on producing the county's exhibit for the state fair may result in an amusing wrestling match.

County supervisors did not know what to make of the situation when B. A. Farlatti of the visitors bureau made a proposal that Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the county chamber, knew nothing about it.

Farlatti told the board the exhibit should be designed to attract visitors to Marin, the visitors bureau should have complete control, and the $2,500 earlier appropriated for the exhibit was not enough. He said these decisions were made after a joint meeting with the chamber.

Snyker, however, said it was all news to him and Farlatti's proposals were not discussed in the meeting.

Supervisors decided to let the matter rest for a week.

Lion Plays Dead, Hunter Is Killed

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — A lion played dead long enough today to trigger the death of a famed white hunter and the injury of an American sportsman.

Hunter Henry Poolman, 36, a friend of the late author Ernest Hemingway, and sportsman Julian Barrett walked to the inert beast they thought dead at the foot of Mount Kilimanjaro. The lion sprang.

It mauled Poolman, then leaped at Barrett. The hunters' gun bearers fired.

One bullet killed Poolman. Another slew the lion. Barrett was reported in "satisfactory" condition at a local hospital, suffering a broken leg in his tussle with the lion.

Winners Of Speech Contest Announced

Margaret Costello of Larkspur and Johanne Jeffrey of San Rafael, eighth graders at San Domenico School for Girls, have won first and second place in a speech contest among students of San Domenico, St. Raphael's, Blessed Sacrament and St. Isabella's schools.

Theme of the contest was "immigrnts who have played an important part in the development of Marin County."

Jane Russell, Coach-Husband Talk Finances

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actress Jane Russell, 45, and former Los Angeles Rams quarterback-coach Bob Waterfield, 46, have begun negotiations toward financial and custody settlements prior to a divorce.

The couple had been scheduled to appear yesterday before Superior Judge William E. MacFaden for a hearing on Miss Russell's request for temporary support and Waterfield's request for custody of their three adopted children.

Neither the actress nor Waterfield was in court, but his attorney, Paul Caruso, said he had started negotiations with Miss Russell's attorney.

Tighter Vote Plan Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A House Judiciary Subcomittee headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., has approved a bill to set strict "one-man, one-vote" standards for congressional districts and prohibit gerrymandering, starting with the Congress elected in 1972.

The bill approved yesterday was a rewrite of a Congressional redistricting bill that passed the House in March, 1965, but died in the Senate Judiciary Committee in a wrangle over details.

Starting in 1972, the new bill would limit the largest and smallest house districts in a state to a maximum variation in population of 10 per cent. The average spread between all districts in a state could not exceed 5 per cent.

Zoologists have found that tiger, zebra and giraffe markings suggest human fingerprints. No two sets are alike.

Hotel Customer Killed In Blaze

CROWS LANDING (UPI) — Fire raged through the landmark J and M Hotel here last night, burning the structure to the ground and taking the life of a Crows Landing man.

Authorities said John Wright, 68, apparently died in bed in his second-floor room. Another man, Malcolm Maxwell, 28, Sonora, suffered severe leg injuries when he leaped out of his second-story window to avoid the fast moving flames.

Sixty firemen from the West Stanislaus County Fire District managed to save nearby buildings but were unable to prevent the hotel from burning to the ground.

Marin To Help Purchase Acreage Near Muir Woods

Marin County supervisors yesterday voted for county participation in purchase of the 18-acre Angelo Carrozzi property near the entrance to Muir Woods for addition to the Tamalpais State Park.

The board authorized $10,625 in tax money as the county share of the $85,000 purchase. The Sierra Club, Tamalpais Conservation Club and the state would put up $10,625 each. This would come to half the total cost, the rest to be covered by federal open space funds if an application for such funds is approved.

Carrozzi would retain three acres for a home site at the entrance to the park, but this would go to the state upon his death.

The property to be purchased is scattered in several parcels. There would be some small lots and homes remaining in the hands of other owners.

Eleven American mountaineers will attempt the first ascent of Vinson Massif, highest peak in Antarctica.

School Trouble Put To Outsiders

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Speakers at a Conference of California Secondary School Administrators blame outsiders for racial disturbances in the schools. They called yesterday for a "riot policy" to be used in the event of future trouble.

The recommendations came from three men who were school principals during on-campus demonstrations.

Emery Curtice, principal of Berkeley High in Alameda County, said non-students provoked demonstrations at this school.

"Sometimes," Curtice said, "it's hard to tell students from non-students, especially with an enrollment of 3,200." He urged that identification cards be issued to registered students.

Topless Dancers Bill Probe Set

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Whether cities and counties can pass laws against topless dancers and pornography will be the subject of Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee hearings.

Committee Chairman W. Craig Biddle, R - Riverside, announced today that the hearings will start April 4. A major question will be whether the state, rather than local agencies, has the authority to pass laws in the topless-pornography area.

Iceland Post For Rolvaag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag of Minnesota will be nominated to be U.S. ambassador to Iceland, President Johnson announced today. Rolvaag, a Democrat, was defeated for re-election last November.

The announcement said James K. Penfield, a career foreign service officer who is the present ambassador to Iceland, will be assigned to other duties.

Rolvaag, 53, was elected lieutenant governor of Minnesota in 1954 and served in that capacity until 1963 when he became governor.

LBJ's Personal Peace Offer Remaining Open

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson's unprecedented personal peace bid to Ho Chi Minh is still open despite its rejection by the North Vietnamese leader, responsible U.S. sources said today.

Johnson, who returned last night from his fast-moving Guam strategy conference with top U.S. and South Vietnamese leaders, apparently underscored this theme when he said:

"We shall persevere in our efforts to find an honorable peace; until that is achieved, we shall continue to do our duty in Vietnam."

U.S. sources conceded, however, that it was unlikely that Hanoi would do an about-face in the immediate future and come to accept Johnson's letter as the basis for peace negotiations or even more limited talks on de-escalation of the conflict.

But they let it be known that the United States would still be interested and the terms Johnson outlined were not closed.

Disclosure of the Johnson-Ho correspondence, unique in the many efforts by the United States and other nations to get talks started, came first from Hanoi.

Diplomatic observers speculated that Hanoi's action constituted a firm propaganda riposte to the Guam conference communique, which restated the Allied intention to pursue the Vietnam war and the rebuilding of South Vietnam.

Johnson's message to Ho was dated Feb. 2. The State Department said it was delivered by a U.S. embassy official to North Vietnamese diplomats in Moscow Feb. 8, the day the TET bombing pause began.

Ex-Marinite's Trial Reset On Shooting

I-J Special Report

KINGMAN, Ariz. — Trial of Mary Ellen Busolo, 43, on an involuntary manslaughter charge in the shooting death of her husband, a former San Anselmo businessman, has been continued to April 19 at 9:30 a.m. in Mojave Superior Court here.

Trial, originally set for today, was continued at the request of Mrs. Busolo's attorney, William Tinney of Tucson, because of conflict of time with another case he is handling.

Superior Court Judge Frank X. Gordon Jr. said Mrs. Busolo's trial is expected to take three to five days.

Her husband, Licino Busolo Jr., was shot to death in their home in Lake Havasu City last Dec. 19. Mrs. Busolo reported the shooting three days later and said she planned to kill herself with the gun, but that it accidently discharged during a quarrel with her husband.

The Busolos moved to Arizona from San Anselmo two years ago.

A CHILLY HONEYMOON TRIP

British jeweler Tom Lightfoot, 56, and his bride of three days, the former Rita Billam of London, wave from their 1902 Mercedes as they start a three-day drive from Washington to New York, bundled in weather gear. A late model of the car is at right. Lightfoot, who has owned the 65-year-old touring car for 10 years, usually cruises between 20 and 25 miles per hour, but says the vintage car is still capable of speeds of up to 60 miles per hour. The couple, who left yesterday, expect to arrive in New York tomorrow where the car will be displayed at a New York automobile show.

LAWYER IS VICTIM

No Marijuana Case, But About The Fee?

Michael E. Simonton of Mountain View, charged last fall with marijuana possession, thoroughly convinced his lawyer that he was an honest and upright man.

The lawyer, William O. Weissich of San Rafael, convinced the court that there was insufficient evidence against Simonton, and the charge was dismissed.

The grateful Simonton then paid the attorney a $500 fee, by personal check.

The check bounced.

Yesterday, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales filed a fraudulent check charge against Simonton, and his arraignment was set for 2 p.m. next Monday in Marin Municipal Court.

"It just proves one thing," commented Weissich. "No matter how long you're in this business, you can still get fooled."

Juvenile Justice Is Panel Topic

Should lawbreakers between 18 and 21 be tried as juveniles or adults?

This question will be debated at 9 a.m. tomorrow on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board." Speakers will be Marin Municipal Court Judge Hadden W. Roth; Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales; James Soetaert, director of probation services for the county, and Novato Police Chief Robert Di Grazia.

The program will be repeated at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

SUGAR COOKIES made into perky little spring hats, are deliciously adorned with apricot jam and roasted slivered almonds. They're a welcome addition to Easter baskets and perfect for a "make your own spring hat" party refreshment.

Gay Little Cookie Bonnets Are Made With Sour Cream, Nuts

To usher in spring, give a "make your own spring hat" party. Simply invite friends to bring their own hat frames, ribbons and flowers to make their own Easter bonnets for an afternoon. For refreshments, serve coffee, tea or punch and feature "Almond Sugar Cookie Chapeaux," sugar cookies with springtime flair.

These gay little bonnets are easily fashioned from a delicious dough that's made with sour cream and crunchy nuts. Their flavorful adornments are apricot jam and roasted slivered almonds. They're a bright addition to Easter baskets as well as a conversation-maker at parties.

UNLESS YOU PLAN to let the Easter Bunny put these chapeaux in your children's Easter baskets, have the youngsters help you make them — they'll delight in adding their own elegant designs.

Roasted slivered almonds are available in cans at many markets. However, if you want to make them yourself from natural almonds, simply cover the kernels with water and bring them to a boil. After you drain them, you'll find that their skins slip off readily when the almonds are pressed between thumb and fingers.

While the blanched kernels are still warm and moist, split each nut in half with the tip of a knife. Lay the flat side down and slice into thin slivers. Roast these blanched slivered almonds in butter or oil, using a teaspoon of fat for each cup of nut meats, for 15 to 20 minutes in a 300 degree oven.

MAKE PLENTY of these elegant slivers for later use — to enhance other cookies and cakes, casseroles and vegetable dishes— and store them in a tightly closed container in the refrigerator, or in a sealed disposable plastic bag in the freezer.

ALMOND SUGAR COOKIE CHAPEAUX

2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon almond extract
½ cup dairy sour cream
½ cup roasted slivered almonds
½ cup apricot jam
Roasted slivered almonds for garnish

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and nutmeg. Cream shortening with sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg, almond extract and sour cream; beat well. Gradually blend in flour mixture. Stir in ½ cup almonds. Roll 2/3 of dough into 1½-inch balls; place about 3 inches apart on ungreased cooky sheet. Flatten with bottom of glass dipped in flour into rounds ¼-inch thick. Place a scant teaspoon jam in center of each round. Roll remaining dough into ½-inch balls; place on top of jam. Poke additional almonds into each cooky for garnish. Bake at 375 degrees 10 to 12 minutes. Cool on wire rack. Makes 3 to 4 dozen cookies.

Fruit Cocktail Adds To This Coffee Cake

1 package (10½ ounces) coffee cake mix (with mixing bag baking pan)
¼ cup well drained canned fruit cocktail
¼ cup finely cut pecans

Make up coffee cake mix and turn into pan according to package directions. Halve the fruit cocktail pieces and gently fold into batter right in pan. Mix pecans with topping (from coffee cake mix package) and sprinkle over batter. Bake according to package directions.

Bunny Brunch With Punch For Easter Sunday Morning

Have a quick-as-a-bunny brunch party on Easter Sunday. All you need is a crowd of friends dressed up in their best new clothes, and "hot quiche" as the star of the menu. Quiche, a custardy ham and cheese pie, can be made the night before and finished up in a half hour on Sunday morning.

Brunch punch made with orange juice, ginger ale and club soda; and buns made from hot roll mix and filled with assorted preserves, will help make the meal holiday special. Complete the menu with coffee.

Keep the following recipe for quiche under your new hat till Easter Sunday:

HOT QUICHE

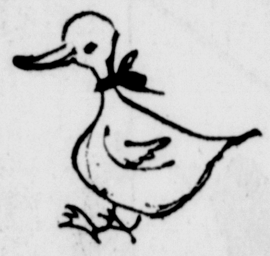
2 packages pie crust mix
1 lb. sliced boiled ham
4 cups (1 lb.) grated Swiss cheese
12 eggs
6 cups heavy cream
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of nutmeg
Dash of cayenne pepper

Prepare dough as package directs. Divide dough into thirds. Use two of the thirds to make two plain 11-ince pie shells. Roll out remaining third for garnish on rim of pie plate. Use a tiny flower-shaped cutter to make cutouts. Brush rim of pastry shells with milk and press down flower cutouts around rims. Reserve about a dozen cutouts for center. Bake at 425°F. (hot) for five minutes. Set aside. Cut ham into inch-wide strips; arrange half in bottom of each pie shell. Sprinkle two cups of cheese over ham in each shell. Beat together eggs, cream, salt, nutmeg and pepper. Pour half over cheese in each pie shell. Bake at 425°F. for 15 minutes. Add reserved pastry garnishes to center of pie and reduce oven to 300°F. (slow). Bake 20 minutes more or until silver knife inserted in center of pie comes out clean. Serve immediately or refrigerate and reheat at 300°F. for twenty minutes. Makes 12 generous servings.

Note: To make mushroom version, substitute two small cans of drained mushroom slices for ham, increase salt to two teaspoons.

Pretty Brunch Idea— Pineapple, Pinwheels

Golden pineapple slices topped with sausage pinwheels are a fresh and pretty idea for Easter brunch. This unusual treatment of pork sausages is easy to do when they're linked together. Just coil up three at a time, fasten with skewers and broil until lightly browned. Notice that the sausages are first given a sauna bath in boiling water to hasten the cooking. Canned pineapple slices go under the broiler, too, for a very quick warming.



Bake you favorite pancakes the same size as the pineapple slices. They look pretty stacked underneath and taste wonderful with a good little pineapple syrup passed at the table. For refreshing accompaniment to start or end the brunch, serve a well chilled fruit compote.

Canned pineapple on the spring scene shows up in all sorts of party salads, entrees, desserts and punches. With teas, showers, luncheons and graduation coming up, canned pineapple by the caseful is not too much to keep around.

PINWHEELS AND PINEAPPLE

12 pork sausage links
1 (14½-ounce) can pineapple slices
16 baked pancakes
Pineapple Golden Syrup

For each serving, coil 3 sausages into pinwheels and fasten with thin skewer. Cover pinwheels with boiling water; let stand 10 minutes, then drain well. Broil about 5 minutes until lightly browned on 1 side. Turn; add drained pineapple slices and broil about 5 minutes longer until sausage is done and pineapple heated. Serve over stacked pancakes. Top with pineapple syrup. Makes 4 servings.

PINEAPPLE GOLDEN SYRUP: Combine ½ cup each syrup drained from pineapple and sugar. Boil slowly in small pan about 10 minutes, until syrupy and golden. Remove from heat and cool. Makes about ½ cup.

Grapefruit Peach Compote Garnish Has Ginger, Syrup

If you choose the ginger garnish for this compote, you'll find it amusing to concoct.

GRAPEFRUIT PEACH COMPOTE

2 medium grapefruit
1 package (12 ounces) frozen sliced peaches, defrosted
Maraschino cherries or syrup-preserved ginger for garnish.

Pare grapefruit so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes. Drain grapefruit sections (drink the juice!) and mix with peaches and their juice. Garnish with cherries or ginger shapes; to make shapes slice through ginger pieces to make thinner; cut out shapes from the ginger slices with tiny canape cutters. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Jigtime Nibbles

1 bag (4 ounces) Japanese-type peanut snacks
1 bag (4 ounces) Japanese-type cheese snacks
1 can (6¾ ounces) cocktail peanuts
1 can (6¾ ounces) mixed nuts

In a serving bowl, mix together the snacks and nuts. Makes enough for 1½ to 2 dozen nibblers. (Store any left-over in a tightly covered tin.) Nice served ladled into Japanese-type small teacups (without handles).

FOR THAT Easter Brunch serve the family golden pineapple slices topped with sausage pinwheels. For refreshing accompaniment to start or end the brunch, serve a well-chilled fruit compote.

Political Violence Raging In Mexico

HERMOSILLO, Mexico (UPI) —Student groups openly stockpiled weapons and Molotov cocktails today in this riot-torn city where mobs set fire to two political party officers yesterday.

Two days of pitched street fighting in Hermosillo, capital of Sonora state bordering Arizona, left one confirmed and six reported dead. At least 18 persons were injured and 200 rioters had been arrested since fighting started Sunday night.

Police said a man was shot to death but denied unofficial reports that seven persons were killed. The morgue at the state hospital remained sealed, however.

The students were gathering rifles, pistols and firebombs. Rival political groups manned barricades.

The fighting was between supporters and opponents of Congressman Faustino Felix, government nominee for Sonora state governor. His opponents were attacking the system by which the ruling Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PIR) selects candidates, allowing no local choice. Since the party controls more than 9 per cent of the national vote, its nomination is equivalent to election.

About 800 students last night attacked Felix's campaign headquarters and set fire to furniture and files. An estimated 150 persons in the offices retreated.

Earlier yesterday a mob of about 5,000 persons attacked the PRI office and set it afire, destroying its furniture and files.

Firemen saved the buildings.

Riot police charged the mob, hurling tear gas cannisters. The mob replied with Molotov cocktails and rocks.

Police said about 100 persons were arrested, doubling the number jailed since Sunday. Officials said no one was killed in the clash.

Firms Agree To TV Rules

All five applicants for community antenna television franchises in Novato will comply with the minimum technical requirements set up by the city, the Novato City Council's franchise committee was assured last night.

The committee asked City Mgr. J. Julien Baget to schedule meetings with each of the applicants in April to review applications.

Companies making applications to serve areas in Novato with Community Televisoin Antennas are Western California Telephone Co., Cable Television of Marin, Color Cable Inc. of Thousand Oaks, M and M Cable of Novato, and Televue Systems of San Rafael.

Rec Funding For Athlete Tutoring Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Teachers coaching athletic teams after school hours must not be paid out of community recreation funds, Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch ruled yesterday.

He said it was essential to determine whether interscholastic activities fitted the meaning of the Community Recreational Act or whether they were a part of school programs.

Even though a school activity is witnessed by the community that does not make it a community service, Lynch said.

Lynch's ruling was asked by the Butte County counsel and prohibits school districts from using community recreation funds to pay the salaries of school teachers involved in after-school sporting events.

Lynch said that even though interscholastic events are voluntary, once started they become just as much school instruction as that given in a classroom.

Fog Closes Down County's Airport

Fog closed the Marin County Airport and the runway at Hamilton Air Force base to visual flying early today.

Plot Perjury Charge Draws Innocent Plea

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Dean A. Andrews Jr., a lawyer who says Lee Harvey Oswald consulted him in 1963 on minor legal matters, pleaded innocent today to a charge of committing perjury before a grand jury in connection with Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's John F. Kennedy assassination investigation.

Criminal Dist. Court Judge Frank Shea granted a motion by Andrew's lawyers for a jury trial and gave them until April 10 to file motions in the case.

Andrews, 44, was indicted last Thursday by the Orleans Parish grand jury, which said he gave answers which he "well knew were false and untrue" when questioned about Garrison's assassination conspiracy probe.

In another development, an attorney for Clay L. Shaw obtained court permission for his client to leave New Orleans tomorrow to spend the Easter weekend on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Garrison has charged Shaw, a wealthy retired New Orleans executive, with conspiring to murder President Kennedy. Following a four-day preliminary hearing last week, a three-judge court ruled that Garrison had produced sufficient evidence to hold Shaw for trial.

Kentfield Trustees To Consider Calendar

The Kentfield School District board will consider a calendar for next school year Monday at 8 p.m. at Wolfe Grade School.

Supt. Anthony G. Bacich will report on possible flood control measures for Wolfe Grade Creek near Wolfe Grade School, and the board will hear a report and see a film, "Art and Language Development," on educational television. Trustees also will consider district policy on after-school recreation.

One Of Sukarno's Wife Wins Divorce

JAKARTA (UPI) —One of ousted President Sukarno's four official wives has divorced him, the official Indonesian news agency Antara said today.

Harjati, who married Sukarno three year s ago, said her divorce was valid last October but announced only now to "clear up the whole issue because I am a woman."

The 27-year-old childless beauty gave no reason for the divorce.

The Caspian Sea is actually a lake and is the largest body of water on earth surrounded by land with an area of 143,550 square miles.

Easter Vacationers Scatter

By MOLLY MARIN

The Easter vacation is finding some Marinites on the snowy slopes. The Russell Rices of Belvedere, whose daughter, Stephanie, a student at the University of Oregon, will be with them, are going to Tahoe City. The Chester Bunnells and Dr. and Mrs. John Mayer of Belvedere will be skiing at Squaw Valley.

CHOOSING SUNNY climes for their holiday are Mr. and Mrs. Frank King of Belvedere and their daughters, Libby, a student at Stephens College, and Ginny, a senior at San Domenico. They are vacationing in Hawaii.

COL. AND MRS. EUGENE T. SEVERIN of Sausalito have invited their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morrison of Belvedere and granddaughter, Laurel, and newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chappelear of Sausalito to dinner on Easter Sunday. The Severins and Morrisons will be visited by their grandson and son, Severin Morrison, during the middle of April. He is presently in the last phase of parachute jumping at Fort Benning, Ga., and will return home before being transferred to duty in Vietnam.

HONORED AT a series of coffees and desserts on the occasion of her 80th birthday was Mrs. Belle McHargue of San Rafael. Mrs. McHargue, who was born in Mondova, Wash., resides with her son-in-law and daughter, Mrs. R. H. Weitzel in San Rafael.

. MR. AND MRS. HENRY Foster of Mill Valley and Mr. Foster's nephew, Arthur Foster of Zanesville, Wis., were hosts Friday evening at a welcome-home and multiple birthday dinner party at the El Paseo restaurant in Mill Valley. Guest of honor was Dr. Paul Henry, who recently returned to Mill Valley after visiting relatives in Budapest, Hungary. He had not seen his parents in 21 years. His stepfather, Dr. Laszlone Kulley, a surgeon and specialist in rheumatic disease, is a friend of the Dr. Michael Dacse who was president of the international conference of physical medicine and rehabilitation held recently in San Francisco. Sharing welcome honors was Mrs. Tom Casson, an artist who is opening a studio in El Paso.

The four birthdays celebrated were those of both Mr. and Mrs. Foster, her longtime friend, Mrs. Josef Walter of Santa Rosa, who shares her birth date, and Mrs. William Howell of San Francisco, formerly Amy Hanson of Mill Valley. Other guests were Mrs. Minnie Chaffee of Mill Valley and Messrs. Howell, Walter and Casson.

VISITING DR. AND MRS. William Haynes in Sausalito is his sister, Mrs. May Hayden of Placentia in the Los Angeles area. Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Krajeski of Sausalito have had as their house guests Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Krajeski of Wilkes Bare, Pa.

HOUSE GUEST of the Dick De Berrys of Belvedere is Maureen Leonard of Sacramento, who will spend the spring vacation with the De Berrys' daughter Sue. The girls are here from the University of Nevada. Also home from the University of Nevada are Roxeanne Taft and Allison Noble of Belvedere. All are in the Delta Delta Delta house on the Reno campus. Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Noble of Belvedere, has been visiting in Newport Beach. Her sister, Lynn, a senior at the University of Southern California, is in Belvedere for the spring vacation. Lynn appeared on a recent television quiz show in Los Angeles and is being congratulated on the valuable prizes which she won.

Back from a trip to Newberg, Ore. to attend a wedding are Janet De Berry of Belvedere and Carmelita Wolfe of Kentfield. Jan was a bridesmaid. The Marin girls both attended the University of Oregon, and have many friends in the Northwest.

HEIDI FOSTER, who will become the bride of Jerry Eberly in a ceremony on April 15 at St. Paul's Church in San Rafael, was honored at a kitchen shower by Mrs. Newton Steacy and her daughter, Ruth, in San Rafael.

Women Lagging As Leaders, Barnard President Charges

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) —Women have done battle for suffrage and for equal pay for equal work alongside men.

But despite these struggles and others of women won in the 20th Century, women still drag their heels in an area where they're desperately needed—in the roles of leaders.

Instead, women are settling for a "cozy, restricted, small" existence.

These are views of Dr. Rosemary Park, president of Barnard College, who soon will move to a top post with the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA).

"NEVER HAVE we had a time in which sheer brain power is so important," said Dr. Park. "The rewards today are for brains. And it doesn't matter to which sex they belong."

Yet there exists a massive leadership gap between men and women and Dr. Park sees this "absence of qualified women for posts of leadership" a matter of "profound concern" to the nation.

As Dr. Park puts it, "President Johnson is making every effort to get women into government (with more than 120 appointments to federal posts). But we have no woman in the cabinet, for instance. The government crop just isn't ready to harvest yet."

IN EDUCATION, the leadership gap shows in absence of women as college presidents, deans, even full professors, she added.

Barnard's president gave a variety of reasons women settle "for a relatively small existence."

There was the "big retreat" to suburbia, which made it nigh onto impossible for women to run a home and be a job leader too.

Dr. Park believes this population trend is reversing, however.

Women with families are less mobile, because husband and children necessarily come ahead of career.

In turn, traditionally men are "more aggressive — the man knows he is under economic pressure of making the living for himself and family. A woman usually is responsible only for herself."

The affluent society in which women do not have to work—although 26 million of them do—also is a factor in the leadership lag. And Dr. Park believes there is a traditional lack of scope in women's aspirations.

THE SOLUTIONS? She said women need to be "encouraged to think in more factual, realistic terms about the opportunities society offers them, which seem indeed to be almost limitless."

Get all the education you can, while you're young and it's easier. College and university help to show young women that their lives "need not be cozy, restricted and small," she said.

Florence Crittenton Circle Elects Officers For Year

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

This So-Called Man Smells Money At The Expense Of Helpless Female

DEAR HELEN:

I recently met a so-called man, except he isn't if you know what I mean. He dislikes women.

However, he brags about hooking this young woman who has bought him a $700 television, two tape recorders, a hat for $25 — and then, this will kill you, she bought for herself a $400 diamond ring which she delights in telling her friends is her engagement ring.

Heaven help her, Helen. He gets a kick out of saying, "The money's there, and I'm going to get some of it!"

How low-down can a man get? — THE INSIDE STORY

DEAR IS:

. . .As low as a woman's stupidity will allow. And it appears the poor gal has a boundless amount. When you buy a man, you never get one. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

We are both college graduates, in our early 30s in a good income bracket. My husband is active in church and civic affairs, and we're well respected.

My big problem is pornographic books. Our basement has so many boxes of this cheap mostly pocket-book type of junk that storage is a problem. One dresser drawer now has $58.50 worth of the trash. Some are even expensive books.

He thinks there's nothing wrong with it, and that I'm a prude. He says he can't get rid of the books because he has no place to take them, but we have three children and surely they'll come across them someday.

Am I a prude or is he sick? — READER

DEAR READER:

I wouldn't say a man is "sick" simply because he likes to read sexy books — and I wonder if "pornography" is the right word for them.

Why not compromise? Get rid of the oldies — the trash can is fine if you can't give them away. Then set a definite monthly limit on book purchases. And read along with your husband. You may discover that what you think is terrible is no worse than parts of Shakespeare. H.

DEAR HELEN:

My wife thinks security is the only thing in life. I want to try a new job that offers a great deal of challenge, but she wants me to stick with the dull desk work I have because the retirement and benefits are good. Who wants to "exist" for 35 years, so you can "live" for maybe 10? This new job could mean a real career, and I'm young enough to take a chance. We haven't any children. What do you think? — BILL

DEAR BILL:

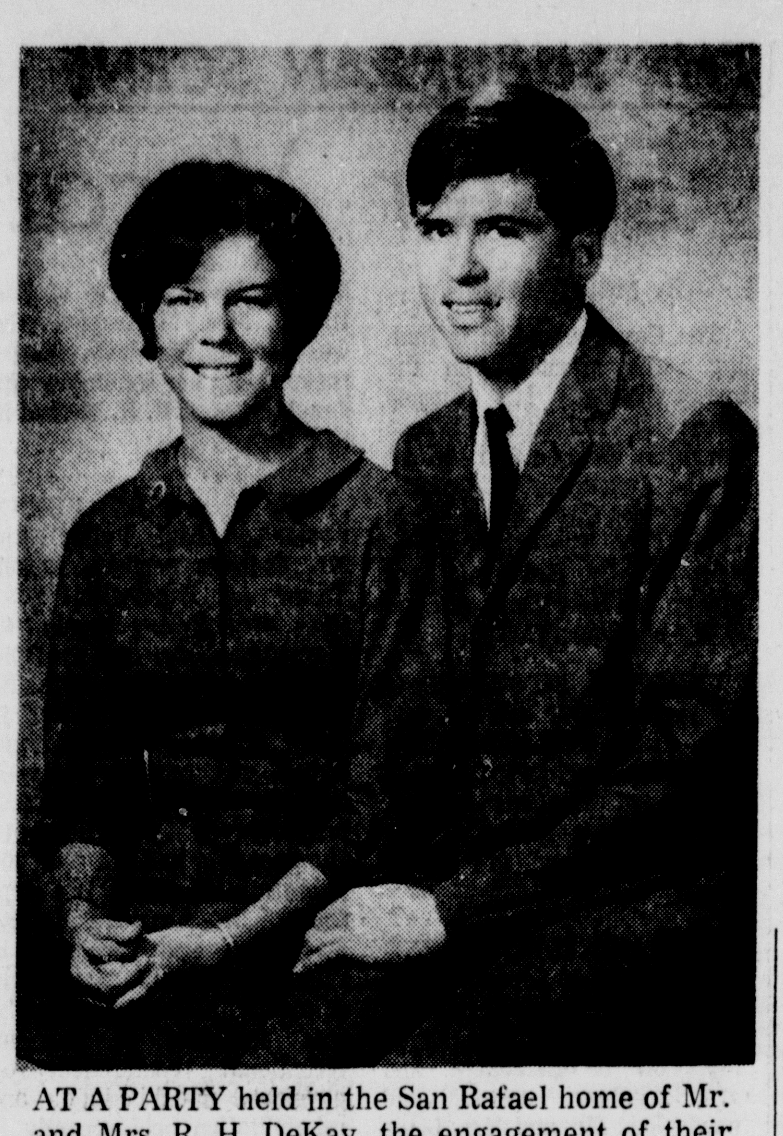
I'm with you! President Eisenhower said the ultimate security is a life sentence in a penitentiary — and that's just about equivalent to enduring a lifetime job you hate, because you're "chicken." — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About these dames who howl for female equality. You were right, Helen, let 'em serve in Vietnam. American women, will you promise not to get pregnant and waste your education? Will you give up to 45 years to a firm at the same rate men do? Will you not expect a man to give you a seat on the bus?

The Supreme Court said that separate but equal facilities were not good enough. Someday you're going to complain once too often and then bang! You'll see the inequalities of being equal. — A MAN FOR WOMENLY WOMEN.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.



AT A PARTY held in the San Rafael home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. DeKay, the engagement of their daughter, Vicki Jean, and Jerald R. Bryan of Agana, Guam, was announced.

Vicki DeKay Will Marry In The Fall

The engagement of Vicki Jean DeKay and Jerald R. Bryan of Agana, Guam, was announced yesterday at a party for 50 friends held in the San Rafael home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dekay.

Vicki, the sister of Daniel and Martha DeKay, was graduated from Terra Linda High School. She and her finance are students at University of California at Santa Barbara.

Jerald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Bryan of Agana, and the brother of James Bryan.

Vicki grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. DeKay, reside in Berkeley. The wedding will take place this fall.

Employers May Become Liable For Unpaid Domestic Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 59-year-old domestic worker disabled by arthritis discovered recently she was not eligible for Social Security benefits because her employers had failed to pay the required taxes.

Only after the woman showed her employment records to the Social Security Administration, which then forced her previous employers to pay the back taxes, did she become eligible.

A Social Security spokesman cited this case to illustrate what can happen to housewives who employ domestic help — such as maids, cooks, gardeners and handymen — but fail to pay the Social Security tax for their employees.

FIGURES indicate there may be hundreds of thousands of such employers who become liable for the unpaid taxes—currently 4.4 per cent each for employe and employer—as well as 6 per cent interest on the amount due and a penalty of up to 25 per cent.

The employer is responsible for submitting both the employe and employer share of the tax.

Federal law requires a housewife to make Social Security contributions if her domestic employe earns more than $50 during a calendar quarter. This could apply even to the family babysitter.

"We don't know how many employers and employes should be paying Social Security taxes," the spokesman said. "But we know that in 1965, the last year for which we have figrues, 1.27 million employers reported wages paid to household employes covered by Social Security.

"The total number of employes reported by these employers was 1.46 million," she added.

The Census Bureau said, however, that about 2.4 million persons were employed as domestics during January though it did not know how many of them might be earning less than $50 per quarter from an employer.

THE BUREAU said it can be assumed that many more households than 2.4 million employ domestic help since one maid might work in several homes each week.

"We do know all employes and employers are not reported," the Social Security spokesman continued. "The housewife is not like the businessman. Even if she knows the law, she is not used to making records and often considers this a nuisance."

One problem confronting some housewives is the domestic who refuses to work if her Social Security tax is reported because these figures can be cross-checked for income tax purposes.

But if the housewife fails to pay the tax, she remains liable for it because there is no statute of limitations. And the cook or maid loses her eligibility for all or part of her Social Security benefits.

Elizabeth Ann Palmer Weds Harvey Klyce At St. Paul's

Elizabeth Ann Palmer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Palmer of Mill Valley, became the bride of Harvey Raymond Klyce of San Rafael on Saturday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Klyce of San Rafael, the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Klyce of Mill Valley and the great-grandson of Mrs. Harvey A. Klyce of Mill Valley.

For the ceremony performed at 2 p.m. by the Rev. John Riley, the bride wore a floor length gown of ivory satin trimmed with English lace.

Maid of honor was her sister, Ellen Palmer of Mill Valley, and bridesmaids were her sister, Eileen Palmer of Mill Valley, and Nancy Thomas, Andrea Fama, Dorrie Kaufman and Barbara Reedy, all of San Francisco.

They wore full length Empire styled gowns of pale yellow crepe, and the maid of honor's gown had a yellow lace overdress.

Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Ron Klyce of San Rafael, and ushers were his brothers Tom and Robert Klyce of San Rafael, the bride's brother, Scott Palmer, and Richard Creighton of Mill Valley and Will Gillet of Newport Beach.

After a honeymoon at Pebble Beach the couple will live in Newport Beach since Harvey is in his senior year at University of California at Irvine. He plans to work toward doctorate degree and is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

The new Mrs. Klyce was graduated form Tamalpais High School and attended College of Marin and Shasta Junior College. She has completed the first semester at St. Luke's School of Nursing in San Francisco.

She has two more brothers, Eric and Edward Palmer of Mill Valley and is the granddaughter of Mrs. Capitola Hargrove of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Prudence Hoskovic of Paradise.

Harvey was graduated from San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin and Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. He has another brother, Kevin Klyce of San Rafael.

PACIFIC ISLAND CRAFT — This picture of a Polynesian double canoe used on long voyages by Pacific island natives is among Pacific navigational material collected by Charles Borden of Muir Beach and on exhibit at the Mill Valley Public Library.

Christianity And The Arts Series Slated

A six-week series of lectures, demonstrations and discussions probing the current relationship of Christianity and the arts has been scheduled by the First Methodist Church of San Rafael.

The special classes, conducted by professional artists and theologians, will be held Wesnesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. March 29 through May 3 at the church, Ross Valley Drive and Miracle Mile.

Topics to be presented are:

March 29: "The Language of Relationship Between the Contemporary Fine Arts and Christianity," Rev. Laird Sutton.

April 5: "The Language of Pottery and Related Arts," Allan Widenhofer, potter and instructor at College of Marin.

April 12: "The Language of Experimental Films," Dr. Emory Menefee, State Dept. of Agriculture research scientist and film maker.

April 19: "The Language of Contemporary Popular Music," Rev. David Barr, chaplain to the Episcopal bishop of California.

April 26: "The Language of Drama," Paul Donetti, director of the Institute for Creative and Artistic Development.

May 3: "The Language of Poetry," Stan McNail, poet and editor of "Galley Sail Poetry Review."

Pacific Natives' Sailing Skills Shown By Relics

An exhibit of early South Pacific navigational "stick charts" and models of long-voyaging craft, loaned by Charles Borden of Muir Beach, is on display at Mill Valley Library.

The charts of sea movements, the mariner and writer explained, "are unique among early sailors, and were widely used by a voyaging island people who had no paper to record memories of sailing experiences and representations of oceanic areas." The charts used cowrie shells to indicate positions of atols and islands. The lines and curves of pandanus and coconut palm reprsent crests of the sea as affected by islands and reefs.

The charts were read only by leaders of expeditions, Borden said, who guarded their secrets from their own people. The charts "became a part of early Pacific history and recorded the accumulated knowledge of generations as the art of navigation was passed on from father to son," he related. "They were not measured distances, "but were the very personal recordings, observations and calculations of each individual navigator who made them."

The effect of land on trade wind wave patterns, Boren said, "can be seen for more than 20 miles by a skilled island navigator, who could also estimate the elevation of a star to within half a degree or less by finger span of the hand."

Borden's latest book, "Sea Quest," is the current book-of-the-month of the Dolphin Book Club.

Mint Employees Will Be X-Rayed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Mint announced yesterday it will X-ray employees by a "metal detector" and search them if "unexplained metal" is detected.

The new security measures begin next Monday, when the mint reopens with its full work force. Half of the 505 employees have been laid off the past 10 days during an inventory to determine if any coins had been stolen.

Youngster Not Hurt In Fall From Auto

A 2-year-old Larkspur girl escaped injury when she fell from her father's moving car at 6:40 p.m. yesterday at Tamalpais and Montecito drives in Corte Madera, according to Corte Madera police.

Patricia Spratt, 2, was taken to Marin General Hospital by ambulance after she fell from the car driven by Gullen Spratt of 1 Boardwalk, Larkspur, but she was not injured.

"Boondocks," slang for the back country, derives from the Philippine word bundok, a remote area of Luzon.

Directors Named By Homeowners

Glenwood Homeowners Association last night elected a slate of eight directors for 1967. Outgoing acting president Paul McMullen will also remain on the board.

Elected last night were Rev. Kenneth E. Anderson, Mrs. Jane Curtis, Denny Dehnert, Dale Kline, Paul Markavage, Roy Millard, Alfred Rodriguez, and Kay Sutherland.

The board will elect officers at its first meeting.

The association also completed plans for an Easter egg hunt for Glenwood children at 1 p.m. Saturday in the churchyard of Church of the Redeemer, 121 Knight Drive.

Patrolman Aids An Injured Woman

A policeman saw a Corte Madera woman with an injured wrist trying to drive herself to the hospital at 1:14 a.m. today, and took her to Marin General Hospital in his patrol car.

Thelma Kraus of 18 Flying Cloud Course, Corte Madera, was later reported in fair condition at the hospital with a fractured wrist. Patrolman Roger Downward stopped her car when he noticed she was "driving erratically," he said. She told him she had injured her wrist in a fall at her home.

Landscape Painting Lecture Is Tonight

An art lecture-demonstration by landscape painter Ray Strong will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Frances Young gallery in the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

The Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday that the lecture by Strong, a past president of the Marin Society of Artists, would be last night.

Expert Tells Tire Buyers To Pump Up

WASHINGTO N (UPI) —A government expert has warned that following industry recommendations for tire inflation pressure could cause blowouts.

Dr. Robert Stiehler, head of the National Bureau of Standards evaluation division, told the Senate Commerce Committee yesterday that the recommended inflation levels by the auto and tire industries are too low.

Testing of tires inflated to the recommended levels produced a high rate of premature failure, he said. Because of this, he said motorists should ignore the recommendations that are usually found in the owners manual of the vehicle.

Industry overrates tire carrying capacity when it recommends low inflation levels, he said. He noted that one advantage of lower pressure is a softer ride.

But Stiehler said increasing inflation pressure to increase the tire's load carrying capacity caused faster tread wear.

Unlocked Safe Hit

An unlocked safe was robbed of $30 and a soda machine rifled of $3 early yesterday as burglars broke into the Sun Iron Works, 931 Second Street, San Rafael, through a rear window, police reported.

Alabama Schools Told To Halt Segregation

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A federal court in a sweeping, unprecedented decision today ordered the desegregation next term of all Alabama schools not already under court order and directed state officials to implement the integration ruling.

Ninety-nine school systems were included in the decree—the first court desegregation order aimed at state officials, from the governor down, on a statewide basis.

Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace, whose husband-predecessor George C. Wallace has long fought integration, together with school authorities were directed to take affirmative steps to end all racial discrimination in the schools.

State officials were not available for comment immediately.

"Faculty members and staff members, facilities and activities, as well as student bodies, must be desegregated to such an extent that there no longer exists in the Alabama public school system discrimination of any sort or to any degree that is based upon race or color," the judges wrote in an opinion accompanying the decree.

The unanimous decision struck down Alabama's tuition grant law under which pupils may draw state funds to attend private schools.

Named in an injunction against enforcing discrimination were Gov. Lurleen Wallace, who is president of the State School Board; members of the board, and the state school superintendent.

Art Auction Set April 1

The eighth annual art auction of the Marin Society of Artists is planned for April 2 at the Frances Young Gallery of the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Silent bidding will begin at 1 p.m. with larger works auctioned verbally at 2 p.m. Preview will be March 30 through April 1 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Auctioneer will be Marvin Sweeton. Proceeds will go to the society's building fund and annual awards fund.

INDIANA COMMUNITY 'BOMBED'

A barber shop and a nearby tavern in Dugger, a rural Southwest Indiana town, got unexpected visitors yesterday—500-pound non-fused bombs bound for Vietnam. They were part of a shipment aboard a semi-truck trailer which was hit by an Illinois Central freight train. No injuries were reported. (AP Wirephoto)

Federal Aide's Son Misses Court Date, Angers Judge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Keith R. Goldsmith, 23-year-old son of U.S. Commissioner Richard S. Goldsmith of Mill Valley, angered a San Francisco Municipal Court judge yesterday by failing to appear for arraignment on a narcotics charge.

The young man was arrested Saturday in a raid on a San Francisco apartment by state narcotics agents. The warrant for the raid had been signed by Commissioner Goldsmith, who had no idea at the time that his own son would be among these seized.

The other seven pleaded innocent at their arraignment and preliminary hearing was set by Muncicpal Court Judge Joseph G. Kennedy for May 3 at 2 p.m.

It was reported that Goldsmith had failed to appear because he was taking final examinations at Stanford University.

Judge Kennedy said Goldsmith "took it on himself" not to appear and that the young man's independent action had "raised the ire of the court." The judge called this "a form of contempt" and said, that "he of all people should have appeared, especially as he had been released on his own recognizance."

Judge Kennedy turned down a request by Goldsmith's attorney for a continuance of Goldsmith's case until next week. The judge told the Independent-Journal: "To do otherwise would have been to discriminate. I felt he should appear as soon as possible like the others."

Goldsmith, who lives at the family home at 21 Birch Avenue, Mill Valley, is now scheduled to be arraigned tomorrow.

Others arrested in the raid on the San Francisco apartment of Darrow K. Erlin, 22, were Erlin and his wife, Eloise, 21; their boarder, Robert B. Babon, 26; Roderick W. Miller, 24, of San Francisco; and three Sausalitans, Catlain H. Cisco, 25; Dona L. Hunt, 25, and Donald A. Frederiksson, 40.

Narcotics agents said they found both LSD and marijuana in the apartment.

Station Owner Slain By Robber

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—A service station owner was found shot to death early today in what sheriff's deputies described as a murder-robbery.

The victim was Oscar J. Scruggs, 52, Santa Rosa.

Scruggs' wife told investigators he was called to the station late last night by a man who reported his rented car was operating improperly. She said her husband became suspicious after the call and took his revolver with him.

Scruggs was shot twice, possibly with his own gun, in the head and chest. Deputies said a third bullet was fired through a plate glass window of the station.

Beard Growing Starts April 1

Beard growing will start April 1 in Novato in preparation for the annual Western Weekend, scheduled for June 18-25 this year.

Entry blanks for the beard contest are available at Novato barber shops. Contestants must be clean-shaven on starting day.

Novato Unified School District has agreed to let Novato High School students grow beards for the contest, publicity chairman Leroy Chapman said. The students will compete in a separate category.

Awards will be given for the best mutton chops, novelty style beard, Abe Lincoln, Van Dyke, longest beard and the grand winner "best of show" beard.

Building Contract Let For White Hill School

The Fairfax School District Board last night awarded a contract for construction of White Hill School to low bidder Ira W. Coburn, Inc., of San Rafael at $315,442, contingent on approval by the state Department of General Services.

Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said the district hopes to start construction April 1 if state approval is granted in time.

Ideal Construction Co. of Novato bid $206,854, but asked to be released as the bid contained a mathematical error. The board agreed.

Added to the cost will be installation of paving and fencing, for which bids were submitted by the square foot and linear foot.

The district's teachers presented a proposed new salary schedule which would cost approximately 4.5 per cent more in salaries for the 1967-68 school year, or $18,000.

The increase would not be a percentage increase on the present schedule, but a new schedule of salary steps and classes. Classifications would be broken into five steps instead of the present eight steps, each step upward requiring another 15 units of college credit.

The new schedule would range from $6,000 to $11,000 a year, compared to the present $5,616 to $10,004. Instead of the present system in which a teacher receives two annual $300 payments for a master's degree, the new schedule would add $300 per year to the salary of master's degree holders.

The teachers also proposed the district pay group insurance costs of up to $10 a month per teacher.

Fairfax School District Board also:

PORTABLES — Postponed a decision on purchase of two portable units until more exact income figures are available. The units will be needed next fall until White Hill School opens.

STAFF — Authorized hiring three more teachers, including one returning from sabbatical leave. The additions will bring the staff to 38 teachers.

ENROLLMENT — Heard a report that enrollment is now 1,024 students, compared to 990 at this time last year.

Boys Nabbed In Car Theft Spree

Sausalito police yesterday arrested two 17-year-old boys for stealing five sports cars in the last week, reported Chief Edward S. Kreins.

One of the boys, from Sausalito, was cited on five counts of auto theft and released to the custody of his parents. The other boy, from Mill Valley, was booked into juvenile hall. Three other juvenile suspects are being sought, Kreins said. The chief said the two boys admitted stealing three cars in southern Marin and two in San Francisco. They switched license plates on the stolen cars with plates they stole from other cars, Kreins said.

Aviation Commission Asks For Schedule On Runway

The Marin County Aviation Commission last night asked the county public works department for some schedule on cost and timing on extension of runway after the first phase of construction at the Marin County Airport.

Public works Director Donald R. Frost said he doubted that the second phase could be financed in the next fiscal year.

The project this year will build a realigned runway 2,200 feet long. Eventually, 1,100 feet will be added in the second phase.

Commissioners agreed to further study of zoning around the airport before the planning commission's recommendation for resort-recreation commercial and industrial zone is heard by county supervisors.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said he had recommended shortening of the commission's proposed airport ordinance to make it more workable. Commissioners earlier had complained about Bruce's acting without referring the document back to the commission. Frost said they accepted Bruce's report last night without further complaint.

The Presidio of San Francisco, home of the U.S. Sixth Army, was founded by the Spanish in 1776.

Sanitary Board Approves Tiburon City Yard Lease

Directors of Richardson Bay Sanitary District yesterday agreed to lease a portion of the district's Trestle Glen property to the city of Tiburon for a corporation yard.

The 100-square-foot parcel, adjacent to the treatment plant below Tiburon Boulevard, would be leased on a seven-year agreement, with a three-year noncancelable clause, for $500 a year, according to secretary Alfred O. Pratesi.

A hearing date will be set at the next meeting on a spread of assessments completed by the district's engineer, J. Warren Nute, for constructing sewer mains for eight property owners on Sky Road in Bayview Heights.

A landscaping plan was approved for a 20-foot easement over district property on Ricardo Road, requested by Hoffman Investment Co., which plans to build a grocery store at Ricardo Road and Redwood Highway.

Directors learned the chief plant operator, Max H. Graefe, has received his Class One plant operator's license from the Water Pollution Control Federation.

Directors Samuel A. Fletcher and Kurtis Webb were absent.

Dixie Date Changed

Trustees of Dixie School District will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Miller creek School, a day later than normal, to discuss the need for portable classrooms in the next school year and additional Spanish, music and speech teachers on the district staff.

Quickie Copter Pads Are Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Science keeps finding new ways to wage war but the men in the field are a choosy bunch.

One that got thumbs down from the troops, the Defense Department says, was a technique of building quickie landnig pads for helicopters by having a chopper spray the ground with quick- curing polyester resin-fiberglass material.

The problem is, the Air Force found, people in helicopters are unenthusiastic about carrying out the spray operation while hovering a few feet above ground in a battle zone.

The Army also had to scrap a method of using steel nets to build helicopter platforms at treetop level — say 100 feet or so above the ground. After an investment of more than $600,000 it was abandoned because of "lack of interest," the Pentagon said.

Politburo Rebuffs Mao War Ideas

HONG KONG (UPI)—The local newspaper Star today reported the Chinese Communist Party Politburo rejected proposals by Mao Tse-tung for sending troops into combat in Vietnam, Thailand, on the Soviet border and against the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy.

Quoting its "own sources," the rightwing newspaper said chairman's proposals "very recently." It said an angry Mao now plans to fight for his war plans at the next session of the party Congress.

According to the Star, Premier Chou En-lai opposed Mao's plans for sending Chinese troops to Vietnam. It said Chou argued intervention would mean the "slaughter" of Red Army troops and give the United States an invitation to attack Communist China.

According to the newspaper, the premier argued Red Army troops on the Sinkiang-Soviet border should be reinforced but opposed Mao's plan for starting border incidents.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated Saturday

An Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District is scheduled for Saturday at Oleander Park at 10 a.m. It is open to children of all ages.

In the event of rain, the hunt will be held at the same time in the Community Building at the Recreation Center.

Water Bonds Go At Less Interest

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest announced she has awarded a $100 million state water bond issue to a syndicate headed by Bankers Trust Co., at a net interest cost of 3.69 per cent, lowest in more than two years.

This week's sale of water bonds brought the total sales from the $1,750,000,000 issue authorized by the people in 1960 to the $750,000,000 mark.

The bid was only 16 basis points (hundredths of a per cent) over the nationwide Bond Buyer index, which Mrs. Priest described as excellent. Water bonds have an average life of 34½ years, while the index measures 20-year bonds.

The last previous water bond sale was in November, when the net interest cost was 4.1096 per cent.

Fraud Clause Added To Business Ordinance

Sausalito City Council last night gave first reading to an ordinance to give the city power to revoke a firm's business license.

The regulation would empower the city to revoke a license for conduct of business in a manner dangerous to persons or property or to the public peace, health and safety, or for engaging in "unfair, unjust, inequitable or fraudulent practice."

The last clause was added last night by City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, who said the state Supreme Court recently upheld the same clause in a similar Los Angeles ordinance. The ordinance also would give the city the right to revoke any license for "failure to deliver goods, wares, merchandise or services within a reasonable time after receiving payment therefor."

A public hearing would be held before any license could be revoked, to give the license holder a chance to state his case.

The regulation was asked last month by Police Chief Edward S. Kreins to "enable the city to stop a business from operating which has been deemed detrimental to the good name of the city."

Richard Gladstein, San Rafael attorney representing the Sandalmaker, 635 Bridgeway, challenged the ordinance when it was proposed March 7, but did not appear last night. A letter yesterday to the city from the owners of the store, Ann Cost and Christine Phillips, said some mail orders had not been filled because of "poor business management" but this will not occur again.

The ordinance is not aimed at any particular business, said Mayor Mel Wax.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

SLIDE EXPENSE—Asked for a breakdown of cost of emergency work last month in the slide area behind shops and city hall on Bridgeway. The city had agreed to pay $500 as its share with five other property owners for the work, but has received a bill for an additional $373.

CORRECTION — Agreed unanimously that the Independent-Journal incorrectly reported last Wednesday that the previous night the council "balked at a plan for pay hikes for city employees. Pay hikes will be reviewed as usual when the budget for fiscal 1968 is considered, the council said.

LIBRARY — Received an offer from 42 persons who opposed the library bond measure to help "in achieving a library proposal which all citizens can wholeheartedly support." Commenting on a letter from Gene Hiller of Gene Hiller Exclusive Men's Wear, 690 Bridgeway, protesting that a waterfront library would deprive merchants of parking spaces, Wax said, "I hope the merchants will provide parking instead of having the city provide it for them." The proposed sit only takes up six parking spaces, he said. The library bonds election cost the city $1,200, reported City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

POLICE SERVICES — Deferred action on endorsing formation of a county service area for police services in unincorporated area of the county, pending more information on costs.

YACHT CLUB — Postponed to April 4 hearing of an amendment of open area district regulations to permit yacht clubs. The hearing was incorrectly on last night's agenda since it previously had been set for April 4.

RESIGNATION — Accepted resignation of James E. Muldoon from the recreation commission so he can run for the school board, and received his suggestion that Joseph W. Fontana, 506 Sausalito Boulevard, be named to the commission.

DEADLINE — Granted a "final" six-month extension to Sausalito Del Mar Associates to record final maps for three subdivisions.

LOT SPLIT — Deferred action on a lot split application by Robert H. Greene for a parcel in Marinship, pending review by the city attorney of conditions recommended by the planning commission to preserve roads proposed for the area.

WATERFRONT — Rejected Patterson's proposal, endorsed by the planning commission ,to allow permits for changes in use on the waterfront if no structural alteration is required.

MEETING — Granted $163 to Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger to attend the biennial meeting of Public Works Officers' Department of League of California Cities in Los Angeles, May 10-12.

"701" PLAN — Granted $250 to planning consultants William Spangle and Associates to prepare the city's application for federal funds for the second half of the "701" planning program.

CIGARETTE TAX — Endorsed Assembly Bill 399, which would authorize imposition of local cigarette tax of three and one-half cents per pack.

PLANNED UNIT — Gave first reading to an ordinance requiring city council review of all planned unit developments.

Poor Loser Has Good Turn Of Wit

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Fred Hodgkinson, who runs a chain of dry-cleaning establishments in Dublin, commented after backing losing horses all day at the Leopardstown Races:

"As far as I'm concerned, you can report that the cleaners were taken to the books."

INDIANA COMMUNITY 'BOMBED'

A barber shop and a nearby tavern in Dugger, a rural Southwest Indiana town, got unexpected visitors yesterday—500-pound non-fused bombs bound for Vietnam. They were part of a shipment aboard a semi-truck trailer which was hit by an Illinois Central freight train. No injuries were reported. (AP Wirephoto)

Federal Aide's Son Misses Court Date, Angers Judge

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Keith R. Goldsmith, 23-year-old son of U.S. Commissioner Richard S. Goldsmith of Mill Valley, angered a San Francisco Municipal Court judge yesterday by failing to appear for arraignment on a narcotics charge.

The young man was arrested Saturday in a raid on a San Francisco apartment by state narcotics agents. The warrant for the raid had been signed by Commissioner Goldsmith, who had no idea at the time that his own son would be among these seized.

The other seven pleaded innocent at their arraignment and preliminary hearing was set by Muncicpal Court Judge Joseph G. Kennedy for May 3 at 2 p.m.

It was reported that Goldsmith had failed to appear because he was taking final examinations at Stanford University.

Judge Kennedy said Goldsmith "took it on himself" not to appear and that the young man's independent action had "raised the ire of the court." The judge called this "a form of contempt" and said, that "he of all people should have appeared, especially as he had been released on his own recognizance."

Judge Kennedy turned down a request by Goldsmith's attorney for a continuance of Goldsmith's case until next week. The judge told the Independent-Journal: "To do otherwise would have been to discriminate. I felt he should appear as soon as possible like the others."

Goldsmith, who lives at the family home at 21 Birch Avenue, Mill Valley, is now scheduled to be arraigned tomorrow.

Others arrested in the raid on the San Francisco apartment of Darrow K. Erlin, 22, were Erlin and his wife, Eloise, 21; their boarder, Robert B. Babon, 26; Roderick W. Miller, 24, of San Francisco; and three Sausalitans, Catlain H. Cisco, 25; Dona L. Hunt, 25, and Donald A. Frederiksson, 40.

Narcotics agents said they found both LSD and marijuana in the apartment.

Station Owner Slain By Robber

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—A service station owner was found shot to death early today in what sheriff's deputies described as a murder-robbery.

The victim was Oscar J. Scruggs, 52, Santa Rosa.

Scruggs' wife told investigators he was called to the station late last night by a man who reported his rented car was operating improperly. She said her husband became suspicious after the call and took his revolver with him.

Scruggs was shot twice, possibly with his own gun, in the head and chest. Deputies said a third bullet was fired through a plate glass window of the station.

Beard Growing Starts April 1

Beard growing will start April 1 in Novato in preparation for the annual Western Weekend, scheduled for June 18-25 this year.

Entry blanks for the beard contest are available at Novato barber shops. Contestants must be clean-shaven on starting day.

Novato Unified School District has agreed to let Novato High School students grow beards for the contest, publicity chairman Leroy Chapman said. The students will compete in a separate category.

Awards will be given for the best mutton chops, novelty style beard, Abe Lincoln, Van Dyke, longest beard and the grand winner "best of show" beard.

Building Contract Let For White Hill School

The Fairfax School District Board last night awarded a contract for construction of White Hill School to low bidder Ira W. Coburn, Inc., of San Rafael at $315,442, contingent on approval by the state Department of General Services.

Supt. H. Reginald Hammond said the district hopes to start construction April 1 if state approval is granted in time.

Ideal Construction Co. of Novato bid $206,854, but asked to be released as the bid contained a mathematical error. The board agreed.

Added to the cost will be installation of paving and fencing, for which bids were submitted by the square foot and linear foot.

The district's teachers presented a proposed new salary schedule which would cost approximately 4.5 per cent more in salaries for the 1967-68 school year, or $18,000.

The increase would not be a percentage increase on the present schedule, but a new schedule of salary steps and classes. Classifications would be broken into five steps instead of the present eight steps, each step upward requiring another 15 units of college credit.

The new schedule would range from $6,000 to $11,000 a year, compared to the present $5,616 to $10,004. Instead of the present system in which a teacher receives two annual $300 payments for a master's degree, the new schedule would add $300 per year to the salary of master's degree holders.

The teachers also proposed the district pay group insurance costs of up to $10 a month per teacher.

Fairfax School District Board also:

PORTABLES — Postponed a decision on purchase of two portable units until more exact income figures are available. The units will be needed next fall until White Hill School opens.

STAFF — Authorized hiring three more teachers, including one returning from sabbatical leave. The additions will bring the staff to 38 teachers.

ENROLLMENT — Heard a report that enrollment is now 1,024 students, compared to 990 at this time last year.

Boys Nabbed In Car Theft Spree

Sausalito police yesterday arrested two 17-year-old boys for stealing five sports cars in the last week, reported Chief Edward S. Kreins.

One of the boys, from Sausalito, was cited on five counts of auto theft and released to the custody of his parents. The other boy, from Mill Valley, was booked into juvenile hall. Three other juvenile suspects are being sought, Kreins said. The chief said the two boys admitted stealing three cars in southern Marin and two in San Francisco. They switched license plates on the stolen cars with plates they stole from other cars, Kreins said.

Aviation Commission Asks For Schedule On Runway

The Marin County Aviation Commission last night asked the county public works department for some schedule on cost and timing on extension of runway after the first phase of construction at the Marin County Airport.

Public works Director Donald R. Frost said he doubted that the second phase could be financed in the next fiscal year.

The project this year will build a realigned runway 2,200 feet long. Eventually, 1,100 feet will be added in the second phase.

Commissioners agreed to further study of zoning around the airport before the planning commission's recommendation for resort-recreation commercial and industrial zone is heard by county supervisors.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said he had recommended shortening of the commission's proposed airport ordinance to make it more workable. Commissioners earlier had complained about Bruce's acting without referring the document back to the commission. Frost said they accepted Bruce's report last night without further complaint.

The Presidio of San Francisco, home of the U.S. Sixth Army, was founded by the Spanish in 1776.

Sanitary Board Approves Tiburon City Yard Lease

Directors of Richardson Bay Sanitary District yesterday agreed to lease a portion of the district's Trestle Glen property to the city of Tiburon for a corporation yard.

The 100-square-foot parcel, adjacent to the treatment plant below Tiburon Boulevard, would be leased on a seven-year agreement, with a three-year noncancelable clause, for $500 a year, according to secretary Alfred O. Pratesi.

A hearing date will be set at the next meeting on a spread of assessments completed by the district's engineer, J. Warren Nute, for constructing sewer mains for eight property owners on Sky Road in Bayview Heights.

A landscaping plan was approved for a 20-foot easement over district property on Ricardo Road, requested by Hoffman Investment Co., which plans to build a grocery store at Ricardo Road and Redwood Highway.

Directors learned the chief plant operator, Max H. Graefe, has received his Class One plant operator's license from the Water Pollution Control Federation.

Directors Samuel A. Fletcher and Kurtis Webb were absent.

Dixie Date Changed

Trustees of Dixie School District will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Miller creek School, a day later than normal, to discuss the need for portable classrooms in the next school year and additional Spanish, music and speech teachers on the district staff.

Politburo Rebuffs Mao War Ideas

HONG KONG (UPI)—The local newspaper Star today reported the Chinese Communist Party Politburo rejected proposals by Mao Tse-tung for sending troops into combat in Vietnam, Thailand, on the Soviet border and against the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy.

Quoting its "own sources," the rightwing newspaper said chairman's proposals "very recently." It said an angry Mao now plans to fight for his war plans at the next session of the party Congress.

According to the Star, Premier Chou En-lai opposed Mao's plans for sending Chinese troops to Vietnam. It said Chou argued intervention would mean the "slaughter" of Red Army troops and give the United States an invitation to attack Communist China.

According to the newspaper, the premier argued Red Army troops on the Sinkiang-Soviet border should be reinforced but opposed Mao's plan for starting border incidents.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated Saturday

An Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Terra Linda Recreation and Park District is scheduled for Saturday at Oleander Park at 10 a.m. It is open to children of all ages.

In the event of rain, the hunt will be held at the same time in the Community Building at the Recreation Center.

Water Bonds Go At Less Interest

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest announced she has awarded a $100 million state water bond issue to a syndicate headed by Bankers Trust Co., at a net interest cost of 3.69 per cent, lowest in more than two years.

This week's sale of water bonds brought the total sales from the $1,750,000,000 issue authorized by the people in 1960 to the $750,000,000 mark.

The bid was only 16 basis points (hundredths of a per cent) over the nationwide Bond Buyer index, which Mrs. Priest described as excellent. Water bonds have an average life of 34½ years, while the index measures 20-year bonds.

The last previous water bond sale was in November, when the net interest cost was 4.1096 per cent.

Fraud Clause Added To Business Ordinance

Sausalito City Council last night gave first reading to an ordinance to give the city power to revoke a firm's business license.

The regulation would empower the city to revoke a license for conduct of business in a manner dangerous to persons or property or to the public peace, health and safety, or for engaging in "unfair, unjust, inequitable or fraudulent practice."

The last clause was added last night by City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, who said the state Supreme Court recently upheld the same clause in a similar Los Angeles ordinance. The ordinance also would give the city the right to revoke any license for "failure to deliver goods, wares, merchandise or services within a reasonable time after receiving payment therefor."

A public hearing would be held before any license could be revoked, to give the license holder a chance to state his case.

The regulation was asked last month by Police Chief Edward S. Kreins to "enable the city to stop a business from operating which has been deemed detrimental to the good name of the city."

Richard Gladstein, San Rafael attorney representing the Sandalmaker, 635 Bridgeway, challenged the ordinance when it was proposed March 7, but did not appear last night. A letter yesterday to the city from the owners of the store, Ann Cost and Christine Phillips, said some mail orders had not been filled because of "poor business management" but this will not occur again.

The ordinance is not aimed at any particular business, said Mayor Mel Wax.

The Sausalito City Council Also:

SLIDE EXPENSE—Asked for a breakdown of cost of emergency work last month in the slide area behind shops and city hall on Bridgeway. The city had agreed to pay $500 as its share with five other property owners for the work, but has received a bill for an additional $373.

CORRECTION — Agreed unanimously that the Independent-Journal incorrectly reported last Wednesday that the previous night the council "balked at a plan for pay hikes for city employees. Pay hikes will be reviewed as usual when the budget for fiscal 1968 is considered, the council said.

LIBRARY — Received an offer from 42 persons who opposed the library bond measure to help "in achieving a library proposal which all citizens can wholeheartedly support." Commenting on a letter from Gene Hiller of Gene Hiller Exclusive Men's Wear, 690 Bridgeway, protesting that a waterfront library would deprive merchants of parking spaces, Wax said, "I hope the merchants will provide parking instead of having the city provide it for them." The proposed sit only takes up six parking spaces, he said. The library bonds election cost the city $1,200, reported City Mgr. George M. Patterson.

POLICE SERVICES — Deferred action on endorsing formation of a county service area for police services in unincorporated area of the county, pending more information on costs.

YACHT CLUB — Postponed to April 4 hearing of an amendment of open area district regulations to permit yacht clubs. The hearing was incorrectly on last night's agenda since it previously had been set for April 4.

RESIGNATION — Accepted resignation of James E. Muldoon from the recreation commission so he can run for the school board, and received his suggestion that Joseph W. Fontana, 506 Sausalito Boulevard, be named to the commission.

DEADLINE — Granted a "final" six-month extension to Sausalito Del Mar Associates to record final maps for three subdivisions.

LOT SPLIT — Deferred action on a lot split application by Robert H. Greene for a parcel in Marinship, pending review by the city attorney of conditions recommended by the planning commission to preserve roads proposed for the area.

WATERFRONT — Rejected Patterson's proposal, endorsed by the planning commission ,to allow permits for changes in use on the waterfront if no structural alteration is required.

MEETING — Granted $163 to Public Works Director Norman Wohlschlaeger to attend the biennial meeting of Public Works Officers' Department of League of California Cities in Los Angeles, May 10-12.

"701" PLAN — Granted $250 to planning consultants William Spangle and Associates to prepare the city's application for federal funds for the second half of the "701" planning program.

CIGARETTE TAX — Endorsed Assembly Bill 399, which would authorize imposition of local cigarette tax of three and one-half cents per pack.

PLANNED UNIT — Gave first reading to an ordinance requiring city council review of all planned unit developments.

Poor Loser Has Good Turn Of Wit

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Fred Hodgkinson, who runs a chain of dry-cleaning establishments in Dublin, commented after backing losing horses all day at the Leopardstown Races:

"As far as I'm concerned, you can report that the cleaners were taken to the books."

STRANGEST CHAPEL—Capt. Carter Tucker, chaplain for the U.S. "tunnel rats" who risk their lives to probe Red Vietnamese tunnels, uses his helmet as a altar for services underground. With the chaplain are Pfc. Donald Ellis of Eminence, Ky., and Spec. 4 William Lowry of Greenville, Mich. (right). (AP Wirephoto)

SUNDAY COMES LATE

'Tunnel Rats' Hear Rites, Blast Chapel

WITH 25TH DIVISION Vietnam (AP) — They held the service two days late in the strangest chapel you could find in Vietnam. Then, the prayers finished, more than a ton of dynamite blasted the room to bits.

The service was held by Chaplain (Capt.) Tucker for the "tunnel rats" of his battalion who had spent a week crawling around through a vast Viet Cong underground tunnel compelx 30 miles west of Saigon.

The eerie job of "running" the tunnels falls to the slight in build who can maneuver through the underground labyrinth that the Communists leave booby-trapped when forced out by advancing American troops. The job is vastly complicated by nature. Big black ants charge the flashlight-toting tunnel rats. Swarms of smaller ants can cover the tunnel's walls, ceiling and floor for hundreds of feet.

Chaplain Tucker, of Monticello, Ark., said, "Somehow it seemed fitting to hold a service close to the men who have such a terrible job. We couldn't do it on Sunday because the men were too spread out and too deep in the complex. But we made it on Tuesday."

The six men from the 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry huddled in one of the main rooms as Chaplain Tucker crawled in. His steel helmet with a black cross inked on the front of the camouflage cover was the altar. A New Testament was carried in the helmet's elastic band, normally used to hold leaves and small branches for camouflage.

"Just as Christ went into a cave to fulfill his destiny, you men are in the tunnels and caves of Vietnam fulfilling your destiny," the chaplain said.

The service was for two Roman Catholics and four Protestants.

Chaplain Tucker read St. Luke's descrption of the aftermath of the Crucifixion. "And he took it down and wrapped it in linen and laid it down in a sepulcher that was hewn in stone wherein never man before laid."

Flashlights dimly lit the chamber as the chaplain knelt before his helmet altar.

After the service, the chaplain and the six men crawled to the surface. The job of checking the tunnels for Viet Cong, weapons and documents was over. The tunnel rats began dragging charges into the complex for the final act, a chain of heavy explosions that destroyed the underground Communist camp.

Spec. 4 William Lowry of Greenville, Mich., said, "They've held services all over the place for GIs, but I've never heard of it being done for us tunnel rats. It was a nice thing to know the chaplain would crawl underground into a place like that to be with us."

Pfc. Donald Ellis of Emiter that it was the first time in his Army career that he had ever blasted a chapel.

"It was stinking and hard to breathe down there," said Spec. 4 Richard Carfora of Jersey City, N.J., "but it really was a day for me. Sometimes running those tunnels you feel like you're cut off from everything. And I mean everything."

Biologist To Talk

Dr. Lawrence Swan, professor of biology at San Francisco State College, will speak on "Life in Some Other Place" at 8 p.m. April 7 before the Marin Audubon Society in the Marin Civic Center. He also will show slides from a recent world trip.

College Choir To Be Featured On Television

The 80-voice choir of the Dominican College in San Rafael will be featured in "Christ Our Brother" presented in color over television station KPIX Friday at 1 p.m.

With the choir in the hour-long presentation will be six soloists and Hollywood and television actor Brian Keith will select scripture readings. Instrumental accompaniment will be by students and faculty at the college.

Conductor will be Winifred Baker of San Rafael and the program is produced in cooperation with the Dominican College and the Archdiocese of California.

The production is based on an original oratorio by Jolietta Smith honoring Archbishop Joseph McGucken and will receive its premiere showing in the Bay Area.

Soledad Prison Inmates Strike

SOLEDAD (UPI) — One-thousand sullen prisoners stayed in their cells today in a general strike at Soledad State prison.

The strike erupted late Monday in protest to restrictions placed on prisoners last week following the stabbing of an inmate and a fight between groups of white and Negro convicts.

Guards armed with tear gas and shotguns loaded with bird shot are stalking the catwalks ready to quell any new outbreak in violence, but so far there has been no injuries and no damage.

Marin Demos Will Seek Workers From Precincts

The Marin County Democratic Central Committee will seek its own precinct workers to work toward a 1968 election comeback.

Chairman Albert E. Gately announced at last night's committee meeting he plans to get a list of Democrats — at least two in each precinct — willing to do precinct work.

"We're not goint to be able to rely on the clubs as a group," said Gately. He said most of the Democratic clubs in the county are inactive.

Gately appointed a fund-raising committee of five, headed by Robert D. Carrow of Novato. The Democratic Central Committee is about $2,000 in the red at this time, Gately reported.

Mrs. Olive Lewis of Terra Linda, co-chairman of the Concerned Democrats of Marin, announced her group will host state Democratic Chairman Charles Warren at a champagne party on April 21 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the home of Kathleen Baird on Grand Avenue in San Rafael. After the cocktail party, a dinner at $25 per plate will be held in a private home, said Gately.

Open House Friday

The Boys Club of Southern Marin in Marin City will hold open house for adults Friday from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Club hours during the Easter school holidays will be 1 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m. Saturday hours are from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Wirtz Clears Draft Status

WASHINGTON (AP) — Half of the 250,000 draft-age men holding occupational deferments "are nenther in essential activities nor in critical occupations," Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz says.

Presented by Wirtz yesterday at a Senate hearing on draft policies, the figure was termed "an amazing statistic" by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Wirtz indicated that requests for Labor Department approval to classify occupations as critical can be fascinating. One he had to spike, he said, would have given such protection to pretzel makers.

ON-THE-JOB SOCIAL SCIENCE CLASS

James Newey, San Rafael High School student, (left), went over some Marin County road plans with Martin Prescott and Donald R. Frost, county public works director, at the Civic Center today in the YMCA-sponsored model county government program. Originally it was planned to hold a students' mock board of supervisors election yesterday, but only about half of the 27 students who enrolled in the program showed up so the election was called off.

Maunday Thursday, Good Friday Services Announced

"So Jesus rose from the table, took off his outer garment, and tied a towel around his waist. Then he poured some water into a washbasin and began to wash the disciples' feet. . . ."

Tomorrow the custom will be re-enacted throughout the Christian world — symbolic of Maunday Thursday. In the past lies Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem. Ahead are Good Friday, the day of His crucifixion, and Easter Sunday, the day He arose from the dead.

Churches in Marin will observe these two special Holy Week days with holy communion tomorrow and three-hour meditation services on Friday.

Also planned on Good Friday is a community service at 1 p.m. at the Northgate Theater in Terra Linda. "The Parable," a film on the Protestant Pavilion at the New York City World's Fair, will be shown.

Participating in the service will be Aldersgate Methodist Church, Christ Presbyterian Church, Church of the Nativity (Episcopal), First Congregational Church, and Lucas Valley Community Baptist Church,

Joining for a noon to 3 p.m. service on Good Friday at the Church in Ignacio (Episcopal) will be the congregations of the Church in Ignacio and St. Francis Episcopal Church, Novato.

Also on Good Friday, First Presbyterian Church, St. Luke Presbyterian Church and the First Methodist Church of San Rafael will hold a joint meditation service at 12:30 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church, 1510 Fifth Avenue.

As part of the Holy Week services at Hamilton Air Force Base, the Novato Community Methodist Church Choir will present "The Crucifixion," a cantata by John Stainer, at 8 p.m. Good Friday rites at the base's Protestant chapel.

Other Maunday Thursday and Good Friday services are as follows:

Teens' Arrests Solves Burglary

Recent burglary of $40 worth of amplifiers, speakers and speaker stands from the Marin Country Club at 500 Country Club Drive, Novato, was cleared up with apprehension of four teen-agers yesterday, Novato police reported.

Three other teen-agers may also be involved, police reported.

The items were taken since Feb. 17 from the Cabana Room at the club, Mgr. Edward C. Bettini of 164 Ridge Road, San Anselmo, told police.

San Rafael Driver Hurt As Car Flips

Christopher John Harrington, 23, of 1712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, suffered minor injuries yesterday at 11:35 a.m. when his car rolled over on Highway 101 at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae.

California Highway Patrol reported that his northbound car skidded broadside, then overturned. Harrington was treated for scalp cuts and bruises at Marin General Hospital.

Sidbeck Motive Robbery, Undersheriff Contends

By ROSS DAVIS

Robbery was Robert Dean Sidbeck's sole motive in entering the North Marin home of dairy ranchers Everett and Margaret Zimmerman, and surprise was the cause of their murders. Undersheriff Sidney Stinson declared yesterday.

Stinson said Sidebeck, who was sentenced Monday to life imprisonment for the slayings, last Aug. 30, disclosed this in lengthy but unemotional talks just before he was transferred from the county jail to California Medical Facility at Vacaville to begin his term.

Before his sentence, Sidbeck told a probation officer that he bludgeoned the couple to death in their bed because he learned they were attempting to gain court custody of his brother and two younger sisters.

Stinson said Sidbeck admitted he made up the story of the custody attempt, and said he went to the bedroom not to find the custody petition, but to rob the couple.

Here is what Sidbeck disclosed, according to Undersheriff Stinson: He waited outside until about 2 a.m., donned leather gloves, armed himself with an old table leg in case of trouble, and entered to loot the home.

He was near the bedroom when the floor creaked, Sidbeck related. The noise cause Zimmerman to rise up in bed. Sidbeck struck him with the table leg. The assault awoke Mrs. Zimmerman. Sidbeck then struck her, too.

Sidbeck then took Mrs. Zimmerman's wallet and cash, and cash from Zimmerman's wallet — a total from both of $79 — and left.

He took the Zimmerman car and drove it to San Francisco. There he discarded the table leg, a jacket he wore, the gloves, and Mrs. Zimmerman's wallet in a garbage can.

Stinson said Sidbeck gave no reason for concocting the petition story. He also denied needing the $79, the officer said. Stinson quoted Sidbeck as saying he already had his bus ticket to his Marine Corps base in Memphis, Tenn., and additional money to spend.

Asked if there were any possible grudge by Sidbeck against the Zimmermans, Sidbeck said, "None whatsoever. He said kind things about them. They were nice people."

He said the 18-year-old youth declared that when he arrived safely in Memphis, he somehow felt "free and clear" of any connection with the robbery-murders, that he had made no mistakes.

Sidbeck was connected with the murders by a bicycle he, rode to the Zimmerman home, stole, rode to the Zimmerman home, and left in the car's trunk. He also left a sweatshirt with his name stenciled on it near a pair of blood-stained pants with a friend.

Stinson said investigators knew a table leg was the murder weapon because a second leg found at the scene was analyzed by California Investigation and Identification Bureau in Sacramento.

It was identical to wood bits found in the Zimmerman bed and in their wounds, he said.

Telephone Booth's Coin Box Removed

A coin box was removed from a telephone booth behind Thrifty Drug Store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center last night, Corte Madera police discovered at 1:40 a.m. today.

Police discovered at the same time that planter behind the W. T. Grant Co. Store and a scale behind Thrifty Drug had been damaged at the center.

Warrant Issued In Pistol Case

A warrant for arrest of Clifford W. Alasker, 48, charged with assault with a pistol, was issued in Marin Municipal Court yesterday when he failed to appear for preliminary hearing.

Judge Hadden W. Roth, who had released Alasker without bail, set new bail at $5,500. Alasker, of Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax, allegedly fired a pistol at Dorsel Reynolds, 48, of San Jose, on Feb. 18 at Alasker's residence.

Reed Trustees Study Handicapped Program

Reed School District will consider expanding its program for severely handcapped children, either on its own or in cooperation with the county, trustees decided last night.

The expansion was discussed after Jack Usilton, principal of Reed School, reviewed the district's special program for gifted and handicapped children.

Supt. H. Joseph Edgington was directed to research the proposed new program.

The board adopted a new policy to require all teachers and non-teaching employees to have tuberculin tests every year, instead of every two years.

Mrs. Margaret Macauley, chairman of the salary committee of the district's non-teaching employees association, presented a preliminary proposal for pay raises which would cost the district $11,900 plus vacation benefits of about $3,000.

The board indicated it was willing to consider a completely revised salary schedule, rather than percentage increases. Mrs. Macauley agreed to have the committee study comparable districts and salary schedules and present the board with a firm proposal at the April 18 meeting.

Teachers salaries were also discussed. The teachers association salary committee has been preparing a proposal. Chairman Allen West told the board he would present it at the May 2 meeting.

Social Workers Strike Is Backed

SACRAMNETO (AP) — The Sacramento Labor Council voted an official sanction last night for social workers in their seven-week-old strike against Sacramento County.

The council's 57-2 vote to approve the strike overturned a Feb. 21 decision by the same council to deny labor approval to what is described as the first strike by public employees in this county's history.

Social workers hailed the sanction as endorsement of their position against Sacramento County supervisors and vowed renewed efforts.

"The county says that we are not officially on strike—but now organized labor says that we are," exclaimed Bill Mashburn, social worker spokesman.

Burglar Hits Meg's Residence

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret, her family and her household staff slept through a burglary at her London home today. Officials said the burglar was captured soon after with the property from the home.

The intruder entered the Kensington Palace apartment of the princess and her husband, Lord Snowdon, by removing an 18-inch pane of glass from a ground-floor window. He went through the nursery playroom and escaped with gold coins, jewelry and a pair of binoculars.

Later a patrolling policeman found a man crouching in some bushes at the back of the palace. He was taken to Kensington police station, and the stolen articles were recovered, officials reported.

Catholics Offered Three Adult Courses

The Archdiocesan Councils of Catholic Men and Women in Marin plans to offer three adult courses in Christian education beginning April 6 at Marin Catholic High School, Kentfield.

The courses are "Scripture. The Gospel of St. John," "The Sacrament of Matrimony," and "Questions in a Changing Church." They will be offered Thursdays during April from 8 to 9:30 p.m. A fee will be charged.

Hub Trustees Are Asked To Adopt 'Middle School'

A proposal that San Anselmo School District adopt the "middle school" concept, with sixth, seventh and eight grades in a single school, was presented to district trustees last night.

The proposal came from a citizen committee on school finance, in a report by Don Mansell.

He suggested the present intermediate (seventh and eighth grade) schools take in the sixth grade, with elementary schools ending with fifth grade. This is the plan being tried at Santa Venetia School in the San Rafael district, and proposed for the Mill Valley district.

This, said Mansell, would eliminate buying a new school site when and if widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard for extension of Highway 17 cuts into the Isabel Cook schoolgrounds. Sale of the Cook School property could finance additional classrooms, he suggested.

He proposed also that Yolansdale School, now extenidng only through fourth grade, be cut back to kindergarten and first and second grades.

Jerome Kenney said the citizen committee, through its questionnaires, had received various suggestions for improving teaching, but they indicated no particular area of dissatisfaction.

James B. Cowperthwaite said pupil population has been increasing by about 38 students a year, but that next year the district will probably have about 70 new students because St. Anselm's Parochial School plans to reduce the size of its classes. He said half of the increase comes from Sleepy Hollow.

Cowperthwaite estimated the ultimate size of the district at 2,600 pupils, compared to the present 2,100.

District board also:

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation, effective in June, of Brookside School Principal Jack A. Graves, who has been with the district two years, and who plans to study for his doctorate at University of California.

COUNTY COMMITTEE — Nominated John J. Holm for a vacancy on the County Committee on School District Organization created by the resignation of Dr. John Hamren.

TRANSPORTATION — Heard from the Sleepy Hollow Parents Club that the club would like to see bus transportation continued for kindergarten through third grade, and possibly fourth grade pupils.

SALARIES — Set discussion of district salaries for next school year for the April 25 board meeting.

SOCIAL SCIENCE — Heard a report on efforts to improve the district's social science program.

CLASSIFIED EMPLOYEES — Accepted the resignation of Clerk Millie Bannister, and approved hiring Judy Amweg as clerk and Grady Stroud as custodian.

MEETING DATE — Set the second board meeting in April for April 25, instead of April 18.

State Employees, Reagan To Meet

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California State Employes Association has scheduled a meet-California State Employees Asing with Gov. Ronald Reagan next Tuesday to discuss the governor's announced layoffs.

Reagan says the elimination of more than 5,000 state jobs will aid his administration's economy program. A large portion of these jobs are in the State Mental Hygiene Department and the State Public Works Department.

"The meetings will be informative sessions," said Theodore L. Lauer, president of the employee group which represents about 111,000 state workers.

New Foot Pump Helps Inflate Rubber Boats

WASHINGTON (SS) — Inflating air mattresses, rubber boats and other inflatables is less of a chore with a new all-rubber pump that is manipulated by the foot to create air pressure. Shaped like a hemisphere, it comes in two sizes.

The unit which includes a 22-inch-long connecting hose is useful also for rekindling a campfire or blowing dirt or water out of hard-to-reach places.

Anthropologist Cites Indians' Good Living

When it was Indian country, this "was as close to paradise as you can get," Adam Treganza, anthropology professor of San Francisco State College, told a Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society audience yesterday at Reed School.

The term "Digger Indians" Treganza called a "historical accident." He said it was "no reflection on the mentality of California Indians," including the Miwok of Marin.

Due to the influence of the missions, which caused the Idians to disappear gradually, mostly through contact with "civilized diseases," history of Marin Indians has been difficult to document and has been done almost entirely through archaelogy, he reported.

Treganza has been literally digging for information on both Indians and Sir Francis Drake at Drake's Bay for several years. Research has uncovered Ming porcelain in Indian possibly from a Manila galleon wrecked about 1525.

Pieces of crude Japanese porcelain were also found in Indian mounds at Drake's Bay. Apparently the Indians tried to use them to make earrings, weapons or tools, Treganza theorized.

The Miwok Indians in Marin made waterproof baskets, which they used as food and water containers and in which they could even boil water, he related.

Glucose Test Kit

WASHINGTON (SS) — Designed for clinical chemistry laboratories, a new test kit provides a simplified manual method for making quantitative blood glucose determinations. The test is based on the formation of a green-colored complex of blood serum glucose and ortho-toluidine in glacial acetic acid. The intensity of the green color, compared with a known glucose standard included, indicates the amount of glucose present in the blood.

$87,500 SAN RAFAEL
Historical interest, tasteful restoration and outstanding location combine to make this Victorian classic a most remarkable property. All the rooms are spacious and they include six bedrooms, a separate dining room, library, family room and den. Delightful grounds with specimen trees and heated pool. Other amenities too numerous to mention make this the ideal home for the large family that is entertainment-minded.

$39,500 SAN RAFAEL
We have just listed a most captivating home high on the Bret Harte ridge. The large lot enjoys a panoramic view and the charming one-bedroom house is perfectly suited for a bachelor or young couple. Or it could serve as the nucleus for a major addition. This is a sleeper and must be seen to appreciate its potential.

$29,500 FAIRFAX
This expandable two-bedroom contemporary has a style and flair that is truly exciting. And you can see four counties from its spacious decks. A perfect home for entertaining and maintenance is at a minimum.

We also have 2 lots in KENT WOODLANDS which in our opinion are the most splendid building sites in Marin County. Both afford the ultimate in view, sun, privacy and value. They are priced at $29,500 and $64,950.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

On Tuesday, the 11th day of April, 1967 at the hour of 10:00 a.m., at the Fourth Street entrance to the County Court House in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, BAY VIEW AUXILIARY CORPORATION, a California corporation, Trustee, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, in lawful money of the United States all payable at the time of sale, the real property situated at 194 Knollwood Dr., San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows, to wit:

PARCEL ONE: That portion of Lot 1, as shown on the map entitled, "Map of Peacock Gap, Unit Six, a Condominium," filed April 6, 1965 in Book 13 of Maps at page 10, Marin County Records, shown and defined as Unit 23 on that certain Condominium Plan recorded June 23, 1965, in Book 1953 of Official Records at page 147, and, as defined in the Condominium Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions, recorded June 23, 1965, in Book 1953 of Official Records at page 189.

PARCEL TWO: An undivided 3.14 per cent, interest, as tenant in common in and to that portion of Lot 1, Peacock Gap, Unit Six, shown and defined as the "Common Area," on said Condominium Plan and in said Condominium Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions.

Said sale will be made without convenant or warranty regarding title, possessions or encumbrances to satisfy the obligation secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in that certain deed of trust executed by JOSEPH E. MOSER and HAZEL MAE MOSER, also known as Hazel Mae Shaffer, his wife, Trustor, to BAY VIEW AUXILIARY CORPORATION, a California corporation, Trustee, for the benefit and security of BAY VIEW FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a Federal corporation, dated the 26th day of November, 1965, and recorded on Dec. 23, 1965, in the Office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 2011 of the Offical Records, at Page 183.

Notice of Default and Election To Sell said real property was recorded on the 7th day of October, 1966, in Book 2084 of Official Records, at Page 146 in the Office of the Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California. This notice is given in compliance with the demand heretofore made on BAY VIEW AUXILIARY CORPORATION, a California corporation, Trustee, by BAY VIEW FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a Federal corporation, Beneficiary.

Germ Cutlets For Starving Are Developed

SYDNEY, Australia (SS) — A process which could convert millions of tons of industrial wastes into lifesaving "germ cutlets" for Asia's starving millions has been developed by research workers.

Work on the process, led by Dr. F. J. Moss of the University of New South Wales, could eventually save millions from starvation, the researchers hope. The process is a new technique of continuous fermentation. Dr. Moss has spent the past 15 years working on it.

It can be used to convert waste by-products from industries such as paper making, sugar processing, flour milling and milk separation into lifesaving proteins. The proteins emerge in the form of a powdery yeast which has little taste. The yeast can be added to ordinary food boosting its protein value.

Fermentation, which is used in brewing and many other industries, is a bacteria—or germs—generation process. Dr. Moss's technique is that it is continuous. This means that the incredibly fast reproduction of germs never stops. The resulting mass of germs is a type of edible yeast.

Sub Doctors Aid BART Planners

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Navy doctors were among specialists consulted by the State of California in drafting up-to-date regulations for building tunnels for the 72-mile Bay Area Rapid Transit System.

Doctors familiar with the Navy's submarine and other underwater operations submitted suggestions for revising work condition rules for the men who will build miles of underground tubes for the transit network.

A major concern in formulating the rules was the hazard of high air pressure necessary to keep water out of the tunnels.

Americans Flocking To Get Educations

CHICAGO (UPI) — More people are going to school than ever, according to the Commerce Clearing House, which reports that nearly 56 million Americans — more than a fourth of the entire population—were enrolled in schools of all educational levels in the fall of 1966.

This was an increase of nearly 1.5 million over the previous years. About 50 million students were receiving instruction in grade and high schools. The rest were attending universities, colleges, professional schools, junior colleges, normal schools and teachers' colleges.

HIS WORLD IS DOOMED — Pietro Arata, 84, doesn't want to be saved from the waters of the man-made lake menacing his poor hillside. He is defying efforts to get him to leave his Mariposa foothills ranch. (UPI Telephoto)

Progress Threatens Old Man's Peaceful Sierra Mountainside

By JERRY HENRY

MARIPOSA (UPI) — Thirty years ago a man turned his back on society and settled on an acre of rocky land beside the thundering Merced River in the wilds of the central California foothills.

Today, progress rapidly is turning the river into a lake that will bury his world under tons of water, but 84-year-old Pietro Arata will not leave.

Mariposa County welfare workers, who can now only reach the area by boat, repeatedly have asked the aging recluse to leave, but he does not want to discuss it.

"I have lived in this state for 64 years," he says. "I've seen wet years and dry ones. Don't worry about me."

But the filling of the new Exchequer Dam will mean more than a wet year for Pietro. Officials say the projected lake will inundate his farm under some 75 feet of water. Water already is seeping among the floorboards of the first cabin he built, forcing him to construct a new one of pasteboard cartons and driftwood farther up the brush covered canyon slope . . . a slope officials say is too steep for him to go much higher.

"You can hardly hike up it it's so steep," said May Kleiman, Mariposa County welfare director.

Welfare department workers periodically take provisions into the isolated homestead by boat. They have informed Pietro that due to recent Social Security legislation he has accumulated about $64. They have told him a local rancher offered him a plot of ground to live on free of charge for the rest of his life. But Pietro is not interested. for 30 years he has lived off his own toil and an acre of land at Horseshoe Bend. He says he intends to continue to do so.

The hermit of Horseshoe Bend says he did not actually isolate himself from society. Civilization withdrew from him. After coming to this country from his native Italy in 1902, Pietro drifted from job to job and spent a good deal of time prospecting for gold on the foothill rivers. He first saw the site of his present farm in 1915.

When river prospecting played out civilization drew back out of the rugged, oak dotted foothills. But Pietro returned to the farm site in 1937 and, except for two trips to nearby mining towns which are now abandoned, he has never left.

Through the years Pietro created a self-sustaining farmstead. He built a two-room cabin from driftwood, most of which was the remains of a flooded railroad station farther up the river. He planted wheat, fruit trees, vegetables and raised a herd of goats for milk and a flock of chickens for eggs.

Although weflare workers occasionally bring food, Pietro still is largely dependent on his own labors for his sustenance. But the spreading waters of the lake soon will make even his most strenuous efforts futile.

Already the lake has covered most of his original land. Several storage and tool shelters are under water. His goat pens are flooded and the herd has gone wild, returning occasionally to ravage his crops.

Yet the old man refuses to give up. He has hacked out a new plot of ground for seeding higher up the hill and settled in his makeshift cabin. Continued pleas and offers by welfare workers do not phase him.

"I live by my own labor," he says. "I've never accepted charity. I know more people need it more than me."

Pacifists Confident Of Arrival

HONG KONG (AP) — Seven American Quaker Pacifists and a television producer sailed for Communist North Vietnam with medical supplies today despite a State Department warning that their trip was illegal.

Phillip Drath, San Rafael, Calif., told newsmen the 50-foot yacht Phoenix was carrying $10,000 worth of medical supplies as "a gift to civilian victims of the American bombing of North Vietnam."

Dr. Earle Reynolds, skipper-owner of the Phoenix, said the party had "every confidence we will reach Haiphong. We have received two cables from North Vietnam that we will be welcomed."

Accompanying the group was Richard Faun, a New York-born Canadian who is producing a television documentary of the voyage for the Canadian Broadcasting Corp., and William Heick, a San Francisco television cameraman associated with Faun.

The party also includes Horace Champney, Yellow Springs, Ohio; Robert Eaton, Philadelphia; Betty Boardman, Madison, Wis., and Ivan Massar, Boston.

Youth Pleads To Check Charge

Guilty plea to possession of a check with intent to defraud was entered in Marin Municipal Court yesterday by Paul Michael Ashley, 18, of Fort Polk, La.

Judge Hadden W. Roth dismissed two other felony counts following the plea. He certified the case to Marin Superior Court for judgment at 9:30 a.m. Monday

Ashley had worthless checks totaling over $200 March 5-7 in Corte Madera, officers said.

Weather, Legal Tieup Blamed

Weather and litigation were blamed yesterday for a temporary holdup of work on the Bret Harte sewer line.

Norris M. Rawles, district administrator, told a session of the San Rafael Sanitation District Board that recent heavy rain was the main troublemaker.

With the first prolonged dry spell, he expected contractors B and E Pipeline Co. of Hayward to resume full-scale work on the $211,555 project to replace septic tanks with sewer lines along both sides of Bret Harte Road from Highway 101 northwest to Twain Harte Lane.

Rawles said the sewer assessment district was also awaiting conclusion of litigation involving claims for damages filed by four residents of the Bret Harte area. The claims have already been rejected by sanitation district directors.

A meeting of parties concerned will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in his office, he said, and a full report will be made to the April 6 meeting of the district board.

Poverty War Office Space On Agenda

Marin County Economic Opportunity Council will discuss permanent housing for its staff when it meets today at 8 p.m. in St. Andrew Presbyterian Church, Marin City. The staff is now housed in an apartment at 951 Drake Avenue.

Victor H. Cary, new director of the council, said the agenda also would include review of administrative procedures.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Coughing, Smoking And The Links To Lung Cancer

VAN DELLEN

Cancer of the lung is more prevalent among those with a cigarette cough, especially when the hacking is severe in nature. A 10-year survey of 6,137 men in Philadelphia showed that this malignancy among coughing smokers was twice that of their non-coughing counterparts.

When modearte smoking leads to coughing we suspect the individual is more susceptible to the irritating effects of smoke. Cancer is more prevalent in this group than in heavy smokers who also hack every day.

IT IS BELIEVED that coughing stems from changes in the cells lining the bronchi. These cells are precancerous and are found in smokers but disappear after the individual stops the habit. In other words, the condition is reversible, but one malignant changes occur it is too late. It usually takes 10 or more years for a precancerous cell to become malignant.

Smoker's cough is more likely to lead to emphysema than cancer. This is becoming an increasing problem, especially when the condition reaches a chronic stage with shortness of breath, wheezing, frequent cough, and fatigue. The only preventive is "no smoking." The results of treatment are discouraging after the bronchi are narrowed by scarring, and the lung tissues have lost their elasticity. Shortness of breath occurs when stagnant air is trapped in the distended air sacs.

AIR POLLUTION also causes chronic bronchitis with coughing. Many ex-smokers have a recurrence of their cough when exposed to the noxious fumes, gases, and soot in the air. Some return to cigarets, not realizing that smoking is concentrated air pollution and aggravates the situation.

The lungs are self-cleansing, but there is a limit to their tolerance.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

RUPTURED ULCER

K. V. Y. writes: What happens when a duodenal ulcer ruptures?

REPLY

The contents of the stomach, including its acid, pour into the abdominal cavity and produces a chemical peritonitis. When this occurs, the patient may feel as if he had been kicked in the abdomen by a horse. Any movement aggravates pain, hence the victim refuses to budge and must be transported to the hospital via ambulance for surgery.

NOT VALVULAR

S. V. R. writes: What is a functional murmur?

REPLY

One appearing in an otherwise normal heart. A scraping sound resembling a murmur may occur every time the heart beats against the lung. There are various ways in which functional murmurs can be differentiated from those caused by a deformity of the valve (leakage).

MARROW CHANGES

W. C. writes: What is a bone marrow test done for?

REPLY

To diagnose a variety of blood disorders such as leukemia and certain types of anemia. The bone marrow is the main blood-forming organ and the secretions obtained via the puncture offer valuable and early clews on the nature of the blood disturbance.

ONLY ONE LENS

D. V. writes: I had a cataract removed six months ago. Can another cataract grow over the same eye?

REPLY

No, because cataract involves the lens and there is only one lens to the eye. When removed, this structure cannot regrow.

Today's Health Hint—Muscles weaken from lack of use.

Students Shout Down Hershey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service system, was philosophical after shouting demonstrators forced cancellation of his speech at Howard University.

"In this time of uncertainty, with students unsure of draft deferments, such a demonstration can be expected," Hershey said last night after university officials hurried him off the stage of Howard's Cramton Auditorium.

Hershey had just risen to speak when some 35 persons in the audience started chanting slogans like, "America is the black man's battlefield," and, "Draft beer, not students."

Students Get Warnings On Flag Respect

SAN MATEO (UPI) —College of San Mateo students have been warned they face possible suspension if they fail to stand silently while the flag is raised each day.

Dean William Welsh reprimanded five students for not obeying state law, which requires those passing the immediate flag area to stand silently during the ceremony. He warned that a second offense would probably bring a temporary suspension.

The flag is raised daily at 7:53 a.m.

Dean Walsh said the students usually say they are ignorant of the law or that they oppose U. S. policy, particularly in Vietnam.

The college newspaper, The San Matean, said the ceremony was "absurd."

Petty Theft Pleaded

Robert Wayne Kitzmiller, 31, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to petty theft from Hertz Rent-A-Car Corp. in San Rafael on March 12.

He is to be sentenced April 21 at 3 p.m. Kitzmiller, of 197 Bolinas Road, Fairfax, originally was charged with forging a lease form from the car rental firm.

Church Asks Millionaire's Will Probe

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Temple Baptist Church of Los Angeles is petitioning for probate of the will of Mrs. Estelle Birch, the first wife of the late millionaire A. Otis Birch.

The action in Superior Court yesterday raised speculation that probate of the will might affect the inheritance of Birch's second wife, Mrs. Pearl Choate Birch, 59.

Mrs. Estelle Birch died last Oct. 9 at the age of 93.

Her husband died in Texas last week at 95.

A short time after his first wife died, the elderly millionaire married Mrs. Choate, who had been the couple's nurse.

Estelle Birch's will, signed July 18, 1962, left her entire estate to her husband. But it specified that if he should die before final distribution, the proceeds would be divided equally among 16 charitable, religious and educational institutions.

Temple Baptist Church was among legatees named.

TV REVIEW

Ousted CBS News Chief, His Story

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Fred Friendly, who quit as president of CBS news when the network showed Lucille Ball reruns instead of the Senate Vietnam hearings, has written a book which begins with this 1938 quote by E. B. White:

"I believe television is going to be the test of the modern world, and that in this new opportunity to see beyond the range of our vision we shall discover either a new and unbearable disturbance of the general peace or a saving radiance in the sky. We shall stand or fall by television—of that I am quite sure."

THE THEME

The fact that this statement on an introductory page of quotes is the first paragraph in the book, which is entitled "Due to Circumstances Beyond our Control . . .", is indicative of its direct relationship to Friendly's 1966 decision to quit. For although Friendly's career in broadcasting and long association with Edward R. Murrow provide much of the basic material of the book, the statement by White three decades ago uspplies the theme.

Later in the book there is naturally an account of the showdown over the televising of the Vietnam hearings. And now Friendly is video adviser to the Ford Foundation, and an architect of its plan for a domestic satellite system that could be used to establish an interconnected, live network of non-commercial television.

FOUNDATION

But I must say that the part of the book that fascinated me the most was the earlier section that traced the various people and places along the line that helped plant the seeds of principle that resulted years later in the resignation. The actual quitting and the transfer to the Ford Foundation are, of course, so recent that they are newsworthy in a dramatic sense. But there is nothing quite as interesting as tracing the influences on an important man, and Friendly has been one of electronic journalism's pivotal figures.

SOME INFLUENCES

Perhaps some quotes from the book will help indicate these influences. At one point, Murrow is quoted as saying: "We, like everyone in this business, are going to be judged by what we put on the air; but we also shall be judged by what we don't broadcast."

Another Murrow statement, a famous one to the Radio-Television News Directors Association in Chicago in 1958, is recalled:

"If there are any historians . . . a hundred years from now and there should be preserved the kinescopes for one week of all three networks, they will find recorded, in black-and-white or color, evidence of decadence, escapism and insulation from the realities of the world in which we live . . . if we go on as we are, then history will take its revenge, and retribution will (catch) up with us."

Stereo Tapes Stolen

Theft of 10 stereo tapes worth $50 from her unlocked car was reported today to Mill Valley police by Mrs. Claude Hearn, 263 East Blithedale Avenue. They were taken yesterday, she said, while the car was parked on Carmelita Avenue.

Clay Is 5-1 To Whip Folley In Tonight's Title Fight

Independent-Journal Sports
FOURTH SECTION Wed., March 22, 1967 37

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone but Zora Folley and the small group around him seems to feel that the 34-year-old veteran is just another opponent for heavyweight champion Cassius Clay at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The swaggering, 25-year-old all-conquering Clay is a 5-1 favorite to whip the mild-mannered, quiet No. 1 contender in the televised 15-rounder.

There has been virtually no wagering on the outcome except for a reported few bets on whether the fight will go the distance. It's 5-13 that it doesn't go the limit and 5-9 it doesn't go 10 rounds.

The fight will be telecast live and in color on KTVU, Channel 2, beginning at 7 p.m. Veteran Don Dunphy will call the action.

Starting time is 7:30 p.m., PST.

It's a ripe situation for an upset along the lines of Clay's seventh round technical knockout of Sonny Liston as a 7-1 underdog in Feb. 25, 1964, Jersey Joe Walcott's seventh round knockout of Ezzard Charles in 1951 at 6-1 odds and Jimmy Braddock's 15-round decision over the 10-1 favored Maxie Baer in 1935. All three were just considered opponents.

Clay, winner of all 28 of his pro fights and making his seventh title defense within a year and his ninth in all, seems supremely confident.

For a change he hasn't predicted the round but he has appeared as arrogant at times as a night club headwaiter with a packed house.

But Angelo Dundee, his shrewd trainer, has forecast a fourth round knockout victory for his charge. Earlier he had predicted it would end "somewhere between the seventh and 11th round."

Folley, unbeaten in his last 12 fights in a 3½-year span, said "I'm going to win by decision or by a knockout. I'm going to be the next heavyweight champion."

He doesn't seem convincing. Still, the scientific challenger from Chandler, Ariz., has the tools to win if he gets lucky. He has a 74-7-4 won-lost-draw record, including 40 knockouts. He has been stopped five times, the last by Doug Jones in the seventh round on Dec. 15, 1962.

"I'm grateful to him for giving me my first chance at the title," said Folley, a father of eight. "But that won't prevent me from trying to knock him out."

Despite the long odds, indicating the Korean War veteran hasn't a chance, the fight will do good business.

The Garden expects a crowd of upwards of 16,000 to pay between $300,000 and $400,000 at prices ranging from $8 to $50.

There will be national television into the homes by MSG-RKO General and closed circuit television into theaters and arenas in a couple of cities. New York and a 90-mile radius of the metropolis willbe blacked out of the television.

The fight will be telecast live to Canada, Mexico, Japan and some European countries.

Clay will earn about $300,000 on his 50 per cent of the Garden receipts and a $150,000 guarantee from the ancillaries—television, moves, etc.

Folley will collect about $70,000 on his 15 per cent of the gate and $25,000 from the ancillaries. His largest purse before was the $40,000 he received for being knocked out in the third round by Sonny Liston at Denver in

Warriors Off To Fast Start In NBA Playoffs

JIM GILMARTIN

A Fine Irish Gentleman Would Spar With Wilt

TALL ORDER—My blurb here Monday that Wilt Chamberlain would train in San Rafael for his (ha-ha) proposed world title fight with Cassius Clay brought some comment from my fine friend, San Anselmo's Patrick O'Connor, well-known hauler and gardner about Marin.

"Fir-r-rst of all, Shamus," he began in his native tongue, a son of County Cork, he, "let me say that such a fight would be de-gr-r-rading to bawxing. Mohammed McAli would make Wilt the O'stilt look foolish and that would be bad and sad for a mahn who, after all, is a world champion in his own right. Wilt should stick to basketball, he should. I would be sur-r-pr-rised if American bawxing autharities would autarize such a farce, I would."

PATRICK O'CONNOR

A former bawx. . . er . . I mean boxing . . . champion of Ireland, Patty O'Connor quickly added (that he did): "Now, if the fight is scheduled and if Wilt comes to our fair county to train, tell him I'll apply for a job as his spar-r-r-ing partner. Oh, that I'd love. It would be fun, it would."

Reach Doesn't Mean A Thing

Now waitaminute, Patrick me boy. Wilt stands seven feet tall and has a reach from here to Belfast, he does.

"Blarney," laughed me Irish pal, "reach doesn't mean a thing. In boxing it's all speed and timing. Just tell Wilt that I'm available as a spar-r-ring par-r-rtner and I'll show you—and him—what I mean."

This would seem like a brash challenge for a man of 46 summers who hasn't laced on a glove in 15 years, but O'Connor has the credentials to support his enthusiasm.

First, his strenuous work has kept him physically sound.

Secondly, he has the moxie acquired from nearly 400 bouts. Undefeated in 58 amateur tiffs, Patrick turned professional in 1939 and answered the call more than 300 times a a pro, winning his country's middle and lightheavyweight titles in the mid-1940s.

Won 18 Straight Bouts

Seeking greener pastures, Patty came to the U.S. in 1947 and won 18 straight bouts. In his 19th main event here he suffered from double vision and dropped a split decision (no pun intended). "I feared my health was in danger," he recalled the other day on an office visit, "so I called it quits."

Patrick, who moved to California in 1950 and lives with his lovely wife, Ann, at 38 Mariposa Avenue, San Anselmo, still follows boxing avidly, rates the late Max Baer as his all-time idol and Mohammed McAli as "a truly gr-r-reat fighter who knows his trade, although I don't like all his jabbering."

I think Patrick would be a good sparring partner. I think he would belabor the bejabbers out of Wilt's shins. That I do.

Willie's Marriage Plans

SAY HEY—Willie Mays' sudden interest in moving to Marvelous Marin could stem from the fact the Giants' captain plans to marry in October and yearns for privacy.

He told my undercover agent in Phoenix the other day: "I can't go anywhere without being hounded by somebody who would like to talk to me or would like my autograph. You can count on one hand the number of times I went out for dinner last year. My goal now is to find someplace to live where I can have privacy and live my own life. Maybe Marin would be the answer to my dreams."

Marin Catholic Netters Triumph

Marin Catholic's tennis team swept both doubles matches to nip Cardinal Newman of Santa Rosa, 3-2, yesterday in a dual tennis meet.

John Barzini won a singles match for the Wildcats while Jim Gardner and Paul Ingles and Ttienne Rolin and Ed Guttleng teamed up to take doubles matches.

Illinois' Argument Isn't Over

CHICAGO (UPI) —Big Ten commissioner Bill Reed says that as far as he is concerned the case of the University of Illinois slush fund is closed, but it appeared today that Reed has not heard the last of it.

If the Illinois House of Representatives concurs with the State Senate, there will be a legislative probe of the university's relations with the Big Ten. And with everyone in the capital from Gov. Otto Kerner downward—officially at least—irate over the knuckle rapping Illinois received from the Big Ten. House approval appeared assured.

Closed the case might be with the resignations Sunday of football coach Pete Elliott, basketball coach Harry Combes and the latter's assistant, Howard Braun, but yesterday Dr. David D. Henry, the university president who twice went to bat for his coaches, saw to it the matter remained before the public. He released a detailed audit of the slush fund from which illegal payments were made to athletes, in violation of conference rules.

One of the interesting aspects of the audit was that it showed that about $4,000 remains of the "slush," and that there was more than one slush fund.

Henry announced that the money remaining in the slush funds had either been returned to donors or handed over to the university foundation.

Roger Maris Talks About Quitting

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — The pain lingers for Roger Maris.

Maris, still smarting over his clashes with sports writers, says he's disgusted and might quit baseball after this season.

"I'm sick and tired of what I had to go through," the St. Louis Cardinal outfielder declared yesterday. "I'd be better off in some business back home in Kansas City."

Maris, traded to St. Louis from the New York Yankees, went on to say:

"I would have quit after last season. The deal made me change my mind but that doesn't mean I'll be back next year."

What if he has a great year with the Cards? Will he change his mind?

"I don't think so the way I feel now. It's just my personal feelings about what happened over the years," he said.

Maris was bathed in publicity in 1961 when he cracked Babe Ruth's record by smashing 61 home runs.

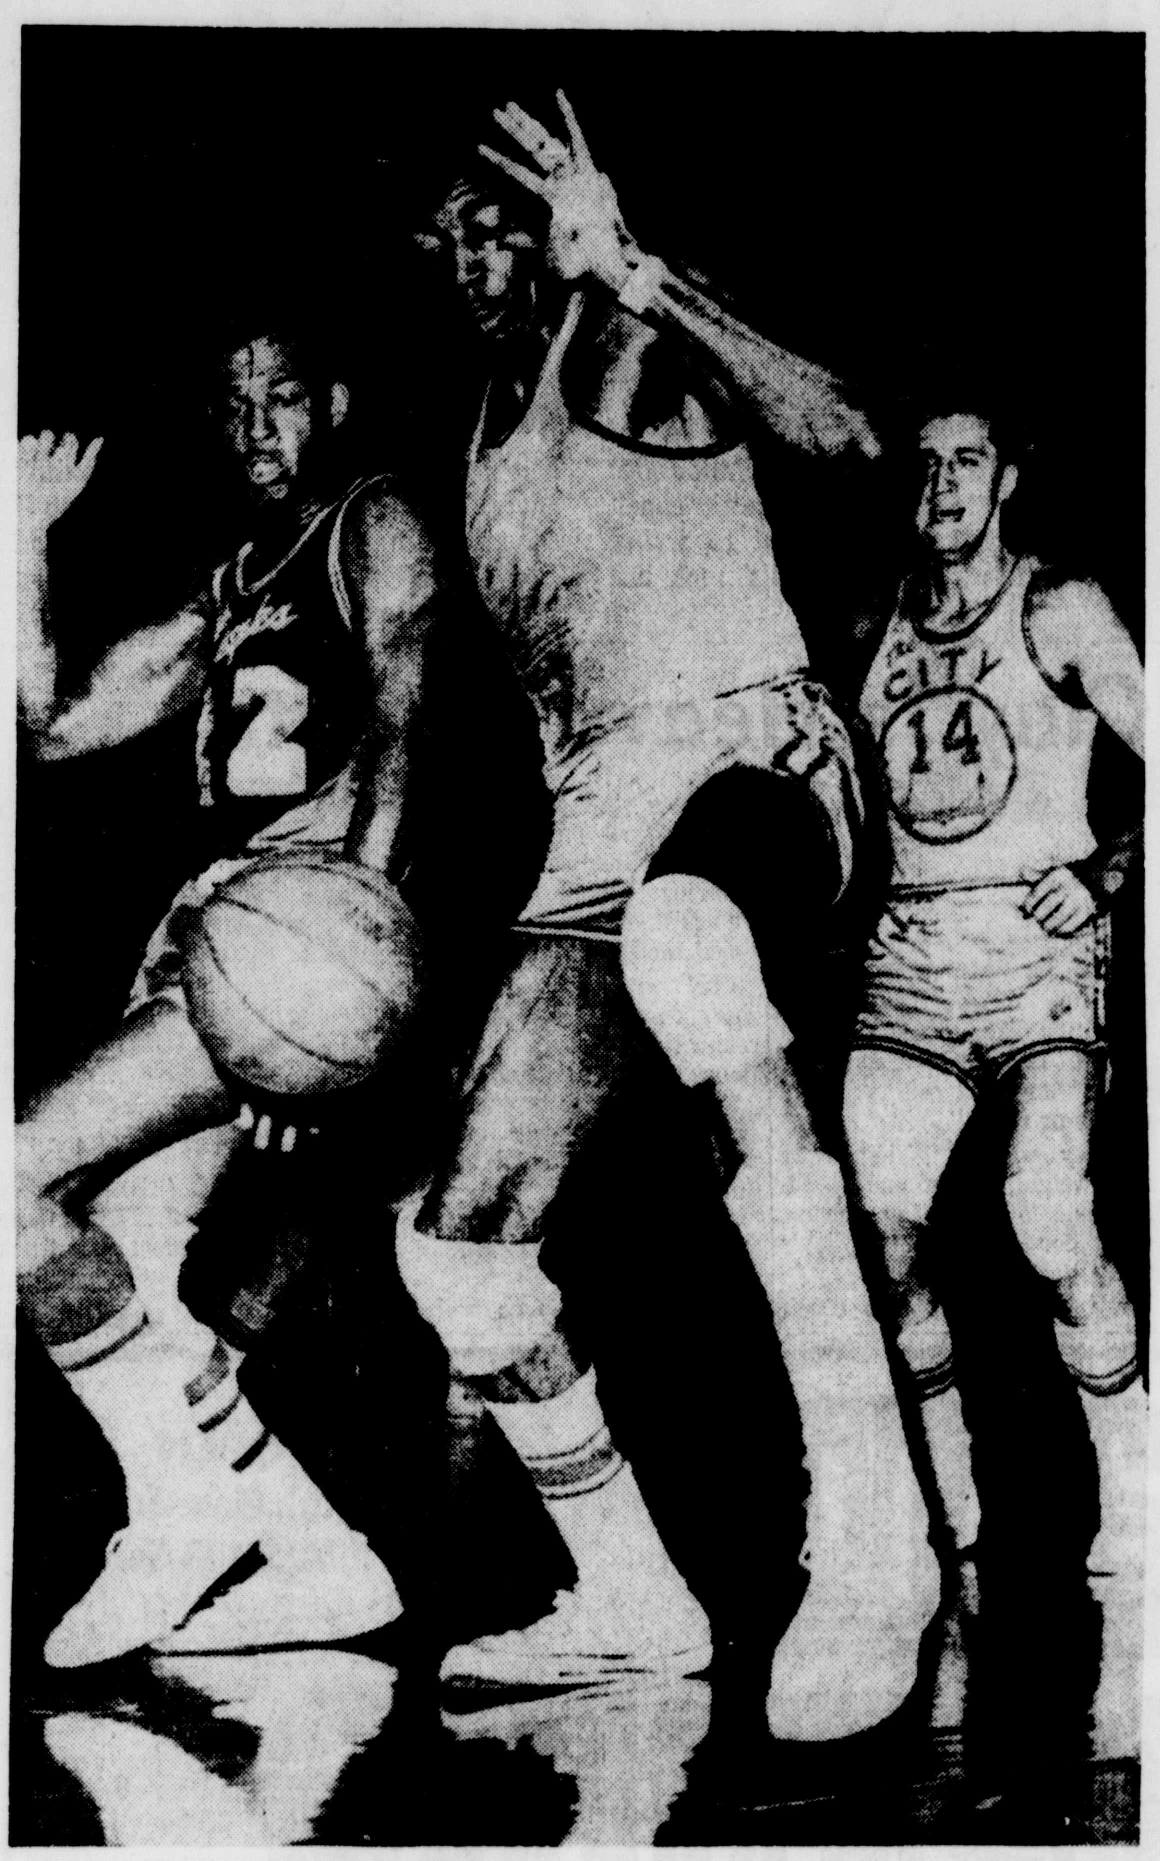
"Perhaps, I wasn't able to handle it," he conceded, "but if you saw what I had to go through you'd understand.

"I tried to be fair and honest with everybody," he said. "But I found out they didn't play the game the same way.

"You couldn't imagine the stuff they asked," he said. "Tolerance can last just so long."

Las Gallinas Golf

Mrs. Berridge Marsh and Mrs. Tom Richardson finished one-two at the Las Gallinas Golf Club's "Closest to Hole No. 3" contest yesterday. Mrs. Marsh came to within 15 feet while Mrs. Richardson finished at 20½ feet from the cup.



HELLO THERE, BALL — Los Angeles Laker Elgin Baylor (22) and San Francisco Warrior Nate Thurmond (42) seem mesmerized by the basketball as they move downcourt during their NBA playoff game in Oakland while Warrior Tom Meschery follows the play.

Marin Catholic Nine Moves Into Finals; Novato Wins

Marin Catholic High School's baseball team moves into tonight's finals at the Healdsburg Invitational Tournament after a 4-0 victory over the host team last night.

Redwood High was knocked out of the same tournament after losing 4-3 to Analy.

Novato High School's baseball team erupted for a five-run first inning en route to a 9-2 rout over Oceana High last night in the Terra Nova High School Invitation at Pacifica.

Terra Linda's baseball game at Hogan High of Vallejo was postponed due to wet grounds and rescheduled for Saturday at Vallejo's Foley Park.

Marin Catholic will take on Analy tonight at 8 o'clock in the finals of the Healdsburg tourney. The Wildcats got there on some nifty one-hit pitching from Tom Schalick in yesterday's semifinal game against Healdsburg High.

Schalick, a senior, was superb for the 'Cats as he fanned 12 while walking four during the seven-inning stint. That lone safety was a bunt.

A double by Mike Giacomini staked Schalick to a 1-0 lead in the Wildcat half of the first. In the bottom of the fifth Rick Denning squeezed in Mark Carbone with the second run and Giacomini knocked in another with a single in the same inning. Carbone tripled home Marin Catholic's final run in the sixth frame.

For Novato, winning hurler Steve McNalley, a sophomore, spun a nifty two-hitter during his five-inning chore to contribute to the victory, which advanced the Hornet baseballers into this evening's semi-finals.

The Novato nine bunched a pair of walks, a single and a fielder's choice to score their first run, then first baseman Barry Berringer followed with a 400-foot, three-run homer to make it 4-0, more than enough.

McNalley, who walked four while striking out one, was helped by reliever Chuck Ashworth, a senior who did a yeoman's job for last year's Marin County Athletic League co-champs.

DeMont Stars In Vegas Meet

Ken DeMont of the Marin Swim Club was a lonesome swimmer at the North Las Vegas Fifth Annual Invitational Swim Meet last week but he had plenty of awards to keep him company when it was all over.

DeMont, swimming in the 10-and-under division, captured five first places at the meet packed with Southern California entries. That gave him the individual high-point trophy for the meet. He won in the 50 butterfly, the 50 breaststroke, the 200 freestyle, the 100 freestyle and the 200 individual medly.

Lindsay Wins Golf Honors

Phil Lindsay took the Class A division of the Mill Valley Golf Club's Ham Shoot golf tournament Sunday by firing a 75-16-59.

Paul Bauman was runnerup at 71-10-61, followed by Kevin Hogan at 69-7-62 and Pete Fisher, 77-15-62.

It was a four-way tie for first for Class B honors among Bill D'Alvy, 86-21-65, Gene Quinn, 90-25-65, Paul Taylor, 83-18-65, and Tommy Thompson, 84-19-65.

Jim King Haunts Former Mates

OAKLAND (AP) — Jim King has joined the ranks of players who return to haunt the team which traded them away.

As the San Francisco Warriors grabbed the first game of their basketball playoff series 124-108 from Los Angeles last night, King led the winners with 22 points. All but two of them came in the first three quarters as the Warriors roared far ahead.

Los Angeles had King the past three seasons and then put him on the draft list. Chicago's Bulls grabbed him. The Warriors then traded Guy Rodgers for King and Jeff Mullins.

DEPTH

The two were supposed to provide back court depth and this they have done. With Al Attles ailing, Mullins started against the Lakers and hit for 17 points in the first 16 minutes before suffering an ankle injury.

Rick Barry was held scoreless the first quarter but the Warriors nevertheless jumped out to a 33-25 lead as Nate Thurmond held control of the boards.

Without Jerry West, out of action because of an ankle injury, the Lakers couldn't cope with their intrastate foes who finished first in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

As Barry found the range, San Francisco built a 100-69 advantage early in the fourth period and then coasted.

"I still believe it will be a close series," declared San Francisco Coach Bill Sharman, "but in a short series, the first game is always a key.

"This was a real team effort and Nate's best game since he came back after being injured. This was the way we had played before he got hurt."

CROWD OF 11,106

A crowd of 11,106 at Oakland's Coliseum Arena watched the opening game in the best three of five series. Action moves to Los Angeles tomorrow night with the Lakers hoping West can play.

Laker Coach Fred Schaus kept the dressing room door locked 28 minutes after the opener and then had little to say.

Archie Clark, the rookie from Minnesota, led Laker scorers with 26 points but 10 of these came after the cause was lost in the final stanza. Elgin Baylor scored 18.

Barry wound up with 21 while Thurmond and Fred Hetzel each tallied 14 and reserve Tom Meschery had 13.

Mullins stayed in San Francisco for treatment today while the rest of the squad traveled to Los Angeles ot work out in the Sports Arena.

Litchfield's Wins Battle, Loses War

Litchfield's of San Rafael got a whopping baseball victory but the big prize faded away in the wake of a New Pisa triumph.

Litchfield's, with a wispy hope for a title tie in the San Francisco AAA Winter Baseball League, blasted Chops of San Bruno, 15-3, in San Francisco last Sunday but league leading New Pisa won a forfeit decision to capture the crown. Litchfield's was trailing by a game.

The victory ended the season on a wood-cracking note. Doug Wilson led the rampage with six runs batted in on a pair of triples and a single as Litchfield's amassed 19 hits against Chops. The game was called in the seventh inning.

Ron Gasper, who had two hits, clinched the team batting title with a .464 mark edging Dave Barni at .450. Hurler Elray Laughlin notched up his third win without a loss.

Juan Wants To Talk $$ In Person

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Holdout righthander Juan Marichal has promised to report for contract talks with the San Francisco Giants Saturday, but that big contract is still unsigned.

Even if Juan signs quickly, he may have lost his traditional season-opening starting assignment to Gaylord Perry, a 21-8 winner last year.

There's hardly time for Marichal to warm up before the opener April 11 in St. Louis.

Giants Manager Herman Franks talked Marichal, 25-6 in '66, into coming to Phoenix to talks terms—but not into yielding a single dollar from his $110,000 demand.

Juan was offered $100,000 by owner Horace Stoneham, who said that's final.

GREAT START

Perry, a National League sensation last year, is off to a great start in the Cactus League. yesterday, he went six innings as the Giants beat the Cubs, 8-4. That's the longest any pitcher has gone this spring.

It also was the first game anyone has scored against Perry. The righthander has pitched 14 innings in 3 games, allowed 9 hits, 3 runs, and 2 walks and has fanned 9.

He yielded only one hit, rookie Clarence Jones' homer, in five innings, but gave up two singles and a triple for two runs in the sixth.

Marichal has upped his pay sensationally — $40,000, $50,000, $62,500 and $75,000 in successive years, 1963-66. And he has rewarded handsomely with 25-8, 21-8, 22-13 and 25-6 winning seasons.

He probably will have a personal confrontation with Stoneham Saturday. All other Giants will be in Palm Springs, Calif. to start a three-game series with the California Angels.

A BREEZE

The Giants had a breeze against the Cubs after Willie McCovey's three-run double started a six-run first inning. McCovey is having trouble with his hands—blisters on the left, a cut on the right and they're painful every time he grips a bat. He's hit 8 doubles and batted in 7 runs while hitting only .229.

Rookie Cesar Gutierrez hit his third triple in three days and Dick Dietz homered as the Giants won their fifth in a row for an 8-4 record. Ken Holtzman yielded all the Giant runs; then rookie Dick Nye, another lefthander, hurled three scoreless innings.

Even Pitchers Slide In Cookie's School

PHOENIX—"I love this," said Cookie Lavagetto. The Good Kid was referring to his bunting, sliding and base running school in back of the centerfield fence at Phoenix Municipal Stadium.

Lavagetto never tires teaching baseball fundamentals and this year his daily drills in basics are beginning to show results in a big way. That's because Lavagetto is giving every Giant an intensive review course in the art of sacrificing, running the bases and sliding.

EVEN THE pitchers are taking sliding lessons along with their bunting drills. The only pitcher Cookie has been unable to sweet talk into practice sliding is Art Mahaffey. Bob Bolin went through the sliding routine during the weekend and has a king-sized strawberry to prove it.

"I had to use my own bat to win ball games for myself last season," said Bolin. "But, Cookie," added the dry-humored Bolin, "this is getting to be a bit ridiculous—asking pitchers to win games by sliding."

NEVERTHELESS, Bolin and the rest of the pitchers, excluding Mahaffey, went along with Cookie because he is literally the Good Kid of the Giant coaching staff.

"It's tough to say no to Cookie," said Bolin, "because everything he teaches in that school of his makes good sense. I just hope I retain half of it. And he's been showing me a new move to first for which I'm grateful. Maybe I'll be more adept at keeping runners closer to the bag this season. I hope so."

LAVAGETTO HOPES he will be able to take his bunting machine and other paraphernalia to Candlestick Park so that lessons learned in the spring will not be forgotten.

"They must be reviewed and reviewed and then reviewed some more to be effective," said Cookie who got his initial nickname in 1933 when Cookie DeVincenzi, then owner of the Oaks, signed Lavagetto to his first professional contract. He became known as Cookie's boy.

DURING THE ensuing three decades in which he was player, manager and coach, Cookie picked up his Good Kid title. Every teammate was a good kid to Cookie. It was only natural for them to turn the title around on Cookie.

It's easy to understand why baseball fans in his native Oakland loved Cookie the same way Brooklyn fans later idolized him. Nobody ever heard Cookie put a rap on anybody. If he doesn't have something good to say about his fellow man, Cookie keeps his mouth shut.

EVEN BILL BEVINS had a good word for Cookie and Bevins was the Yankee pitcher who was one out away from a no-hitter in the fourth game of the 1947 World Series when Cookie belted a pinch double that drove in two winning runs.

Kezar Hosts High Style Soccer Game

It's football time again?

Football — Italian style, and for that matter continental style, visits San Francisco in high style tomorrow when Roma of Italy and Flamengo of Rio De Janeiro match heads and feet in an international exhibition soccer match at Kezar Stadium at 8:30 p.m.

The match will feature two of the top teams in international soccer circles and will help acclimate fans to the opening of the initial season of pro soccer in the U.S. next month.

Roma is one of the top teams in Italy and Europe. Its roster reads like a roll call for a pizza factory with such stars as Sensibile, Pizzaballa, Scala, Sirena, Enzo, Carpenti, Tamborini, Olivieri and Domenicacci.

It's one of the highest-scoring and up and coming teams around with an average age of 22. Older players are Giochino Peiro from Madrid and Jurgen Schutz from Germany.

Flamengo's top scorers are Juarez and Cesar, two epic-sounding names if there ever were any.

There will be a 6:45 preliminary between the Northern California Latin All-Stars and the San Francisco selection to play in the annual John Kennedy Cup Tournament in Vancouver in May.

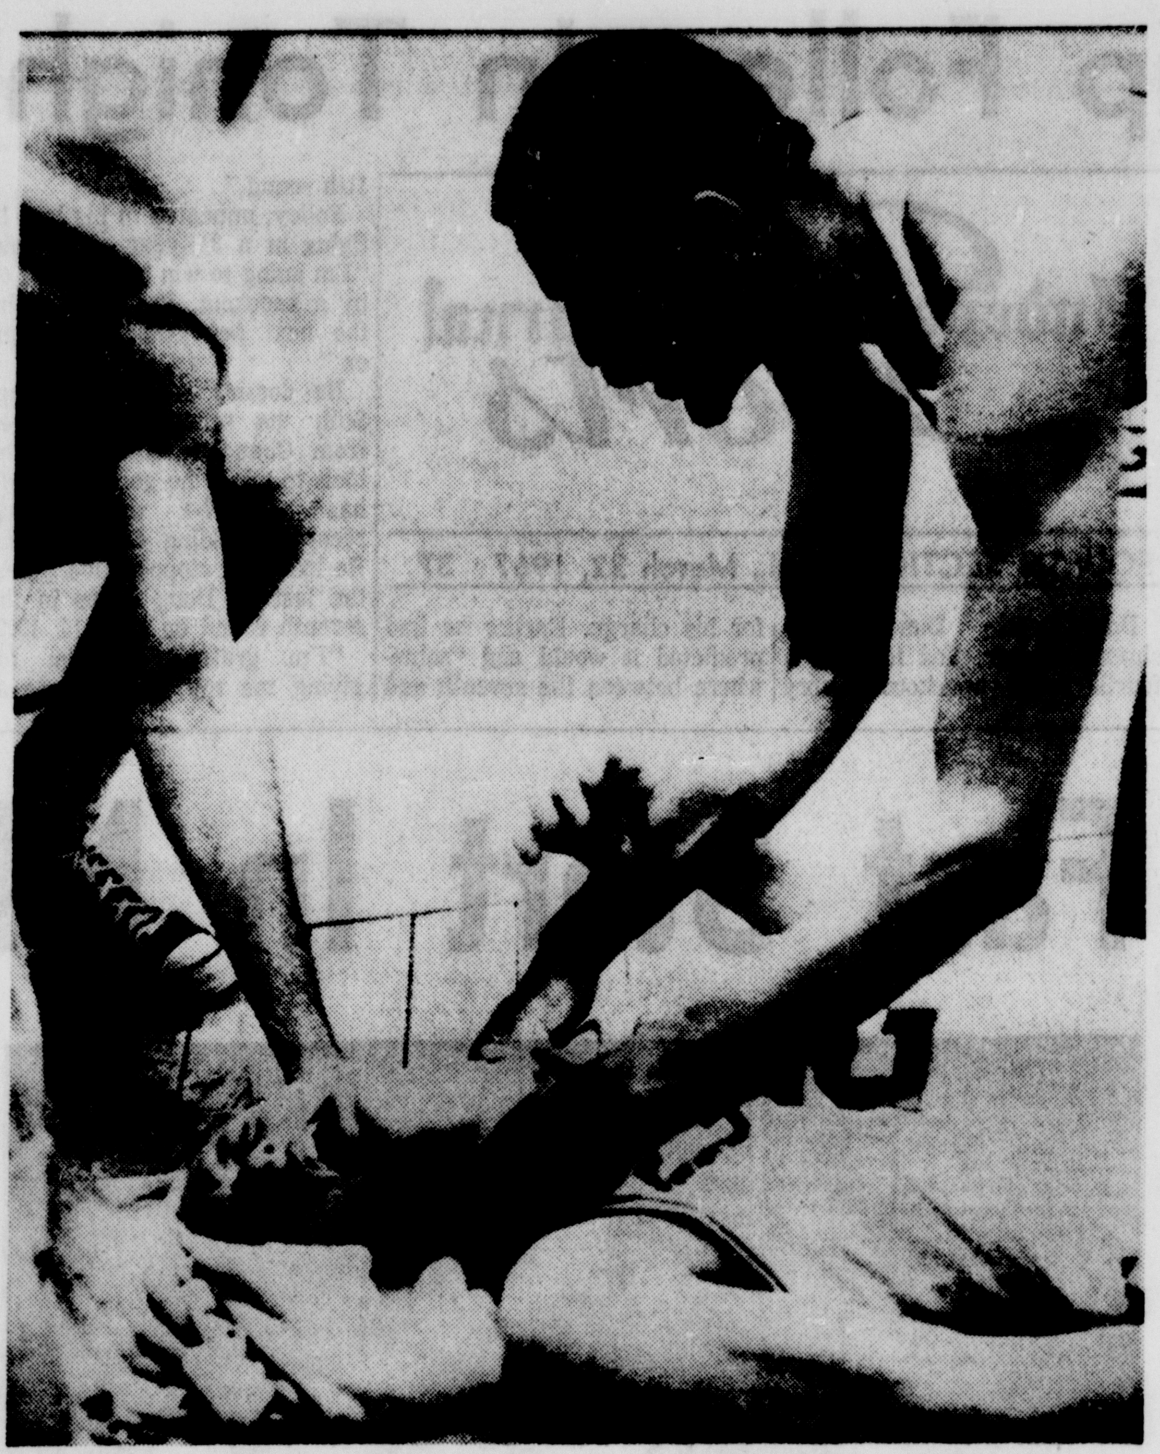
New Coach At USF

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dan Shaughnessy of Berkeley, was named yesterday as football line coach at the University of San Francisco.



DON'T DO IT, COACH!—Talk about costly mistakes. Boston Celtic coach Bill Russell seems about to wring substitute Toby Kimball's neck but he's actually comforting his pain-wracked player who suffered a dislocated knee in the fourth quarter of the NBA playoffs against New York in Boston. Clay Is Heavy Favorite 1960.

We'll go along with Joe Louis on this one.

"Clay hasn't the punch to take out a man when he wants to," said the former heavyweight king. "He likes to see the fight go on. He plays around too much. Maybe it will go eight rounds or more."

Folley will be giving away age, weight, height and speed. He has 13½ years of experience going for him against Clay's 6½.

The added experience didn't help Zora against Ernie Terrell in New York, on July 27, 1963. That was his last defeat. The towering Terrell speared him with left jabs—a Clay specialty—and won decisively.

Clay won by a lopsided margin over Terrell in their 15-rounder—Clay's last start—at Houston, Tex., last Feb. 6.

Scoring will be by the rounds system. The referee and two judges will be named at fight time.

All of the regular rules of the New York Athletic Commission will be in effect.

Eight ounce gloves will be used, there will be a mandatory eight count for knockdowns, and if a fighter is knocked down three times in one round the fight will be stopped. The count will be continued if a fighter is down when the bell rings except for the end of the last round.

Clay weighed 211½ pounds and Folley 202½ at today's weigh-in.

Red-Hot Jockey

NEW YORK (AP) — Jockey Laffitt Pincay Jr. rode three winners at Aqueduct race track yesterday for the second straight day.

Dierking Catches 76ers With Their Defenses Down

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big O turned in his usual performance, but it was the Big C that caught the Philadelphia 76ers with their defenses down.

Oscar Robertson, often referred to as the Big O, scored 33 points and Connie Dierking, probably never before called the Big C, got 29 as the Cincinnati Royals upset the Philadelphia 76ers 120-116 in an opening game of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

In other playoff action, the defending world champion Boston Celtics thrashed the New York Knickerbockers 140-110, San Francisco trounced Los Angeles 124-108 and the St. Louis Hawks topped the Chicago Bulls 114-100.

"We definitely played the best ball of the season, and I was really up for this game," said 6-foot-10 Dierking, who averaged 9.3 points in regular season games.

"I really wanted to beat Philadelphia right in its own back yard."

If Dierking does as well in his own back yard tonight when the best- of-5 series resumes, the Eastern Division champion 76ers, who won eight of nine from Cincinnati in regular season play, could be in serious trouble. There are no other playoff games scheduled tonight.

Dierking put the Royals ahead to stay by breaking a 66-66 tie with two quick baskets. Then Robertson clinched it with a field goal and two foul shots in the last 29 seconds.

The Big C also helped Jerry Lucas give the Royals an edge off the boards. Each pulled down 18 rebounds.

Wilt Chamberlain led Philadelphia with 41 points and 22 rebounds. Hal Greer got 23 points for the 76ers.

Boston wasted little time in letting New York know whose back yard the teams were playing in. Bailey Howell gave the Celtics a 2-0 lead on a jump shot, and the Celtics never trailed en route to their 20th straight victory over the Knickerbockers since March 17, 1965.

Sam Jones scored 38 points, John Havlicek 32 and Howell 23 for the Celtics, who are gunning for their ninth straight world championship. Jones hit 15 of 18, Havlicek 14 of 19 and Howell 10 of 14 from the field. Willis Reed led the visiting Knicks with 23.

Rookie Lou Hudson threw in 26 points and veteran Lenny Wilkens hit for 20, including 16 of 17 from the foul line, in leading the Hawks past first-year Chicago at St. Louis.

The San Francisco-Los Angeles series switches to Los Angeles and the Hawks-Bulls set moves to Chicago tomorrow night. The Celtics and Knicks will resume play in New York Saturday night.

Top Games Bowled By Barber, Deputy

It was a crowded week for high games at Nave Lanes near Ignacio.

Jake Vanderzeil, a San Rafael barber, bowling in the Monday Men's Handicap, and Marin sheriff's deputy Lee Brown of the Friday Leftovers League each turned in a 254 game for last week's honors while John Macaluso of the Novato Unified Bowlers League had a 242.

John Coen of the 840 Scratch League piled up a 208-218-614 for high series honors followed closely by Ed Gerth in the Novato Masters with a 216-215-612.

Howard Chidester ripped off a 646 series while competing in the Marin County Bowling Association Tournament team events while Jack Martin rolled a 614 in the same event.

Ida Briggs topped the women with a 574 series in the Alley Kats League. Kay Beal had high game honors with a 244 in the Women's Classic and also took runnerup series honors with a 562.

Johnny Sjoblom's 553 topped the juniors while Joe Lewis had a 218 for high game.

Giants Stronger Than Ever If Three Wishes Come True

By JACK STEVENSON

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A top pennant contender again, the San Francisco Giants will be tougher than ever if three wishes come true.

"We hope the second base-shortstop combination is improved," pointed out Manager Herman Franks, whose clubs have finished second in his two seasons at the helm.

"We need some hitting in the left field and right field positions. We didn't get any last year."

Thirdly, the Giants would be happier if a left-handed starting pitcher would come through. Ray Sadecki, acquired in trade last year for slugger Orlando Cepeda, proved a disappointment in 1966.

WINNING FORM

Sadecki is working this spring to find the winning form again and the Giants re-acquired Mike McCormick, 11-14 at Washington last year.

Strongest assets for San Francisco are power hitters Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Jim Hart and Tom Haller plus a right-handed pitching staff including two 20-game winners.

Juan Marichal, a spring holdout problem, posted a 25-6 record, his fourth straight season over 20, while Gaylord Perry finished his best year at 21-8. Bob Bolin, 11-10, goes in the starting rotation with the fourth spot open.

Second baseman Hal Lanier, who hit only .231, worked all winter on becoming a switch batter. In the field he's playing closer to the bag to increase double play chances. The Giants ranked eighth in twin killings with 131 and Franks declared, "We gave other teams four outs too many times."

Tito Fuentes returns for his second season at shortstop and should be improved. He hit .261 with 40 runs batted in, 20 of them in the last month. A dislocated left shoulder put him out of action, June 18 to July 4. The Giants recommended surgery during the winter, but Tito refused.

As a club, the Giants batted only .248, topping only the New York Mets, .239. McCovey led with .295 as Mays slipped to .288 in a season when he boosted his National League home run record to 542, second only to Babe Ruth's major league record of 714.

Mays slugged 37 homers, McCovey 36, third baseman Hart 33 and catcher Haller 27.

Veteran right-handed reliever Lindy McDaniel won 10 and saved 5 more in 64 relief calls during his first year with the Giants. Frank Linzy appeared 51 times but was only 7-11, slipping from his 9-3 rookie season in 1965.

VETERANS RETURN

Veterans Ron Herbel and lefty Joe Gibbon return for duties either as starters or in the bullpen, most probably the latter for Gibbon.

Among the youngsters, the most promising appear to be Dick Sparks, 14-9 at Phoenix, and Frank Kasheta with an aggregate 14-10 at Waterbury and Phoenix.

Bench strength appears improved with the acquisitions of veteran Norm Siebern from the California Angels and drafting of Billy Sorrell from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League. Both hit from the left side.

With their established pitching, the Giants could win the pennant with some hitting and some double plays.

Blades Drubbed, 10-2

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Canucks broke a two-game losing streak yesterday as they humiliated Los Angeles Blades 10-2 in a Western Hockey League game.

"PJ is even growing mustaches over his eyes!"

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, March 22, the 81st day of 1967 with 284 to follow.

The moon is between the first and full stage. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

American physicist Robert Andrew Millikan was born on this day in 1868.

On this day in history:

In 1794 Congress passed legislation forbidding slave trading with foreign nations.

In 1820 Commodore Stephen Decatur, the American Naval hero, was mortally wounded in a duel with Commodore James Barron. The duel near Washington resulted from Barron's belief that Decatur was responsible for Barron's removal from active Naval service.

In 1874 the Young Men's Hebrew Association (YMHA) was formed.

In 1941 Grand Coulee dam on the Columbia River began producing electric power.

A thought for the day—American statesman John Randolph once said: "The surest way to prevent war is not to fear it."

HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Opening Strength Sometimes Gives Secrets To Opponents

It's pleasant to have a hand strong enough for an opening bid, but sometimes your strength is a liability.

If the opponents have all the other high cards your opening bid will locate everything that they miss.

Opening lead — ♡ 3

East played the eight of hearts at the first trick to find out if his partner had led from Q-5-3.

When South won with the queen, East knew the opening lead had been a singleton and that South still had a heart stopper.

EAST BALKS

South led a low diamond to dummy's jack, and East refused the trick. If East took the first diamond, South would get three diamond tricks instead of just two.

Declarer continued by leading a club from dummy to win a finesse with the queen.

He then led a low spade since he would win his ninth trick in spades if each opponent held three spades.

SETS UP HEARTS

East won with the jack of spades and returned the king of hearts to the ace.

Now South dashed the top spades, and East had to find a discard on the king of spades.

As it happened, there was no such thing as a safe discard.

If East discarded a club or a diamond, South would lead out his two aces knowing that one of East's kings was sure to drop.

East actually discarded a heart, but now South could afford to lead his last heart and let East take two heart tricks.

South saved two diamonds and two clubs, and East had to lead away from one of his kings.

This gave South an additional chance to finesse for his ninth trick.

Declarer took two tricks in each suit and a third trick in the suit that East decided to lead at the end.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes You hold:

♠ A K 6 4
♥ A Q 5
♦ A 8 5
♣ A Q J

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

The only question is whether to bid a small or a grand slam The answer may depend on whether your partner can rebid his hearts or show support for spades.

Your jump in a new suit is forcing to game and warns partner to start thinking about a slam.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Kentfield Florist's Shop Is Named, Aptly—Blooms

A new store opened at 1008 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield is called Blooms — a flower shop which also handles plants, pottery, flower containers and paintings.

Owners of the business are Mrs. Iris M. Cavagnaro of Berkeley and her daughter, Judith Cavagnaro, a resident of Sausalito. They have leased the former quarters of the Kentfield branch of the Marin County Library through Harry Abras of William Timmer Realty. The store has hours from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

Mrs. Cavagnaro is a student counselor in Walnut Creek, so the flower shop will be handled mostly by her daughter. Miss Cavagnaro is a flutist and has arranged a "musical grand opening celebration" featuring several musicians in concert in the shop for Saturday, April 1 from 4 to 7 p.m.

"OVERVIEW OF CONSTRUCTION," a course primarily for people of the construction industry but also open to the general public, is being offered at College of Marin this evening and for the next nine succeeding Wednesday evenings. It will be held in Room 50 in the Engineering Building from 7 to 10 p.m.

The course is presented by the Marin County Carpenters Joint Apprenticeship and Training Committee. There is a $5 registration fee and enrollment may be made tonight at the beginning of the first class — or if you miss it, at the adult education office of the college during the day. Guest lecturers will speak on site development, job planning, cost estimating, building codes and inspection, legal aspects and safety for the first six weeks. During the last four meetings the class will select subjects of primary interest for discussion.

A PROMOTION at Bank of America's Larkspur branch has brought in Ted A. Ries from Modesto as operations officer. He joined the bank in 1965 as a special trainee in Napa and for the past six months has been assistant operations officer at the Modesto branch.

MEETINGS AND CONFERENCES — George S. Circo of San Rafael, territory manager for Johnson and Johnson's health care division, has been attending a 10-day conference at company headquarters in New Jersey . . . Larry Brickert of Mill Valley, owner of Larry Brickert Advertising Co., San Francisco, has returned from the semi-annual trade show of the Specialty Advertising Assn. in Chicago. . . . Corita L. Bergman, office supervisor of the San Rafael district agency of Prudential Insurance Co., will appear at a management training conference at the company's western home office in Los Angeles April 10-11 . . . Al Trombetta and San Rafael branch manager Jim Regalia of Trombetta Distributors, attended the recent meeting of the Hiram Walker Canadian Club Society in Los Angeles where they were cited for their 1966 sales of Walker products.

REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS will be the subject of four weekend conferences in the Bay Area this spring by University of California Extension. They will be given both in Berkeley and in San Francisco. Dates in Berkeley are March 31-April 1, April 28-29, May 26-27 and June 23-24. San Francisco meetings are April 14-15, May 19-20, June 16-17 and July 14-15. Paul D. Buchholz, by the way, who heads First of California Mortgage Co. in San Rafael, will be one of the speakers at the third meetings in the series. Conferences will be at the Berkeley House and the Jack Tar Hotel. Registration fees are $150 for the series: $45 for single meetings. Information may be obtained from the University of California Extension office in Berkeley.

WAGNER D'ALESSIO of Ross, president of California Casualty Indemnity Exchange of San Francisco, has been appointed chairman of the Northern California college liaison committee of the Western Insurance Information service. Purpose of the committee is to advise college students about career opportunities in insurance.

DENMAN K. McNEAR
Railroad executive

S.P. Railroad Promotion To McNear

Denman K. McNear of Kentfield has been appointed vice president of Southern Pacific Co., president B. F. Biaggini announced today.

McNear, 41, has been assistant to the president since 1963 and will assume his new post April 1.

He graduated from Tamalpais School for Boys in 1942 and joined Southern Pacific in 1948 as a technical student after Navy service in World War II.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a master's degree in business from Stanford University.

McNear and his wife, Susan, and their two children live at 44 Makin Grade, Kentfield.

Market Ends Higher, Erasing Early Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market closed higher today, wiping out an early loss. Trading was active.

Volume for the first four hours was 6.2 million shares compared with 6.94 million yesterday.

The market was higher at the opening but soon entered an irregular decline. Selling dried up, however, and investors bought stock as the market showed no inclination to decline further.

Golf & Western Industries looked like the most-active stock as it virtually erased Tuesday's loss of 2¼ .In second place was Thiokol which showed a gain of more than a point.

Eastern Air Lines trimmed an early loss and declined 2 points or more.

Itek rebounded more than 2 points from a loss of 8⅛ Tuesday.

Gains of a point or better were made by Commonwealth Oil, Admiral, Raymond International, U.S. Steel, and Jones & Laughlin.

Anaconda and Xerox rose 2 or more. New York Central fell about 4 points, Pennsylvania Railroad more than 2.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

DiGiorgio Issues Quarterly Dividend

San Francisco — The 73rd consecutive quarterly dividend payment to common stockholders of DiGiorgio Corp. has been approved by the company's board of directors.

The dividend, 20 cents per share, is payable May 15 to stockholders of record April 14. DiGiorgio is a diversified San Francisco headquartered food company with nationwide interests in farming, processing and grocery distribution.

Lower Fares Boost Trips To Europe

NEW YORK (AP) — Tourists planning summer trips to Europe under the new lower air fares are boosting business for travel agents and airlines.

Two million Americans are expected to travel to Europe this year, up from 1.6 million in 1966.

"We're completely booked until September," said Henry P. Huff, executive vice president of Trans International Airlines, an Oakland, Calif., supplemental carrier.

Trans International has scheduled more than 200 charter flights to Europe from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, St. Louis, Columbus, New York, Boston and other cities this summer, Huff said. Business is up 25 per cent over 1966.

British Overseas Airways Corp. said its New York reservations department has been swamped with calls. BOAC is offering 30 itineraries with room for 25,000 to 30,000 travelers.

Trans World Airlines reports advance bookings for June are up 5.5 per cent from 1966. It is offering more than 250 tours.

Aircraft Firms Launch Studies Of Noise Woes

WASHINGTON (SS) — Three-year studies of noise abatement in jet engine design will be made for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration by the Boeing and Douglas aircraft companies.

Main focus of Boeing's $7.5 million contract will be an effort to keep fan and compressor noise from propagating forward, by choking the air flow to the engine inlet. Goal of the program is a noise cut of 15 decibels, equivalent, says NASA, to moving the noise source about five times as far away.

Douglas will spend $3 million in an attempt to reduce fly-over noise level on the ground by 7 to 10 decibels, by acoustic treatment of fan inlet and discharge ducts.

Both companies will develop and test modified engine nacelles suitable for presently operational aircraft. The contracts extend through actual flight testing.

Federals Report Construction Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) Construction spending in February was $71.7 billion, up $600 million from January, the Commerce Department reports.

Residential construction, the largest single component, also increased. Despite a drop in housing starts, spending on non-farm homes was at a rate of $21.2 billion in February, compared to $20.7 billion in January and $20.5 billion in December.

The February increases represented the second straight month both over-all construction spending and residential construction showed rises.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Sale Of Your House And Capital Gains

By PETER JAMES WIKEL,
CPA

A taxpayer 65 years old or over can exclude any capital gain in the first $20,000 of the sales price of his personal residence if he has owned the personal residence for at least eight years and has actually used it as his principal place of residence for at least five out of the last eight years.

Wikel

If the sales price is $20,000 or less, you can exclude all the capital gain.

If the sales price is more than $20,000 you can exclude only the proportionate share of the gain that the adjusted sales price bears to $20,000.

This is a once in a lifetime exclusion. You can not claim it more than once. Both husband and wife will satisfy the age, ownership and use requirements where one of them satisfies such requirements for a residence they own as joint tenants, tenants for the entirety, or community property and they file a joint return.

A widow or widower over 65 years old whose deceased spouse met the ownership and use requirements and who had not made an election under this provision, may make an election under this exclusion of gain provision.

Community apartment stockholders who are entitled to a house or apartment because of such stock ownership can make an election when they sell their stock.

If a house is used partially for personal residence and partially for business, only the gain on that part of the house used as a personal residence can be excluded.

Destruction, theft, seizure, requisition or condemnation of a personal residence is treated as the sale of such property. Any gain realized from such involuntary conversion will qualify.

If your residence is sold and the selling price is over $20,000 and you have a profit and within one year before or one year after the sale you purchase a new residence, you might be able to use both the above and the provisions of Section 1034 relating to the deferral of gain on the sale of residence so that you pay no tax at this time.

If your residence is involuntarily converted or sold or exchanged, any gain can be reduced by the above exclusion. The amount of the excluded gain will decrease your basis in your newly acquired residence however.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Bonds Suffer Depression When Exchanges Decline

By ROGER E. SEPAR

Q. "I inherited the enclosed list of securities. I'm particularly concerned about the Celanese 4s of 1990. These were purchased at 108⅞ and were down recently to 90. I was under the impression that bonds do not fluctuate as common stocks do. Have you any suggestions?" G.M.

A. I am pleased to tell you that you hold an excellent list, too long for individual comment. You are correct in assuming that bonds in general do not fluctuate to the same extent as stocks. They vary in price as money rates change and convertible debentures — such as your Celanese 4s — can fluctuate widely in sympathy with the common for which they are exchangeable.

Your debentures were bought when the stock was selling close to the conversion price. With the common down sharply in a falling textile market, the right to exchange is less attractive and your low coupon bonds have accordingly suffered. They seem well secured and should be held for the potential value of the conversion privilege.

Q. "My financial problem is definitely tied to rising inflation. I have considerable sums in savings accounts as a nest egg for retirement. Would it not be wiser to invest in high-grade stocks and look to capital appreciation to maintain my purchasing power?" M.B.

A. I get many letters like yours and I can only say that I could hardly agree with you more. When you have too great a proportion of your assets in any fixed type of investment you are in effect gambling that the value of your dollars will remain constant — when it never has for very long. I would keep a sound backlog of savings and invest the rest in stocks with records of strong and consistent growth which is not tied closely to the movements of the business cycle. In this category I like — among others — American Home Products, American Hospital Supply, Avon Products; Becton, Dickinson; Bristol-Myers and Consolidated Foods.

Marijuana Discovered After Houseboat Row

An argument between a Marinship houseboat resident and his guest early today resulted in arrest of three persons, two of them for marijuana possession.

The resident, Dennis Daniel Mullan Jr., 23, of the houseboat Omega at Gate 5, was booked in county jail for possession of Marijuana, possession of paraphernalia for smoking a narcotic, and being in a room where narcotics were being used.

He also was booked for assault and battery on the guest, Walter George Caffrey, 19, whom he is accused of assaulting with a hunting knife.

Robert Wesley Callison, 20, also of the houseboat, was booked on the same charges except that he was not charged with assault and battery. James Allen Bradley, 24, of San Francisco, was booked on suspicion of being present where narcotics was used.

Sheriff's officers said Caffrey reported he and Mullan, who goes by the nickname "Bubbles," got into an argument about 3:40 a.m. He said Mullan first threatened him with a club, then grabbed the knife and cut him slightly on neck.

Caffrey fled and notified Sausalito police, who called deputies. Officers returned with Caffrey to the houseboat, found a small tin con containing what they believed is marijuana and a single rolled cigarette, they said.

They also confiscated what they described as a water pipe used for smoking opium, and a book of nude male photographs.

Officers said the tin can contained enough marijuana to make about six cigarettes.

Hughes' Hotel Buy Confirmed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Chairman Alan Abner of the Nevada Gaming Control Board has confirmed that multimillionaire industrialist Howard Hughes purchased the Desert Inn Hotel-Casino.

Abner said the transaction is subject to approval by the Nevada Gaming Control Board and the Nevada Gaming Commission.

Abner made official disclosure of the sale yesterday as he and two other board members met with Hughes' representatives to explain requirements for satisfying licensing regulations.

Hughes, who shuns publicity, has been staying since November in a $250-a-day penthouse suite at the Desert Inn.

Coffee is also used in making some varieties of candy.

Budget Increase Reached For Marin County Library

The budget for the county library will go up next fiscal year, but probably not so much that the present 16.5 cent tax rate per $100 assessed valuation will have to be increased.

During budget review today, County Librarian Virginia Keating and County Administrator Alan Bruce agreed on a total budget of about $370,000, up from the current year's $352,537.

The increase would be made up from anticipated rise in assessed valuation.

The library tax rate is levied in all areas not served by city libraries.

Also reviewed today was the budget of County Agricultural Commissioner Richerd T. Straw, who asked a total of $99,327 for next fiscal year, up from the current $95,294. This got the administrator's aproval after some minor changes.

Marinites Set Up Abortion Law Unit

A Marin County chapter of the California Committee to Legalize Abortion was formed last night at a public meeting at the home of Dr. Thomas Hart in Ross.

Dorothy A. Melen of Corte Madera was appointed treasurer of the group, which will work toward repeal of California's abortion law. Next meeting was set for April 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Rev. Byron E. Eshelman, House 134, San Quentin.

Thirsty Burglar Does Little Good

A window-smashing pburglar broke several hundred dollars worth of plate glass for a bottle of cold tea.

Larkspur police about 4 a.m. today discovered a large display window outside Bon Air Pharmacy in the Bon Air Shopping Center had been smashed. Stolen from it was a whiskey bottle — which looked like the real thing, but was a display bottle filled with tea, police said.

A window-smasher did better at Cala Foods Store in Corte Madera Shopping Center. Corte Madera police found a window there smashed at 7 a.m., with two gallon jugs the loot. But the jugs contained real wine, not tea.

Stewardess Fashions Changing Jet-Fast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There's more than a movie to look at on those coast-to-coast flights these days.

Some American Airlines' stewardesses are wearing miniskirts and reports from other companies indicate even wilder fashions to come for the fly-gals.

Stewardesses in minidresses and "mod" boots have been making "test" flights on American's nonstop Los Angeles-to-New York flights.

Girls flying to Acapulco for Western Airlines wear bermuda shorts and sleeveless "beachcomber" shifts. Stewardesses on other routes often don culottes with zip-on panels that transform them into floor-le hostess gowns for the coc hours.

NEW DELHI (AP) — A ommendation has been sub ted by a govermnent comm that anyone who sneaks ab a railroad train withou ticket or pulls the emerg stop chain without justific be fined a minimum o rupees ($1.30).

The group's name is Committee on Ticketless Tr Alarm Chain Pulling Interference with the Runnin Trains."

Second New Comet Of '67 Is Discovered

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (SS) — The second new comet of 1967, a very fast-moving object too faint to be seen without a large telescope, has been discovered in the northern sky not far from Polaris, the North Star.

The twelfth magnitude comet was detected by Dr. Paul Wild of the Astronomical Institute of the University of Berne, Switzerland, on Feb. 11. Its discovery was confirmed at the Naval Observatory in Washington, on the morning of Feb. 13.

News of the discovery of Comet Wild was telegraphed to observatories around the world by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory here, international clearing house for astro nomical information. Within a few hours the Smithsonian was also informed by the Japanese astronomer Tomita of Tokyo Astronomical Observatory that periodic Comet Temple II had been recovered in its predicted position, at a magnitude of 19.

Surrender On Bogus Checks

A 28-year-old woman, sought on charges of passing bad checks, surrendered to San Rafael police yesterday.

Lee M. Syracuse of 1135 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, had been sought on warrants charging she gave four bad checks totalling $350 to two San Rafael stores the past month.

Besides the check complaints, she was booked for violation of probation, meted out in connection with worthless check offenses two years ago. Bail of $875 was set after booking at the county jail.

Blackboard Put To Excellent Use

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Passing motorists didn't have to wonder why Ronald Martin's car was pulled to the side of the highway.

A huge blackboard just in front of his auto carried this explanation: "Yes, we do have a flat tire."

Martin was on his way to a lecture and when the flat came decided to put his blackboard into use.

Four new members have been added to the board of directors of the Ross Psychiatric Center, reports President Lloyd Tunik.

They are Mrs. James Denebeim of Sleepy Hollow; Theodore Lachelt of San Rafael; Robert Johnson, principal of San Clemente School, Corte Madera, and Rev. Kenneth Anderson of the Church of the Redeemer, San Rafael.

Sheep Killed Due To Mauling

Five sheep were mauled so badly by three dogs yesterday in Novato that police had to shoot them.

One of the dogs was shot by an unidentified neighbor. Another was taken by the Marin County Humane Society, police reported.

The sheep, belonging to Adolph N. Schwindt, 54, of 1758 Indian Valley Road, Novato, were in a pasture on Eucalyptus Avenue.

Police said the dog that was shot and the one picked up by the Humane Society belonged to Dick J. Amaral, of 2197 Eucalyptus Avenue, Novato. Amaral told police he would make restitution for the sheep. Ownership of the third dog, which escaped, was unknown to police.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated On Island

An Easter egg hunt will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday on Pleasure Island, Bel Marin Keys, for children under seven years of age in the area, sponsored by the Bel Marin Keys Teen Club.

Children at the dock at the end of Caribe Isle at 1 p.m. will be taken to the island and back by boat. They must have life jackets, according to Barry Weiss, vice president of the club.

Students Grow Food

LUCKNOW, India (AP)—"One student, one plant" is a slogan adopted by state schools in an effort to create an awareness among students of the government's campaign to grow more food. Each student will be encouraged to grow and care for at least one plant.

Water District To Forego Extra Stafford Lake Land

The North Marin County Water District Board last night decided not to purchase additional land at the west end of Stafford Lake to complete its buffer zone around the lake.

The district owns land around almost all of the lake and it had been proposed that a strip be purchased at the end where it owns only up to the lake's high water level.

Dist. Mgr. Jerome Gilbert reported purchase of a 100-foot buffer strip would come to about 10 acres and a 200-foot strip to 20 acres. He estimated cost of the privately held acreage from $25,000 to $100,000 depending on land required and negotiations.

Gilbert also reported that the Army Corps of Engineers is making a study on raising the dam as a flood control measure, but that nothing definite has been dicided.

The North Marin County Water District also:

AQUEDUCT — Authorized purchase of $1,355 in new air valves next year for the 30-inch water main to Petaluma.

REIMBURSEMENT — Amended a district regulation changing from 15 to 10 years the time for someone to regain his costs after constructing a water main which will serve additional areas.

Rhine Army Financing Pact Nears

LONDON (AP) — U.S., British and West German envoys have worked out an agreement meeting most of the foreign exchange costs of Britain's Rhine army in the coming year, informed sources reported tonight.

The accord, which is subject to approval by the three governments, provides for new American military purchases and a bigger German buying program in Britain during the 12 months beginning in April.

Britain's demand for total coverage of her estimated $230 million costs of the Rhine army has not been fully met, informants said.

As a result small-scale withdrawals of British troops from Germany were reported probable after due consultation with other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

The provisional package agreement was reached in Washington during two days of talks involving presidential envoy John J. McCloy, British Foreign Office Minister George Thomson and German Ambassador George Duckwitz. Another meeting between the three is expected in London or Bonn next month when any governmental revisions or adjustments to the agreements will be considered.

Britain has about 59,000 troops and airmen in West Germany.

Pair Is Arraigned On Tiburon Burglary

Robert John Barthel, 34, and William Mason, 33, both of San Francisco, were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of burglary of the home of Charles H. Knight Jr., at 8 Bartel Court, Tiburon. Preliminary hearing was set for 3 p.m. April 6.

The suspects allegedly jimmied a front door Monday, then entered to steal two cameras. Sheriff's officers arrested them after a surveyor reported watching suspicious activities at the house.

Sportsmen Unhappy— Museum Gets Cash

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin County supervisors yesterday had a lesson in fish biology, an argument with the Marin Municipal Water District, a split vote among themselves, and a threat from the Marin Rod and Gun Club, all within the space of an hour and a half.

Action was a 3-2 vote, with Supervisors Thomas T. Storer and William A. Gnoss dissenting, to divert $15,609 in several years' accumulation of fish and game fines from control of the Marin Rod and Gun Club to an allocation to the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum.

The museum will receive $10,000 each year. The state fines allocated to Marin come to about $2,500 each year, so tax dollars will have to make up the difference as soon as the large fund is used up.

After the vote, Leonard Tibbett, past president of the rod and gun club, declared the members would protest. Supervisor Peter H. Behr answered, "I could care less."

Several months ago, the board of supervisors, curious about use of the fine money, asked the rod and gun club to present a detailed program for the funds.

Presented last week was a list of expenditures including $5,440 for a pump and lines to aerate Marin Municipal Water District reservoirs, $2,359 for a flashboard to make the flow from Alpine Lake more stable, $2,000 for a study of silting in Bolinas Lagoon, $2,000 for rehabilitating Lagunitas Creek, and $2,000 for cleaning various springs used by wildlife. Also presented was a recommendation from County Administrator Alan Bruce that the fine funds be diverted to the museum.

Supervisor John F. McInnis declared yesterday that the aerator should be a responsibility of the water district. He suggested the cost be supported by additional money for district fishing permits, now $3 each.

District Mgr. William R. Seeger protested, saying the permit cost would have to be raised considerably to purchase and operate the aerator, and that the aerator itself was experimental, not something district directors could consider.

Earl Gibbs, biologist with the State Department of Fish and Game, explained how the aerator, pumping surface water to the bottom of reservoirs, helps lower water temperature and increase oxygen, making it possible to keep planting trout into the summer.

At one point Supervisor Gnoss and Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen were both firing questions at Seeger, who protested that he could only answer if he had two mouths. Chairman Thomas T. Storer once threatened to recess the session if conversation were not directed through him.

Supervisors finally agreed that they would vote matching funds for any organization wanting to put up money for an aerator.

Muir Beach Youth Party Results In Citizen Arrest

A McClures Beach party by about 20 East Bay youths Sunday resulted in a bicyclist being squirted with a fire extinguisher, and one of the youths being arrested for disturbing the peace, sheriff's officers disclosed today.

Deputies said Joseph Vogensen of 1120 Olive Street, Novato, made a citizen's arrest of Steven James Ellis, 19, of Albany, after the youth annoyed him and his wife at the beach.

He was booked at county jail, then released on $56 bail pending arraignment in Northwestern Judicial District Court today.

John Labruce King, 22-year-old Berkeley bicycle shop owner, told officers he and three companions were riding bikes near the beach when a carload of youths drove by and squirted him.

King lost control of his bicycle, but was uninjured. Deputies summoned to the scene said they located the car, talked to the Richmond driver, and confiscated the fire extinguisher.

A second fire extinguisher, found in another car, also was confiscated.

Americans telephoning Europe may be able to dial directly as early as 1968.

Baptists Given Unfamiliar Hymn

LIBERTY, Ky. (AP) — Members of Liberty Baptist Church sat in stunned silence when Johnnie Beard began leading their song service.

It seems the Methodists were hooked up for a broadcast over the local radio station, and the speaker system in the Baptist church was plugged in to receive.

A few plugs were pulled and thing swere back to normal.

True Or Not, Lady Godiva Event Is Set

COVENTRY, England (UPI) —When a good story has lasted 900 years, does it matter whether it's truth or legend?

Historian Adrian Dobinson thinks it does and says he is convinced Lady Godiva never rode nude on a horse through the streets of Coventry.

Coventry authorities insist Dobinson is talking humbug and are going right ahead on an elaborate summer celebration of the 900th anniversary of the lady's death.

Legend has it that the beautiful Godiva rode naked through the streets to protest taxes imposed by her husband, Leofric.

"The story has persisted 900 years," said Coventry councilman Harry Weston. "And there's no smoke without fire."

Bigger Local Role In Treating Mentally Ill

We hope that the drastic cut of several thousand employees from the state department of mental hygiene does not presage a decline in services to the mentally ailing.

Rather, we hope that the population drop in state mental hospitals merely reflects a new trend in mental health care — away from the old method of isolation in distant mental hospitals and toward community-oriented treatment.

The new emphasis on the care of patients in familiar local surroundings as opposed to the clinically efficient but cold and impersonal state institutions started long before the new Administration came into office in Sacramento.

This new approach is no doubt partially responsible for the fact that the patient population in state institutions has been on the decline during the past two or three years.

The cutback in personnel (and expenses) in the state department of mental hygiene must be accompanied by a proportionate increase in activity on the local level such as at the new Marin Mental Health Center planned at Marin General Hospital.

The beauty of this new trend, at least in theory, is that stepped up activity on the local level need not be accompanied by a proportionate rise in expenses.

The "savings," which are difficult to measure in dollars and cents, would come from increased participation of local volunteers to take over some of the non-professional duties which require little or no technical training.

Moreover, the new concept of community health care where rehabilitation can be aided by familiar surroundings and the friendly faces of relatives, friends and neighbors would, hopefully, hasten the recovery of the mentally disturbed.

The new concept whereby the community accepts responsibility to come to the aid of a citizen in trouble provides more opportunity for the private sector to participate and work with public agencies in meeting social problems.

If some of the savings made by personnel cutbacks on the statewide level can be used to encouraged more self-help by each community, both the citizens in need and the taxpayers in general would stand to benefit.

A big cutback on the state level, with no compensating effort to increase mental health care locally, would be a cause for alarm.

ACCOMMODATE YOURSELF TO OTHERS

A newswriter compiled the following list of excuses offered by drivers involved in auto collisions:

One driver didn't see the other coming.

One driver figured he could beat the other across.

One driver depended on his horn.

One driver thought he could "beat the light."

One driver tried to out-bluff the other.

One driver thought the other would obey a stop sign.

Both drivers decided to fight for the right of way.

The newsman concluded that all the drivers assumed that "the other person" was alert, courteous, law-abiding and driving a car in A-1 shape.

Even when others are in the wrong, lack of precaution on our part usually results in damage to all concerned. Ask the Lord for the wisdom to make allowances for the failings of others so that needless harm can be avoided.

"Let us have no self-conceit, no provoking of one another."

(Galatians 5:25)

Give me common sense, O Lord, to know when to stand on principle and when to accommodate myself to others.

Reagan Reviews His Creative Society In Economic Message

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — In his economic message to the state legislature, Gov. Ronald Reagan revives interest in the "Creative Society," a phrase used during the campaign last year as descriptive of some of the things the administration hopes to accomplish.

The governor says with relation to the subject:

"I have proposed the Creative Society as a constructive alternative to the Great Society in which federal government plays an increasingly dominant role.

"THE TREND toward greater centralization in government has been going on for a long time, at the federal as well as the state level.

"The time has come to reverse that trend, because too much centralization saps the vitality and political responsibility of the people, qualities which are indispensable in making our state and our nation great.

"We favor decentralization of authority and administration, so that governments at the local level have greater opportunities to provide for local needs.

"IN THE CREATIVE Society, the role of the state is to define broad objectives, not to form blueprints which localities must adopt in detail.

"The state should perform those functions for which it is unquestionably best suited as a governmental unit, but it should not interfere with activities that can best be done by local government or private enterprise."

The message said the administration does not believe that prosperity results from huge government outlays, but, on the contrary, alluring shortcuts to prosperity via government spending all too often have brought disaster.

"This administration," he said, "will curtail those governmental activities that could be handled as well or better by private enterprise. It will restrict public expenditures, realizing that high taxes constitute burden on individuals and business organization, and it will take imaginative steps to bring about the best possible climate for business growth."

IN ACHIEVING THE Creative Society, which Reagan said is a task that cannot be accomplished in a few months or even a few years, the administration will work to improve the business climate, to promote employment and the finding of jobs for those on the welfare rolls, will support legislation giving agriculture an adequate labor supply, develop natural resources, support programs for exploration and development of ocean resources, and open up new fields of knowledge in various activities.

The governor restated two basic principles of the administration, which he said formed the cornerstone of his political and economic philosophy. He said:

"FOREMOST AMONG these is the belief that lasting prosperity for the state and nation depends far more on what individuals can do for themselves than on what the state does or can do for them. Second, our future political stability and economic growth will depend largely on our ability to preserve an environment that rewards individual initiative and encourages enterprise, innovation and investment by the private sector."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Poor Taste In Divorces Stories

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I do think it is in very poor taste for you to publish the names of the innocent children involved in a divorce case! They must suffer enough without seeing their family's divorce publicized in the I-J for all their friends, neighbors, etc., to gape at for no good reason. It shows the heartlessness of your newspaper, don't you think?

Also, can you give me a good reason why you must publish the address of women requesting a divorce? In an article dated March 15, you state "The family home is at . . ." Can you think of a better way to inform some would-be prowler or sex deviate of a home where he might find some husbandless woman living than that bit of private information you published?

Certainly it seems to me that some reporters on your staff are just trying to fill up space on the page instead of trying to print news of intelligent interest. They certainly are not showing respect and a need for privacy for the public they should be working for: Not everything should be public information!

Hope you take time to consider how heartless and unnecessary such publication is.

Educational Park Scrutiny

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The threat by the school boards of southern Marin to tear down our schools and assemble them into what is grandly called an "educational park" calls for very close scrutiny.

"Educational park" really means a mass production educational plant — a conformist mill — where our children would be as far removed from their parents as possible. The progressive educators have openly declared parents to be a nuisance, and the "educational park" is their way of coping with it.

Will dormitories be next in their rush to 1984? — With weekly visiting privileges for parents who conform?

Why make commuters out of our kids before they are old enough to go to work?

Council Pay Deserves Study

Editor, Independent-Journal:

After observing our city council in action for several months after the election, I find the one man I did not vote for was working for my best interests as a taxpayer more than all of the rest!

This man, Mr. Souza, is not always right, but I am of the opinion that he is fighting alone for many good causes!

The rest of our councilmen are all too often in accord against Mr. Souza simply, it seems to me, because they do not care to be identified with Mr. Souza's plans, regardless of whether these plans are in the taxpayers' best interests or not.

Perhaps a secret ballot, rather than a show of hands in decisions made at council meetings, would bring about a change? . . .

Some months ago, a suggestion was made that our city engineer also take over the duties of a city administrator. This many of us thought a good idea, providing our engineer was capable of handling both jobs. . . .

I don't understand all of the circumstances, but our engineer "farmed out" $8,000 worth of work last year. Why not farm out all of it? $8,000 is more than half of our engineer's salary! Now our administrator may have had a hand in this — I can't say, but if not, it is only $8,000 less than he has cost us! So far the administrator's salary — the salary of a secretary, plus a new car and other expenses run well over $25,000 a year. Now according to last night's paper he wants to hire extra help for the summer months for another $800 or more!

Was our administrator hired to save money for the taxpayer, or just to find more ways to spend it? . . .

I feel that with a good paid council, we can do without an engineer and an administrator!

Some Questions For LBJ, Cabinet

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Serious questions are being raised about the conduct of the Vietnam war. If given the opportunity, I would like to ask the President and his cabinet the following questions:

When are we going to win this war in Vietnam — and why not?

Why fight 'em in Vietnam and help 'em everywhere else?

Why engage in so many truces, which experience has shown always help the Communists?

Is this war being run by the United Nations, directly or through its subsidiary SEATO organization, or isn't it?

Why do we not let Chiang Kai-shek's half a million trained troops come in and help us?

Where is there any real difference between this mess and the one we went through in Korea?

Does anybody think the Communist influences in Washington today are any less powerful than when they were determining our actions in Korea?

Since we are in a de facto war, anyway, why do we allow so many incredible handicaps to be imposed on our men who are trying to fight it?

If we really mean to opose Communist aggression, then why pick Vietnam, and Vietnam alone, as the place to do it?

Why do we fight the tentacles of Communism, instead of its body?

If we must fight tentacles only, then why do so where we are at the greatest possible disadvantage and the greatest possible distance from ourselves?

Even more particularly, why not run the beasts out of Cuba first, instead of out of Vietnam?

Is the real purpose of our fighting in Vietnam simply to be at war? For the power and spending and political advantage which being at war gives the Administration?

After they answer these, I'm sure I'd have a lot more questions.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

CASKIE STINNETT tells about a little eight-year-old boy who received for his birthday one of those labeling machines which extrudes a metallic, printed slip. He told his mother that he always had been afraid she'd lose the camera before which he loved to pose, and offered to print her an identification label by which it could be identified by any finder. Mom cheerfully produced the camera, and he carried it off to his room along with his new labeling machine. He returned the camera in due course, and sure enough, a label had been pasted firmly on the top. It read, "Mom's."

AFTER WEST Coast pundit Neil Morgan had interviewed the well-endowed Miss Jane Mansfield, he was asked if he didn't agree that she had a lot more upstairs then she generally was given credit for. "I definitely do," enthused Neil, "and what a stairway!"

A STRIP-TEASER was hauled into a Minneapolis court by a zealous cop who averred that she had given an indecent performance. "Were you covered by anything at all during this performance?" demanded the D.A. "I certainly was," shrilled the indignant stripper. "What, specifically?" pursued the D.A. Triumphantly, the stripper replied, 'By workmen's compensation.'

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Thruston Morton's Activities Resembling Arthur Vandenberg

WASHINGTON — An inner struggle involving the whole range of the nation's foreign policy is going on inside the Republican party in Congress, particularly in the Senate.

The outcome will determine whether the GOP will seek the Presidency next year as a party which aims to reduce the cold war or which suggests that it is neither safe nor worthwhile to try.

It is the kind of vital policy struggle which the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan helped the Republicans resolve following World War II when he did so much to rescue his party from its past isolationism in world affairs.

IT SEEMS TO ME that a new Vandenberg is rising and that the man who is starting to perform in the second half of the 'sixties something of what Vandenberg performed in the second half of the 'forties is Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky who is beginning to exert a significant influence on emerging GOP foreign policy.

Sen. Vandenberg insured bi-partisan support for positive U.S. leadership in the postwar world and for fighting the cold war constructively.

Senator Morton's leadership is being directed to the new decisions which must be taken under changed conditions twenty years later — to insure bi-partisan support for dissolving the causes of the cold war as far as possible.

SENATOR MORTON is already making important headway.

He turned the tide, which was running heavily against the U.S.-Soviet consular treaty, in favor of its ratification. His initiative galvanized President Johnson's more active support and helped persuade Sen. Everett Dirksen and General Eisenhower to help.

He is helping Senators Jacob Javits, Hugh Scott, and others to save the U.S. from being pushed by the Democratic Senate leadership into a precipitate, unilateral slash of U.S. troops assigned to NATO.

And there are other areas in which he sees it as crucial for the Republican party to shape a policy which fits the fresh opportunities in Western Europe, in Eastern Europe, and inside the Soviet Union.

THESE INCLUDE expansion of East-West trade, a ban on the spread of nuclear weapons, ratification of the treaty to keep military weapons from outer space, and a real effort to reach an agreement with Moscow to make it unnecessary for either country to go into massive production of anti-ballistic missiles.

Within the ranks of the Republican party in Congress there is substantial opposition to all of these measures and there is no certainty that Morton and other like-minded Republicans will prevail.

But Morton is convinced:

That the Republican party must show itself responsive to new initiatives in foreign policy if it is to regain national office in the near future.

THAT THIS YEAR and next the Senate will provide the forum for shaping the 1968 GOP national platform in this whole area and that the young, new, articulate Republican Senators can be particularly helpful.

It is clear, I think, that Morton's goal is to help make a record which will make the nomination of a Republican moderate inescapable.

Morton believes it is an attainable goal. He has good credentials. He has the confidence of the conservatives and the goodwill of the moderates. He has first-hand experience as an Assistant Secretary of State in the Eisenhower administration and wide political contact as former chairman of the Republican National Committee. He is on good terms with Dirksen who knows that Morton is not seeking to undercut him as leader. And Morton is not after anything for himself.

Powell's Case Holds Civil Rights

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Adam Clayton Powell's raucous battle against exclusion from Congress is casting a heavy cloud over the prospects for new civil rights legislation this year.

In girding themselves for a historical constitutional test in the Powell case, House Democratic leaders have decided to delay all floor action on the civil rights issue until a settlement is reached in the Powell fracas.

This unannounced strategy, which virtually rules out passage of civil rights legislation this session, was relayed to President Johnson just before he departed for the Guam conference on Vietnam.

THE PRESIDENT WAS told by the lawmakers that in their opinion civil rights legislation would run into stiff opposition in the House because of the growing racial tension generated by the Powell fight.

While not ruling out holding hearings later this year on the President's civil rights proposals, the House leaders stressed that this should be put off as long as possible to avoid giving backers of Powell a congressional forum.

When Senate Democratic leaders pointed out they were moving first with the administration's anti-crime legislation, the President replied he agreed with that priority.

IN CONCLUSION, it was agreed that action on the President's civil rights bills in both the Senate and House would be delayed until later in the session.

At one point in the White House civil rights talks, a House leader remarked that if the Supreme Court should claim jurisdiction and order Powell seated, the executive branch would be called on to enforce the ruling.

"Should that come to pass," mused the President, "Powell, Chief Justice Warren and Attorney General Clark would all be lined up against you."

"YOU ARE WRONG," replied the House leader, John McCormack. "It would be the Supreme Court and the executive branch against Congress and the people. If you don't believe me, I'll send you some of my mail to read."

While these comments were said in jest, Powell's attorneys believe their legal strategy could produce such a confrontation.

When Powell brought suit here asking the federal district court to reverse the House's action, he became the first to take the issue to court.

In talks with negro leaders who have journeyed to Bimini, Powell usually cites this and adds:

"BEFORE THIS IS all over, my lawyers tell me Congress will either seat me voluntarily or it will be done with U.S. marshals or federal troops. Mine is another Julian Bond case, but it is much bigger."

Last December the Supreme Court unanimously ruled that the Georgia legislature had acted unconstitutionally in refusing to seat negro pacifist Julian Bond.

Powell's lawyers are preparing a brief pointing out that Chief Justice Warren in a footnote observed that the federal constitution withheld from Congress the "improper and dangerous power" to fix its own members' qualifications. Unless these are specified by the Constitution, Congress "can by decree subvert the Constitution," Warren said, quoting President James Madison.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By M. ELIZABETH JOHNSTON

A Seagull Joins In For Lunch; It's A New Gold Police Car

One use of Tiburon's central waterfront, while it is still undeveloped, is as a lunch-spot for people who work in Tiburon.

You can often see truck drivers, salesmen and secretaries munching their sandwiches and enjoying the view from their cars.

It's a beautiful spot on a weekday when the absence of tourists leaves plenty of parking space, whether there's sun, fog or rain.

I had lunch with a seagull there last week. As I sat in my car and shared bits of an apple with him.

It hailed and then rained again. The seagull was absolutely impervious to the storm. He seemed much more interested in the apple.

TWO THINGS are different about Tiburon's new police car.

It is probably the only police car in Marin that is golden brown with white doors and top. Also it differs in name from its predecessor, because the latter had the county sheriff's emblem on the left-hand door. The new one has a straight black-lettered line, Tiburon Police Department.

Letters on the trunk are in a harmonizing beige shade.

City Manager Larry Rose says the correct name of the color is gold, but it looks a golden-brown to me.

Most cities in the county have black and white police cars, as does the highway patrol. Novato policemen drive in gunmetal gray and white cars. The sheriff's cars are green. San Rafael has dark blue and white cars. Belvedere has an all-white police car. Some other cities have at least one white patrol car, equipped with radar.

IT TOOK MORE than a week to have special police-car equipment installed before the Tiburon vehicle could be put into regular use.

There is something about driving a brand new car, I recalled, as deputy Richard Borba drove the gold car into Tiburon one day last week. He stopped briefly at the firehouse to let the firemen admire it. They liked, they said, except it wasn't red.

Tiburon's public works truck was the first vehicle to be painted Tiburon's colors.

Tiburon's finest can now say they drive a gold car.

IN READING a copy of the resolution by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission to establish rules of procedure, I see that the notice of regular and special meetings has been delegated to City Manager Rose.

Also pinned down in the resolution is a provision that the minutes clerk be provided for the commission's regular meetings and for special meetings when requested by chairman Irving Moulin.

Secretary Louis Brunini will act as liaison between the city manager and the commission but need not always stay for the entire meeting, if business does not require it, according to the resolution.

ONE REASON for the latter provision is Brunini's major activity for the city as superintendent of public works, which often runs into long hours during the day, according to a comment made by chairman Moulin.

These three orderly rules should prevent the possibility of any "uncertain" meetings popping up in the future.

CHILDREN OFTEN surprise us with their perception and execution in creative works. Here is a poem by Carlita Horst, a Delta student at Granada School, Corte Madera. It leaped out at me from a school publication:

QUIET

Quiet is a lovely thing,
But boys have never liked it;
I guess they do not like it;
Because they cannot strike it;
Or because they cannot beat it,
Or because they cannot eat it;
Or because they cannot see it,
But probably because they must be it.

The Conference Carries Much Weight In Official Washington

WASHINGTON — The longer I live in Washington, the more impressed I am with how smoothly the government runs.

The other day I was in a government office waiting to take a friend to lunch. He had just come out of a meeting and seemed pleased with how well it had gone.

"What was the meeting about?" I asked.

"I'M NOT SURE what you mean," he said.

"Why did you have the meeting?"

"What a stupid question. What do you think we do in the government, just sit around and twiddle our thumbs?"

"I didn't mean that. What subject did you discuss at the meeting?"

"We discussed whether we should hold a conference or not."

"You had a meeting to discuss holding a conference?"

"OF COURSE. And the consensus was that we should hold off on the conference until we meet again."

"Which, of course, will mean another meeting?"

"Now you've got it," he said. "I don't mind telling you I was pretty scared, because Agnew had called a meeting for 10 o'clock and Evans had called another meeting for 10:30. Evqns had no right to call the meeting without checking with Agnew, and when Agnew heard about it he got pretty damned mad. So Evans moved up his meeting until 11:30."

"Did anything happen at Agnew's meeting?"

"We discussed in general the groundwork for Evans' meeting."

"THEN BY THE TIME you met with Evans you knew exactly what you were going to talk about?"

"We never got around to it because Wallaby, who had to make the major decision, was called to a meeting the secretary was holding at the same time. Zimmerman was furious because he felt that he should have been invited to the secretary's meeting, too, and he suspected Evans had called his meeting so Zimmerman wouldn't know about the other meeting."

"How did he find out about it?"

"COATES TOLD HIM, rather maliciously I thought. He expressed surprise that Zimmerman was sitting with us when Wallaby was across the street.

"Zimmerman said that he had met with the secretary earlier and the secretary's meeting was just to confirm what they had gone over earlier. But Thurston told me later that the secretary's secretary had told him not to mention the Wallaby meeting to Zimmerman."

"Did you ever find out what Wallaby's meeting with the secretary was about?"

"Coates said it had to do with a meeting the secretary is having in Washington next month. There was a conflict because several of the people the secretary wanted had scheduled a conference, and the secretary maintains there is no sense having the conference until they meet with him."

"YOU PEOPLE in government meet a lot, don't you?" I said.

"We have to."

"Why?"

"Because if someone calls up my secretary and asks for me, it looks so much better if she says I'm in a meeting. How would you feel if when you rang me up you found me in my office?"

"I'd feel you were stealing the taxpayers' money."

"EXACTLY. Now let's go have lunch. I have to be back at 2 o'clock for a you-know-what."

Fireman Recites Bonfire Rules

With the ban on open burnings due in about two months, the Novato Fire Department has urged residents of North Marin to do their burning now.

Prunings, dead vegetation and other debris collected during the winter may be burned now without much danger, said Capt. R. W. Beyer, fire prevention officer.

Beyer urged people to keep fires small, to burn early in the day to avoid the wind which usually arises in the afternoon, to burn on their own property, and not to leave fires unattended.
